FAMILIAR PEOPLE.

The retirement of Mr. Joseph Pulitzer from the management of the New York World, on account of his health, is a sad result of a very great success. Mr. Pulitzer is still a young man—about forty-four years old—and until very recently has enjoyed great bodily vigor. His untimely departure from the world is the cause of an illness which makes it absolutely necessary that he should retire for a time from participation in the business cares of his newspaper. There have been few more romantic careers than that of the man who thirty years ago landed in this country without a friend or a dollar or the ability to speak the language of the people among whom he found himself. In that time he has made for himself a reputation as a writer and speaker of English, he has been elected to congress, and he is the proprietor of a newspaper from whose sales he has erected a building on the site of the hotel which refused him hospitality in the days of his poverty. This property, valued at more than $2,000,000, has been paid for from the profits of the World newspaper as the building progressed. Mr. Pulitzer is not blind. He has lost one eye, and the other is impaired. The chances are, however, that it will be saved. He expects to spend the winter in New York, in absolute rest, knowing nothing of the cares of business, enjoying the pleasures and the comforts of his beautiful home on Fifty-seventh street. If he follows the programme laid out for him his physicians promise him ultimate recovery.

Harry C. Patterson, late manager of Bradstreet's Lincoln office, who was called to Philadelphia a few weeks ago by the sudden death of his father, will not return to this city, having accepted a position with the Philadelphia office.

J. M. Millsbaugh who died at Terrace, Utah, last Sunday, was prior to his departure, one of the most respected young business men in this city. He was a man of noble character and high attainments, and he was held in the greatest regard by all who knew him. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Millsbaugh in her bereavement.

Beautiful Women.

It is the duty of every woman to be beautiful. It is a part of her function to add color to the somberness of the daily routine of business life. It is just as much a woman's duty to make herself attractive as it is a man's to behave as a gentleman, and the woman who neglects her own appearance does not do her whole duty. Nature does not bestow her favors with an impartial hand; but it is in every woman's power to be beautiful. Mrs. Gervaise Graham of San Francisco, the celebrated authority on the complexion, has made it possible for the plain-styled woman to rival nature's most bountiful gifts. Her preparations, simple and harmless, cover the whole field of woman's beauty. They have only to be applied to demonstrate their efficacy. Mrs. M. T. Patterson, sister of Mrs. T. P. Quick of Lincoln, has as manager, opened an elegant "Cosmetic Boudoir" at 446 South Eleventh street, for the sale of Mrs. Graham's famous preparations. She has also associated with her Miss Rose Nugent of Chicago, who will give special attention to hair dyeing, the manicure art, hair dressing, bleaching, shampooing, and the arrangement of toilettes for evening parties. It is a most complete establishment and has already become very popular with the ladies. Among the many articles on sale may be mentioned, Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream to take the place of soap and water, Oriental hair dye, Blondine, face bleach, kosmo, powders for every complexion, depilatory paste for the removal of superfluous hair, enamel, tooth powder, acne cure for pimples, black-heads, etc., vegetable syrup for the blood. Our ladies should visit these beautiful parlors. A specialty will be made of preparing the toilettes for the charity ball.

Just as much care should be taken in clothing the feet as the hands or any other part of the body. It is of the greatest importance that the covering of the feet should be comfortable, and a neat stylish shoe counts for as much in a man's appearance as a new suit of clothes. Therefore it pays to exercise some care in the purchase of footwear. In other words it behooves you to patronize Briscoe the shoe man. He has the finest stock of ladies, gentlemen's and children's shoes in the city, and he makes a specialty of style and fit, combined with durability. It will pay you to call on Briscoe the shoe man, in the Exposition.

By Contraries. "Ethel, you are so contradictory I don't know how to take you. You can't mean all you say in your letter refusing to be my wife!" "But I do—mean every word of it." "Then you are mine, truly?"—Harper's Bazar.

How It Was. Alice (sobbing)—Oh, I shall die of grief! That awful Charley Thompson won my heart and promised to marry me, and now—now he says he doesn't love me any more! Maude—Oh, I see? First he wooed and then he wouldn't!—Lowell Citizen.

A Grave Danger. "Do you think it safe for you to wear kickerbockers, chappie?" "Yes. Why not?" "You might be arrested for having no visible means of support!"—New York Herald.

Ensnaered. He held her hand quite tenderly. And pressed it now and then; She blushed, and let him have his way. As girls do with young men.

He put his arms around her waist. And drew her to his side; Of course, she could have got away— If she had only tried.

He slowly raised her blushing face And looked into her eyes; Of course, I thought she would resist; But, much to my surprise.

She answered all his looks of love. And gave him kiss for kiss. They're married now, and oh 'twould make You sick to see their bliss! —Somerville J. Oswald.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days; during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it comes the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. For sale by A. Selling Books by Subscription. The method of selling books by subscription has many advantages over any other, and is daily growing in importance and popularity. By this method the attention of the purchaser is called to valuable books of which he might remain in entire ignorance if they were sold in any other way. It is the most direct and altogether the most economical way to buy books. Books purchased at a retail book store have generally passed through the hands of from two to four middlemen, each of whom must have a profit. The Riverside Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo., offers profitable employment to all who wish to engage in the business. Experience is not necessary, but any lady or gentleman with intelligence and industry can make a success of the work.

The publications are first class, just such books as our young people and our older people should read; books that tend to make intelligent men and women; books that teach people things that they ought to know; such books as a splendid Family Bible, which is in itself a perfect cyclopedia of biblical knowledge. Ridpath's History of the United States is another splendid book; a sale of over 300,000 copies speaks loudly in favor of its great worth. The People's Cyclopedia of Universal Knowledge is another work that has carved its way to a wonderful success, 100,000 copies of this splendid cyclopedia, made and edited especially for the masses, have been sold, and the sale is still very large.

They also handle the Red Letter Life of the Republic Stanley Explorations in Africa. The Pioneer History of America; People's Farm and Stock Cyclopedia; The Physical Life of Both Sexes; Courtship, Love and Wedlock, and History of the Grand Army of the Republic. Another splendid book, averaging at fifteen hundred sets a month, is Ridpath's Cyclopedia of Universal History, a book that is bound to be read by tens of thousands of scholars, and by those who lay no claim to scholarship, and who yet love a clear, straightforward, understandable record of the great events of the world's history. The popularity of this book is something wonderful.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION AUG. TH. GRUETTER & CO. 1118 N STREET. This is one of the effects of an explosion of a charge of dynamite. It was a most destructive affair. Houses came tumbling down, glass was shattered for miles and miles around and the bed went sailing through the air. Of course the shock was tremendous; it would have killed the young man in the illustration, but for the fact he slept in a bed purchased from A. T. GRUETTER & CO. So far from killing him it did not even disturb him; he sleeps on serenely as he soars in the clouds enjoying that undisturbed repose which come to all who purchase beds from A. T. GRUETTER & CO.
