Fishes are weighed in their scales,
And the elephant packs his own trunk;
But rats never tell their own tales,
And one seldom gets clunk in a chunk.

Sick ducks never go to the quack;
A horse cannot plow his own mane;
A ship is not hurt by a tack,
And a window never suffers from pane.

Dogs seldom wear their own pants, Which fact lays them open to scorn;
No niece or nephew loves ants,
And a cow never blows her own horn.

A cat cannot parse its own claws, No porcupine nibs its own quill; Though orphan bears still have their paws, A bird will not pay its own bill.

A cablegram announces that Amelia Rives has sailed for the United States where she will arrive soon after the appearance of her latest novel in the August number of the Cosmopolitan. After nearly two years of silence the new story of Miss Rives will be received with the greatest interest by those who enjoyed her earlier work. Married, travelled and in every way matured, her latest production is said to be worthy of the talent which gave such great promise. The scene is laid in Paris where the author has been living for two years, and the heroine is a Virginia girl who is studying music abroad with a negro servant for a chaperone. The story has been illustrated by Kate Greenleaf, one of the most promising of American painters in Paris, and a charming portrait of Miss Rives is the frontispiece of the magazine. Anent the baronet scandal, General Adam Badeau of Grant's staff, who was afterwards Secretary of Legation in London and saw much of the English aristocracy, writes an article on "Gambling in High Life." The cartoons which have been made of Bismarck, furnish a subject for Murat Halstead, reproductions of many of the most noted cartoons, illustrating the paper.

"Brains," the new semi-monthly published at Meadville, Pa., is at hand neatly gotten up and excellently printed. Brains is what seems to be needed in literature these days and if the United Publishing company will only show that a respectable amount of good brains is doing the work of the paper it will doubtless be a success. The second number speaks well for its prospects.

Timely Advice.
Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a reliable remedy for bowel complaints. It is almost certain to be needed, and no family can afford to be without it.
It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering, if not life.
There are many different remedies in use, but Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is undoubtedly the best. 25

At Manitou.
MANITOU SPRINGS, Colo., June 27.—(Special.)—Manitou is to the people what a sugar barrel is to the flies on a bright summer day —decidedly attractive. There is an absence of flies and an influx of people at Manitou that is refreshing. These June days are of the leafy June that poets praise of—cool mornings, warm enough at noontime to remind the out door wanderer that it is summer, and evenings full of moonlight and coolness.

The walks, drives and trails about Manitou are so numerous that old timers of several seasons experience find some new beauties whenever they go out. The country is paradise for the lively young woman or the brawny young man who delights in exploring expeditions. Manitou is best reached via the Union Pacific.

The Hot Springs of Dakota.
These springs are rapidly becoming famous on account of the wonderful curative properties of the waters, and the many marvelous cures which have been effected by the thermal baths.

The town and springs are delightfully situated in a picturesque valley in the Black Hills country, abounding in beautiful scenic effects, and at an altitude of 3,400 feet above the sea level; thus insuring a pure atmosphere and exhilarating climate, absolutely free from malaria.

Under the enterprising and progressive management of the Hot Springs company many desirable improvements have been made; among the number the erection of a commodious bath house fitted up with all modern conveniences for the comfort of guests. New hotels have been built and comfortably furnished throughout, conducted in first-class style and at reasonable rates.
Those who prefer stopping at a private house will find many desirable boarding places where good accommodations are furnished at moderate prices.

The superior daily service now afforded by the Burlington Route to Hot Springs, with through sleeping car accommodations from Omaha, Lincoln, Aurora and Grand Island, makes the trip an easy and enjoyable one; and for the benefit of all who desire to test the efficacy of the waters, round trip tickets at reduced rates, good for ninety days are now on sale at all offices of the Burlington Route.

For pamphlet, descriptive of the springs, and full information as to rates, time, etc.,

Has placed in daily service a solid train between Lincoln and Sioux City making close connections at Columbus with main line trains for all points west, with Albion, Cedar Rapids, Orl and Grand Island and branches, daily connects closely in union depot, Sioux City, with the evening trains of connecting lines for the north and east. For full particulars apply at 1044 O street or at depot.

How Skirts Will Be Draped for Winter During the Coming Autumn—A Pretty Home Gown That May Be Called a Tea Gown or a Matinee.

[Special Correspondence.]
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The new styles in woollens for fall are marked by delicacy and smoothness of surface rather than the rough blanket effect so much liked last season, and while perhaps they are really no prettier they look so just now because they are new.

NEWEST DRAPEY IN SKIRTS

Some of the early importations show serges in exquisite colors and in a degree of fineness of texture that one would think impossible. Yesterday I saw a line of such goods. One pattern was a dull, bluish green, like a begonia leaf, and so dead fine that it looked like fine silk when laid in folds. It will be trimmed with bands of velvet, either black invisible green or tanbark color.

For young persons this latter would be the most suitable combination. There is a purplish slate color and several shades of gray, but in the most of these there is a pink shade, which gives a pearly luster. I noticed one piece of pure gray which had an over surface of wool, which gives it the appearance of much higher priced goods than it is (only ninety-five cents per yard, forty six inches wide). There is another new color, between purple, brown, chocolate and crushed raspberry—a mixture of each—and altogether one of the most desirable shades possible for all ages.
There is a new moss green which in some indefinable way shades from the color of the green growing moss to the dead and dry, and it is most beautiful.

The new weaves in woollens are very soft and beautiful, most particularly the cheviots in light weight for autumn.
They are woven so that the stripes are diagonal, and in some lights scarcely discernible while in others they are sharply defined, but all in one color.
The tanbark shade is very soft and pretty and combines with almost any trimmings or color. There is a pearl white cheviot in chevron weave with here and there a long brown hair woven loosely, apparent on the surface, and I predict that this will immediately "take" among the young ladies. Trimmed with brown velvet and silver or gilt cord it would be an ideal gown.

These diagonal and chevron weaves only come in grays, drab, pearl white and ecru or tan. They are forty-eight inches wide and cost two dollars a yard.
It takes about six yards to make a full dress, and perhaps three to four dollars more for trimming—say sixteen dollars for all. I give here the very newest style of skirt for making these goods; but it should be only velvet around the bottom, or a bias piece of the same goods, not trimmed as it appears in the pattern.

It will be noticed that the front of the skirt is made long and draped up in front to make a slight panier drapey on the hips, a welcome change from the severity of the dresses of the past season.
The bell shape is maintained in the back, however. Nearly all the newest skirts are being draped in some way or other slightly, but still enough to break up the lines.

The pretty Bedford cords that came out last season somehow did not seem to take as much as it was hoped that they would then, but they have sprung into a sudden popularity for this season. They are light, flexible, and the ribbed effect is undeniably pretty, and they take any kind of trimming well, particularly the nail heads and the firm, close woven metallic gimps. They are in grays of all shades, snuff browns, moss, garnet and other colorings. The reversesides show a beautiful basket weave, fine and novel, and many ladies have their Bedfords made.

A LOVELY HOME GOWN
wrong side out, thinking the basket weave prettier. This material is forty-two inches wide and costs $1.15 per yard.

There is a new crepe gloria in wool and numerous other things which I shall tell about next week. Just now I want to give a short description of a pretty and useful home gown which can be called tea gown or matinee, just as the wearer prefers.

The model was made of dark green China silk with a floral pattern of vic-lets, with shaded green leaves, of course lighter and darker than the ground work. The sleeves were of violet surah, and the Spanish jacket of white lace. A sort of belt with long ends reaches from back to front and hangs in front.

This can be copied in any color or goods preferred, and can have a Wat-teau plait in the back if desired, or it can be plain princess. A foot trimming can be added if wished. The front is gathered at the neck and held in again at the waist. This style is very becoming to both stout and slender ladies.

OLIVE HARPER

AT THE PARKS.

Great Sport at Both of Lincoln's City Resorts.

At Cushman tomorrow Manager Andrus has a fine program, which embraces an aerial exhibition and a base ball game. In the former Prof. J. H. Darling of Boston, a most scientific balloonist, will make the ascension, and promises a beautiful exhibition if the weather is agreeable. He will also make a parachute drop and will otherwise entertain the crowds that seek Cushman's breezy borders.

The game of ball at three o'clock will be a close and exciting one, as both clubs have strong teams. The Burlingtons have been in fine training during the week, and will do severe battle to come out victorious. It is a benefit game for the Giants, who are soon to go east.

AT LINCOLN PARK.

To-morrow afternoon and to-night will be two fine Indian exhibitions at this popular resort. The famous Sioux tribe of Indians will be on hand to give an entertainment in their own queer and ancient style. Aside from war dances, ghost dances, etc., they will give exhibitions of their marksmanship, and in various other ways fill out an interesting program. To-morrow afternoon there will be a matched game of ball between the Lincoln and Denver clubs, which promises to furnish ample sport for the cranks. It being the first Sunday game since the return of the team, it will doubtless be well attended.

The Tuesday and Friday evening dances at the pavilion are becoming very popular and are largely attended. Good music is always in attendance and the best of order always prevails. The park has its usual pleasant attractions such as boating, switchback riding, the merry-go-round, etc., and continues to please the multitude that go out every day and on Sunday. It's handy to reach—the electric cars go direct to the entrance every twelve minutes, and from any part of the city for five cents.

it the best medicine made and can consen-
