The most enjoyable social event of the week was the party given by the nameless club at Temple hall Monday evening. It was under the auspices of about two dozen young men, whose business cares do not permit them to give the attention to social duties that they would like, but having enjoyed the hospitality of some of the best homes in Lincoln, they paid the debt by giving the pleas-ant party Monday evening. The affair was a happy, informal event devoid of the stately features of more pretentious affairs and for that reason more enjoyable, Many of the hours till minnight. An enjoyable repast young ladies in attendance declared that they enjoyed themselves better than they have at any party this season. The ladies have besought the gentlemen to organize a permanent club, and the young gallants held a meeting Thursday night to consider the matter and it is now probable that an organization will be perfected and a series of dances will be given this winter and will be followed club Friday evening at her home, 1708 M by a number of picnics this summer.
