SHORTHAND IN TEN LESSONS THE COURIER'S SPECIAL CLASS.

Plate 7. LESSON VII. KEY TO PLATE 7. 1 Big bag bag book book book youth. 2 High edge egg ash ill Al at pack. 3 Mill inch niche knell fetch match snatch badge. 4 Cob knock lock rub tub rum took shook. 5 Wide wives twice few due new musty rusty. 6 Message judge waxen injure muscle deposit nothing earth. 7 Vessel citizen Mark agency hotel hasten maxim. Word-signs, 8—Help notwithstanding New York City spoke special knowledge acknowledge several I (or eye). Translate Ls 9 to 15.

EXPLANATION. The short vowel signs are made very small and light. Mnemonical rhymes: Bill gets bat; Lot cuts wood. Kills red rat. Dot does good. When a second place short vowel occurs between two stems, it is placed by the second. The rule briefly stated is: put place long and all first place vowels, are put by the first stem, and all others by the second. W is expressed by a small right-angle, and long u by a semi-circle. L S Proper names are indicated by a double underscore; as Mark, L T. Common words are not usually vocalized. If a word contains two or more stems, it can usually be deciphered even if the vowels are omitted. See Ls 6 and 7. Exercise—Write with vowels: Dick Jack pig Ditch dim Jim gem beck bell catch latch patch jam dam rob dock shock shop duck dumb chum gum thumb nook cook dusty valley. Without vowels: Desk cabbage picnic spell early bill many among live heavy damage enough Alabama Tuesday Sunday Saturday discuss this. Sentences, 1. Amos has his bow in readiness. 2. He is waiting for the ducks to come up to the decoy. 3. Ed is too weak to make his way along the stony path up the slope.

Caught a Monster Jewfish. Joseph B. Stonebreaker, residing at 1921 Eataw place, has returned home from a trip to Florida. He brought with him the skin of a monster jewfish which he caught March 22. Mr. Stonebreaker and J. B. McKee were cruising in a small sloopy yacht, when, being overtaken by stormy weather, they put into Sarasota pass. While lying there the sportsmen were told that it was a favorite fishing ground for jewfish. They got out their shark hook and line, and baiting with a mullet cast it out. In a moment it was taut. After considerable difficulty they got the line in and found a shark instead of a jewfish. As soon as they got him to the surface Mr. Stonebreaker fired five bullets into his head, and by using a hatchet extracted the hook. Fresh bait was put on, and shortly after it was thrown out the bait was taken.

A Real Chinese Bride.

One of the latest acquisitions to the Chinese Sunday school in this city is a Chinese woman. She is the wife of Jiu Hon Yee. Jiu Hon Yee is a Chinaman who has become pretty thoroughly Americanized. He has parted with his cue and wears clothes of a fashionable cut. But he draws the line at marrying an American wife. A wife he had to have, though, and so eleven months ago he packed his grip and, by easy stages, stopping at many places on the way, journeyed back to the flower kingdom. In Canton he met pretty Yoo Kan Hoe, 18 years of age; they were married and returned to this country, arriving in St. Louis Friday morning. The bride, who is the only Chinese woman in the city, was at the Chinese Sunday school Sunday afternoon, and sang some songs in a way that showed her to have some little knowledge of the Chinese language.

Making Over Lace Dresses.

In making over a lace gown, which has been unfortunate enough to be torn here or there, just remember that the place can be sketched darned and never show if it is done over a piece of Brussels net. This, of course, supports the weak places in the lace and necessitates so few stitches that they look almost like part of the pattern. The lace costume just described is in perfectly good taste for ordinary wear; but the woman who wants to make one gown answer for many purposes is she who is wise enough to have two or possibly three bodies to wear with her black lace costume. One may be of velvet and one of either moire or black gros grain, as is most becoming. So little decoration is put on lace skirts that the bodies are elaborately trimmed. The rows of ribbon about the skirts, which were so much liked last season, do not obtain at all this year. The one decoration which seems to be favored by the French modiste is a sash in the back, a sash that is of very broad ribbon and has both long loops and ends.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Earth is Drying Up.

All rivers and small streams are visibly smaller than they were twenty-five years ago. Country brooks in which men now living were accustomed to fish and bathe in their boyhood have, in many cases, totally disappeared in consequence of the drying up of springs and rains which once fed them. The level of the great lakes is falling year by year. There are many piers on the shores of lakeside cities which vessels once approached with ease, but which now reach the water's edge. Harbor surveyors will tell you that all harbors are shallower than they were even a decade ago. This is not due to the gradual deposit of earth brought down by rivers as some may suppose, nor to the refuse from city sewers. The harbor of Toronto has almost ceased to be of use, despite the fact that it has been dredged out to the permanent bottom rock.—St. Louis Republic.

Drinking at the Pierian Spring.

Princeton freshmen have agreed upon class caps and canes, the latter to cost $0 each. When a freshman gets a six dollar pane and a beautiful cap it may be said that he has taken his first step toward drinking at the Pierian spring.—New York World.
