AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF LINCOLN.

Having been approached several times the last year wanting to know why we could not procure the services of an expert drapery man, one who had originality, taste and other possessions that would make him master of the situation.

It was with much hesitancy and doubt we could make up our mind to entertain the idea, knowing this kind of talent was one of the rare things to be gotten, and when obtained a very expensive luxury.

Feeling satisfied the field of labor in our fair city is large enough to give one man's efforts fairly enough to do we made the effort, and we are happy to say we have th will answer the question and say yes, yes, providing you will give us fair patronage? and the business that belongs at HOME.

Mr. Baker, who is in charge of the drapery department, is an artist, an honest adviser and conservative in his prices.

While he is tenacious in his ideas and what he believes to be the proper thing, he will always be willing to cater to the ideas and wishes of his patrons.

He will be pleased to call on you at your home or have you call at the store where he will be pleased to show you designs and give you estimates.

If you have any hangings you want revised, brought out in something new, he will be pleased to serve you. We will add, Mr. Baker has spent the last ten years in New York, Chicago, Milwaukee, and Minneapolis, making the art of drapery a study. He is rich in original ideas and all the new methods of the work.

We will guarantee to duplicate the best work Omaha, Kansas City or Chicago can give and shade their prices handsomely.

We are in possession of the talent—will you give us your support?

WALL PAPERS AND HANGINGS.

We have added to our stock a wall paper department. We furnish all kinds and grades of goods. Our stock is new and patterns late.

We can cover your Floors and Walls

Shade your Windows,

Hang your Curtains,

Make your Draperies,

Revise your old hangings and make the old new.

Have something new in window shades doing away with the hum-drum and monotonous opaques, REAL NEW AND DRESSY.

"The Best Carpet Sweeper Made."

Yours Respectfully,

Youthlens—European Face Preparation.

Ladies, if you want most elegant face preparation, try this one. It is pure as spring water; no lead, sediment or other injurious substances. It makes your skin soft, fresh, and clear; removes tan, blotches, discolorations, and imparts a pearly complexion. If your face is not what you desire it, try "Youthlens". I guarantee it to give perfect satisfaction. I have sought for a preparation that will make complexions fresh and young looking and now have found it, retailed at two dollars or three for five. I have secured the agency for this trusty article. J. H. HARLEY, Druggist, Lincoln, Neb.

E. R. Guthrie has arranged to continue in the carriage line. Customers wanting first class work will do well to wait for a new line of the very finest jobs on the market which will arrive in ample time for spring trade at 1540 O street.

Odell is doing a fine business in his new stand (Masonic Temple corner) near the location of his former successes. The place is as neat as a pin, the service par excellence and the fare identically the same as in past years, notwithstanding the fact that his price now is but 30 cents. No tickets, no trust, and no bust, but a fine meal for cash and cash only.

ADDITIONAL DRAMATIC.

DRAMATIC KITCHENS.

"Gloriana" has made a very emphatic hit at Herrmann's Theatre in New York.

A new drama written by W. J. Patmore, entitled "The Star Spangled Banner" has been copy righted in London.

The Hanlon's are presenting "Superba" in San Francisco with the usual result—crowded houses at every performance.

Wm. Barry has a new play called "Green Goods" for next season, but his mascot partner, Hugh Fay will not be with him.

"Ole Oleson," a Swedish-American comedy was given its first New York production February 29 at the Windsor Theatre.

Ed. A. Perry, formerly of the Boston Herald has become managing editor of the Dramatic News, in place of John Ernst McCann.

Foliot Paget has not signed with N. C. Goodwin Jr. for the rest of the season, all the paragraphs to the contrary notwithstanding.

Helen Dauvray, whom Sidney Rosenfeld blew out of the American Dramatic Circuit with a very bad play called "The Whirlwind," is playing "A Scrap of Paper" in London this week.

Henry Miller, who has been Marie Wainright's leading man since the beginning of the season left that actress' company Feb. 30. He will at once join one of the Charles Frohman's companies.

The late Sir Morrill MacKenzie had a great fondness for "show folk" and nearly all the singers and actors of note on the other side have, at one time or another been his patients. He never took a fee from a professional.

Lolie Fuller is again at liberty. She was receiving $50 a week for dancing at the Casino, when somebody said she had made a hit. Her head swelled to such an extent that she demanded $150 a week and Aronson told her she could stay at home.

In spite of the dramatic critics, Henrik Ibsen's plays are being done in all quarters of the globe, and no modern playwright can boast of having his plays translated into Swedish, Danish, Russian, German, French, Spanish, Hungarian, Italian and English. They may sneer at them, but cannot kill them.

CREEDE MINING CAMP.

A Second Leadville—Fourth Place Already Gained by the Young Giant.

The whirligig of fortune has stopped at Creede, nothing yesterday, it is a town today and will be a city tomorrow. Many a man will date his rise in this world from the hour he stepped into Willow Gulch. The camp has practically existed only since last May. The D. & R. G. Ry. did not get in until October, and regular passenger trains did not run until November, yet no other mining camps produced so much ore during the same period of its early existence. Leadville itself fell far behind. The extraordinary output has come from exactly five mines, and one of them has shipped only a nominal quantity. Early investments promise prompt and quick returns. Pamphlets containing a full and complete description of this wonderful mining camp, together with other valuable information, routes, rates and tickets may be obtained at B & M depot or city office cor. 10th and O streets.

Lausing Theatre Program. It requires no sworn affidavit to prove the circulation of the Lausing theatre program. Its readers are all visible to the advertiser any evening at the theatre. It reaches a class of people that have money for amusement and a class of people that are able to purchase what they see advertised. Is it not then a most excellent medium for judicious advertising? The New Ridge and Morris Company. At a meeting of the Ridge & Morris Co. Saturday evening the following officers were elected: C. H. Ridge, president; C. J. Guenzel, vice-president; A. D. Benway, secretary; J. F. Morris, treasurer. The new corporation dates its business from February 15th and starts out under most favorable auspices. All the members of the firm are well known, each having been connected with the old established house of Ridge & Morris almost since its inception. The business carried on is conducted in two existing stocks, respectively, furniture and hardware at 1118-22 N street.

SHOT FROM MANY LOCKERS.

"Excuse the liberty I take," as the convict remarked when he escaped from state prison.—Texas Stealing.

"Waiter, this steak is smaller than the one I had yesterday. How's that?" "Oh, it comes from a smaller ox."—Fliegende Blatter.

At an examination of students, one young gentleman being asked to describe Henry VIII, replied, "He was a professional widower."—Evening Gazette.

"What does Bluffer let his whiskers grow so long for?" "So that he can wag his chin in conversation and polish his shoes without extra effort."—Washington Star.
