LITERARY TOPICS

James Whitcomb Riley, the "Hoosier" poet, and Hamlin Garland, another portrayer of western farm life, will provide a "real conversation" for the February number of McClure's Magazine. Mr. Garland is the recorder of the conversation, and it is said to be one of the most notable in that series of genuine talks of which McClure's Magazine has made an important feature. Portraits of Mr. Riley and Mr. Garland, and pictures of Mr. Riley's boyhood home and the scenes of his more familiar poems will accompany the articles.
