Lincoln people will be interested in the following extract from the Omaha Expositor's account of the Baum reception last week:
"The reception given for Mr. and Mrs. David Baum, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Baum, 2211 Howard street, on Thursday evening, was a brilliant affair. The decorations through the rooms were chrysanthemums potted, in jars and arranged in every conceivable manner. The mantels were banks of them, the parlor mantels having also cut roses for decoration. In the center of the refreshment table stood a large cut glass bowl filled with them, and they were scattered over the table. Refreshment furnished a most superb supper, and every thing was done to make the evening enjoyable. A number of new and handsome toilettes were worn, only a few of which we will attempt to describe. Mrs.
Daniel Baum received in heavy black brocade silk, made with court train. Mrs.
David Baum looked most statuesque in gray soft silk decolete, duchess lace about the bodice; a panel of pink tulle, upon which a number of blackbirds seemed just to have alighted, trimmed the skirt. The gown was made demure train; blackbirds also trimmed the bodice. Miss Baum wore a dancing dress of black gauze embroidered in yellow and trim-ed in butterfly—one of the prettiest gowns worn. Miss Brownie Baum wore a becoming princess dress of canary tulle trim-ed in rose pleatings. Mrs. Frank Sweesey, one of the many brides of the season, looked exceedingly handsome in white silk and silver brocade and wearing diamonds. Mrs. J.
E. Baum wore a most becoming gown of a soft laven or hue richly embroidered and furnished with purple velvet. Mrs. Chase, pink fallie and pear embroidered lace. Mrs.
Little of Lincoln, was prettily dressed in white China silk, made dancing length. Miss Toussaint, a striking dress of yellow Henriette and black velvet. Miss Curtis a radiant dress, the skirt of which was seen green crepe, while the bodice was one glittering effect in crystal beads. Miss Barnard looked very pretty in light blue and pink. Mrs. Barnard wore a handsome costume of black lace over pink. Miss Mary Stevens, Miss Garrett and Miss Dundy wore black lace." Several hundred people were present.

Miss Ida May Musser of this city and Mr.
Edward Darlington Sharpless of San Francisco, Cal., were quietly united in marriage Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Coffin, Eighteenth and P streets, in the presence of relatives and a small number of intimate friends. The ceremony was after the beautiful form common among the Society of Friends, of which the groom is a member. Rev. Dr. E. H. Curtis of the First Presbyterian church, assisting. The charming bride wore a handsome toilette of white brocade satin and the maids of honor, Miss Gustine and Miss Lizzie Musser, were also richly costumed. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding supper was served.
Many handsome and costly gifts were received. Those present were: Mrs. S. C.
Musser, mother of the bride; Miss Lizzie Musser, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Musser, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Musser, Miss Sharpless, Mr.
David Sharpless, Mr. Yates, Miss Yates, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Curtis, Mr. Ed. Coffin, Mrs.
Coffin, Miss Carrie Coffin, Mr. and Mrs.
Moffett, Miss Nellie Lowmes, Miss Fannie Lowmes, Mr. J. Russell Lowmes, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Gregg, Miss Maude Smith, Mr.
W. Morton Smith, Misses Cora and Katie Dunrow, Miss Mary Brown, Mr. Will Brown, Miss Seaboldt, Miss Elsie Leese, Mr.
Covert, Miss Gustine. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp-less will leave Monday on their wedding tour.
The bride, an accomplished young lady has many friends in this city and her permanent removal to California will cause much regret.
Mr. Sharpless is a member of the noted Pen-sylvania family of that name, and is a prosperous young business man of San Francisco.

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Casebeer entertained a large number of their friends Wednesday evening in honor of their guests, the Misses Mary and Bird Ellison, and Fannie Casebeer,

In spite of the weather the reception given yesterday afternoon (last week) by Mrs. J. E.
Baum for Mrs. David Baum, Mrs. Outcalt and Mrs. Little of Lincoln, was a great success. The rooms were not crowded and in consequence the effect of the pretty green and white decorations of the house showed to better advantage, as did the handsome toilettes of the women. Mrs. Baum was assisted by Mrs. J. L. Kennedy, Mrs. E.
S. Dundy, Jr., Miss Tatum and Miss Baum.
Mrs. D. H. Wheeler, Jr., and Mrs. Chase poured coffee. Throughout the rooms white chrysanthemums and ferns formed the decorations. White candles with delicate green shades gave their light and in the centre of a handsome refreshment table stood a pot of ferns. The appointments in every way were perfect and the assembled guests enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.—Omaha Expositor.
