Bright little Corinne, the particularly brilliant star of the Kimball Opera Company celebrated her seventeenth anniversary birthday Christmas day and how good the friends of the lady are and how royally they remembered her can well be attested by the newspaper men, the company that supports her and other friends that were present yesterday at her suite in the Windsor Hotel, where Corinne and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Kimball, received for several hours. The occasion of the little one's birthday being on Christmas affords her many friends the pleasure of making both holiday and birthday presents at one time. On a long table was placed almost an endless variety of pretty things of silver and of gold, of diamonds and of pearls, of jewelry and of books and of too many things to mention. Some were from distant friends, some from relatives and some from members of the company and they were not mere trifles either. There was a magnificent diamond brooch, a beautiful Marquise diamond ring, a large butterfly set with diamonds, pearls and rubies for the hand and, and—well too many other nice things to mention, and aside from this array of pretty things, telegrams by the dozen were received. Mrs. Kimball was not forgotten by any means for she was also well remembered and the recipient of a large number of beautiful tokens. The time spent with Corinne and her mother was very enjoyable. There were dainty refreshments and pleasant chat made the hour slip by almost unnoticed. Among the numerous presents was a handsome Rockwood cup from Miss Helen Harington, and accompanying it were the following original stanzas by that lady: A ROCKWOOD CUP. Be her companion, modest little cup— The trifling token of a very deep esteem— Through many years of busy striving days, Leading to heights of which she dares but dream. Hold to her eager lips this world's success, And ever to this world's divinest pleasures; All of the brightest, sweetest and the best Yield unto her in overflowing measures. Emblem as thou art of woman's strong endeavor Let thy rich colors, shining darkly bright, Should troubles come—tell her the brave true heart. Shall Conquer fate and set all wrong things right. To Mrs. Jennie Kimball: Xmas 1890.

The junior class of the high school gave a reception last Tuesday evening, December 23. Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Raymond the reception was held at their residence, 1000 R street. The evening was agreeably spent with high fees and dancing, after which a bountiful supper was served. Every one departed expressing sincere thanks for the kind hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond. The following were present: Principal L. H. Austin, Misses Treeman and Long, teachers of the high school; Messrs. Reagan, Cooley, Bross, Snyder, Jones, Stiener, Cutter, Taylor, Garontie, Phillips, Chapman, Seybolt and Raymond; Misses Marie Jones, Blanche Jones, Thompson, Taylor, Fowler, Smith, Cook, Ryan, Hoyt, Bryant, Beach, Ricketts, Metcalf, Du Fiel, Lansing, Klinger. The annual meeting of the Congregational club was held Monday evening at the Bond hotel. Fully fifty members with their friends were present. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Rev. Lewis Gregory, president; Rev. E. S. Ralston, first vice-president; Rev. H. A. Wauamaker, second vice-president; Prof. A. G. Warner, secretary; Charles West, treasurer. Dr. A. R. Thain of Omaha, delivered an interesting address on "Evolution of the Yankee." It was a scholarly effort and was received with close attention. Around the banqueting board Rev. Ralston elaborated on "The Everlasting Yankee," and brief addresses were also made by Professor Kingsley, J. D. Calhoun, Professor Bessey, and Rev. Lewis Gregory. Dr. and Mrs. Holyoke entertained a congenial company at high five Tuesday evening. Those present were: Messrs. E. and Mesdames R. H. Oakley, T. W. Griffith, Geo. K. Brown, R. Heblander, E. E. Henkle, J. W. Maxwell, John F. West, Myron Wheeler, R. S. McIntosh, Misses Nellie Raymond, Sterling and Lillie Hathaway. Messrs. Charles Burr, Robert Muir and Elmer Stephenson. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Brown and Mr. Henkle. The stereopticon recently secured in Paris by the state university has been placed at the disposal of the Hayden Art club, and in the latter part of January two very interesting evening entertainments will be given. In February Prof. U. E. Bennett of Madison, Wis., will address the club upon some recent archaeological discoveries and in March it is expected that there will be a study of Japanese art. The night drawing school in connection with the club will be opened in March. A small party of friends were very pleasantly entertained by Charles Burr Christmas eve. Cards were the leading amusement. Those present were: Messrs. S. T. St. John, Robert Muir, John T. Dorgan, Will Hardy, Frank Hathaway, E. O. Bradley; Misses Nellie White, Lillie Hathaway, Mabel Kemper of Burlington, Iowa, Anne Funke, May Miller of Chicago, Olive Latta, Mary Burr; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Henkle, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Burr. The silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill was celebrated Christmas night at the residence of M. and Mrs. O. P. Dinges, 655 South Eleventh street. The event also commemorated the seventy-second birthday of Mrs. Rebecca Dinges. A number of presentations were made and the evening was very pleasantly passed.

THE COURIER had hoped to give in this issue a list of the ladies who will receive New Years, but the paper goes to press too early to enable us to carry out this intention. Suffice it to say that the ladies are making active preparations and that the indications point to a very general observance of this time honored custom.

The Lotus club, one of the jolliest dancing organizations in the city, held its third party of the season at Temple hall Tuesday night. The members were nearly all present and the occasion was one of great enjoyment. Music was furnished by the Philharmonic orchestra, assisted by Miss Willoughby.

THE COURIER of two weeks ago contained an account of the erection of the first building in San Francisco by "Jacob P. Leese," who is still alive. It now transpires that this personage whose correct name is Leese, is an uncle of our attorney general.

Invitations to a New Years soiree to be given in Temple hall Wednesday evening, Dec. 31, by Messrs. Frank Seacrest, Roy Chapman and Cass Edwards, have been issued. It promises to be a large and delightful party.

A very pretty Christmas cantata was rendered by the pupils of the Elliot school Tuesday night, at the opera house. Five hundred children took part in the exercises, which were enjoyed by an audience that filled the house.

Miss Closson left Tuesday for Hillsdale, Michigan, to attend college. The night before her departure a number of friends gathered at her home, and a very pleasant evening was passed.

Charles and Miss Stella Elliot will entertain friends Tuesday evening, Dec. 30, in honor of Miss Gertrude Bowman, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, at their residence, 306 Fourteenth street.

Boils and Pimples

Are nature's efforts to eliminate poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

For several years I was troubled with boils and carbuncles. In casting about for a remedy, it occurred to me that Ayer's Sarsaparilla had been used in my father's family, with excellent success, and I thought that what was good for the father would also be good for the son. Three or four bottles of this medicine entirely cured me, and I have not since—in more than two years—had a boil, pimple, or any other eruptive trouble. I can conscientiously speak in the highest terms of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and many years' experience in the drug business enables me to speak intelligently.—C. M. Hatfield, Farmland, Ind.
