POPULATION OF LINCOLN, 65,000.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

THE COURIER was a little previous in announcing the departure of J. E. Montross and family for Rock Island last week. They did not leave until Monday of this present week. Mr. Montross will make Rock Island his permanent home, assuming the management of a hotel and opera house.

Rumor is nothing if not impertinent, and that it should now busy itself with our friend H. R. Nisley, is not so very surprising. H. R. returned from what we are wont to call an "extended eastern trip" Sunday, and that frolicsome old lady, Dame Rumor, insinuates that something is going to happen soon. What is it?

Ask Col. Geo. B. Skinner to tell you, some day, how he once let Clara Louise Kellogg have his finest horse and buggy for a song—a mere song. The song that touched the colonel's heart was "Home Sweet Home," and the memory of the charming melody yet lingers with the Bishop-Colonel. And Clara's portrait graces his office wall.

James Dorgan of New Hampton, Iowa, is visiting his brothers William H. and John T. in this city. The resemblance between James and Will is very striking and each is taken for the other constantly.

Sam E. Low, who has been spending his summer vacation in this city, expects to return to Ann Arbor to resume his law studies about Sept. 15. Sam's friends who are legion claim that the popular and handsome young man has found an unusual attraction in Lincoln or vicinity this summer; but he denies the soft impeachment. He expects to complete the full course at Ann Arbor, when he will probably "be called to the bar" of this city.

J. P. Hebard, lately of the State Journal, and now cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants bank of York, Neb., was in the city looking up old friends Thursday. Hebard resided in Lincoln twenty years, and his two months stay in York has not caused him to lose interest in his old home. He sees improvements in Lincoln since he left; thinks York is the prettiest town in Nebraska with the exception of Lincoln and possibly Beatrice; and is perfectly contented with his lot.

THE COURIER is glad to note the appointment of Wm. B. Rose, as deputy supreme court clerk and state librarian. Mr. Rose is one of the hardest workers in the state house, and his two years' experience in the office has given him a special fitness for the important position. Mr. Campbell is to be congratulated on his appointment.

Walter Graham, of Seward, who has been attending the State university for three years, and who has a local reputation as a bass singer, will soon enter an operatic company. Definite arrangements have not yet been completed; but he expects to go with W. T. Carleton. Graham was a member of the choir of the First Presbyterian church two years ago.

It is announced that Frank Burr and Fred Smyser are about to form a partnership and go into the real estate business. Both young men are popular and energetic and THE COURIER expects to see the new firm succeed from the first.

SOUTH LINCOLN.

Mrs. Josie Langton left Wednesday for Grand Island.

Mr. R. R. Randall, sr., will return today from his western trip.

Will Abbot and family of Omaha, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Abbot next week.

Mrs. J. Miller and two daughters, of Wymore, will spend the week with Detective Pound's family.

Rev. A. S. Williams and wife, from Los Angeles, Cal., took breakfast with Mrs. Burke on their way to Kansas City.

Rev. C. H. Gilmore, of Elmwood, stopped Monday night at 1221 A street on his way to attend conference at Dorchester.

James Capp and wife from Washington, Kan., will spend fair week with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lewis in their new home at 2126 C street.

And now we hear that another young gentleman of South Lincoln has invested in a "bird cage" located somewhere on Washington street.

Mrs. C. W. Randall from Kansas City, Mo., daughter-in-law of R. R. Randall, 1001 C street, will spend next week in this city and take in the fair.

The matrimonial market is looking up. Two more couples are most ready for congratulations and wedding presents, but for fear you'll tell, we'll not tell you who they are.

Mrs. C. F. Wolcott, of Atchison, Kansas, will be the guest of Mrs. R. P. Miller, the coming week. Mrs. Edminston and daughter of Omaha, will also be visitors at the same place.

AUNT SAMANTHA.

THE PUZZLER

No. 237.—Curtailment.
The whole's to wash completely;
Next's where 'tis done so neatly;
The third's a stick
Ball players quick
Use ere they run so fleetly.

No. 238.—Numerical Enigma.
I am composed of 25 letters.
My 16, 18, 22, 25 is very small.
My 11, 8, 12 is the whole amount.
My 17, 7, 5 is a farmer's tool.

My 19, 2, 21, 9, 24 is a mountain.
My 20, 23, 4, 13 is a tree.
My whole, the motto of a foreign country.

No. 239.—Enigmatical Cities.
1. What city is evil, a cleft and metal?
2. What one an explosive and indeed?
3. What one an animal, a vowel and an abbreviation?
4. What one to demand and a consonant?

No. 240.—Charades.
My first is a flower.
My second is a fuel.
My whole is used in cabinet work.
My first is spherical.
My second is a part of the body.
My whole was prominent in the time of Cromwell.
Upon my first I saw my second!
While my whole a shellfish is reckoned.

No. 241.—Anagram.
(The title of a popular book.)
DRAW A KING BOOK, C. L.

No. 242.—Metagram.
Whole I am to wash; change my head and I become successively a den, to rescue, to keep possession, to undulate, to rant and a part of a church.

IV.—1. A vowel. 2. A preposition. 3. A unit. 4. To heed. 5. Fourteen pounds. 6. Upright. 7. Wasps. 8. Curtails.

No. 247.—Conundrums.
1. Why is a neglected damsel like a fire which has gone out?
2. Why is the letter D like a wedding ring?
3. Why is a riddle which is very clearly discovered like a letter written by a child to its mother?
4. Why when you look at a miser's dinner are you nearly blind?
5. Why is the foundation of a leg of mutton like a great general?
6. When is a door more than itself?
7. Why is a reporter like a forger?
8. What general is most prevalent, causes most distress and spreads most dismay?
9. What heathen deity would a boxer name when asking another to second him?

Try This Catch.
Ask the one who chances to be with you when you read this to write down, without hesitation, in figures, twelve thousand, twelve hundred and twelve pounds.
We hope it will be done correctly, thus:
£12,212.

Key to the Puzzler.

No. 228.—P.
Come, with the weapons at your call,
With musket, pike or knife;
He wields the deadliest blade of all
Who lightest holds his life.
The arm that drives its unbought blows
With all a patriot's scorn
Might brain a tyrant with a rose,
Or stab him with a thorn.

No. 229.—Word Half Squares:
