

A complimentary card party was given Miss Grace Ashton on last Friday evening by her sister, Mrs. C. M. Keifer, at her cozy home, 140 J street. The occasion was a very happy one, everything being arranged with a view to the pleasure of the guests. The decorations throughout the house were pink and white. Pink and white carnations were the flowers used. The score cards were white adorned with pink ribbon. From the parlor chandelier were suspended pink ribbons half of which were thrown to one side of the room and half to the other. The ladies were all given a ribbon at one side of the room and the gentlemen at the other and when the ribbons were loosened in the center it brought a lady and gentleman together who were partners for the evening. Charming refreshments were served during the evening. The prizes which consisted of silver souvenir spoons, were won by Miss Jessie Leland and Mr. Ernest Folsom. The guests were Misses Florence Winger, Grace Huntsinger, Josephine McDowell, Maud Oakley, May Whitting, Blanche Garten, Stella Curtis, Georgia Camp, Helen Hoover, Dora Harley, Pearl Agey, Stella Hoyt, Jennie Watson, May Moore, Carrie Leland, Jennie Stewart, Saddle Graham, Ada Heaton, Fannie Reeder, Messrs Guy Hurlbert, George Johnson, Fred Woodward, Ernest Folsom, Homer Honeywell, Harry Evans, Ross Curtis, Harry Harley, Ora Ward, Park Garoutte, Wilson Winger, Arthur Hamer, Gus Kleinkauf, Burt Davis, Dudley Cook, John Lottridge, Foster Beach, Arda Chapman, Archie Vaughn, Frank Kitchen.

A number of friends spent the evening most pleasantly Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. S. Mayer, east side of Capitol square. The pleasures of the event were centered in high five, which, until after eleven o'clock, held the close attention of all present. There were six tables and twenty-four delighted players sat around them, each striving for supremacy, but it was left to Mrs. J. Speier to carry off the lady's royal, and Mr. Katzenstein, Jr. the royal for the male contingent, the former receiving a Haveland china olive dish, the latter a gold tooth pick. Mrs. Sam Wessel was consoled with the booty, a cornucopia of pins, and Mr. M. Ackerman likewise distinguished himself receiving a miniature tin horse attached to a music wagon. Following the diversion at cards came a most elegant supper which was served in the dining room. The table was handsomely arranged and the menu consisted of the season's choicest offerings. While the guests were succumbing to the demands of the inner man some one sprung a surprise on the assembly by requesting all hands to drink to the health of Mr. and Mrs. Mayer. Immediately thereafter it was learned that the occasion was in honor of their tenth anniversary of married life and the congratulations that followed were both hearty and sincere. Those participating in the destruction of a sumptuously laden table were Messrs and Mesdames M. Ackerman, J. Speier, Dr. Mitchell, Lou Wessel, L. M. Cohn, A. Katzenstein, Jr., Sam Wessel, M. A. Newmark, M. Weil, L. A. Kseny, I. Brucks, Chas. Mayer.

Tuesday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kohn, 1809 P street, was the scene of a gay and festive surprise party of which their accomplished daughter, Miss Amanda, was the victim. The invaders were the members of the M. L. S. C. of which the young lady is a member. Tuesday was the date on which Miss Kohn reached her eighteenth anniversary birthday and it was in honor of that occasion that the surprise was arranged and pleasantly carried out. After well wishes and congratulations were freely bestowed, the secretary of the M. L. S. C., Miss Tillie Berkson, stepped forward and with a few well-chosen remarks presented the fair debutante with an elegant silver jewel case. Refreshments were served during the evening and a good time in general was had by all. Those present were Misses Tillie Berkson, Barr, Speisberger, Seligsohn, Steinler, Gunnison, Franck, Ida, Allen and Tillie Friend; Messrs Sol Berkson, Kahn, Gugenheim, Hecht, Eisner, Gunnison, Barr, Gus Mayer, Greenbaum, J. C. Oppenheimer and Bruckheim.

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilson on M and Seventeenth streets was the scene of a gay and animated high five party Wednesday evening. The rooms were prettily decorated with roses, carnations and white hyacinths. The prizes were won by Mrs. Sarah Harris, who received an etching, and by Mr. Aikens who carried home a handsome paper waite. The guests of the evening were Messrs and Mesdames J. B. Wright, W. A. Perry, Hawley, N. C. Abbott, Dr. Casbeer, W. B. Wilson, D. E. Thompson, W. B. Hargraves, F. W. Baldwin, George Cook, A. G. Billmeyer, H. B. Patrick, H. P. Foster, Sutton, W. C. Preston, Misses Anne Funke, Olive Latta, Sarah Harris, Robinson of Chicago, Ellison; Messrs M. I. Aitkens, Carey, Frank Cook, Hanna, Matt Baldwin.

The Au Fait Card club together with a large number of friends was very pleasantly entertained Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Baldwin in their pretty home on K street. The club already has an enviable reputation for congenial and informal parties, and this adds one more pleasing remembrance to their long list. The prizes were won by Mr. Cal Thompson, Mrs. O. M. Thompson and Mr. Patrick, Mrs. Keifer. The gentlemen's prizes were cut glass olive dishes. Mrs. Thompson received a half dozen bread and butter plates and Mrs. Keifer carried home a toast plate and cup. The members of the club present were Messrs and Mesdames Cowdery, S. E. Moore, Dr. Gilpin, O. M. Thompson, Dr. Dayton, O. W. Webster, Huffman, Patrick. The guests of the evening were Messrs and Mesdames W. B. Wilson, Cal Thompson, Preston, Foster, Allen, Keifer, Sutton. The next meeting of the club will be with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Huffman.

The Century literary club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. H. Curtis. Thirteen of the members were present. The time allotted to the general current events was occupied by the president, Mrs. Frank Campbell in giving an interesting talk on the supposed discovery of a new faculty within ones if to communicate with the mind o another. This is the subject of much discussion in the the eastern papers. The ladies were very skeptical, but agreed that enough had been found to make it interesting to follow it in its developments. Mrs. M. E. Van Brunt gave a five minutes talk on the beauty of Tennyson's poetry and its influence. Mrs. W. E. Kirker read an ably prepared paper on band east prolonged her visit with her parents in Pittsburgh and is expected home next week.

Mr. Max Kohn returned Tuesday from New York after a month's absence, during which time he purchased an extensive line of new spring dry goods for Bloch & Kohn's popular dry goods emporium. Mr. Kohn reports the New York market quite lively and business booming in all lines, the prospects for spring trade never having appeared brighter to the metropolitan jobbers and manufacturers. The new goods commenced to arrive Monday and will be all in by the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blish very pleasantly entertained the C Street Card club and some friends last Friday evening. The popular game of high five was the order of the evening. The club and some invited friends present were Messrs and Mesdames Paul Holm, W. K. Bell, Henry Zehrung, W. E. Kirker, Folsom, Case, Chapin, O. P. Davis, Barney, Ecker, Munger, Miss Zehrung.

Miss Kate Seothorn and Mrs. Howard Ricketts entertain this evening at the home of the latter, N and Twenty-seventh streets. The ladies are expected to come dressed to represent a character in some prominent book which the gentlemen are to guess. Prizes will be awarded to the gentleman and lady guessing the most.

Mr. W. Morton Smith, having severed his connection with the Evening News, has received the appointment of district manager of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. and has opened offices in the Brownell block.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ehrlich and Miss Blanch, returned to their home in St. Joseph last Saturday after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wessel.

Sorosis meets Monday with Mrs. Manning at which time Mrs. Prof. Adams will lead with a discussion on "Chinese Immigration."

Mrs. Dr. Hill entertained a number of friends at breakfast this morning.

OPENING OF THE L'UNIVERSAL.

Two Thousand Ladies Entertained by Music While Inspecting the New Millinery Store.

Wednesday was a gala day for Lincoln ladies. It was the day on which they were formally introduced to the new spring bonnet and other millinery novelties for the budding season. It was the day of the opening of the beautiful new L'Universal millinery establishment at 206 South Eleventh street, and as the fair sex had all been invited they came by the hundreds from every part of the city to welcome the new firm. Numerous carriages rolled up to the door and the event was in every way in keeping with the new resort which starts out under most favorable auspices. The store had been beautifully arranged for the occasion and no opening in this city was ever attended by a more select gathering of the best people of the city, nor has any store ever presented a neater or prettier appearance. Irvine's superb orchestra was present both afternoon and evening discoursing concert selections which assisted much in the great success of the grand opening.
