SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

La grippe has entered many a Lincoln home this winter and today many vacant places in erstwhile happy families testify to the terrible power of the grim destroyer. Disease and death have spared neither young nor old. In the past month when almost at the dawn of summer the malady had apparently lost its force; the mortality has increased and unnumbered loved ones have been laid to rest. This week one of the saddest instances of the malignant power of the dread disease is the untimely death of Eugene Heaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Heaton. Loved by father and mother, esteemed by a large circle of acquaintances, respected for his many attainments, and universally honored for his unsullied character, he met death at the threshold of young manhood—when the end seems so far off, and life is so bright, and the flight of that youthful spirit has caused general and genuine sorrow wherever he was known. Death is not welcome at any age. It is doubly hard to give up life just as manhood's higher and nobler aspirations have come. Mr. and Mrs. Heaton have the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement. The interment will occur this afternoon at 2:30.

A delightful entertainment was given by the Alpha class of the Sunday school of the Christian church Tuesday evening. The program was both literary and musical and every number was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience. Miss Lulu Green opened the entertainment with a piano solo. Following came the tambourine drill. This was participated in by Misses Jennie Stuart, Nellie Weaver, Bessie Hedges, Maud Hawley, Venice Bigelow, Carrie Antil, Ella Meadows, Nora Beady, Blanche Brown, Fannie Rector, Cora Erwin and Fannie Hendry, with Miss Edith Jones as pianist; and was very nicely given. Messrs Baker and Blystone rendered selections on the mandolin and guitar. Professor G. W. Hill read and D. N. Lehmer gave a whistling solo. The "Chronothana-toletron" completed the program, the cast of characters including the following young ladies: Misses Grace Knapp, Wany Kimmmer, Grace McAllister, Edith Lesse, Edith Steen, Pearl Camp, Bessie Lane, Lena Barber, Margaret Hallet, Grace Cook, Jennie Watson, Berta Hearn, Jessie Weaver, Blanche Skidmore, Venice Bigelow and Mrs. W. P. Stearns.

In announcing the wedding of Mr. Thomas L. Tenshall and Mrs. Alice Hammond, which occurred three weeks ago in this city, THE COURIER chronicles an interesting event of which few people are as yet cognizant. Indeed, until a few days ago no one outside of the interested parties were aware of the wedding. The young people are to be congratulated on their adroitness in managing the affair. They desired to be married quietly and their wish was consummated without anyone being the wiser. The bride is well and popularly known in the social circles of the city, and the groom was formerly a member of the firm of Tenshall & Scott, druggists. He has recently engaged in the extract business. Mr. and Mrs. Tenshall are now residing at the home of Judge O. P. Mason, the bride's father.

A pleasant and agreeable surprise was given Mr. Frank Hawley at his home Monday evening at the Transit hotel, the occasion being the fourteenth anniversary of his birth. Refreshments and a gay time made the evening pass very enjoyably for the following little folks: Bert Ruffner, May Bohanan, Errett Bigelow, Nellie Weaver, Harry Everett, Bertha King, Daniel Duputrone, Ethel Burky, Eddie Everett, Jennie Bell, Hugh Hallett, Edna Everett, Thomas West, Minnie Cole, Blanche Brown, Grace Bishop, Maud Hawley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jameson entertained very pleasantly, a number of friends Friday evening at their residence 2208 T street. Cards and dancing constituted the leading amusements. There were present: Messrs and Mesdames, Graham, J. H. Luke, Mason, Wardwell, W. Porter, A. Riddle, Fred Peebles, McMaisters, Jordan, Whiteside, Fader, W. Harmer, Murray, Quick, Mrs. Henderson of Wahoo, Misses, Alma Luke, Crow, Maggie Vance, Alice Vance, Mr. Reed, Scott, A. Bowen, Ed Bowen, A. H. Gibson, and Mrs. Lamb.

The opening of Sutton & Hollowbush's as announced last week for June 6th was an error. It should have read May 6th. However the opening for the present has been postponed on account of unsettled weather.

Professor J. S. Kingsley of the state university, delivered an interesting lecture in the First Congregational church Wednesday afternoon on "Why We Are an English Speaking People."

Mr. Al. A. Ecker and Miss Lizzie Blair were joined in marriage Thursday evening, Rev. O. A. Williams officiating. The groom is on the road for Raymond Bros.

A Red Letter Day.
February 6th was a red letter day for Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa. They made their first shipment of goods to the Hawaiian Islands on that day. It consisted of 100 cases containing over four hundred dozen of their medicines, to the leading wholesale drug house in Honolulu. A large share of this shipment consisted of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, so much esteemed wherever it is known for its cures of colds and as a preventive and cure for group. Chamberlain & Co. have contracted for advertising in all the leading newspapers in the Hawaiian Islands, and expect to make their remedies as popular there as they are in any part of the United States. For sale by druggists.

Opportunity.
Master of human destinies and I,
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait.

Cities and fields I walk, I penetrate
Deserts and seas remote. And passing by
Hovel, and mart, and palace, soon or late
I knock unbidden once at every gate.
If sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise before
I turn away; it is the hour of fate,
And those who follow me reach every state
Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
Save death, but those who doubt or hesitate,
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain, and uselessly implore.
I answer not, and I return no more.

But fail not in this respect:
Seize every opportunity to travel
Over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

FASHIONS AT REDFERN'S.

NEW YORK, April 30, 1891.—It has been remarked that in several directions, women's apparel is to be noted for special features this summer. One of these is the great variety of loose wraps which are shaped to hang from the shoulders instead of fitting snugly, another is the vogue of the low crowned bonnet or hat. It is also said that this is to be a great season for the pliantly mannish shirt, a scarf and vest, all of which will be even more the rage than they were last summer. Another favorite item in the summer girl's wardrobe will be the blouse or fancy skirt waist, which, though distinctly feminine, seems somewhat a kin to shirt and vest. In material it may be any of the soft silken fabrics, or if wool is preferred, there are the fine imported flannels. Redfern is using all of these materials, and his models are even more unique and attractive than those issued in former seasons. This one that his artist has sketched for us is of China silk in that delightful corn flower blue—the bluet of the French, which is so fashionable just now. It is gathered in at the waist and the skirt is attached in full pleats all round. The cuffs and the vest, which latter is framed in a jabot ruffle are of ecru colored Point de Vinses which makes a charming contrast to the rich hue of the silk. A real Redfern touch is given by the simulated over sleeve, gathered with a heading at its lower edge and puffed high on the shoulder.

Here is a sketch of a negligee bodice worn at the new place now delighting all Paris, "A Marriage Blanc". The sketch is from Redfern's. It is made of suede colored French flannel, pleated to a yoke and bagging slightly over the pointed girdle. The front of this as well as cuffs, collar and yoke are of the same shade of flannel, with half inch stripes of Cleopatra or Egyptian red—a dull hue which is deeper than pink, yet not as dark as a genuine red. This waist will be found particularly becoming to tall slim figures.

Boils and Pimples

Are nature's efforts to eliminate poison from the blood. This result may be accomplished much more effectually, as well as agreeably, through the proper excretory channels, by the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla.

"For several years I was troubled with boils and carbuncles. In casting about for a remedy, it occurred to me that Ayer's Sarsaparilla had been used in my father's family, with excellent success, and I thought that what was good for the father would also be good for the son. Three or four bottles of this medicine entirely cured me, and I have not since—in more than two years—had a boil, pimple, or any other eruptive trouble. I can conscientiously speak in the highest terms of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and many years' experience in the drug business enables me to speak intelligently."—C. M. Hatfield, Farmland, Ind.
