A large and brilliant reception was given by the Hayden Art club, Tuesday evening, in honor of Miss Sarah Wool Moore, at the state capital senate chamber. The reception was given her as a farewell. Mr. Frank H. Hall introduced the guests to the reception committee which consisted of Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. N. Harwood, Chancellor and Mrs. James H. Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sawyer, Mr. Henry Lewis, Mr. Chas. L. Alger, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Steuart, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Braze, Professor and Mrs. F. Morey Hodgman, Mrs. Dr. Loyd, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gere, Professor and Mrs. Barbour. Particular commendation is due to the entertainment committee of which Mrs. Frank Hall was chairman, and consisted about twenty ladies, who made everything pass pleasantly. Several hundred guests were received during the evening. The brilliancy of electric lights and fair guests made a most dazzling scene of beauty and grace. A full orchestra was in attendance throughout the evening, and the melodious sounds of their music from one corner of the hall, was wafted through the room adding to the pleasure of all. The guests were requested to wear a badge with the name of their favorite artist and his masterpiece, and all responded generously; some of them being unique and skillfully prepared. A group of about thirty ladies celebrated the memory of Columbus by wearing badges of the yellow, the Spanish color, and choosing as their favorite artist someone contemporary with Columbus. They also wore the Spanish lace mantilla, which was exceedingly becoming. A short programme was given. Mr. Lewis spoke of the history of the club, how several years ago the club was organized with seventy charter members and Mrs. Moore as organizer, and how it had been growing, both in membership and interest. Mrs. Sawyer gave a brief resume of the work of the club for the coming year. Miss Moore and Mrs. McConnell gave brief talks about artists contemporary with Columbus. Some resolutions were offered in behalf of Miss Moore as a token of appreciation for her valuable services. At a late hour in the evening the reception closed. All the guests seemed thankful that Columbus was not laughed down by the learned men of the court of Spain, and that America, "the land of the free," was discovered even though it was four hundred years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Benton threw open their charming and ever hospitable home, 1638 F street, Wednesday evening, on which occasion they inaugurated a most unique and thoroughly pleasant club. Only a select few of the "beau monde" were present, consisting of a baker's dozen congenial ladies who have formed themselves into a clique to be known hereafter as the "Bon-homie Cooking Club." The club will meet once every two weeks at the respective homes of the members, when four of the ladies will bring with them the necessary viands to serve a seven o'clock tea to the other members and their husbands. After the mysterious culinary efforts of the ladies have been tested and the receipts given all around, the tables are cleared away, and the hostess is allowed to choose her own diversion for the remainder of the evening. This first night proved a novelty, and if we are to except the declarations of the guests present as authentic, we may rely on a prosperous and successful career of the "cheff" and the "bon-homie." The guests of the evening were Mrs. and Mrs. R. D. Stearns, C. P. Trappagan, C. A. Keith, Myron Wheeler, J. E. Riggs, F. W. Helwig, Dr. W. L. Dayton, Shaw, W. R. Cambridge, C. H. Morrill, S. M. Melick, L. A. McCandless.

Miss Maud Burr entertained a number of friends Saturday evening at her elegant home on D street in honor of her friend, Miss Ella Touzalin, of Chicago. The company comprised the members of "The Singing School," which is an informal company of congenial friends who held meetings throughout last winter and under the competent leadership of Mr. Frank Zehring the members realized not only benefit but a great amount of pleasure. The meeting with Miss Burr was the first one of the season, and to say that all present spent a delightful evening does not half express it. The evening was devoted to music informally and happiness reigned supreme. Charming refreshments were served. Regular meetings will be held this winter same as last. Those present were Misses Martha Funke, Kittie Cowdery, Theo Laws, Fay Marshall, Olive Latta, Bertie Burr, Henrietta Hollowbush, Margaret Baird, Mansfield of Peora, and Ella Touzalin of Chicago; Messrs. Fred Howe, Lew Marshall, C. Y. Smith, Frank Zehring, Ernest Funke, Frank Hathaway, Charles Hollowbush, Lieut. Pershing, Mansfield, O. H. Clarke, Frank Folk and Frank Burr.

Sorosis met Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Canfield. The meeting was led by Miss Moore, who took as her topic "The Standing of Women as Artists." Miss Moore ably reviewed the sphere of women in arts from the earliest times. Women has not figured very conspicuously in art, not so much so in the field of literature and on the stage. The chief exception to this is Rosa Bonheur. Miss Moore was assisted by Mrs. Canfield, who reviewed the life of Rosa Bonheur, and Mrs. Hodgeman who considered Baran Bernhart as an artist. If she would devote her time to art as to the stage she would undoubtedly create as much a fervor as an artist as she does as an actress. Her opinions and judgment of pictures and sculpture is considered very valuable. Rosa Bonheur has undergone many privations and hardships to obtain her artist education, because the renowned studios are not open to women as to men. The afternoon's program was very instructive as well as interesting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hodgeman, when Mrs. J. P. Maule will discuss a century of American literature.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson very pleasantly entertained the Hob Fif club, with friends, Tuesday evening. Eight tables were surrounded by animated game five players, all of whom worked with a vim to win. At the close of the evening the first royal prizes, solid silver souvenir spoons, were awarded to Dr. Appelgat and Mrs. D. E. Thompson, and the second, also souvenir spoons, to Mr. Hulbert and Mrs. Kefer. At a late hour in the evening the guests took leave of their host and hostess and were all able to say, from the heart, that they had had a "lovely" time. The members of the club, together with friends, were Messrs. and Mesdames Billmeyer, Cowdery, Hulbert, Kennard, S. E. Moore, R. E. Moore, F. W. Baldwin, A. M. Beard, Bignell, W. C. Wilson, Dr. Tucker, J. H. Clarke, Dr. Applegate, Keith, Riggs, D. E. Thompson, Cal Thompson, Patrick, Preston, Dr. Dayton, Wolcott, E. E. Brown, Allen, Messrs. Caldwell, Painter and George Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Riggs entertained a large company of friends at their cozy little home on E street, last evening. Progressive high five was the all absorbing pastime, and the most skillful players were abundantly rewarded for their adroitness by receiving dainty souvenirs, which were pieces of china, prettily decorated by Mrs. Riggs. Those enjoying the evening were Messrs. and Madames H. B. Patrick, Will Pomfret, Phelps Paine, Will Preston, R. D. Stearns, T. H. Benton, C. S. Lippencott, H. R. Nissley, A. H. Weir, F. A. Hellwig, C. A. Keith, Will Cambridge, Mark N. Tilton, C. H. Imhoff, A. S. Raymond, F. A. Brown, J. A. Swan, M. A. Warren, Chas. T. Brown, F. C. Fels, Cal Thompson, O. M. Thompson, Chas. Kefer, W. B. McArthur, A. E. Kennard, Hal Northam, A. D. Dunn, Miss Fannie Latham, Mr. T. P. Kennard.

A wedding of Lincoln interest occurred at Cleveland, Ohio, last week which united the lives and fortunes of Miss Mabel Symes of this city and Charles E. Hall. The wedding occurred in the Superior street Baptist church, solemnized by Rev. Hart. Four ushers and two bridesmaids were in attendance. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played throughout the ceremony and the church was beautifully decorated. A brilliant reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony the house being tastefully arranged and decorated with roses. The bride wore an elegant costume of white faille fringed with pearl trimmings. The happy couple have arrived home and begin housekeeping under auspicious circumstances.

Mrs. A. R. Talbot entertained a joyous company of juvenile friends Saturday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Marie, who celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary. The parlors were tastefully decorated with dolls of all kinds and descriptions. Dolls were hidden all over the house which the little girls hunted for and carried away as prizes. A dainty supper was served at small tables which will make all present remember the doll reception for a long time. Dolls were found in the cake and on the tables. Those enjoying the afternoon were Agnes and Wilma Casebeer, Clara Mills, Anna Crim, Hazel Benton, Ruth Bryan, Ethel Hignell, Nellie McPherson, Florence Irvine, Gird Hamilton, Grace Stewart.

The opening party of the F street club will be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Helwig, at their new home on F street. Progressive high-five will be the game of the evening to absorb the interest of the guests. The members of the club are Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Tipping, Mr. and Mrs. Sobus, Mr. and Mrs. Warren, Dr. and Mrs. Casebeer, Mr. and Mrs. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Hibner, Mr. and Mrs. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Austin, Mr. Fred Hutchins, Mr. M. I. Aitken. The invited guests are Messrs. and Mesdames Aitken, Benton, Frank Maritius, John Maritius, R. E. Moore, Holm W. Leier, Misses Grace Aitken, Gertrude Aitken and Margaret Helwig.

A very pleasant social was given at the Plymouth church, Wednesday evening, under the combined efforts of the Ladies Aid Society and the Y. P. S. C. E., when each member who had pledged themselves to earn a dollar gave a description with plans and specifications, written in rhyme. After the feast for the mind came a feast for the inner man, which was just as heartily partaken of as had been in its predecessor. Suffice it to say, several dollars were raised and every one went home well pleased with the entertainment.

Miss Daisy Cochrane entertained a few friends informally at her home Monday evening. The house was illuminated with candles and pumpkins, giving a weird effect. The conventional Halloween games were indulged in, including fortune telling, looking into the future, questioning of fate. Those present were Messrs. George and Frank Steiner, George Cullen, Harry Evans, Ed. Hagan; Misses Blanche Garten, Grace Hummer, Minnie and Tot Millar and Grace Sols.

The many friends of Mrs. J. G. Wadsworth feel the keenest regret that Lincoln is to be deprived of her cultivated, sweet voice. What will be our loss will be an equal gain to the people of Council Bluffs, but that does not reconcile Lincolnites to the change, for besides being a charming singer Mrs. Wadsworth is a most estimable lady who has won many friends by her kindly nature and christian spirit.

A merry company of congenial friends met at the home of Miss Bessie Gebert, Monday evening, to enjoy the pleasures of Halloween games. All sorts of Halloween pleasures, both old and new, were indulged in until a late hour, by Misses Jo Winger, Libbie Seacrest, Flo Winger, Sallie Grob, Maud Reisor, Stella Elliot and Ella Raymond.

As a result of our announcement last week to furnish each new subscriber with a beautiful souvenir spoon, 73 new names were added to our list this week. The announcement showing illustrations of Columbus, Worlds Fair, Y. P. S. C. E., Epworth League, and other spoons, will re-appear in our next issue.

At the Pleasant Hour club meeting, Saturday afternoon, the contract for music was let to Irvine's orchestra. This is certainly a deserved compliment to Mr. Irvine and his excellent orchestra. The Metropolitan, a newly organized dancing club, has also engaged Irvine's music for the season.

The young woman's department of the Woman's Christian association, held a reception Wednesday evening, at the home of Miss Cora Hardy. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, a good number was present and all spent a delightful evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Leonard leave today for an extended trip through the northwest. After visiting Washington and Oregon, they go south through California and return home via New Mexico and Texas, expecting to reach Lincoln about February first.

Pay up your arrears on THE COURIER and a year in advance and we will give you a beautiful souvenir spoon worth $2.
