A Beauty and a Treasure. Her eyes are as blue as the blue of the skies. When the morning its beauty discloses, And her cheeks' glowing beauty description discloses. With their mixture of Miles and roses. The sunrise is seen in the shimmering hair That her neck and her shoulders caresses, And the splendor of morning can only compare With the luminous gold of her tresses. Her mouth when she's smiling shows twin rows of pearls That gleam 'twixt the caroline portals; They call her the gem and perfection of girls, The daintiest, sweetest of mortals. Her voice is as soft as the coo of the dove, And sweet as the bobolink singing; Her heart is a fountain of kindness and love, In freshness perennially springing. She's endowed with the beauty of person and face. Possessed by the fair Aphrodite Or Helen the peerless, the sweetness and grace That comes to the features of Clio. Many eye her advances, and the youth with a chance Of winning her hand should employ, For she owns a big block of Old Colony stock And a cranberry bog in Wauwatosa.

The beautiful home of H. P. Lau was thrown open to receive the many invited friends to a masquerade party Friday night. The house was beautifully illuminated and the sweet scent of roses pervaded the whole mansion. There was a beautiful profusion of smilax and flowers on every side and the parlors resembled a floral bower. The evening enjoyment was mostly in the ball room. Mrs. Lau having a very large room expressly for that purpose. When all the guests had arrived the brilliant array of costumes was a pleasure to gaze upon. After extending greetings in dumb show fashion the party enjoyed dancing and attempting to discover their friends in disguise. After unmasking elegant refreshments were served, each person receiving a beautiful rose as a souvenir. Then followed dancing and cards. The party broke up at a late hour, pronouncing the evening an event long to be remembered. The following were present: Mesdames Gruetter, Bosselman, Hargreaves, Benton, Preston, Turner, Hard, Mychsen; Misses Salmora, Leese, Geopengieser, Cole, Haas, English, Steen, Manley, Andrews, Westerman, Talbot, Carmody, Hill, Aitken, Donnelly, Perkins; Messrs. Comstock, Howe, Longwell, Freeman, Funke, Hardy, Scheiderhelm, Bigger, Scott, Gruetter, Winz, Painter, Aitken, Westermann, Bosselman, Hargreaves, Turner, Preston, Perkins, Benton, Tychoon, Junge, Culmette, Welch. Mrs. Lau and daughters were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. George Bosselman.

The merchant's carnival at the representative hall in the state house occurred last evening and proved a grand success. The beautiful and unique costumes worn by the ladies created great surprise and admiration. Seventy-five young ladies participated. The second ball of the Phoenix club was held at Masonic Temple on Monday evening and proved a brilliant affair. The evening was somewhat more auspicious than the one on which the initial party was given and there was a full attendance, of members. The Philharmonic orchestra put forth its best efforts and played as it never did before. The floor was in excellent condition, the dancers in merry mood and a delightful evening was passed. Some very tasty and elegant costumes were worn. The following ladies and gentlemen were present: Messrs. A. Katzenstein, jr., A. Katzenstein, sr., David Wise, M. A. Newmark, Max Kohn, M. Oppenheimer, I. Oppenheimer, Sam Wessel, M. Ackerman, Mesdames L. Katzenstein of Sutton, Liebergh of Helena, Ark. A very enjoyable and neatly executed surprise party was the one held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hopkins, 1441 D street, it being Mrs. Hopkins' twenty-ninth birthday. Progressive high five was the principal amusement of the evening. Dory Miltonberger and Judge Cochran being for the ladies prize. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. T. Miltonberger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Browne, Mrs. J. W. Percival, Misses Suter and Peters, Messrs. Spencer and Snyder. The ladies are members of the Pythian Sisterhood, and brought along a substantial lunch. The evening was one of rare enjoyment and Mrs. Hopkins will have pleasant cause to long remember her twenty-ninth birthday.

On February 26, 1876, at Nebraska City Mr. C. J. Ernst of this city was married to Miss Marie Weber. Last Thursday, therefore was the fifteenth anniversary, known as the crystal wedding. Without the slightest intimation of the occasion Mr. and Mrs. Ernst invited a few of their nearest neighbors in to spend the evening, none of them suspecting any special reason for the gathering. The following obeyed the summons: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zehring, Miss Nellie Zehring, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Wedgwood, Mrs. R.

R. Randall, sr., Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Miltonberger, Mrs. Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hocke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hase, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Baldwin, Rev. and Mrs. Luther P. Ludlen. A most delightful evening was spent, the company not separating until after midnight. Some very handsome and costly presents of cut glass were received from friends who had means of remembering the date.

Banner City Camp, No. 1342, Modern Woodmen, had a social and supper at the hall in Young's block Friday evening. Addresses were made by Messrs. W. J. Bryan and Harry Hotchkiss. The Arion glee club rendered one of their choicest songs, Miss Royle gave a dramatic selection, Miss Jennie Thompson gave a vocal solo and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond sang a duette. After the programme the evening was spent in card playing, music and dancing. The hall was spread with canvass and afforded an excellent place for dancing. In the banquet hall four long tables were groaning under the load of edibles piled thereon and to which the guests did ample justice.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hargreaves entertained a charming party of friends last Friday evening. High five was the "divertissement," and the honors were won by Mrs. Henkle and Mr. McIntosh. The daintiest of refreshments were served, including the somewhat rare luxury of fresh strawberries. The guests left at a late hour, with many compliments to the host and hostess, for so pleasant an evening. The following were the guests: Messrs. and Mesdames W. E. Ogden, A. J. Benson, R. J. Green, J. W. Bushner, Ben. Dove, Jno. Farrell, A. J. Buckstaff, Lieut. Griffith, Frank Sheldon, G. M. Lambertson, Will Maxwell, R. W. McIntosh, Elmer Henkle, Jno. B. Wright, Jno. West.

A paper of a recent date from Toronto contains the following compliment to Miss Minnie Gaylord, who took part in a concert given in that city February 19: Miss Minnie Gaylord has a very pleasing presence, and a pretty, sweet soprano voice of accurate intonation and great compass. She sings in good style and with taste and judgment. Her songs were "Waiting," and "Emmett's Coo-koo Song." She sang the yodel in the latter clearly and neatly. The encore songs were "You" and "Robin Adair."

Capitol Lodge No. 11, I. O. O. F., celebrated its twenty-third anniversary Friday night in a manner becoming its age and dignity. Speeches were made by Messrs. J. H. McClary, A. H. Wier and D. A. Cline. The union orchestra furnished music for the occasion and after refreshments had been served in the banquet room to over 300 guests, those who desired indulged in dancing until a late hour.

Mr. A. J. Wright, an old citizen of Tecumseh, has purchased a handsome residence on R and Thirty-first streets and is now a citizen of this city. Mr. Wright is an operative of the United States Treasury department, his territory covering the whole of Nebraska. He has been for twelve years a deputy United States marshal, and is well and favorably known in the state.

Yesterday afternoon a pleasant Kensington party was given at the residence of Mrs. George Bosselman. This was the first of a series of similar affairs to be given by the ladies' club recently organized, and a most delightful afternoon was passed. The time of reception was from 2 to 6 p. m. The ladies present were: Mesdames Wise, Hall, Newmark, Mauritius, Preston, Perkins, Plank, Turner, Benton, Wheeler, Bosselman, Outcalt.

A reception will be given to traveling men by the Lincoln young men's Christian association Saturday evening, March 14th, from eight to ten o'clock. The reception will be held in the association rooms, 141 South Tenth street, second floor. All commercial travelers and their lady friends are invited.

Rehearsals of Longfellow's Dream, are in active progress day and evening. An artistic success is already a foregone conclusion. While many characters are of literary and historic interest others abound in humor.

Each Season Has its own peculiar malady; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the system readily adapts itself to changed conditions. Composed of the best alteratives and tonics, and being highly concentrated, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most effective and economical of all blood medicines. "For some years, at the return of spring, I had serious trouble with my kidneys. I was unable to sleep nights, and suffered greatly with pains in the small of my back. I was also afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. These symptoms were much worse last spring, especially the trouble with my back. A friend persuaded me to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I began taking it, and my troubles all disappeared." - Mrs. Geneva Belanger, 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass. Ayer's Sarsaparilla PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists. $1.50 a bottle. Worth 50 cents a bottle.
