A Bachelor's Trouble. For the COURIER. In silence he sat by the dim candle light. Thinking of days gone by: His memory perfect, you'd know it was good. You could tell by the gleam of his eye. He thought of his mother, who when he was a boy, Back for the old tow of Lantz, She never compelled him to brush off his clothes, Nor sew buttons onto his pants. His life was so gay in those childhood days He thought could he live them again, He'd make up his mind, no'er a bachelor to be, But marry, and be in the swim. -LEE STONE.

Will Open Today. Lincoln citizens and particularly the society classes will be pleased to learn that Sutton & Hollowbush's beautiful new ice cream and candy store will be opened today at 303 south Eleventh street, first door south of McArthur's pharmacy. The proprietors have been hard at work for the past two weeks getting ready, and those that call today will certainly be both pleased and surprised with the general attractive appearance and good taste exercised in furnishing the place.

A stock of candies embracing in extent the largest assortment and finest line ever shown here, is already for the opening; the ice cream apartment has been very tastefully arranged and in fact every detail has been perfected except one, which is caused by the non arrival of a new and novel soda fountain, but will reach home in time for the grand formal opening which will soon be announced.

Aside from this the firm is ready and fully prepared to serve every demand for the finest goods in their line and will be pleased to have you call today and often thereafter.

Governor Boyd's Handsome Portrait. In the rooms at the Hotel Lincoln just above the clerk's desk is a crayon drawing that attracts universal attention and comment. It is a portrait of Governor Boyd and so lifelike is it, one would almost think it could talk. It is a profile view and the features are as clear-cut as marble, and appear to stand out in relief instead of being drawn merely. The lights and shades are so admirably arranged that the face is full of expression, and even the keenness of the governor's glance has been caught by the artist and put upon the canvass. The shading of the picture is bold and at the same time delicate, showing a sensitive artistic taste. The portrait is a striking one and has received not only the highest praise from professional artists, but also from persons who judge it merely from its merits as a portrait. The picture is the work of Mr. Burkett and in his studio are found a number of other portraits equalling in merit the one above mentioned. Mr. Burkett was not only born an artist, but has cultivated his genius in that line until but few, if any portrait artists in the west can approach him. His office is 1121 N St.

Baby is Sick. The woeful expression of a Des Moines teamster's countenance showed his deep anxiety was not entirely without cause, when he enquired of a druggist of the same city what was best to give a baby for a cold. It was not necessary for him to say more, his countenance showed that the pet of the family, if not the idol of his life was in distress. "We give our baby Chamberlain's Cough Remedy" was the druggist's answer. "I don't like to give the baby such strong medicine," said the teamster. "You know John Olsson, of the Watters-Talbot Printing Co., don't you?" enquired the druggist. "His baby when eighteen months old, got hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and drank the whole of it. Of course it made the baby vomit very freely but did not injure it in the least, and what is more, it cured the baby's cold. It is not necessary to give poisons to cure a cold or for cough either." The teamster already knew the value of the Remedy, having used it himself, and was now satisfied that there was no danger in giving it even to a baby.

A Red Letter Day. February 6th was a red letter day for Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa. They made their first shipment of goods to the Hawaiian Islands on that day. It consisted of 106 cases containing over four hundred dozen of their medicines, to the leading wholesale drug house in Honolulu. A large share of this shipment consisted of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, so much esteemed wherever it is known for its cures of colds and as a preventive and cure for croup. Chamberlain & Co., have contracted for advertising in all the leading newspapers in the Hawaiian Islands, and expect to make their remedies as popular there as they are in any part of the United States. For sale by druggists.

Fine Dress Making. Mrs. C. J. Todd, Newman block, is now prepared to execute Spring orders on short notice. Fine work solicited.

Doctor Koch's Discovery. Dr. Koch's great remedy seems to prove efficacious in those cases where the patient has contracted consumption in low lying countries. Almost all the level European districts where the disease exists it is traceable to purely climatic conditions, the moist atmosphere being a fine breeding region for the microbe. But in the high and dry altitude traversed by the Union Pacific, the original Overland Route, consumption not only cannot exist but is surely curable in its early stages. An is testified to by thousands who have regained health and strength in the life-giving air of the mountains. 2-1114-1-91.

Mrs. Gospe's new line of spring millinery has all arrived, and the stock is all complete in every department. Remember the place Mrs. Gospe's, 1114 O street. 3-28-2t.

A NOBBY NEW COAT.

[Special COURIER Correspondence.] NEW YORK, April 9, 1891.—There is a certain air of distinction—a cachet—about the long cloak, especially when it arrays a slight youthful figure, which enables it to hold its own against all new comers. Rodfern's very latest models for the spring of '91, are made long in the skirts, with or without the cross seam over the hips, and they are ornamented with large pockets, and the cuff wider than the sleeve, after the Louis XV fashion.

In the illustration here given the coat is of smooth faced cloth in a medium shade of prune. It has a jaunty cape attachment on the shoulder, and this like the revers and front corner of the skirt is braided in gold and black. The large buttons are of gold with a design in black enamel. A full jabot of heliotrope chiffon embroidered in black and gold, gives a finishing touch to this stylish model.

Another pretty habit Rodfern has just brought out consists of a skirt and waist coat of dark green corduroy velvet, and a coat of lighter green cloth. The hat is of green felt and matches the coat.

Why wear out with coughing at night, when Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve and cure?

Jesse T. Thompson and J. W. Bowen left Thursday night for McCook, to be absent until Saturday on G. A. R. business.

As a Rule,

It is best not to attempt to remedy costiveness by the use of saline or drastic purgatives. When a cathartic medicine is needed, the most prompt and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their effect is to restore the regular action of the bowels, without weakening them. Being sugar-coated, these Pills retain their medicinal virtues for a long time, and are easy to take.

"I can recommend Ayer's Pills above all others, having long proved their value as a cathartic for myself and family."—J. T. Hess, Leavittville, Pa. "In 1858, by the advice of a friend, I began the use of Ayer's Pills as a remedy for biliousness, constipation, high fevers, and colds. They served me better than anything I had previously tried, and I have used them in attacks of that sort ever since."—H. W. Hersh, Judsonia, Ark.
