Keefe together with their better halves spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fair at Seward. Last night and tonight are really Lincoln nights at Poppel. Next week the crowds will be so large as to make it uncomfortable to go tonight. Mr. John Doolittle leaves tomorrow for Chicago, where he will permanently locate. Mrs. Doolittle will leave a week later to join her husband. Col. Albert Ehrlich, accompanied by his brother Louis of St. Joseph, arrived yesterday from St. Joseph to visit their sister, Mrs. L. Wesel, Jr. Rev. Lindahl of Fremont will fill the vacancy recently made by the resignation of Rev. Ekstrom in the Swedish Lutheran church of this city. Mr. Fritz Westermann returned Wednesday from the east after an absence of six weeks, during which time he enjoyed in Michigan and Illinois. Mr. Louis Meyer has returned from the east and as a result the clerks are kept busy these days opening huge boxes of new goods that are daily arriving. Hon. John Fitzgerald and party, who have been touring Europe, set sail for America Wednesday and will probably arrive home the latter part of next week. The Courier wants a reporter to do society work; one with experience preferable. Apply by letter to the editor, stating particulars, salary expected, etc. The Misses Lena, Clara and Nora Brady returned last Saturday from a most enjoyable visit to Denver, Salt Lake and various mountain resorts of interest. Mr. Nate Spiesberger of Keokuk, Ia., and Miss Dora Short of St. Joseph arrived yesterday from the latter city to visit Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cohn for a week or more. After Monday, September 5th, Dr. Ruth M. Wood will occupy one of those handsome suits of rooms in the Franco block corner Fifteenth and O streets, as her office. Mr. F. Gaywood of Glenwood, Ia., is visiting his son, Mr. George Macfarlane, 1321 P street. Mrs. Gaywood admires Lincoln and will remain until after the big state fair. Miss Buehler returned to Lincoln Tuesday. During her three months absence she visited friends in Kansas, and viewed the beauties and wonders of the Rocky Mountain region. Mr. William Deversaux, one of Lincoln's first settlers and still an extensive property owner, but now a resident of the Pacific coast, was reported to have returned this week. Mr. W. Morford Smith, editorial writer for the Evening News, attended the G. A. R. reunion and the meeting of the state league of republican clubs this week at Grand Island. Mr. James B. Hall, father of Messrs. Charles and Harry Hall, while returning from church Sunday was stricken with paralysis, affecting one entire side of the body. Medical assistance was summoned and the old gentleman is doing as well as might be expected under the circumstances. It was a sad misfortune and the many friends of the young men wish for their father a permanent and speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. H. McMurtry has returned from her eastern visit. Our literary department today speaks for itself and will prove interesting reading. See page four.

Barnum & Bailey have a beautiful large announcement of their circus in this issue for your perusal. Look it up.

Mr. Frank Seacrist, a former Lincolnite, but for a number of years past an Omaha resident, like hundreds of others, has returned to his first and only true love. He is once more with H. R. Nissley & Co.

Mr. Will L. Pickett, who left here about a year ago to take up his home in Lyons, Colo., has returned with his family to again make Lincoln his home. He has resumed his former duties in the B. & M. freight office.

Mr. A. T. Reed of Reading, Pa., has been visiting in Lincoln long enough to become one of its many admirers and has concluded to embark in the merchant tailoring line here. He has rented the store room, 1008 P street, and will soon be ready for business.

Mr. W. M. Oyster had the honor and delightful pleasure of entertaining his four brothers this week, it being the first time since boyhood that they had all met together. It was a jolly visit and a reunion that either one enjoyed more than the other.

Irvine's new orchestra was formed this week and active work on rehearsals will be constantly in order. Engagements for concerts, receptions, dancing and all other occasions requiring first-class music, can now be made with the clerk at the COURIER office.

Miss Jessie Mahoney entertained a large number of young friends at her home, 1228 S street, Tuesday afternoon and evening, the occasion being the Twelfth birthday of the young hostess. Games and refreshments were features of the program of entertainment.

Poppel parties will be all the go next week. The private boxes at such low prices will be sufficient inducement to the young folks to make up a group and go together. It's much nicer than going in and taking your chances on a seat and then getting squeezed.

A sunflower social was given Wednesday evening at the M. E. church, corner Sixteenth and A streets, in which a number of little girls appeared attired in dresses with "sunflowers as trimming. The affair was given to raise a fund for a little crippled girl and nearly ten dollars was realized.

Saturday evening last Mr. Clinton Andrus, formerly of Lincoln but now of Holdrege, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Miss Minnie Franklin of this city. After the ceremony the young couple went on a short wedding tour, after which they will be at home to their friends at Holdrege, where the groom is engaged in the B. & M. land office.

THE COURIER is in receipt of an invitation to attend the marriage ceremony of Miss Lewis Clark, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. L. C. Pace, and Mr. Mark White Woods, Saturday evening next at the family residence, 2549 N street. After the wedding a bridal trip will be made east and the happy couple will be at home after October 20th at 337 South Twenty-sixth street.

Tuesday evening a jolly crowd of young people enjoyed a picnic at Lincoln park. It was a leap year affair and given in honor of Miss Howland of Seward. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Scott and the young ladies who participated were Miss Cora Talbot, Margurita English, Grace Perkins, Effie Steen, Mable Long, Minnie Dupue, Anna Howland of Seward. The young gentlemen favored were R. B. Wilson, Meade, Bert Howie, George Covert, Griffith and Meisner.

Last season at nearly all the card parties given in Lincoln the score cards used were furnished by THE COURIER. They were original in design and, as everyone knows, were very popular. We have just produced an entirely new pattern which, like its predecessor, is artistic in appearance, entirely original and will prove even more popular than those heretofore sold by us. There is twice as much work on these cards, but the price will remain the same, viz. 15 cents per dozen; with cord and tassels, 25 cents.

Mr. Will O'Shea, Jr., Lincoln's poplar cornetist who represents the interests of Curtis & Co. on the road, gave his friends a pleasant surprise Thursday when he introduced them to his wife, an accomplished young lady of Geneva, whose former name was Miss Bertie Kennedy. The wedding took place Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents in Geneva, the affair being witnessed only by intimate relatives of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. O'Shea are now at home at 920 South Eighteenth street.

Professor Easterday held the annual musicale with his pupils at his home Saturday afternoon. An extended program was given, refreshments were served, and a delightful time was enjoyed. Those present were Misses Alice White, Minnie Miller, Blanche Skidmore, Vera Jennings, Ella Hunter, Otis States, Pauline Meyers, Ada Carper, Florence Sparbuck, Agnes, Maggie and Mary Mortimer, Lula Quay, Alice Jorstead, Nellie Madden, Katie Carreth, Minnie Johnson, Ellie Pierson, Mary and Bertha DuTiel, Hannah and Lenore Dohl, Mary Beach, Minnie McClay, Jessie Decker, Nora Frey, Lucy McCarger, Edith Young, and Masters Max Meyers, Herbert States, Elmer Holbin, Joe Madden, George Swanley, and Mrs. Anderson, Knotts, Botcher, Lockwood and Hayes.

Mrs. Dr. Appelget entertained a pleasant gathering of friends at her home, Twelfth and Q streets, Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. John Doolittle, who has decided to leave Lincoln to take up her residence in Chicago. The company comprised an even dozen and a more congenial or pleasanter assembly it would be difficult to congregate. The evening was delightfully cool and the occasion was taken up in that prince of card games, whist. Elegant refreshments assisted to make up a most pleasant affair and the affair was a most distinguished herself as a royal entertainer. Those in the party were Messrs. and Mesdames John Doolittle, J. H. Horley, L. M. Raymond, N. G. Brock, E. S. Hawley, N. C. Abbott, Care Funke, J. A. Buckstaff, R. M. Perry, John B. Wright, S. H. Burbank and E. B. Appelget.

Last week St. Joseph lost its educational head. This week Omaha done Lincoln a similar turn in permitting Prof. Richardson to move to the capital city. He arrived Wednesday.

Juvenile society enjoyed another treat this week. It was one of those delightful affairs that are given in celebration of an anniversary of some bright youth, and if the older folks find as much real, unpretentious enjoyment in their big parties as the little ones find in their gatherings, then certainly do they view life as truly worth living. Thursday evening from 8 to 10 Master Ralph Clayton Allen was at home to his many young friends at the parental home, Hon. and Mrs. J. C. Allen, 1319 K street. The beautiful lawn was handsomely arranged and decorated for the occasion, Chinese lanterns shedding light and lending charm to the scene. Various games were played and everything conducive to the comfort and happiness of the party was at hand. Prizes were offered for punning on the elephant's trunk and Miss May Travis secured first prize, and Miss Mignon Trickey booby prize. Refreshments were duly relished and when eight o'clock arrived the little ones, tired but still jovial were taken to their own home, sweet home, having enjoyed another occasion that will long remain green in their lives, that are just beginning. Mrs. Allen was assisted in entertaining by the Misses Cora Outcalt, Della Scofield and Nellie Bronson. Following were the participants: Mignon Trickey, Jim Campbell, May Travis, Helen Laws, Lillian Shaw, Piers Baldwin, Maude Dilworth of Hastings, Pussie Burkett, Louise Hoover, Dick Outcalt, Newton Campbell Levater Thompson, Irving Metcalf, Galesburg, Ill., Alice Loring, Joe Bullard of Omaha, Burdett Sohus, Herbert Beachley, Ralph Howard, Paul Humphrey, Frank Johnson, Vinda Hudson, Luette Keith, Charlie Protzman, Miss Irene Johnson of Hastings.

The leap-year party given in the elegant parlors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slattery on last Monday evening was a grand success in every way. The invitations sent to the timid boys read thus: "The twenty-ninth will be Monday night; A leap-year party we think quite right, And you will please us to invite us here; Will call at eight; at twelve take flight; An early reply will be our delight." Many witty replies were received, such as the following: "Your invitation so clever I accept with pleasure; Monday evening just at eight At the house I will wait; For the lady who will call And take me to the banquet hall." About twenty attended. The fair ones entertained their timid guests handsomely and the boys were delighted to think that it did not cost them one cent. Promptly at eight the ladies in full evening attire, called with a coach-in-four for the boys. The chief amusement of the evening was a big fire. Mr. Charles Jeckell carried off first prize which was a book of Hoyle's Games, and Miss Kate McClay secured the booby prize, which was a hen. The house was illuminated with Japanese lanterns and profusely decorated with smilax and roses. At half-past eleven delicious refreshments were served, after which the guests took flight.

Mr. Archie Ensign, on the arm of Miss Hatch, marched to the table in usual nonchalant and debonair manner. He was dressed in sack coat with trousers and vest of the same, a turned down collar and his hair parted tastefully on the side. Charlie Taylor wore a cutaway coat, white vest, white shirt, dark trousers and corsage bouquet of yellow roses. Jake North wore a black cutaway suit and his hair pompadour, with whiskers to match red flower ornaments. Charles Jeckell was attired in brocade waist coat, a black French worsted Prince Albert trimmed with braid, trousers and patent leathers to match, and diamond ornaments. F. L. Castor was clothed in a brown study and a suit of black. Had his hair cut. Alex Cheney wore a double-breasted, square-cornered sack suit of black with a white crocheted necktie and black stockings. John Hatch was charming in patent leathers, mustache, and smile to match. He left his laugh in Omaha. Ed Bing wore a black frock, white tie, and flowers. Will Jeckell wore a claw-hammer with all the accessories pertaining thereto. Pearl ornaments. Arthur North looked beautiful in a suit of gray and trousers cut in twain. White flowers. Charles Slattery was graced in a beautiful suit of black. Flowers. Miss Emma North was attired in a becoming suit of tan. Miss Grace Stewart was dressed in a cream cashmere with lace and roses. Miss Lou Hatch, cream suit, flower ornaments. Miss Emma Bing, brown landown and lace. Miss Kate McClay was gowned in marguerite costume of cream, flowers and slippers to match. Miss Mae Thompson, black silk, old rose chiffon trimmings. Mrs. Ida Peters, brown satin, iridescent trimmings, corsage bouquet. Miss Laura Taylor, cream costume, lace trimmings and flowers. Miss Irene James, white nun's veiling, slippers to match. Mrs. Slattery, black silk, pink corsage bouquet. Miss Hatch, becoming suit of gray.
