The Heat of Summer Time.
The season of the year has come when mortals look for the coolest and thinnest in the land for comfort, and just at this particular time there is no place that attracts the attention of ladies more than the popular Ladies' Furnishing store of Foreman & Crowe. Here our fair readers will find all they may desire in light, cool and comfortable apparel. Their line of summer underwear and hosiery is very fine and complete, and embraces an assortment of these goods such as would be a credit to a Chicago house. Ladies are requested to call and see these goods. Styles are correct and prices are right.

ART NOTES.

A seated marble statue of the Princess of Wales for the National Art gallery in Copenhagen has been carved by Chappu, of Paris.

Beers is the name of the Austrian sculptor who has succeeded in discovering a process for molding marble fluid precisely as bronze is molded.

Millet's "Woman Spinning," which was sold to the late Mrs. Morgan for $17,100, has been bought for $9,000 by a Paris firm, who will take it to France.

A bronze standing statue of the late Governor Hubbard, of Connecticut, was unveiled a few days ago at Hartford. It stands on the southeast of the capitol.

The big painting of the Parnell commission by Sir A. B. Clay has been declined by the Royal academy on the plea of want of space. A portrait of Sir James Hannen, one of the judges, has been accepted.

MONSTER HAMMERS.

Alexandrofski, Russia, has a hammer which weighs sixty tons. It was cast in 1874.

At the Crenot works in France there is a hammer eighty tons. It was made in 1877 and sets on an anvil block of 100 tons weight.

The Krupp Gun works at Essen, Germany, have a hammer of 150 tons. The last named hammer is the largest now used in the world.

A sale of a collection of pictures of Nell Gwynne, the famous favorite of Charles II, and of the king himself and many of the court people of the time, recently took place in London. All the pictures were engravings. The total brought by 215 lots was $2,300. Prints of Nell herself, after the pictures of different artists, brought from $30 down to $15 each. Pictures of King Charles brought about the same prices. Those of other women of the court went for from $15 to $25 each.

A fisherman who was desirous of catching a specimen of the stereolepis, a gigantic fish somewhat resembling a black bass and found on the Pacific coast, accomplished his purpose in the summer of 1889 off the island of Santa Catalina, in California. His success encouraged others, so that altogether thirty were captured, ranging in weight from 75 to 300 pounds. The stereolepis is migratory, and only comes in shore during the summer for the purpose of spawning. It ranges from the Farallones down 500 miles below San Diego. Those of 300 pounds in weight are nearly six feet in length, and are taken with a hand line.

1. Not long a-go love came to gild our youth,
2. Once more to-day love comes as once it came—

Moderato. mp

Came with its sweet-ness, pu-ri-ty, and truth; Fuld ev-'ry day with joys we cared to see—
Dark-ness is o'er, and brightness shines a-gain; Old vows are made, as in the old-en days,

dim. mp

We nev-er dream'd of all that was to be! But fate for-bade our lives should aye be bright,
Made in the shadows where the fire-light plays; All is for-giv'n, the past was for the best—
