Deaf for a Year
Caused by
Catarrh in the Head

Catarrh is a CONSTITUTIONAL disease, and requires a CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDY like Hood's Sarsaparilla to cure it. Read: "Three years ago, as a result of catarrh, I entirely lost my hearing and was deaf for more than a year. I tried various things to cure it, and had several physicians attempt it, but no improvement was apparent. I could distinguish no sound. I was intending putting myself under the care of a specialist, when some one suggested that possibly Hood's Sarsaparilla would do me some good. I began taking it without the expectation of any lasting help. To my surprise and great joy I found when I had taken three bottles that my hearing was returning. I kept on till I had taken three more. It is now over a year and I can hear perfectly well. I am troubled but very little with the catarrh. I consider this a remarkable case, and cordially recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who have catarrh." HERMAN HICKS, 50 Carter Street, Rochester, N. Y.

TOWN TALK

On Thursday of this week the firm of Wessel-Stevens Printing Co. was dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. L. Wessel, Jr., the retiring member of the firm, disposing of his interest in the entire business, excepting the CAPITAL CITY COURIER, to Mr. W. S. Newberry, who for several months past has had the management of the job printing and stationery departments. Mr. Newberry is a gentleman of shrewd business qualifications, well known in this city and state, and is probably as well posted in values as any publisher in the west. He will practically continue the management of the new firm, which will be known as the Newberry-Stevens Printing Co., and it is but reasonable to believe that under his guidance the business, which was established seven years ago today by the retiring partner of the old firm, will continue to gain in importance and popularity. The new firm took possession Thursday, will collect all bills and pay all indebtedness. For the immediate present they will remain at the old stand, 1134 N street, expecting, however, in the near future to remove to more centrally located quarters. Mr. Wessel bespeaks for his successors abundant prosperity and a continuance of the patronage that has been so generously bestowed upon the old firm.

With this number THE COURIER closes its seventh year of life in Lincoln and when another issue will be brought to the readers' notice, the paper will appear in new attire. It will also be at home in new and most centrally located quarters, at 1134 O street, occupying the east half of Mr. S. E. Moore's wall paper and art store, where handsome offices are being fitted up for the reception, at all times, of its friends, patrons and the public generally. The change in the firm of Wessel-Stevens Printing Co., by the retirement of Mr. Wessel and the sale of his interests to Mr. Newberry, as mentioned in the preceding paragraph, will in no manner affect the business of THE COURIER. The paper remains as it has from its birth, in the hands of its founder, who hopes in the future to give it more attention and make it even more attractive and interesting to the large class whom it caters to; that being the cultured and refined element of Lincoln, whether they be members of the swiftest circles or any other respectable class of citizens. When down town next, drop in and see us in our new home—you will always be welcome.

John Doolittle's membership of the excise board appears to be biting Mayor Weir considerably, but it is not, probably, because both are candidates for the mayoralty, although it might be pretty difficult to find another reason. Mayor Weir first endeavored to declare Mr. Doolittle's seat on the board vacant, but the council would not sustain his declaration nor confirm his appointment of his own son-in-law to succeed Doolittle. Then as a private citizen he filed before the council last Tuesday evening a formal complaint, charging Doolittle with "misconduct in office." In that prior to October 1, 1892, he removed from Lincoln and ceased to be a resident. Also that he has been grossly negligent in the discharge of his duties. There is no denying that Mr. Doolittle cannot very efficiently fulfill his duties as a member of the excise board while doing business in Chicago, but about the only way out of the dilemma, as long as he claims Lincoln as his residence and makes occasional visits in pursuance of that claim, is to wait until his term expires, which will be next April. The mayor is always very indiscreetly biting off more than he can chew, and is exciting more attention by what he fails to do than he ever has by what he has done. And then, suppose some one should come in and file complaint that the mayor is guilty of gross negligence in the discharge of his duty as a member of the excise board. It could be easily proven. One of the duties, in fact about the only one, is the control of the police force to secure compliance with the laws for the regulation of liquor selling and gambling. The mayor has been guilty of negligence in this matter, as could be easily proven. The indications are that Mr. Doolittle will hold his office until his term expires.

The scramble for post offices is fairly and earnestly on all over the state and it is not alone in Lincoln that the veteran democratic newspaper hustler finds himself confronted by an ambitious opposition. Down in Plattsmouth, where O. W. Sherman, the patient and ill-rewarded editor of the Journal, has just begun to see his way to a position that would enable him to enjoy such luxuries as pie with two crusts and frosting on his cake, a new factor has been sprung that threatens his chances. Mrs. Livingston, relict of the late Gen. R. R. Livingston, who in his day was a tower of democratic strength, has been put to the front by a strong following.

Some idea of the cost of raising children may be gleaned from the record of the last meeting of the council. Some months since a new-born wail was picked up one morning on the steps at the Catholic convent. It was turned over to the police, and Captain

Carder, whose services as a policeman are invaluable when there are any ladies or babies in the case, finally persuaded a Mrs. McMahon to take it. The little one lived only three months and now Mrs. McMahon has filed a bill for $60, or about $5 a week, for its board. And Dr. Maxon has punched in a bill of $30 for medical attendance. Such little incidents as this will arouse considerable speculation as to how a man enjoying a salary of $10 a month can furnish board for a wife and seven or eight children.

The arrest of a man named Dick Berlin in South Omaha a few days since on suspicion of complicity in the murder of Mayor Miller of that city, who was found dead recently in a thicket, put a decidedly bad taste in the pretty mouths of numerous Lincoln belles who have seen the illustrious and irrefutable, Dick Berlin, in gorgeous array as an Adonis in many a resplendent ball room, and doubtless many tender little hearts thrilled with emotion until further on, in the same article, that chronicled the arrest, occurred the explanation that it was Dick Berlin, a South Omaha gambler, and not Dick Berlin the Adonis of Nebraska. Perhaps the Hon. Dick's reputation in the latter line would have placed him entirely beyond suspicion had he not recently endeavored to fasten upon this city a large and fragrant scavenger trust and crematory for the destruction of slops.

At its last meeting the Lincoln Light Infantry appointed Lieutenant T. J. Hickey a committee of one to see THE COURIER relative to giving space and conducting a regular department in the interest of the infantry, with the view of making this paper its official organ. As such arrangements have been effected, and started in this issue, the gentlemanly "recruits" will kindly see to it that their departments, which will appear under the title of "Infantry Notes," will be kept supplied with news notes, personal items, etc. THE COURIER is very desirous of aiding in this good work, and hopes its efforts will meet with sufficient encouragement to make this feature a permanent and popular one.
