DANCING AMONG THE GROSTS The event of the week in Lincoln society at the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. in which he is held by house employes. J. A. Buckstaff, the affair being complimentary to Miss Fay Marshall, one of Lincoln's ecent and most charming debutants. The invitations were on black cards, written with white ink Erc'osed with each lady's envelope was a smaller card containing these words: "Please come alone; you will through darkened balls were shown to their dressing rooms. The house was a gloomy scene, and as the phantom-like flyures moved about terpsicoreally, it certainly presensed a faithful picture of a ghost danceor, at least, like one that fiction has painted for us. After the fourth number the guests "unshrouded" themselves to enjoy the delicious refreshments, and it was after midnight when the joyous occasion came to a finish. The list of invited guests included Misses Gretchen Marquette, Kitty and Alice Cowdery, Clara Naish, Rose and Mamie Carson, Fan Hawiey, Hallie Hooper, Leha Shears, Anna Funke, Nellie White, Maud Burr, Martha Bunke, Jeannette Wilson, Rachael Brock, Neilie Kelly, Olive Latta, Theo and Gertrude Laws, Gertrude Sousley of Nebraska City, Miss Robinson of Chicago, and Messrs, Charles Hall, Lew Marshall, P. Wing, Will Hardy, Prior Markell, Will Clarke, Will Meyers, Sam Lowe, S. T. St. John, Lieut, Pershing, Dr. Spahr, Fred Sholes, Fred Howe, John Dorgan, Chas. WEDDING RECEPTION AT THE LINDELL. Wednesday evening the Lindeil hotel parlors was the scene of a most brilliant reception, the occasion being complimentary to Mr. S. C. Hoover and bride, given by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hoover. The evening being a pleasant one, and the surroundings decidedly of an invigorating nature, the guests, nearly a hundred in num-ber, were afforded every opportunity for a most happy occasion. A sumptuous repast was a most pleasing feature of the affair. Among the out-of t wn guests were Scuator and Mrs. Coulter of Underwood. Neb., Mrs. W. E. Andrews and Miss Minnie Ryan of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Strickland of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Knots of Kansas City, and Mrs. Knots of Waterloo, Ia.

Porterfield sang "The Pandit's Life" in a pleasing manner. Miss Minnie H. DePue's recitation, "A College Boy's Story," was well received. The last oration was delivered by Thomas F. A. Williams, and the program was finished by a piano duet, "The Jolly Blacksmiths," by Misses Charlotte

Andrus and Minnie Del'ue. PICNICED AT LINCOLN PARK Probably the largest and most enjoyable icule given this season was the one held Wednesday afternoon and evening at Lincoln park. The affair originated with Miss Olive Latte, Miss Fan Hawley, and Miss Nellie Kelley, and that it was a big social success every one present is pleased to testify. The supper was a delicious affair and much enjoyed by the young gentlemen, all of whom came cut to join the festivities at this particular part of the program. After the feast had been fully discussed various other entertainments were participated in. One in particular was the frequent use of the switch-back, in fact, so much so, that the man in charge expressed a wish that if the party would come oftener, park stock would soon be held at a big premium. Those in the party were Misses Olive Latta, Eikenborg of Plattsmouth, Sousley of Nebraska City, Fan Hawley, Kittle and Alice Cowbery, Anna Funke, Martha Funke, Theo Laws Rachael Brock, Gertie Zeimer, Fay Marshall, Gretchen Marquette, Nellie White, Nellie Kelly, Ruby Jones, Lelia Shears, Maud Burr, Jeanette Wilson, Nan Lilli-bridge, Rose Carson, and Messrs. Charlie Burr, Fred Houtz, Fred Howe, Dr. Sparr, Ed. Fitzgerald, J. T. St. John, W. Morton Smith, Lew Marshall, Will Hammond. When you want nice, juicy meats of any Prior Markell, Will Meyers, Phil Wing. Chas. Miller, Ernest Funke, Fred Sholes Frank Zehrung, John Dorgan, Chas. THE SENIORS PROMENADE

Wednesday evening closed the commence ment exercises of the week, the last of the series being the grand promenade at the state capitol. It was a brilliant social success and great credit is due master of ceremonies, Mr. J. B. McDonald, and the reception committee comprising Messers, C. D. Chandler, H. Edmiston and Misses Stella Kirker, Louise Pound, Minnie DePue, and Charlotte Andrews. The patrons and patsesses were Governor and Mrs. Boyd, Hon, and Mrs. C. H. Morrill, Chancellor aud Mrs. J. H. Canfield, Prof. and Mrs. E. H. Barbour, Prof. and Mrs. H. N. Allen, Prof. and Mrs. T. M. Hodgman, Judge and Mrs. A. W. Field, Hon. and Mrs. H. H. Wilson. Prior Markell explained to the audience how to make hens lay two eggs per day where they never laid but one before. His remarks were so clear that no one doubted them. About 10 o'clock, after having an ample store of fresh country air, lots of sweet milk and a general good time, the horses once more took the lead closely followed by the pleasure seekers and arrived home at midnight. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Muir chaperoned the party which comprised: Misses Mand Burr, Alice Cowdery, Fan Hawley, Kittie Cowdery, Gretchen Marquette, Martha Funke, Gertrude Sousley of Nebraska City, and Messrs. Fred Howe, Ed Fitzgerald, Robert Joyce, Frank Zehrung, S. T. St. John, Prior Markell, Charlie Burr and Ernest Funke.

A PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Tuesday at the residence of the bride's parents, I321 V street, Rev. P. W. Howe spoke the words that made Miss Minnie Hill and Mr. William Glenn man and wife. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. The list of presents encluded several handsome and substantial tokens and the well wishes of all present were heartily lavished upon the aspirants for matrimonial felicity. After a delicious repast and an hour of pleasant social intercourse Mr. and Mrs. Glenn repaired to a new home that was in readiness for them at 841 North Fourteenth street The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs, Thomas Hill, and is a prime favorite among a large circle of admiring friends. Mr. Glenn holds a responsible position in the Burlington office which he has held for a number of years. He is a young man of excellent habits, and well in line of promotion in the company's service.
