Weather Probabilities for November and December.
Indications point to cold, frosty weather. That however, will make no difference to those who travel on the steam-heated electric-lighted limited vestibuled trains which are run only by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway between Omaha and Chicago. This elegant train leaves Omaha at 6:10 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 9:30 a. m., in time to make all eastern connections. For further information apply to your nearest ticket agent.

Lincoln St. Joe & Kansas City. Through Sleepers and Parlor Cars.

The day of transfers, changes and delays between Lincoln, St. Joe and Kansas City is over, the E. & M. having placed in service a line of combination sleepers and parlor chair cars that for convenience, elegance and comfort surpass anything heretofore run between these points. The present schedule is as follows: Leave Lincoln, 8:30 p. m. daily, arrive in St. Joe 5:27 a. m., Kansas City 7:50 a. m.; returning, leave Kansas City 9:15 p. m. daily, St. Joe 11:45 p. m., arrive at Lincoln 7:50 p. m.

These trains run via Beatrice, Wymore and Table Rock and make close connections at terminal points. The service is really excellent and we can recommend it with much confidence. Further information can be obtained at union depot or city office corner O and Twelfth streets.

A. C. ZIEMER,
City Passenger and Ticket Agent.

Some very nice and new things in hair ornaments are now being shown at Miss Johnston's, 1114 O street. Some elegant novelties for evening wear. Call and see them.

The Late J. M. Millsbaugh.

The pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city has received a letter from Mrs. Millsbaugh, giving a brief sketch of his life and an account of his last days on earth.

Jacob M. Millsbaugh was born at Battle Creek, Mich., April 18 1838. He was left an orphan in his early infancy, his mother dying when he was only three days old, and his father one year later. Committed to the care of his aunt, Mrs. Ashby, the mother of Mr. S. M. Ashby of this city, who was a woman of the purest and loftiest Christian character, he had the best of training, and grew up to manhood utterly uncontaminated by the vices and evil habits, which stain the lives of so many of the young men of today. Early in life he became a humble disciple of the Great Master, and maintained a consistent Christian profession to the very end. After five years residence in Cleveland, Ohio, he came to Lincoln, seven years ago, and engaged in business with Mr. S. M. Ashby, the most firm taking high rank among the most honorable business houses of our city. During his life amongst us he was greatly respected in business circles, and in the church of his choice, the First Presbyterian, he was deeply beloved as a young man of culture, refinement and true Christian influence. The spontaneous tributes paid to his memory at the last meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the First Presbyterian church, evinced the strong hold he had taken upon the affections and esteem of the young people of that church. In August, 1889, he was suddenly attacked by severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was obliged to seek relief in the milder climate of Salt Lake City, Utah. The change was beneficial to his health, and no doubt resulted in prolonging his life, but still the "dread disease" was slowly sapping his life. A few weeks ago, October 8, 1890, by the advice of physicians, he went with his devoted wife to the ranch of a friend in Grouse Creek Valley, Utah, and seemed to gain in flesh and strength. November 1st, he joined a party of men, engaged on a "round-up," in the hope that the out-door life would prove of still further benefit; but on Sunday, November 2, the deadly hemorrhages commenced again, owing to the inhaling of dense smoke in the extinguishing of a fire, which caught in the tent. This was the "beginning of the end." Day after day hemorrhage succeeded hemorrhage, until on Saturday, November 8th, the "summons" came, and he gently breathed out his soul to God.

His death was a beautiful, triumphant Christian lesson—as it entang for such a life. Conscious to the last, sending farewell messages to his friends and loved ones, he "departed to be with Christ, which is far better." His funeral occurred in Salt Lake City where he had made his home since leaving Lincoln, and where he has a brother still living, Prof. J. F. Millsbaugh. E. H. C.

Dyspepsia, the root of innumerable evils, is readily cured by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Electric Light, White Wings and Minnesota High Patent, three of the best brands of flour ever offered in Lincoln are now sold exclusively at Britton's new grocery, 1410 O street. Haven't you worn that suit long enough yet? You bought it two years ago of Miltonberger while he was with Hurlbut. Miltonberger now holds forth on his own hook at the Boston Clothing House, 1639 O street, (Schwab's old stand) and he extends to you an invitation to his new place to get another suit. He has a great line of them, from the cheapest to the finest and prices will surely be right.

Fine furnishings for gentlemen, including the latest in collars, dress shirts, ties, etc., at the Boston Clothing House, 1639 O street. You ought to see the new line of puff scarfs just received. They are all the style this winter. Call and see them.

Photographic views of the city of Lincoln, public buildings, business houses and fine residences in book form, pretty souvenirs, may be had at the Wessel Printing Co., 1130 N street, price fifty cents.

In a Lincoln Restaurant.

Stranger at restaurant, reading from bill of fare; Give me some chicken croquettes.

Waiter: Very sorry sir, but there ain't none.

Stranger: Then give me oyster patties.

Waiter: Extremely sorry, sir, but we have only roast beef, corned beef and stewed beef to-day.

Stranger: But where are all these things that I see on the bill of fare?

Waiter: They're on the bill of fare, sir.

As a Rule,

It is best not to attempt to remedy costiveness by the use of saline or drastic purgatives. When a cathartic medicine is needed, the most prompt and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their effect is to restore the regular action of the bowels, without weakening them. Being sugar-coated, these Pills retain their medicinal virtues for a long time, and are easy to take.

"I can recommend Ayer's Pills above all others, having long proved their value as a cathartic for myself and family."—J. T. Hess, Leithsville, Pa.

"In 1858, by the advice of a friend, I began the use of Ayer's Pills as a remedy for biliousness, constipation, high fevers, and colds. They served me better than anything I had previously tried, and I have used them in attacks of that sort ever since."—H. W. Hersh, Judsonia, Ark.
