"For Years,"

Says GABRIEL E. BROWNE, of Chester, N. H., "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ten pound weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort to whisper. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving me miserably, but, for several days after, I was unable to proceed and eat. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Dr. Price's Pink Pills, my mother's remedy, and she was being better than anything she could give me. I continued taking these pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of my former trouble, which was a mild one, and I have been able to do my usual work."

AMONG LOCAL SPORTS

Cycling Notes.

Ed Allen and Mode (GPHR) made the round trip last Sunday, starting back from Fremont at 3:15 p.m., arriving in Lincoln at 10 p. m., having ridden in the dark from Ceresco.

Messrs. Lovejoy and Kulse, two riders hailing from Marshalltown, Ia., who have been visiting in Wymore, passed through here last week; they were plotted out of town towards Havelock on Thursday to Omaha.

Captain Milmine announces that on the next attempt at a century run some of the riders will be glad to stay back of him without his orders, apropos of the Fremont run where he endeavored to have them conform to club run rules.

There are upwards of twenty entries for the state fair races, which take place next Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; they give promise of being very interesting. Omaha will be well represented, as also a number of other leading towns of the state. Eb Mockett is in fair shape, and may be expected to do some good work.

Mr. Edson Marvin, the secretary of the Finlay Wheel club, of Finlay, O., was in Lincoln Tuesday. He has been away from home since June 10, touring from his home to points in Colorado and return. When here his cyclometer registered 2,200 miles, 1,875 of which he has ridden while on this trip. Captain Milmine rode out to Cheney with him on his way east.

Last Thursday there was a warm race on the fair grounds track between Hi Peirce and Joe Oller. It was warm because both of the riders wore their regular business suits, together with standing collars and cuffs. The race was for a hat, of which neither had a presentable specimen. Notwithstanding after Mr. Peirce won the race by several or more lengths of the wheel, they agreed to spend the money involved for liquid refreshments.

It is now patent to all that it is quite impossible to make a success of a century run with a mixed crowd of riders such as was endeavored to carry through to Fremont and return. The frequent stops less hardened riders feel that they require are but a detriment and a drag to the old riders. The only proper way to ride long distances and do it right is to stop as little as possible and then only of your own accord; any way this over indulgence of one's appetite for drink is an especially bad thing, as it only tends to aggravate thirst and make one's whole system flacid.

The following members of the club were at "attention" when the word was given to mount for the Fremont run at 8:30 a. m. last Sunday: Capt. Milmine, Lieutenant Shader, Bruning, Blake, Allen, Walton, Seifert, Hurd, Hoagland, Griffith, Rickner and Manning; also A. J. Beecher, a non-member. A number of punctures delayed, otherwise everything worked fairly well until Walton started to scoot just after leaving Wahoo; Shader, Griffith, Hoagland and Seifert followed, and thereby hangs a tale. They followed up a private road for over a mile which ended abruptly in a farm yard, and at Walton's advice struck out through a corn field and came near getting lost entirely, but after bounding around along the banks of a dry creek, overgrown with scrub underbrush, finally came out into a pasture. A farm house was soon sighted, at which they procured some melons; here they discovered that they had ridden fully three miles too far north, all the fault of Walton, who would have been roughly handled by those led astray had it not been for the melons, which needed attention first. Once more on their wheels they were spinning merrily along on the road to Fremont, where they arrived about an hour after Bruning, Blake, Allen, Milmine and Hurd. These last mentioned had followed the right road from Cedar Bluffs. Ed Allen and Mode Griffith started back for Lincoln on their wheels at 3:15 p. m. To escape the fury of those whom the melons had temporarily prostrated, Walton concealed himself in the engine tender until the train arrived in Lincoln when he dropped off at Eighth street. On the way down the train picked up Beecher at Wahoo, Manning, Rickner, Webster and Ford at Streiburg, the last two started from Lincoln about two hours later than the club and ridden to Wahoo and back again to Streiburg. Mr. E. A. Rickner received a bad fall near Streiburg while rounding an abrupt turn down grade. He was thrown into a barb wire fence, but luckily escaped any serious injury. This was the only accident worthy of note that happened to the thirteen starters.

Will Play Base Ball at Council Bluffs. The Lincoln travelling men will play a return game of base ball with the Council Bluffs pilgrims at Lake Manawa, Council Bluffs, this afternoon.

To rise in the morning with a bad taste in the mouth and no appetite, indicates that the stomach needs strengthening. For this purpose, there is nothing better than an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills taken at bedtime.

New Club House. The Ashby-Cloak company located at 1114 O street in room occupied by Mrs. W. E. Gosper, is now open and ready for business. We will be glad to show you our stock consisting of the latest novelties in cloaks and capes. Every garment new; prices and style guaranteed. ASHBY CLOAK CO.

On September 10th and 11th the B & M. will sell tickets to Chicago and return at one fare for the round trip, $14.50, tickets good for return to Sept. 17th. They may be obtained at R. & M. depot, or city office, Cor. O and Tenth streets. A. G. ZIMMER, City Pass. Agt.

Geology of the Frisco Ring. Dan Creedon doesn't care much for Choyne's game, but is willing to tackle Joe Butler, the big Philadelphia negro. Peter Jackson writes from Mount Clemens that he is feeling very well and enjoying life. Jackson will remain at Mount Clemens until next week, when he starts upon the road with his theatrical combination.

Billy McCarty, of Australia, and Dick Moore, of St. Paul, are matched to fight before the Columbia Athletic club, on September 25 for a $3,000 purse and a side wager of $2,000. To fight at 168 pounds, weigh in at the ring-side.

Grave apprehension is felt for Mike Cleary, the old-time pugilist. Cleary is now stopping with Muldoon, the wrestler, at his county seat at Belfast, N. Y. Report says that Mike is very ill, and that death is only a question of time. His wife, a comely little woman, is sorely in need of aid, and friends of Cleary say that any pittance contributed will be duly appreciated. Cleary will be taken to his home in Philadelphia in a short time, so that he may pass the rest of his days with his relatives.

Considerable talk is being indulged in yet in New York sporting circles anent the recent meeting between George Dixon, the colored wonder, and Billy Plimmer, the 110 pound champion of England. It will be remembered that after their four-round go at Madison Square Garden the verdict was given to Plimmer. There are many, however, who believe that verdict an unjust one. George H. Dickinson and many other of the New York sporting writers thought the decision hardly fair in a limited round bout, and said so. Dixon laughed and said it was only a repetition of the Jerry-Barnett go. He was not scratched while Plimmer showed a few marks.

WOE, THE POOR UMPIRE.

Trials of the Unfortunate Indicator Hand- 10r Depicted in Jingle.

Who is the man with lordly mien, who stands behind the catcher lean, and ought to wear a huge iron screen?

The umpire. Who is the man who calls a strike when the plate is crossed by a line oblique? The man who ne'er sees twice alike?

The umpire. Who is the man who declares a foul while all the crowd sets up a howl, and the batter sulks with a large, black scowl?

The umpire. Who is the man who is always blind when the baseman tries some trick unkind, while his whiskers blow in the autumn wind?

The umpire. Who is the man who says "All right," when the runner hadn't the base in sight, who paves the way for a grand free fight?

The umpire. Who tries to square a bad mistake by another that causes the earth to quake, who takes everything but the cake?

The umpire. Who is the man with judicial power who can slap a fine as high as a tower upon a player he'd like to devour?

The umpire. He is the man who must decide, this Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, while the nation stands by quite willing to chide the poor, poor-umpire. —John B. Foster.

Base Ball Finances.

In spite of the general financial depression, base ball has thus far, been effected but little by the stringency in the money market. President Young states that the National League will during the present season wipe out an indebtedness of something near $70,000 in addition to paying the running expenses of the league, which amount to about $30,000 per annum. President Young is highly gratified by an excellent financial statement he will be able to submit at the close of the present season, barring accidents, for it proves that the interest in baseball is so great that it can even withstand a financial panic. Under this condition of affairs the league will be enabled to start out next spring with a clean set of books and assign to the dark corridors of the past all recollections of the bitter struggles the league has experienced during the last two or three years.

A QUESTION OF SEX.

Is it Correct to Speak of a Train as "She" Or "He"?

"Yonder she comes" said a tall, lank man who was sitting on a trunk in the shade of the station building.

"Yonder comes who?" asked a fat, good-natured appearing man who sat near him.

"The train we've been waiting for nearly half an hour," said the first speaker.

"Why do you say 'yonder she comes'?" asked the other.

"Well, that's the customary way of speaking of a train, isn't it? And custom is what fixes things. Everybody says 'yonder she comes' in speaking of a train's approach."

"Well, I insist you should have said 'yonder he comes,'" said the fat man.

"Oh, pahaw, nobody ever says 'he' in speaking of a train," returned the lank man.

"Well, I'll agree to leave it to the station agent and see if it wouldn't have been better for you to have said 'yonder he comes,'" added the fat man.

Both agreed to it, and when they had found the station agent the fat man asked: "What is the sex of the train just drawing near to the station?"

"It's a mail train," answered he. And the lank man went out and bought a good cigar for the fat man.

At Burlington Beach. Notwithstanding the recent cool weather Burlington Beach has continued to be well patronized. Sailing, rowing or riding on the big steamboat is just as enjoyable in weather such as we have had for the past week as when the thermometer is way up in the nineties, and the public is well aware of this fact.

The dancing pavilion, with one of the finest floors in the state, is nearly always filled with merry dancers at night, and the beach presents an animated and attractive appearance. This popular resort is so easily accessible now that there need be no hesitation about making the trip at any time of day.

You can take your choice between the street car from the Union Pacific depot or the carryalls from the postoffice square.

Furs stored for the summer insured free from moths and theft at F. E. Voelker's, practical furrier, Y. M. C. A. building.

They Took an Early Walk.

It was only a few days ago that I listened with much pleasure to the recital of an adventure told by my friend "The Newgatherer," who seldom if ever allows anything to escape her hearing and who is possessed of a mind so intuitive, that I could well imagine, had she lived in the old colonial days of Massachusetts, she might have been taken for a witch and burned to the stake; but the mere thought of such a mishap falling to my friend, makes me shudder, for I am accustomed to find in her company no small amount of amusement and I have long looked upon her as one commanding my profound respect and admiration.

I was much amused by the story, as the parties interested, have for some time been well known in society, and many of their friends who have since learned of their escapade, have been unable to account in any satisfactory way, for the action taken by them, which has in it a savory taste of oddity and is in such a high degree contrary to the manners and customs of their own sect and kind. It has been a matter of no little conjecture among them and a subject of much comment, as to what could have possessed two of their number to arise early one morning, nearly at sunrise, and take a long walk out into the country.

My friend "The Newgatherer" in telling me of the strange occurrence was inclined to enjoy the romance in it rather than wonder at its eccentricity, and I cannot but look upon the scene and contemplate the thoughts of one of the adventurers with envy, as I see him cross the lawn, and standing under the window overlooking a balcony; he whistles a soft melody, which born with the fragrance from the flowers beneath is answered by the presence of his fair companion and slowly they stroll out into the open fields to enjoy the beauties of a morning sun.

Although I am possessed with a lazy feeling, especially in the hours of early morning when it is a matter of no little exertion to arise from my couch, I intend in the future to take early walks before breakfast, as I feel sure that such exercise will greatly invigorate my system and give me health and vigor which I can acquire in no other way. I can only advise my society friends to follow suit in the example set by your friends "The Adventurers," and having learned from parties who know, I will confidentially say that these early morning walks will be quite in style this fall.
