ABOUT-PEOPLE.

The beautiful home of Hon. T. H. Benton, Seventeenth and F streets, was the scene of a happy assembly of joyous juveniles Wednesday afternoon. The occasion was the celebration of little Hazel's sixth anniversary of her birth, and a merry time was spent on the lawn with bright youngsters in gay attire, each little face beaming with smiles and happiness, and that they enjoyed it there was no reason for doubt. They played games of various kinds, gambled on the green, and assisted by several adults were kept busily engaged at some sort of pastime from two until six o'clock. Those of the young folks who had already become versed in the dance enjoyed that delightful exercise, for the day was cool and the conditions ripe for a pleasant time at dancing. Shortly after five o'clock refreshments were announced and it is needless to say that each one entered into this important feature with much interest. Mrs. Benton was assisted by Mrs. F. W. Brown, Mrs. Myron Wheeler, Mrs. J. E. Riggs, Mrs. Gertrude Atkin and Miss Maggie English. Little Hazel may well feel proud of her very successful celebration, as everyone enjoyed the affair thoroughly, and are now wishing that she would soon invite them to another party. The list of presents comprised many handsome and costly tokens.

Following is a list of those present: Fay Thompson, Grace Stewart, Maurice Bowerman, Mignon Trickey, Aleca Rossmann, Julia Derresse, Toest Towning, Ruth Hyman, Edith Foster, Marian Ogden, Nellie and Jessie Newmark, Helen and Florence Boggs, Helen Waugh, Annie Crim, Lunette Kettl, Frieda Billings, Annie Laura Sparkes, Karl Jenks, Mobile, Ala.; Irene Courtney, Cora Herrick, Pusey Burkill, Wilma and Agnes Cassebeer, Ola Goodell, Clara Mills, Ethel Rignell, Nellie Kitchen, Gladys Houlette, Edna Sausbury, Alice Benton, Ruth Holmes, Leo and Myrtle Meyer, Neva Hibner, Helen Laws, Silence Stewart, Elva Adams, Louise Burnham, Louisa W. White, Marjorie Talbot, Beatrice Hillan, Harry Maule, Robert Warren, Willard Mills, Walter Leroy Davis, Ralph and Carl Marley, Howard Brown, Wells Lippencott, Harry Melick, Tom Riggs, Jonnie Sausbury, Lawrence Tipling, Bruce Carpenter, O'Neill, Lavater Thompson, Willie Stout, Herbert Baird, Harry Hargraves.

That Lincoln is coming to the front in every pursuit that tends to make it metropolitan is once more manifested by the organization Monday evening of the Lincoln Camera club, which was instituted at Huffman & Co.'s store. Amateur photography has taken liberal strides in the past few years and today it is considered one of the most popular accomplishments of modern elite society. Clubs have been formed by the score in all the large cities and much good has been accomplished both as to enjoyment and instructive ideas. The ladies and gentlemen who met Monday evening to organize for mutual interest in this popular work are determined to make all possible strides in photography, and therefore each succeeding meeting will be more enjoyable than the last and the material in the club is such as will not permit the interest to lag, for some of our most enthusiastic students are found within its ranks. The charter members are Messrs. C. A. Wickersham, Prof. Marshall, Fred S. Kelley, H. A. Sutton, W. B. Huffman, Mattson Baldwin, Dr. Barker, Will Owen Jones, Frank Blish, Mrs. F. S. Kelley, Mrs. H. A. Sutton, Mrs. Frank Blish, Miss Harriet Huffman and Miss Agnes Sewell. The club held its first field meeting yesterday at Lincoln park and a full attendance of the members was present together with a number of interested friends. The artists found many pretty landscape subjects, as well as scenes enlivened by groups of animals, which Manager Hickey had especially arranged for them to "shoot" at. A number of excellent negatives were made which will be developed and presented at the next meeting Monday evening for discussion. The club is now open for membership and applicants will please hand in their names to the secretary. The officers are as follows: President, C. A. Wickersham; vice-president, Fred S. Kelley; secretary, Mattson Baldwin; treasurer, W. B. Huffman.

What proved to be one of the most pleasant outdoor summer entertainments occurred at Burlington beach Tuesday evening. It was a beach party given by a selected number of young folks, mostly members of the Pleasant hour club. The affair was organized and perfectly carried out by Mr. Oscar Funke, and that it was an enjoyable, thoroughly successful one there are dozens that can now testify. The festivities commenced with a delightful ride over the miniature briny sea, after which dancing was entered into with an interest similar to an occasion when the thermometer goes to and below the zero mark. The programs were of miniature size, just nice and convenient for vest pocket use, the music was excellent and every feature that tends to make an assembly of this kind pleasant was promptly at hand. The party consisted of Misses Latta, Shears, Carson, Hall, Lillibridge, Rose Carson, Marquette, Jones, Theo. Laws, Walsh, Anna Funke, Hoover, Brock, Martha Funke, Funks, Hill, Carola Hill, Steen, English, Mullen, Wilson, Marshall, Underwood, Florence Brown, White, Hollowbush, Baird, Maud Smith, Hoover, Loomis, Denton, Mae Burr, Blount, Cowdery, Covert, Clark, Talbot and Leland, Messrs. Oscar Funke, C. D. Mullen, Fred Houts, Frank Burr, Will Meyers, Waite, Smyser, C. G. Hawley, Will Clarke, Walsh, Phil Wing, George Meisner, Dan Wing, McArthur, W. A. Johnson, W. E. Wesbeck, W. G. Clark, S. T. St. John, L. W. Hardy, Mohrenstuecker, Polk, Charles Burr, G. H. Gere, H. B. Hicks, Ernest Funks, Charles Hall, Evert, Bieger, Pilsbury, G. W. Covert, Marshall, Shotes, Andriano, Harry Evans, Bunt Howie, Charles Clark, Ed Keefe, Zehrung, Howe, Douglas, Jenn Brown and Markell, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Muir, H. C. Young, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Buckstaff, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Brown.

A very pleasant reception was given by the Y. P. S. C. E. of Plymouth church Tuesday evening in honor of some of the members who are to leave the city. After enjoying a delicious repast an interesting program was carried out, consisting of toasts and responses, music and singing. The first given was by Mr. A. W. Lane, "Why Are We All Here Assembled?" He said it was to relieve the table of their heavy burdens and such. At any rate the tables were relieved and he did his share of the relieving. Mr. Harry Marshell was called upon to respond to this toast and did so in a very neat little speech. Mr. Day was the next speaker. He said something about missionaries going west to convert the heathen, and he seemed to be perfectly at home on this subject. Mrs. Atkin entertained the company with a charming little talk on "Harmony or Music." Miss Grace Thompson toasted the "Queen City of Beatrice," and did it with both credit to herself and the city on Blue. Following this Mrs. Dawes gave a brief but interesting sketch of "The College Girl," which all, who had been there, knew how to appreciate. The closing speech was "When Shall We All Meet Again," by Rev. Norman P. Shaw, and he did not know of course could not inform us. He, too, had hoped to relieve the table of their burdens, and on the weight of this burden his speech was short, shorter, shorter, but did it up cleverly to close with.

It has been a long time since the musical people of the city enjoyed a private recital like unto the one which took place Wednesday evening at the handsome and spacious residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Davis on K and Seventeenth streets. The entertainment was given by Miss Minnie Gaylord, a niece of the affable host and hostess, and that the young lady acquitted herself with credit no one that heard her clever renditions will deny. It has been several years since Miss Gaylord appeared before a Lincoln audience and many were astonished at the progress made by her since taking instruction at Toronto. Her voice is clear and sweet, having all the depth and compass so necessary to perfect vocal work. As a musician of ability Miss Gaylord will be an important addition to Lincoln circles and her work will be in demand. Miss Gaylord was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Flank, pianist; Mrs. Will O. Jones, accompanist; Miss Effie Steen, oboe; Misses R. Curtis and A. G. Davis with mandolins, and L. T. Gaylord on the guitar.

The woodmen held their annual outing in Lincoln park Thursday and it is a day that will long be remembered by the immense gathering that assembled. Lodges from sixteen cities were represented and their presence in the morning parade with a number of brass bands in gay attire made the scene one of interest and animation. Mayor Veir welcomed the big assembly, followed by Hon. A. R. Talbot, Hon. W. A. Northcutt, head consul of Greenville, Ill., Hon. Thomas Darnell, Hon. J. G. Johnson of Peabody, Kas., Hon. A. W. Field and others. In the evening the visitors attended a reception given in their honor at Burlington beach and the time thereafter was enjoyably spent in dancing on the pavilion, boating, bathing, etc. It was an enjoyable affair throughout and was most cleverly managed.

A number of friends in response to an invitation assembled at the residence of Miss Lou Hatch, 912 F Street, Tuesday evening to meet Miss Irene James of Hot Springs, Ark. The chief amusement was high five, Charles Slatery carrying off first prize, which was a book, "Chips from Great Authors," while Elliott Cheney was awarded the booby prize, it being a Tom Thumb deck of cards. At ten thirty elegant refreshments were served, to which the following did ample justice: Misses McClay, North, Taylor, Thompson, Bing, Miss James of Hot Springs, Lou and Emma Hatch, Meslames Ensign, Slatery and Hatch, Messrs. Tan Smith, Jake and Arthur North, Ed Bing, Charlie Taylor, George Hefley, Archie Ensign, Charles Slatery, Elliott Cheney, Joe and T. H. Hatch.

Last season at nearly all the card parties given in Lincoln the score cards used were furnished by THE COURIER. They were original in design and, as everyone knows, were very popular. We have just produced an entirely new pattern which, like its predecessor, is artistic in appearance, entirely original and will prove even more popular than those heretofore sold by us. There is twice as much work on these cards, but the price will remain the same, viz. 15 cents per dozen; with cord and tassel, 25 cents.

The Germania-Mannerchor of Lincoln, assisted by their fellow society men of Omaha, celebrated the sixteenth anniversary of the former order in the capital city at Cushman park last Sunday. It was a great day in German social circles and the day was pleasantly spent in dancing, listening to band music, eating picnic lunches, etc. The Omaha contingent numbering several hundred returned in the evening.

The Nebraska lawn tennis association will hold its fourth annual tournament for singles in this city Tuesday, September 6th, 1892, commencing at 10 o'clock a. m. continuing until finished. The series will comprise men's and ladies' singles. The tennis courts are being placed in excellent condition and as the tournament takes place during the state fair a large attendance is looked for.

Mr. C. J. Ernst and family returned Tuesday after a three months' tour of Europe. Rev. Ludden and an appointed committee met the returning tourists at the depot and escorted them to the Ludden home, where a large number of friends were on hand to receive, surprise and welcome them. It was a happy home-coming and equally enjoyed by all participants.

Mr. Ode Rector has been "head over heels" in it this week. His new pharmacy, corner Twelfth and N streets, will open Thursday and will be a model establishment. Fixtures are all new, a large new soda fountain, and everything in keeping therewith. Ode will do a large and profitable business.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Benton, Mr. and Mrs. John McManigal and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cowdery returned Sunday from Lake Oaqua, Minn., where the party has enjoyed the fine fishing and hunting of that section for the past few weeks. Mr. Benton returns much recovered.

A number of young folks are arranging Pompeii parties. It is a good idea—get up a company of from four to twelve, take a box and enjoy the big spectacle with exclusive privileges.

Just at present there is a steady stream of Lincoln's wandering summer tourists returning and ere another fortnight nearly all of the pleasure and sight seekers will be home again.

Sunday was what might have been called Pythian Sabbath in Lincoln, judging from the hundreds of plumed knights that were visible everywhere on the main thoroughfares.

Mr. H. M. Rice, after an absence of a year, during most of which time his whereabouts was shrouded in mystery, returned to Lincoln Monday from the Pacific coast.

Mrs. M. J. Langton and Miss Nellie Kelley were among the returning pilgrims this week. They have visited in Helena, St. Paul and other northwestern cities.

Miss Marie Marshall, after a summer's visit at Lake Champlain, Vt., will return home Wednesday and will be pleased to see her friends at 1214 U Street.

Miss Annie Blanchard and Cora Hunt completed their two weeks' visit with Mrs. Charles Foxworthy Monday and returned to Omaha in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Kohn after a five weeks' summering in New York, the sea shore resorts and other eastern and southern cities, returned home Sunday.

Mrs. E. Hallett left Thursday evening for Ottumwa, Ia., in answer to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Hugh Brown.

The Sunday school children of the Central Christian church, accompanied by a number of older heads, enjoyed an outing at Lincoln park yesterday.
