

'NEATH NORTHERN SKIES

SOUTHERN BEAUTIES BLOOM AS GLOBALLY AS IN DIXIE'S LAND.

Fair Residents of New York Who First Saw the Light in the Cotton States. Their Charms and Talents Graphically Described.

(Copyright by American Press Association.)

MRS. PAGE BROWN.

Southern women have a wide reputation for personal charms. These charms are generally accompanied by pleasing characteristics of mind and manners.

Mrs. Page Brown, formerly Lucy Pryor, is the second daughter of Gen. Roger A. Pryor, one of the judges of the court of common pleas.

MISS FANNIE PRYOR.

The youngest sister of Mrs. Brown, Miss Fannie Pryor, has beauty of a striking type. Her face is a poem and her figure is of exquisite mold.

Herbert S. Carpenter has a tall, graceful figure which the single word "willowy" best describes.

MRS. CHARLES STEELE.

Mrs. Charles Steele, the daughter of S. B. French, was born at Petersburg, Va.

Miss Elizabeth Bisland is among the noted southern women who have sought New York.

Mrs. Maury, the wife of a Wall street broker, was Miss Nellie Ross, of Mobile.

Mrs. John C. Calhoun, wife of a descendant of one of the most distinguished men of the south, was born in New Orleans.

Although her father and mother live in Louisiana, her ancestors were natives of Kentucky and Virginia.

Mrs. Collis, wife of Gen. Charles H. T. Collis, was before her marriage Miss Septima Maria Levy, of Charleston, S. C.

Mrs. John Claffin, formerly Miss Bessie Stewart, of Louisville, is one of the most strikingly beautiful women in New York.

MISS ELIZABETH BISLAND.

He died about two years ago, and last spring Mrs. Dunn became the wife of John Claffin, another member of the firm.

Miss Irene Langham, a girl of 17, who was conspicuous for her beauty at the White Sulphur springs last summer, is spending the winter in New York.

Mrs. Samuel Colgate was Miss Cora Smith, of New Orleans. She has a tall and slender figure.

Mrs. Richard M. Hunt, Jr., and Miss Grace Carley are daughters of Francis M. Carley, of Louisville.

Mrs. Gerard Stuyvesant now bears one of the oldest of New York names. She was Miss Minnie Neale Floyd, of Louisville.

MRS. CHARLES STEELE.

Mrs. Charles Steele, the daughter of S. B. French, was born at Petersburg, Va.

Mrs. Reginald Henshaw Ward is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Newcomb, who recently left Louisville to settle in New York.

Mrs. Mary A. McKim Wild, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. McKim, is also from the south.

Mrs. D. S. Gregory, the daughter of John W. Maury, of Washington, is one of seventeen children, all handsome. She is a very positive brunette.

MRS. SEPTIMA M. COLLIS.

Mrs. Maury, the wife of a Wall street broker, was Miss Nellie Ross, of Mobile.

PHILOSOPHY IN COUCHES.

The soothing influence of a nap on a long easy lounge. A room without a couch of some sort is only half finished. Life is full of ups and downs, and all that saves the sanity of the mentally jaded and physically exhausted fortune fighter is the periodical good cry and the momentary loss of consciousness on the upstairs lounge or old sofa in the sitting room.
