R. W. Johnson, well known in Lincoln, as connected with the office management of the Capital hotel, has returned to the city after a several months stay at Salt Lake, satisfied more than ever that this is the place for him. "Dick" will recuperate lost energies for a month, for he has had quite a job of it at the Lake managing the summer business of the Union Pacific resort there, after which he will engage in something hitherto, but regarding which he is very reticent.

Nearly all the Lincoln contingent to the K. of P. conclave at Milwaukee have returned. Some, however, have gone further east or in other directions to visit and will come straggling home daily for the next sixty days. It was the grandest conclave ever held and the boys all report a huge time.

Mrs. J. D. Parish and daughter left Tuesday morning via the Burlington "Flyer" for Denver and Salt Lake accompanied by Miss Hettie Richardson of Prophetstown, Ill. At the Mormon center they expect to meet Mr. Parish and a colony of Lincoln summer tourists.

Mrs. H. W. Brown leaves for Boston tomorrow to visit her daughter, Miss Florence. Mr. Brown will attend the G. A. R. reunion at the Hub in August and the latter part of the month will return with Mrs. and Miss Brown.

Mrs. W. Wilcox and children accompanied by Mrs. Piffer and daughter, guests of Dr. Stanhope, returned to their home in the World's Fair city Monday.

Col. E. R. Sizer has returned from Milwaukee and expects to start next week with his family to spend a short season among the lakes of Wisconsin.

Mrs. T. H. Benton, Mrs. S. M. Melick and Mrs. J. McManigal are at Hot Springs, S. D. where they will pass the hot days of July and early August.

Mr. and Mrs. George Raymer are enjoying life in the Allegheny mountains of Pennsylvania.

Judge Field and family are enjoying summer life in the mountains of Colorado.

Mrs. L. W. Eldredge visited under the parental roof in Beatrice this week.

Miss Claire Link is summering at the Antlers, Colorado Springs.

Mrs. W. L. Brown of Plattsmouth visited in Lincoln this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wrigley are at the Dakota Hot Springs.

Miss Carmody visited in Omaha Sunday.

An old soldier's story: In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteer company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea, since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy was brought to my notice. I use it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly A. E. Bender, Halsey, Ore. For sale by A. L. Shuder.

More Photos From Falk. Falk, the famous New York photographer, has sent us another lot of artistic photos, and among them are handsome likenesses of the junior and senior Salvini, Patti, Stuart Robson, William Crane, James O'Neill as the "Monte Cristo," in the various costumes, Agnes Booth in her latest Madison Square success, "Aunt Jack," W. J. Florence, Richard Mansfield, Robert Mantell in "Monbars," Sara Jowett and others.

SUMMER TOUR. Important Points and Suggestions. I am now supplied with a full line of finely illustrated pamphlets descriptive of the leading summer resorts of our country and can offer manner valuable suggestions to those contemplating a trip during the heated season. Special attention is called to the celebrated fishing resorts of northern Michigan and the upper lake region, the charming and diversified scenery of the Alleghenies and the beautiful Lehigh valley, the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence, the quiet haunts of the Jersey coast, the health giving resorts of the grand old "Rockies," the Hot Springs of Dakota, with their attendant stage rides over superb mountain roads and amid scenes of indescribable grandeur, the boating and fishing of Spirit lake and Minnetonka, and to Saratoga, the queen of the fashionable resorts.

Inquiries concerning the above, either personal or by letter, will receive prompt and courteous attention.

A. C. Ziemer, C. P. & T. A. Webster's Unabridged, Ancient Edition. A so-called "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" is being offered to the public at a very low price. The body of the book, from A to Z, is a cheap reprint, page for page, of the edition of 1847, which was in its day, a valuable book, but in the progress of language for over forty years, has been completely superseded. It is now reproduced, broken type, errors and all, by photo-lithograph process, is printed on cheap paper and flimsily bound. A brief comparison, page by page, between the reprint and the latest and enlarged edition, will show the great superiority of the latter. These reprints are as out of date as a last year's almanac. No honorable dealer will allow the buyer of such to suppose that he is getting the Webster which today is accepted as the Standard and the best,—every copy of which bears our imprint as given below.

If persons who have been induced to purchase the "Ancient Edition" by any misrepresentations will advise us of the facts, we will undertake to see that the seller is punished as he deserves.

Selling Books by Subscription. The method of selling books by subscription has many advantages over any other, and is daily growing in importance and popularity. By this method the attention of the purchaser is called to valuable books of which he might remain in entire ignorance if they were sold in any other way. It is the most direct and altogether the most economical way to buy books. Books purchased at a retail book store have generally passed through the hands of from two to four middlemen, each of whom must have a profit.

The Riverside Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo., offers profitable employment to all who wish to engage in the business. Experience is not necessary, but any lady or gentleman with intelligence and industry can make a success of the work. Their publications are first class, just such books as our young people and our older people should read; books that tend to make intelligent men and women; books that teach people things that they ought to know, such books as a splendid Family Bible, which is in itself a perfect encyclopedia of biblical knowledge. Ridpath's History of the United States is another splendid book; a sale of over 300,000 copies speaks loudly in favor of its great worth. The People's Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge is another work that has carved its way to a wonderful success; 100,000 copies of this splendid encyclopedia, made and edited especially for the masses, have been sold, and the sale is still very large.

They also handle the Red Letter Life of the Republic; Stanley Explorations in Africa; The Pioneer History of America; People's Farm and Stock Cyclopedia; The Physical Life of Both Sexes; Courtship, Love and Wedlock, and History of the Grand Army of the Republic. Another splendid book, averaging at fifteen hundred sets a month, is Ridpath's Cyclopedia of Universal History, a book that is bound to be read by tens of thousands of scholars, and by those who lay no claim to scholarship, and who yet love a clear, straightforward, understandable record of the great events of the world's history. The popularity of this book is something wonderful.

Garfield Beach on Great Salt Lake, Utah. The famous health and pleasure resort, Garfield Beach, on Great Salt Lake, Utah, 18 miles from Salt Lake City, and reached only by the Union Pacific "The Overland Route," is now open for the season.

This is the only real sand beach on Great Salt Lake, and one of the finest bathing and pleasure resorts in the west. Great Salt Lake is not a sullen, listless, sheet of water, beating idly on the shore, but on the contrary is as beautifully a sheet of water as can be found anywhere. It is 21 per cent salt while the ocean is only 3 per cent, and the water is so buoyant that a person is sustained on its surface indefinitely without the least effort on his part. Experience has proven its great hygienic effects. Owing to the stimulating effect of the breeze on the skin, the saline air upon the lungs the appetite is stimulated, and after a bath, the bathers are ready for a hearty meal, and feel greatly invigorated.

Fine bath houses accommodating 400 people, have been erected at Garfield Beach, in connection with which there is a first class restaurant and a large dancing pavilion built out over the lake, all of these are run by the Union Pacific, who guarantee a first class resort in every respect.

The Union Pacific has made low rates of fare for those desiring to visit Salt Lake City and Garfield Beach.

For complete description of Garfield Beach and Great Salt Lake, send to E. L. Lomax, Gen'l Pass Agent, Omaha, for copies of "Sights and Scenes in Utah," or "A Glimpse of Great Salt Lake," or E. B. SLOSSON, Agent U. P. System, Lincoln, Neb. 6-7-St

Burlington Route—Still Another New Fast Train. The B. & M., keenly alive to the wants of the traveling public, have placed in service a new train whose superior appointments are sure to merit immediate recognition. This train leaves Lincoln at 7:35 p. m., arrives at Omaha at 9 o'clock and Chicago at 1 p. m., the time being but slightly in excess of that of our celebrated "Flyers." A through sleeper accompanies this train, and breakfast and dinner are served in dining cars.

The local service between Lincoln and Omaha is now as near perfection as can be desired, including, as it does, four daily trains in each direction, the running time being only eighty-five to ninety minutes.

As we have frequently remarked heretofore, do not waste your money in making experimental trips by other lines represented as being equally as good as the Burlington. They are not. A. C. Ziemer, C. P. & T. A.

Several months ago, Mr. Henry Plummer, of Clements, Cal., who is subject to cramps, was taken with a severe attack. He had been accustomed to get relief by dosing with morphine, but the disagreeable effect that followed would make him miserable for hours after the cramp had been relieved. I persuaded him to try Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. He was much pleased with it, as its effect was almost instantaneous, and no disagreeable after effects accompanied its use. Chas. Bamert, manager Farmers' Trade Union, Clements, Cal. For sale by A. L. Shuder.

W. W. Moore of the Grand opera house Des Moines, is an early settler in that part of Iowa, and has had a great deal of experience in his time. He says: "At various times I have had acute attacks of bilious colic and violent pains in the stomach, and found nothing that gave me relief like Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Every person, 'hills' and have a bottle." For sale by A. L. Shuder.

THE WAY OF LIFE. "Love! Love! Love!" Said the soul one day to the heart; "Do not soar above—be content to love Until you and I shall part." "Ache! Ache! Ache!" Said the soul next day to the heart; "Do not ever break—be content to ache Until you and I shall part." "Faint! Faint! Faint!" Said the soul at last to the heart; "For life is a lie—be content to die; It is time for us to part." Ella Higginson in West Shore.

Why Hamlet Was Not Mad. To make Hamlet mad would be to violate a dramatic law that Shakespeare himself created and most carefully observed through all his plays, viz., contrast in character. Poor Tom's deceit is the foil to Lear's madness; so conversely Ophelia's madness is the foil to Hamlet's feigning. Ophelia is mad in fact, Hamlet but in craft; and to make the madness of both a reality would be to duplicate types, a fault the genius of the great dramatist could not allow him to commit. Melancholy indeed he is, but not mad, nor is he thought so by any about him. He is on one of the approaches to the insane state, but no farther on the way than is necessary to give color to the change when made, and not far enough for the king to connect it with his father's death.

What can be more conclusive evidence of sanity (though vexed by men's complexities and physical perturbations) than Hamlet's words to Horatio to act him right in the eyes of the world—to tell his story; how he was enjoined, by the dread visitation of his father's ghost, to avenge his murder; how he had put on the antic disposition to cover his real designs; how he had slain Polonius by mistake and driven his daughter to frenzy and death; the queen poisoned, Laertes dead and his own death closing the eventful history.—James E. Murlach in Forum.

Swimmers Are Like Poets. Boys, as a rule, should begin to learn how to swim when 7 years old. No one is too old to learn how to swim if he has sufficient physical force. I can teach any boy to swim in ten lessons. Boys should never be thrown into the water over their heads and left to struggle in order that they may learn how to swim. In fact a boy should never be frightened or at all uneasy when he goes to the tank of the natatorium to be taught the first movements in swimming. It is one of my rules to let boys run around and get used to the tank and its surroundings before I begin to teach them. The water must be shallow so as to be perfectly safe.

It is no sin to teach a boy how to swim, but I enjoy seeing progress, and in ten lessons my pupils swim easily. Great swimmers, like poets, are born and not made. Byron swam the Hellespont, a distance of some three miles, which was thought a great feat in his time. An ordinary swimmer now can cover a greater distance and nothing would be thought of it.—Gus Sundstrom in New York Mail and Express.

A Missionary's Predicament. A missionary in Borneo is wrestling with a question relating to the evolution of species that would have puzzled the late Mr. Darwin himself. Among his converts is a native, who in spite of his rather exemplary conduct in other directions persists in an old habit of running down and killing the dwarfs that form a low tribe of beings in the vicinity of the mission. He does it merely for sport; it is his way of hunting, and when remonstrated with by the missionary he claims that the dwarfs are not human beings, but animals that a Christian savage has a right to hunt. The missionary admits that they exhibit few traces of the human being, and is in considerable perplexity as to whether his convert is right or wrong. To the wisest evolutionist it would probably be a pretty difficult matter to say at what point the animal ceases and the man begins.—Chicago Herald.

Hops and Beef in England. It now transpires that the best English beef comes from Normandy, that the best English hops come from Germany, that the best English mutton comes from New Zealand and Buenos Ayres. The German hops are preferable to the English, for the reason that they are of a better quality. The English grower has made the mistake of seeking to secure a large yield, while the German has devoted time and care toward securing a large and perfect fruit. The consequence is that two pounds of German hops are for practical purposes equal to three pounds of English hops; so the German offers in an English market at a cheaper price a product in the provision of which England has heretofore boasted that none could compete with her.—London Cor. Chicago News.

Where Peanuts Come From. All the peanuts raised in this country are consumed in the United States except a few exported to Canada. None are imported. The distributing points are Norfolk, Petersburg and Smithfield, Va., in the east, where some eight or ten establishments are located. Cincinnati, Evansville and St. Louis are distributing centers in the west. St. Louis as a peanut market is a growth of the last seven years, but almost the whole northern and northwestern trade is supplied from here, one dealer alone handling from 40,000 to 50,000 bags, or 300,000 bushels, every year. This is about one-third of the whole crop.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

What Is the Good? The toy pistol has gone and the cigarette is going, but of what use is it to try and save that class of sapheads who would be of no good if grown up? Every issue of a daily paper tells of how they stood up and roared small boats, pointed loaded guns in play, or started out to learn to swim in water ten or fifteen feet deep.—Detroit Free Press.

"Did you see what the paper said about you?" "No, and I don't want to hear any of their abominable lies about me. You may make up your mind that whatever was said was false." "I thought as much. It said you were handsome and clever."

In the United States all peanuts grown are used for eating purposes. Table oil made from them was put on the market a few years ago, but owing to the expense did not succeed in holding its own against other oils made of cheaper vegetables.

It is proposed to connect the South American cities of Buenos Ayres and Montevideo—180 miles apart—by a small overland electric railway, on which cars for mails and light freight may be run.

It is not only an economy for home makers to keep an account book, but it is a great satisfaction to know, from year to year, exactly what has been expended.
