SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

The gentleman's card party given by Dr. and Mrs. Appleget is spoken of by the participants as one of the happiest affairs of the kind this season. Variety is certainly the spice of social life, and in this case the hosts displayed a delightful originality by introducing a number of novel features. Among them was the right of the guests to express a preference for the game of cards they wished to play. On entering the parlors each gentleman was allowed to vote for what, high five or euchre, and the just and badinage that this novelty inspired may be imagined. It is notable that all but four of the gentlemen voted for what. The company was made up of congenial spirits, such as a tactful host will bring together, and they had the jolliest kind of an evening. Dr. and Mrs. Appleget were assisted in entertaining by their friend, Mrs. Palmer of Palo Alto. Mr. Harley won royal honors and was rewarded with a pair of handsome embroidered suspenders. Mr. C. C. Burr received a black silk handkerchief to console him for a run of very poor luck. A company of gentlemen that came so near giving a unanimous vote for the grand old game of what is worthy of being put on record. Here are their names: Messrs. N. C. Brock, J. H. Harley, L. C. Burr, W. J. Marshall, C. C. Burr, R. C. Outcalt, John Doolittle, Thos. Sewell, J. Boehmer, M. Raymond, F. M. Hall, J. W. McDonald, G. H. Clarke, C. R. Richter, C. O. Whedon, Judge Field, Dr. Dayton, R. O. Phillips, E. K. Criley, R. A. Perry, Mason Gregg, H. B. Patrick, E. P. Holmes, R. H. Townley, Charley Burr, Dr. Bailey, A. W. Jansen, A. C. Ziemer, N. C. Abbott. At the monthly sociable of the First Congregational church Wednesday evening six cute little misses in water-proofs and with umbrellas gave a quaint rain song. They were May Travis, Luella and Jessie Lansing, Daisy Hargreaves, Ruth Raymond and Vera Upton. Nine other pretty girls in pink and blue costumes executed a march and fan drill. They were, Carrie West, captain; Emily Weeks, Cora Wagner, May Honeywell, Amy Lauch, Blanche Hargreaves, Minnie Smith, Fannie Crombie and Mabel Parrish. The social was in immediate charge of Mrs. Frank W. Lewis, Mrs. J. H. Barrett and Miss Alice Crowley, assisted by other ladies and Mr. Luke Cheney. Miss Jessie Leland entertained a company of her friends at her home, Tenth and F streets, Tuesday evening. Progressive high five kept the young people merrily engaged until a late hour, and then the hostess called them to a dainty spread. Miss Nellie Leland and Master Frank Saunders won first honors. The party included Masters Strafford Hewitt, Buford, Raymond Hale, LaRue Brown, Alie and Frank Saunders, Frank White and Will Tyler, Misses Nellie and Anna Lau, Ada Gregg, Florence Fawell, Maud Tyler, Daisy Cochran and Jennie Bell. Rev. Balston of the Plymouth Congregational church delivered the anniversary address for the Knights of Pythias several weeks ago, and the Knights made a fitting recognition of the services by presenting Mr. Balston with several floral pieces on Easter morning. Among them was a large triangle, one of the symbols of the order, made with flowers of appropriate colors. The flowers decorated Plymouth church during the Easter services. Mrs. Adolf Weber has been engaged to take soprano roles in Rienee's "Enchanted Swan," which is to be produced at Grand Island next Thursday under auspices of the ladies' musical society of that city. Mrs. Weber leaves Wednesday and returns Friday to begin active work on the musical and literary soiree to be given at the Christian church in this city April 23d. That Mrs. J. A. Kilroy holds a high place in the esteem of the warm-hearted Irish people of Lincoln was demonstrated again at the big League meeting last Sunday afternoon. The announcement that she was to sing was heartily applauded, and "Dear Little Shamrock" was greeted with a storm of applause that would not be still until the singer reappeared. W. F. Kelley, who had been reading law in the office of G. M. Lambertson, left Monday for a three-months' trip east. He will enjoy a pleasure jaunt with friends through Michigan and will visit at his home in Cincinnati where his father is a noted physician, one of the kind that can charge ten dollars for looking at your tongue. Edward Fairfield of Omaha was in town Sunday as the guest of R. S. McIntosh. He is a son of ex-Chancellor Fairfield of the State university and lived in Lincoln previous to 1880. He is now the manager of the Equitable loan and trust company of Omaha, and is ranked as one of the ablest young business men of that city. At the social of Capital City lodge, A. O. U. W., Wednesday evening an excellent program was provided by Mrs. L. J. Manatt, Misses Van Tassel and Minnie Manatt, Dr. Holyoke and Messrs. W. Q. Bell, Charles Hopper and W. H. Woodward. George F. Woods of Amboy, Ill., a cousin of W. A. Preston, has been in Lincoln this week seeking a location for a dry goods store. He was a partner some years ago of J. E. Huntz at Bloomington, and has been successful in business. Wm. Hall of Holdrege, brother of Frank M. Hall, was in the city the fore part of the week on business. He was mayor of Holdrege last year and refused a renomination to become city attorney. Mrs. O. J. Coleman, (nee Hattie Paddock) of Omaha, arrived in the city Thursday and will visit several weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Fitcher, Seventeenth and H streets. It was reported in Omaha early this week that John C. Bonnell had resigned his place with the Union Pacific to accept the management of Harvey's real estate addition to Chicago. E. C. Chapin, manager of the S. K. Martin lumber company, returned Monday with his bride from their wedding tour. Mr. and Mrs. Chapin have taken rooms at 1636 K street. Among the most recent arrivals in Lincoln is a young man reported to be worth a million. He says he intends to expend a cool thousand fitting up his bachelor quarters. Mrs. Richard Fagan of Omaha, wife of the teller of the Commercial national bank, was in the city the fore part of the week visiting her niece, Mrs. C. H. Lovin. S. D. Leland and daughter, Miss Carrie, left Sunday for a trip east that will extend to Chicago and points beyond, expecting to be away from home about a month. Harry Bartruff was in the city over Sunday. He had a remarkably successful trip taking measures for Wanamaker & Brown, and he is out again this week. The members of the Union club have been waiting long and patiently for a restaurant, and they are now rewarded with a well conducted grill room. A pleasing feature of the Irish League meeting of Sunday afternoon was a medley of Irish airs skillfully rendered on the piano by Mrs. A. Halter. Miss Minnie Latta is the unfortunate loser of a valuable diamond pin, supposed to have been taken from the Latta home by a thief.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kirkpatrick have taken a part of the new Barr house on Eleventh street, one side of which is occupied by W. R. Dennis.

A very pleasant party is being arranged for the near future in honor of a certain very popular young lady that is now visiting in the city.

E. T. Garland and family of Arcadia have been the guests this week of Mrs. Garland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Fitcher entertained the Seventeenth street Euchre club last night at their hospital home on H street.

For rheumatism there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The prompt relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost, which is but fifty cents per bottle. Many very bad cases have been permanently cured by it. For sale by A. L. Shadler, druggist.

The new dressmaking firm of Day & Trail, composed of Mrs. A. W. Day and Miss Clara Trail, at 3040 D street, are meeting with excellent success, having already established a fine and constantly growing patronage.

These ladies being thoroughly posted in their line never fail to give satisfaction. They furnish linings and necessities for a garment, the patron merely having to bring cloth and they attend to the balance. When in need of reliable and artistic work in the line of a modiste you cannot do better than to give these ladies a call.

Mr. J. F. Masters, cashier of Emmitt & Co.'s bank at Waverly, Ohio, says: "I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best I have ever used. After using several other kinds, without benefit, I tried it and it quickly cured me, after years of suffering with an obstinate cough and throat trouble." 50 cent bottles for sale by A. L. Shadler, druggist.

Spider and Fly Puzzles. The sale of the great puzzle, Spider and the Fly, has had, has been wonderful. The first invoice has nearly been exhausted and we have had them but ten days, and there are but a dozen left. While in New York, we could get only two gross of them and had to await our turn for the balance. We have been notified that the balance of our invoice would be shipped next Monday. You ain't up with the times if you don't have a Spider and Fly puzzle.

EASTER EGGS.

I. On Easter Day, blue, red and gray, and every other shade of color, I delight to try and please each youth and maid. It is so queer, you think to hear each little girl, and boy take such delight in me, though quite a simple little toy. You do not know how far I go, with all my colors gay, to firmly bind in each child's mind the truths of Easter Day. The prettiest thing will sometimes slay a song of truth, as great as though it came from some great name renowned throughout the state. And therefore, friend, do you attend to this my lay, I beg. Do not despise what children prize, the simple, the simple. Easter. TOM MASON.

Easter Tide.

In would seem that in all countries where there have been established festivals of worship, whatever the deity receiving ascription of praise, it has been a natural and therefore common custom that one of the religious festivals should be in honor of the return of the season of joyousness and spring. In many countries the worship of the sun itself, as the creative and preserving force of the universe, gave this festival in especial peculiar interest. As the basis of all the superficial observance of the Egyptians lay the adoration of the sun, and the visible idols and objects of worship were but symbols and outward expressions of faith. With the Assyrians also the sun's great power was held in love and fear, and one of their most sad observances, called a festival of wailing, the "women weeping for Tammuz," was held over the departure of the sun god on his wintry journey after the summer solstice. With the Phœnician, again, were to be found many of the same observances; and the idea that the sun was the source of life and good fortune was a common one throughout all heathendom, something of it shared even in the cold and dark regions of the north.—Harper's Bazar
