

The tawdry fashion of giving a woman her the tawdry fashion of giving a woman her husband's title has spread from Washington to Tombstone, says the "Open Court." It has changed our pride into vanity and shriv-eled up courtesy while trying to expand it. The papers are to blame for some of this, because the bribe of a chicken bone and a glass of wine will turn "our special reporter" into a Jenkins in yellow plush livery, and with a footman's rapture he will tell us that "Mrs. Commissioner Biggs gave a brilliant reception last evening, at which we notice Mrs. General Diggs and the charming Mrs. Alderman Figgs, accompanied by her beautiful daughter, Mrs. Senator Jiggs, who kept up a lively conversation with Mrs. Representative Riggs," and so down to the bottom of the stairs. The people who pay these flatteries are snobs, and so are the people who accept them. Trades, as well as offices, are titles now. I once had the honor of an introduction to a lady who promenaded through "society" as Mrs. Conductor Gaines; her husband was a conductor on a railroad. A few days ago a newspaper, telling about the burn-ing of a building in Chicago, said that "Elevator Operator Gibbs" first noticed the smoke. There was the stately title given to the boy who ran the "lift." More extravagant than even that was the grim and gloomy title giv-en to "Death Watch Osborne," a man whose duty it was to sit up with a convict sentenced to be hanged. In conferring this title we touched bottom, and this justifies the hope that a reaction will set in toward a simplicity of manners and address worthy of a sensib

"Almost all young people," says a Brocklyn pastor "expect at some time to marry." It is not absolutely necessary that they should marry, but, as a matter of fact, they almost all do. It is important, then, that they should consider such a subject as this. The trouble nowadays with marriage is that it is too often based on mere sentiment. If it were made, as it ought to be, a subject of reflection, and proper wisdom were exercised, the number of ill-assorted marriages would be greatly reduced and wedlock would become what God meant it to be—the spring of perpetual comfort and joy. If young ladies value their present and eternal interests as they ought, they will strive to be, when marriage comes, the right sort of wives. If young men would save themselves from life's worst burdens and troubles, they will be careful to select the right sort of wives.

"It is to be feared that a great many people regard as the right sort of a wife a woman fade and accomplishments to be forgotten, institution, is not without value, but the right sort of a wife. Let young ladies cultivate and young men seek these things and divorce courts will have nothing to do. Home will be pure and satisfying and human wedlock a type and illustration of a union of a soul to the Lord,"

The January number of the Cosmopolitan will contain the first of two parts of the new novel by Mrs. Van Renssalaer Cruger, whose "Diplomat's Diary" and "A Successful Man," the latter first published in the Cosmopolitan, excited so much comment both in this country and in Europe. She is undoubtedly the most interesting personality who has ap-peared in the literary field since the entree of Amelie Rives; but unlike Miss Rives, who was brought up amid the country surroundings of a Virgmia home, and who was a girl in her teens when she began to write, Mrs. Cruger has been for years a leader of New York society, and has spent a couple of win-ters at some of the most famous courts of Europe, and while yet a very young woman has enjoyed the richest experiences of life. The New York World, publishing a three column artice, gives the following interest-ing facts regarding her life: "Julien Gordon," whom all now know is Mrs. Van Renssalaer Cruger, has long been a leader in fashionable society, and has been as much noted for her cleverness and brilliant repartee, for her var-ed reading, for wide knowledge of men, women and things, as for her elegance in all the details of fashionable life. Those who know her personally are not surprised at the really excellent qualities of her literary work, but those who know of her only as a woman of fashion are surprised at her powers in this field. Mrs. Cruger's mother, Mrs. Storrow, was Miss Paris, the favorite niece of Washington Irving, who gave her away when she was married at Sunnyside, and clasped a diamond on her neck which has descended to Mrs. Cruger. The Wentworths were her ancestors, and her uncle, Charles Storrow, who graduated at Harvard the head of a class in which were Lowell and other distinguished men, is still living in Boston. Her great-grandfather was a British officer, and is still remembered in Boston as a handsome old gentleman with brilliant eyes and much of the vivacity of the French in his manner. He was very elegant and accomplished. He frequently contributed to the periodicals, having a natural gift for writing. Her fath-

There is at least a prospect of government encouragement of music. I see that a bill has been introduced into the house for the incorporation of the National Conservatory of Music of America, with Jeannette M. Thurber, Chauncey M, Depew and Abram S. Hewitt as incorporators. No subsidy will be asked from congress, reliance being placed upon voluntary subscriptions. A musical university is to be established in Washington, noney. Now, these things are well enough with branches in various large cities throughas far as they go. But if they form the only out the Union. The present conservatory qualifications, there will likely be disappointment and dissatisfaction befor many The nominal endorsement of the govyears have passed away. Beauty is apt to ernment of an educational system or

er. Thomas Wentworth Storrow, lived in France nearly all his life, and she was born or she may not, but in either case she will be life book has love written on every page; who makes a home for a man, a home in house and in a heart, a home that he is sure of, a home that is full of love presided over

> The Lincoln Furniture Company has sold its stock and business to A. L. Guile & Co. and on next Tuesday the new firm will throw open its doors to the public at the old stand, 1425 O street. Al. Guile is well and favorably known to all purchasers of furniture and it is very doubtful if there is a better posted man in the furniture business in Lincoln than he is. For ten years he has been constantly in that line and his many friends will be glad to know of his entering the field "on his own book" and wish him success

> Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds. Ask your druggist for Ayer's Al-

The representatives of the National Life Insurance Company of Vermont, surprised Mr. Charles L. Meshier, the general agent of the company yesterday, by presenting him a set f resolutions handsomely framed, expressing their thanks for the assistance rendered them by him during the past year and their ap-preciation of him both as a manager and a gentleman. To say that there is perfect har mony in the National Life office here is put ting it very mildly. Every one of the men connected with the office is fully alive to the company's best interests and as a result of earnest systematic effort a very large business has been secured. THE COURIER heartily congratulates both the company and its repre sentatives upon its record in Southern Ne-braska for 1890 and predicts for them greater results for 1891.

One of the liveliest departments in the exposition is that occupied by Briscoe, the show nan. There is no suspicion of dull times there, Business is booming and goods are going with a rush. If you happen to be in need of any thing in the way of foot wear-shoes, boots, slippers, etc., you might do well to drop in and see some of Briscoe's offerings. His specialty is a shoe combining elegance of style with great durability, and he guarantees a perfect fit in every instance. Whatever you want, and no matter how fastidious you may be, you can be suited at Briscoe's. Try and

The rush of the holiday season is now over but business continues very brisk with many of the leading stores. Louie Meyer & Co's Tenth street store, after a phenominally large holiday trade, is still beset by eager buyers of holiday bargains and novelties. At this store can be had anything in the way of general merchandise, including dry goods, notions, grocogies, etc., etc. Each depart-ment is kept thoroughly stocked up and each embrace all of the k-test novelties in that line. The goods offered for sale by Louie Meyer & Co. are selected in New York City and the last by Mr. Meyer personally, and can always be depended upon to be new and thoroughly reliable. The firm has achieved a wide reputation for selling the best goods at the lowest figures and purchasers are aware that this reputation is built on a solid foundation,

The management of the second annua Charity Ball regrets the delay of thirty days

BECEIPTS.	unavoidable:	ronowing	report,	out	ic wi	ns
Door receipts	diff (difficulty)	RECEIPT	8.
Door receipts	Ticket sales				1774	S)
Meals
Gross receipts
DISBURSEMENTS. Captain Crawford, labor $6.0		*			1	-
Captain Crawford, labor $ 6 0 E'ectrical words $ 35 0 Gloves for police, postage, etc $ 5 0 Calcium light effects $ 25 2 Scaffolding, signs and work $ 12 0 Printing tickets $ 1 0 Decorations, use of plants and biring of help $ 45 L D T Messenger service, wagon $ 1 0 L Franklin's services $ 1 5 Music, piano and Warner's services $ 83 0 S F A esterfield, colored maids $ 3 0 Telephone to Omaha $ 3 0 Net receipts $ 20 0	Gross receipts.	*			808	50
E'ectrical words Gloves for police, postage, etc 50 Gloves for police, postage, etc 50 Calcium light effects 25 2 Scaffolding, signs and work 12 b Printing tickets 10 Decorations, use of plants and hiring of help 84 5 L D T Messenger service, wagon 10 L Franklin's services 15 Music, piano and Warner's services 83 0 S F A esterfield, colored maids 3 0 Telephone to Omaha 3 H R Nissley & Co, canvass 20 0 Net receipts $307 6	1	DISBURSEM	ENTS.
E'ectrical words Gloves for police, postage, etc 50 Gloves for police, postage, etc 50 Calcium light effects 25 2 Scaffolding, signs and work 12 b Printing tickets 10 Decorations, use of plants and hiring of help 84 5 L D T Messenger service, wagon 10 L Franklin's services 15 Music, piano and Warner's services 83 0 S F A esterfield, colored maids 3 0 Telephone to Omaha 3 H R Nissley & Co, canvass 20 0 Net receipts $307 6	Captain Crawfor	d, labor		1	6	œ
Gloves for police, postage, etc 5 0						O
Scaffolding signs and work 12 to	Gloves for police	e. postage,	etc		5	a
Printing tickets	Calcium light ef	Tects			25	21
Decorations, use of plants and hiring of help					15	'n
Decorations, use of plants and hiring of help	Printing tickets.				1	O
L D T Messenger service, wagon 1 0 L Franklin's services 1 5 Music, piano and Warner's services 83 0 Thomas Brown, caterer 120 0 S F A esterfield, colored maids 3 0 Telephone to Omaha. 3 H R Nissley & Co, canvass 20 0 Net receipts $200 0
1. Franklin's services 1 5 Musie, piano and Warner's services 83 0 Thomas Brown, caterer 120 0 S F A esterfield, tolored moids 3 0 Telephone to Omaha 3 H R Nissley & Co, canvass 20 0 Sagar 6 Net receipts $500 8	help				84	M
Musie, piano and Warner's services 83 0 Thomas Brown, caterer 120 0 S F' A esterfield, colored maids 3 0 Telephone to Omaha 3 0 H R Nissley & Co, canvass 20 0 Net receipts $200 0	L D T Messenge	r service,	vagon		1	OX
Thomas Brown, caterer	I. Franklin's ser	vices			1	5
S F A esterfield, colored maids	Musie, piano an	d Warner	s services	s	83	Œ
Telephone to Omaha	Thomas Brown,	caterer			1:20	O
H R Nissley & Co, canvass 20 0 $397 6 Net receipts $200 9	S F A esterfield	, colored m	sids		8	œ
$507 6 Net receipts	Telephone to O	mahs				3
Net receipts$500 9	H R Nissley &	Co, canvass			20	O
Net receipts$500 9						-
					Sept.	a
	Net receipts				$500	9
were made with great care and nearly ever ited number of the guests partaking of it. foresee and the loss was something that Antony with manliness and some could not be avoided.

The hall was superior in every respect to that of last year, and it is the intention to make that of 1891 still better, several featares of remarkable beauty having already seen arranged for that have never as yet been vitnessed in this country.

One hundred dollars has been given the Tabitha home for orphans, while $400.90 goes to the Lincoln aid and relief society to be distributed as needed by Elder Howe.

JOSEPH BOEHMER,

Chairman Finance Committee.

Life is Misery To thousands of people who have the taint of scrofula in their blood. The agonies caused by the dreadful running sores and other manifestations of this disease are beyond decription. There is no other remedy equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, salt rheum and every form of blood disease. It is reasonably sure to benefit all who give it a fair triai. Be sure to get Hood's.

Windsor Hotel.

only novelty in New York is the pr Sardou's "Cleopatra" by Fanny Davemport at the Fifth Avenue Theatre on Tuesday evening. Like Miss Mather's at-tempt of "Joan of Arc," much labor and money has been expended in scenery, cosumes and practice, to duplicate the original Parisian exhibition. The outcome was a series of views well worth looking at, and deserving of unreserved admiration as an exposition of modern completeness and sumpt-ousness in dramatic illustration. Miss Daven port's performance demonstrated that she, candy, and took a piece out of her cheek. The dog was instantly killed.

The last year of "The Old Home announced, and it will probably be followed at the Academy of Music, New York, next year by the great spectacular play "The Soudan," now so successful in Boston. Denman Thompson longs to take the road again and he will take "The Old Homestead" over the country next season Clara Morris under the able manageme of Edwin H. Price is having one of the most profitable tours ever made by a female star. Her business on the Pacific coast was phe nomenal, and she is filling engagements in the best theatres in the country. Miss Mor ris will probably present Sardou's "Odette, in New York City before the close of the

H. S. Taylor has just closed a five year's contract with Joseph Haworth by which that

SEE HIMSELF AS OTHERS SEE HIM

French Officer (to raw recruit)—Do me the favor to dismount and see what a gawk you are so horseback!

hardly more than Miss Mather, possessed Bernhardt's power to become an engrossing beroine of an essentially undramatic play. Placed in a succession of episodes, which were not in steady progression of a continuous or absorbing story, she did not succeed in deeply impressing the audience by the force of her personality. She is a beautiful woman, and she was indeed regal in her Egyptian robings, but this enchantress of the Nile was sinewy rather than sinuous, more commanding than seductive, and with aggressiveness in her enticements, instead of letting her charm do its own work. Of course there was no outright failure in any single thing that she did. She was too competent an actress to meet with any such disaster as that. Therefore, while her efforts were regarded with respect and esteem, she had no electrical effect upon the assemblage. Her sorcery was too much like common-place iove-making, and had too little intelle romance to pass for that which enabled Cleo-patra to befool Antony. Sadous has asserted that he never borrowed from Shakespeare in writing"Cleopatra." This is easy to believe. It is sufficient to rate his play as a melodrams, along with his "La Tosca," "Fedora," and especially "Theodora," which it much resembles in manner. The only thing which aroused genuine enthusiasm, indeed, was a simoon, which the dramatist has cleverly associated with some religious rites, and which was mechanically wrought out with thunder and lightning, with trees swavng in the wind, and the dust of the desert cent went to the laboring classes, the $25.25 slowly obscuring the frightened and prosfor calcium light effects being the only expense outside of the city. A loss of $58 was unanswerable argument for the entertaining encountered in the item of lunch, but a limvalue of good stage realism. The supporting icompany was only fair, with the possible ex-This, of course, the management could not ception of Melbourne McDowell, who played power.

THEATRICAL TALK.

Cleveland's minstrels at the opera house to-

The London Gaiety Girls are booked for Monday night at the Funke.

The new farcical opera "Ship Ahoy," is said to be strongly suggestive of "Pinafore." Its success in New York has not been re-

Stuart Robson has rented the Union Square Theatre, New York, for three months next season when Thomas Q. Seabrooke will make his debut as a star in a new comedy by Bill Nye and Mr. Robson.

Mary Auderson refused to see Henry E. Abbey when he called on her at Turnbridge Wells, lately. She says she will never appear on the stage again, and wishes nothing to do with theatrical people

Emil Haberkorn, Margaret Mather's husband, is leading the orchestra at the Duquesne Theatre, at Pittsburg. He has nothing to say about the reported divorce, but as Mrs. Mather is to appear at the theatre in January, they will probably meet.

Nellie Cummings was severely bitten by a bulldog in Philadelphia last week. She had a narrow escape, as the dog jumped for her throat when she was giving him apiece of favorite young actor is to star under his management beginning with next season in a new romantic play by an American author. Mr. Haworth will also be seen in a repertory of the legitimate including "Hamlet" and "Othello." He will be supported by a strong company which is now being secured by Mr

Stuart Robson's humor is never divorces from any of his actions—even in the making of wedding gifts. When the engagement of Lawrence Barrett's daughter, Eith, with Mr. Williams, was pending, Mr. Robson promised a wedding gift of five thousand dollars, and paid one dollar down as an earnest of his intention. On the day of the wedding Mr. Robson sent his check for four thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine dollars.

William Winter writes as follows in the not one of the close-fitting pointed fronts New York Tribune: "Miss Davenport makes good, wholesome, domestic Bostonian or much the appearance of a trussed fowl. A Philadelphia Cleopatra, who would really do scal cap with lamb's ben! secompanies this not one of the naughty deeds of the entranc- cape. ing Egyptian, but rather would have married Antony and settled him as Chief-Justice of Alexandria. Mr. Melbourne McDowell, a heavy man, with vast jaws and a tiger-like countenance, presented Antony, and created frequent disturbances.

The military drill in "Monte Cristo Jr." was the finest exhibition of this kind seen in Lincoln since Primrose & West's minstrels Roland Reed, as Captain Abner Tarbox as mild a mannered man as ever scuttled a ship," scored a distinct triumph in "Lend Me Your Wife" at Funke's Monday evening. This is an extremely funny farse cornedy. The fun is utterly ridiculous; but it is not knisterous. Reed's reputation as a comedian, was long since established. In "Lend Me Your Wife" he sustains that reputation and is ween in a character that enables him to exhibit his art in a new direction. He was supported by a very competent company and the play was given a very even presentation. The audience was an unusually large one, and at times was very enthusiastic.

Presto! Change! Gray and faded beards made to assume their original color by applying Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers. t never fails to satisfy.

Brown's new branch restaurant, 1418 O street, is doing a large business, and persons in the east part of the city are to be congratulated on having so nice and convenient a place to dine at.

H. P. Sherwin, 1124 O street, has a present for every one of his customers that cannot fail to be appreciated. He will give to every customer a fine crayon picture made from any photo that is desired and it will not cost you a cent. Call in at his drug and shoe store and see how it is done. 1124 O street.

All the latest sheet music, new stock, at Grancer's Art Music store, 212 south Eleventh rooms 12 and 13, Newman block, 1025 O , st. | fur band are of materia otter.

An Excellent Business Opportunity, My time being almost entirely taken up with THE COURIER, I have decided to dispose of my printing and stationary business, or would sell half interest to the party who would manage that department. Business will stand close investigation. Call or adlress L. Wessell, Jr., COURIER office, Lincoln.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla stops the nauseous disharges of catarrh, and cures the complaint.

Ladies' Hair Dressing at Miss Johnston's'

BEAUTIFUL MIDWINTER ROBES.

[Special Counten Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 1, 1891.-Midwinter in New York, and the fashionable season in full swing. Society's devotees are quite over-whelmed with engagements now, for in a few weeks Lent will come to put a temporary end to their gayeties, and therefore it is necessary to crowd as much pleasure as pos-sible into the brief present. And what with the morning walk or ride, for health's sake the shopping tour on the Avenue or Broad-way, the ladies luncheon, followed by the afternoon reception or tea, and then the round of evening dissipations, the debutantes are not only imparing their bloom, but are finding out that even the most complete and beautiful wardrobes got together before Thanksgiving, will ere the New Year is fully under way, begin to show decided marks of wear and tear. And this necessitates fresh additions every few weeks, which is good for trade, and stimulates the modiste and tailors to renewed efforts after the novel and distingue, efforts wi ich are so far successful that often these demi saison achievements surpass those put forth originally.

This is the case with the accompanying sketches, taken from a couple of the latest Redfern models.

First a cape rather longer than those worn in the fall, and in a combination of three kinds of fur. The yoke which is very peculiar in shape, is of Astrachan bordered by a roll of Persian lamb, while the lower part is About the "Cleopatra" production, Mr | fse ls'cin. It will be observed that this is which bind the arms and give their wearers

Our second illustration pictures a leng handsome carriage wrap, in Newmarket shape with a douple cap. The material is water green cloth, a st the old scarf down the front is of darker green plush, cer J. B. Barnaby, the tailer, may be found at with an intrica e design in silver braid. The more internal qualities. The marriage relation, to be the source and support of life's best blessings, must call into activity the nobler powers and feelings of the mind and a to or-made girl.

"To be more specific, the right sort of a the home over which she is to preside. She and money to either take wings or bring otherwise the plan does not appear to be with it a spoiled and selfish nature. Real of much significance. The names of the corwifehood must found itself in deeper and porators are a guarantee of the merit of the

SOUR GRAPES.

Beatrice-Why is it, dear, that so solid a man as old Parvenue should propose to Fulalie-I don't know, love, except that the natural affinity of a self-made man i household, and makes her hospitality a dewife will know something of the duties of wrath: who keeps her sweetest smiles and

Here is another view of the model wife: A model wife is the Woman who looks after his light to him and not a burden: who has learned that a soft answer will turn away most loving words for her husband; who is will have tact to manage its affairs so that it his confidant in sorrow or in joy, and who will be the sweetest place in the world for her does not feel the necessity of explaining her husband and children. She will be a woman private affairs to the neighborhood; who reof intelligence, who will be able to under- spects the rights of husband and children, stand and sympathize with her husband in | and in return has due regard paid to her; his business or studies. She will be of an who know that the strongest argument is her amiable disposition. She will bring to her womanliness, and so she cultivates it; who is husband an undivided heart—a heart filled sympathetic in joy or in grief, and who finds with unselfish affection. Above all, she will work for hands to do; who is not made bitter be a Christian, who crowns her faithfulness by trouble, but who strengthens ar I sweetens to the man of her choice with faithfulness to under it; who tries to conceal the faults of God. - A woman who posses these qualities her husband, rather than blazon them forth may have beauty, accomplishments or wealth,

Almy & Bigelow very generously provided the electrical effects at the exact cost to them for labor in preparation, and everything was worked to the best possible advantage and for the full benefit of the charitable fund.

Respectfully,

School of practical linquistry, French and German. Winter term opens January 5 For particulars address, ANNA MONAGON,