SWEETS FOR CHRISTMAS.

THE VAST QUANTITIES TURNED OUT BY THE MANUFACTURERS.

Boxes of Candles Hanging in Value from $20 to $100-The Humble Tollers Who Make the Gay Toys for Christmas Trees-A Contrast.

In the weeks intervening until Christmas enough candy will be turned out in the United States to make a good sized mountain. In and about New York alone Christmas sweets are being manufactured by hand and machinery at the rate of 6,000,000 pounds a week, and there will be no let up until almost the very night of Christmas eve.

WHERE THE CANDIES ARE MADE. come in long double strings like ordinary pork sausages, and are specially intended for Christmas tree ornaments. A new fangled egg has secured a great hit. It contains a soft yolk, made of the whites of eggs baked with sugar and gum, around which is a shell of brittle sugar, colored and shaped to imitate exactly a guinea hen's product.

In very fine candies no attempt is made to produce novelties for the holidays. The dainty shapes that sell the year round are simply turned out in greater numbers. All the novelty is put in the bounbonnieres, and in these some wonderful results are achieved. It is nothing extraordinary for one of the fashionable confectioners to show candy boxes costing $100 each. They are generally made of hand painted satin and lined with porcelain.

A box costing $55 is a very commonplace affair, and a big import-for nearly all these bounbonnieres are imported-tells me that a single store will sell several hundred of these high priced affairs for Christmas. The designs this year are particularly dainty, as the demand for them has grown very great of late years on account of the rage for them in Paris.

WHERE THE CANDIES ARE EATEN. It would make a strange contrast if by some means a picture of the candy maker's miserable home could be placed side by side on Christmas with the home in which the products of his hands hang heavy from the gay Christmas tree.

In one warmth, light, happiness, a hundred candles blazing in the pine boughs, happy faced children pressing about with their arms full of Santa Claus' most expensive offerings. In the other, misery, squalor, dirt; the only signs of Christmas are the gaping starch moids, unless now until next year; pale faced, hungry children, who are so pinched by poverty that they hardly dare to keep one of the sugar toys that their little fingers have helped to make.

Something New in Glass. A new glass invented in Germany is said to add marvellously to the power of the microscope, and a Yale professor announces the invention of a perfect achromatic lens. Glass has been invented by the new process in Germany, which it is claimed may be used for railway sleepers, posts, drain pipes and tanks, being as tough as cast iron.

That however, will make no difference to those who travel on the steam heated electric-lighted heated vestibuled trains which are run only by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway between Omaha and Chicago. This elegant train leaves Omaha at 6:10 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 9:30 a. m., in time to make all eastern connections. For further information apply to your nearest ticket agent.

A GREAT AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

The Success of "The Century" and its Plans for 1891.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE is so well known that it is hardly necessary to say almost an old story. The N. Y. Tribune has said that it and its companion, St. Nicholas for Young Folks, issued by the same house, "are read by every one person in thirty of the country's population," and large editions of both are sent beyond the seas. It is an interesting fact that a few years ago it was printed in seven thousand copies of The Century went to Scotland, quite a respectable edition in itself. The question in England is no longer "who reads an American magazine?" but "who does not see the American magazines?"

A few years ago The Century almost doubled its circulation with the famous War Papers by General Grant and others, adding many more readers later with the Lincoln History and Kennerly's thrilling articles on the Sherman Expedition. One great feature of 1891 is to be "THE GOLD HUNTERS OF CALIFORNIA," describing that remarkable movement to the gold fields in '49, in a series of richly illustrated articles written by survivors, including the narrative of one who went to California by the different routes, accounts of the gold discoveries, life in the mines, the work of the emigrants, the first gold strike, the first Emigrant Train to California, crossing the Rockies in 1841, by General Bidwell, a pioneer of pioneers. Thousands of American families who had some relative or friend among "the Argonauts of '49" will be interested in these papers.

ANOTHER GOOD THING IS COMING, the narrative of an American's travels through that unknown land Tibet (for 700 miles cover never before traveled by a white man); the experience of escaping War Prisoners; American Newspapers described the well-known fighters, Custer and others; personal anecdotes of Lincoln, by his private secretary; "The Faith Doctor," a novel by Edward Eggleston, with a wonderfully original programme of novelettes and stories by most of the leading writers, etc., etc.

It is also announced that The Century has purchased the right to print, before its appearance in France or any other country, extracts from the finance sheets of the famous Talleyrand Memoirs, which have been carefully preserved for half a century-to be first given to the world through the pages of an American magazine. An European is eagerly awaiting the publication of this personal history of Talleyrand-greatest of intriguers and diplomats.

The November Century begins the volume, and new subscribers should commence with that issue. The subscription price of $3.00 may be remitted directly to the publishers, The Century Co., 33 East 17th St., New York, or single copies may be purchased of any news-dealer. The publishers offer to send a free sample copy-a recent back number-to any one desiring it.

BOMBARDING A BED.

The occupant of this bed is in no danger whatever. The guns which are trained upon it are of the heaviest caliber, but Uncle Sam has no cannon balls that can produce any effect upon it. No wonder the sleeper remains undisturbed. Of course he would be in danger if he were reposing behind a target of ten inch steel, but having purchased the bed from A. T. Gruetter & Co., he understands its quality, well enough to know that he is perfectly safe.
