The Belles. (Slightly altered from Moore.) Those lovely belles, Those charming belles, How many a swell These praises tells In ardent hope, At that sweet time When love is in its budding prime, But hopes unfulfilled Have passed away, And many a heart That once was gay In deep despondency now dwells And sneers at those enchanting belles— For jilted were those precious swells. —Mrs. W. J. Hyman.

"I never saw so many sweet faces in a ball room before in my life and yet I have attended social gatherings in all parts of the United States." Such was the remark of a lady who took a peep last week at the ball given by the Pleasant Hour club. Any person who had the good fortune to attend that party will immediately agree with the sentiments quoted above. Lincoln has a remarkably large number of beautiful young girls who, by the way are accomplished and sensible as they are lovely. Whether it is the climate or their heritage from ancestors we have not taken the time to investigate. We have them and are proud of them. That is sufficient.

The Phoenix club is the latest social organization in the city and is composed of a number of prominent young society men. A series of three balls are to be given this season. The first was given Wednesday a more popular time than that of Wednesday evening could not have been chosen for a party and the Phoenix Club, had the misfortune to select that date as the one for the opening dance of their series. But young hearts not only defy bolts and bars but they even defy the elements and as a result a goodly number turned out to make merry at this initial party. The affair was of course a full dress and some very beautiful toilets were worn despite the state of the weather. The music for the occasion was furnished by Harry Irvine's orchestra of Omaha, and was perfectly superb. The floor of Temple Hall was in excellent condition and with such divine music one could not help but dance even if he had never attempted to before. The dancing programmes were very unique. It is to be hoped that the next party will occur on a more favorable evening as many persons living in Omaha and other cities will probably be present. Following is the list of dances and the musical selections:

- Waltz.....New Paris Lancers.....Red Hussar Schottische.....Chiming Bells Waltz—Arranged by Irvine....."Golden Moon" Quadrille.....Frolle About Town Polka.....Bonne Bouche Waltz.....Puppenfee Saratoga Lancers.....Grenadiers Waltz.....Pearl of Pekin Lancers.....Paul Jones Newport.....Dream of Happiness Polka....."Lace Handkerchief" Quadrille—Waltz—Irving....."Favorite" Schottische—Irving....."Favorite" Berlin.....Vienna to Berlin Waltz.....Poor Johnathan

A bright and congenial company of society people gathered Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. and Miss Maude Hammond. Cards were the principal feature of the evening's pleasure, the game being enlivened with animated conversation and happy sallies and retorts. The fates were favorable to Mr. Charles Burr and Miss Maud Burr and they divided the honors evenly on the royal prize. Mr. Fred W. Houtz and Miss Bertie McBride blushing accepted the booty. The following is a list of the guests: Messrs. John S. West, Lieut. Griffith, J. W. Maxwell, E. E. Henkle, Van Dusen, Fred C. Howe, Charles Hall, John McBride, S. T. St. John, Frank S. Burr, Will Meyer, Frank L. Hathaway, C. Y. Smith, M. L. Winger, Clyde Bowman, Harry Hicks, Clinton Andrus, Rob't. D. Muir, W. H. Wheeler, Stephen Langworthy, E. O. Bradley, R. M. Joyce, John T. Dorgan, W. E. Clark, L. W. Marshall, Harry J. Hall, Sidney Wilson, Fred W. Houtz, Charles L. Burr, Oscar F. Funke, Hall Northman, Max Baldwin, Charles P. Hammond, Homer Edmiston, Thos. E. Wing, Will Johnson. Mrs. John S. West, Mrs. Lieut. Griffith, Mrs. J. W. Maxwell, Mrs. E. E. Henkle, Mrs. Kirby Hammond, Mrs. Van Dusen, Misses Martha Fitke, Bertie Turner, Bertie McBride, Olive Latta, Rachel Brock, Nellie White, Hattie Leland, Carrie Leland, Maud Burr, Kattie Cowdery, Margaret Baird, Lottie Andrus, Donnelly, Fan Hawley, Kattie Weston, Knapp, Cover, Gretchen Marquette, Maud Stobbs, Alice Cowdery, Naomi Weaver, Carrie Hill, Bertie Hill, Hattie Hooper, Wassner, Miller, Ann Funke, Fay Marshall, Bessie Mason, Lillie Hathaway, Bertie Burr.

There is probably no city in the west of its size that has the good fortune to have such a large circle of society people as has Lincoln. Whether this is due to the fact that the city is a great educational point, or a splendid commercial center, matters not in this connection. Lincoln has the intelligent, genial, well-to-do class of which society is composed and we rejoice in the fact that we have them. The COURIER is published for the purpose of recording the social gatherings of this class of people and the editor and associate editor are always glad to receive anything in the line of society news. If you have a party at your home do not cultivate a false modesty and feel backward about sending an account of it to THE COURIER and above all a list of the guests. This journal is published for you and your friends and the editors are glad to receive any society item at any time. If you or your sister or any other person takes a trip or goes to visit friends in some other city let us know of it. THE COURIER is the mirror of Lincoln's social events and just exactly what you choose to make it. Be sure and send your items in early in the week.

On Friday evening last nearly seventy-five of the social people of North Lincoln met at the residence of Mr. D. C. Fellows and enjoyed a general good time. A jollier aggregation of persons is seldom seen. One of the great features of the evening was the bountiful New England supper to which the guests sat down. The hospitable spirit manifested by the host and his fair partner put the guests at ease and a merry evening was passed. There were a number of accomplished musicians present and in response to requests each favored the company with either a vocal or instrumental selection. A unique and enjoyable feature of the evening were the dramatic selections rendered by Miss May Fellows and Master Ira Phillips. The latter gave variety to the evening's pleasure and is worthy of imitation in other social gatherings where the host and hostess are desirous of making an evening pass pleasantly for guests. Miss Ethel Marsland entertained the Tuesday Evening Club at her residence, Twenty-eighth and L streets, Wednesday evening.

The favorite author of the evening was Bret Harte. Selections from his works were given by various members, together with a sketch of his life. Arrangements were also completed for the presentation of two dramatic works by the club at an early date. There were present Messrs. Funke, Miller, White, Wassner, Barr, Walsh, Loomis, Smith, Hardy, Burr, Olive Latta, Stobbs, and Messrs. Smith, Zehring, Dorgan, Muller, Faucon, Myers, Gerwig, Clarke and St. John. The members voted the meeting one of the pleasantest yet held.

The latest fad among certain young society ladies in Omaha, St. Joseph and Lincoln is the wearing of—well, excuse our blushes—but to be unequivocal, it is a mascothe garter. Now these dainty unmentionables as soon as sale in the stores are a handsome yellow—almost golden-color. Only one is worn—at least so rumor goes—and this is never removed. If it is taken off, the spell is gone and its magic power lost. Now your curiosity is aroused and you want to know what magic there can be in that simple circlet. Well I tell you what I hear. The wearer of that golden band is believed to be clothed with the power of destiny and by her spell can win to her the gentleman of her choice and can always wed him as soon as she pleases. The great power of the band is in the simple fact that it insures a speedy marriage to the wearer. Now this fad may not be as new as it seems, as one lady declares she has been wearing the circlet for four years and as she has not been married yet she declares she believes it all to be a humbug.

Mr. J. A. Harris and Miss Man D. Tibbles were married by Dr. Curtis Monday evening. The affair was extremely modest and quiet. Prof. V. Z. Emory and Miss Kate Scotchborn being the only witnesses of the fateful ceremony. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Harris took the evening train East, to be gone about ten days. They will be at home to their friends in Lincoln, after February 5. Mr. Harris is a young contractor who has been singularly successful, while his bride is known as one of the most popular teachers in the city schools. Both are ex-students of the State University, and members of Greek letter societies. Their marriage adds one more to the list of happy and well chosen matches resulting more or less from the co-educational system. A delegation of intimate friends were at the depot to see the bridal couple depart and they took with them the best wishes of a host of acquaintances.

On last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wil Pomfret entertained a number of friends, at their cosy home on South Seventeenth street. "High five" was indulged in and a very pleasant evening was spent by all. Dainty refreshments were served at 10 o'clock. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Turner, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Tibbels, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kennard, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Caister, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kirker, Mr. and Mrs. Phelps, Paine, Mr. T. P. Kennard, Miss E. Kennard of Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cromwell, Mr. and Mrs. Lumming. Dr. Everett and Mrs. Turner carried off the royal prizes, while Mrs. Kennard and I. H. Caister got the booty.

Miss Florence Winger is a great favorite in the social circles in which she moves and a party given by her is the synonym for "an evening of pleasure." On last Friday evening she won additional laurels as an entertainer by giving a card party known by the rather unique name of "progressive tiddly wink." The game proved as jolly as the name implies and a delightful evening was passed. The guests were: The Misses Libbie Seacrest, S. Franklin, Stella Curtis, J. Webster, and Edith Fiske; Messrs. John Farwell, Frank Smith, Frank Wood, Charles Blair, Cecil Graham and Wilson Winger.

The young friends of Harry Eddles enjoyed a party at his home Friday evening given by his parents. The usual round of games enlivened with music made the evening pass pleasantly away. The guests were: The Misses Maud Bennett, Carrie Stearns, Minnie Risley, Ada Hagenbaugh, Etie Hagenbaugh, Mabel Doyle, Verdie Caldwell, Messrs. Harry Doyle, Fred Parr, Paul Purcell, Arthur Bennett, James Bailey and Frank Sides.

Last Friday marked another birthday anniversary in the life of Mr. R. S. McIntosh. In commemoration of this his charming wife got up a splendid birthday dinner, invited in a few of his most intimate friends and treated Mr. McIntosh to a genuine surprise. The guests were Mr. J. R. Lemist, Dr. Sparr, Mr. Hawley, Mr. Charles L. Burr and Mr. S. T. St. John.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seybolt entertained a circle of friends at their home, Twenty-sixth and M streets, Wednesday evening. At an early hour in the evening the doors of their spacious dining room were thrown open and the company partook of an elegant supper, which was enjoyed by all present.

The masquerade ball given at Boharan's hall Monday night by the Germania Maennerchor proved a grand success. Nearly two hundred couples participated in the grand march. There were a great variety of costumes both handsome and grotesque.

A pretty little wedding occurred yesterday in which the principals were Mr. D. T. Barnes of Bennett, and Miss Tillie Mercer of Princeton, Ill. The marriage occurred at the residence of the bride's sister in East Lincoln.

A spider web social was held at the First Baptist church last evening and called together a large number of young people. A delightful evening was passed.

W. S. Morton and daughter returned Wednesday from Chicago.

A. W. Lano is home again after a weeks trip Ottona, Minn.

Mrs. Ed. Cerf leaves today for New York to visit relatives.

Boils and Pimples

Are nature's efforts to eliminate poison from the blood. This may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "For several years I was troubled with boils and carbuncles. In casting about for a remedy, it occurred to me that Ayer's Sarsaparilla had been used in my father's family, with excellent success, and I thought that what was good for the father would also be good for the son. Three or four bottles of this medicine entirely cured me, and I have not since—in more than two years—had a boil, pimple, or any other eruptive trouble. I can conscientiously speak in the highest terms of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and many years' experience in the drug business enables me to speak intelligently."—C. M. Hatfield, Farmland, Ind.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.
