Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver, for if the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirits are depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

I have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Bilioussness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried forty other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none of them gave more than temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved but cured.

A STUDENT ON TRIAL.

St. Petersburg, May 2.—One of the persons just convicted of plotting against the Czar is a student named Orealianoff, son of a high Russian official. During the trial he displayed the highest intelligence and maintained a most dignified bearing. Entering into a minute scientific dispute with Feodoroff, the renowned chemist, he compelled the latter to acknowledge the prisoner in the right and he himself in the wrong. At the final sitting Orealianoff made a brilliant speech and declared that neither he nor his companions feared death. He could imagine nothing more sublime than to die in an endeavor to deliver the unfortunate Russian people. Hundreds of young men would imitate him until the Czar would be compelled to change his despotic system. The prisoners, with one exception, were intelligent, gentlemanly and of good families. One said he intended to murder the Czar with a revolver, but afterwards thought bombs to be better.

A CAMP OF TRAMPS.

St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—For some time past the city of East St. Louis has been infested with a lot of tramps and idle, worthless fellows who spent most of their time peddling small articles, which the police were satisfied were stolen. The tramps had a camp in the eastern outskirts of the city and today the chief of police, Walsh, ordered it to be broken up and the tramps driven out of town. Leut. Erwin, with fifteen officers, went to the camp this afternoon and ordered the tramps to disperse, and leave the city. They paid no attention to the orders and the police then advanced to arrest them, firing two or three shots into the air to intimidate them. To the great surprise of the police the tramps returned the fire, but luckily without effect. The police then charged the camp in force, firing as they advanced, and the tramps fled in all directions. Some of them plunged into a slough near by and swam for their lives. All of them finally got outside of the city limits and joined another camp, where they consolidated forces and defied the police. The latter having no authority outside the city made no further efforts to arrest the fugitives, but left a strong guard to prevent them from re-entering the city or going over the field again. The police found one of the tramps groaning on the ground with a pistol ball in his spine. He was taken to the county hospital and will probably die.

A LAD'S LUCKY ESCAPE.

Columbus, Neb., May 2.—As the Albia train was pulling out of the depot this afternoon, Bert Young, the eight-year-old son of C. H. Young, of this place, met with a remarkable accident. He was walking along the side of the track and stepped into a hole. The wind, which was blowing a gale at the time, threw him down. His right arm was caught with one of the train wheels, tearing the flesh to shreds from the wrist to near the shoulder without breaking a bone. Drs. Martyn and Schug attended the lad and pronounced it one of the strangest accidents they ever attended. The little fellow remarked as the arm was being dressed: "If I hadn't thrown myself from the track I would have been killed in quick time."

FIRED BY A TRAMP.

Hartford Conn., May 1.—George Cowles, a farmer of Withersfield, last night discovered a tramp in his barn lighting a match. He ordered the tramp out, but the fellow seized a pitchfork and drove Mr. Cowles from the barn and then scattering hay about, deliberately set fire to the building, keeping Mr. Cowles out, but remaining inside himself until the fire was beyond control. The barn was totally destroyed. Mr. Cowles called his neighbors and they pursued the tramp, who was crippled by a buckshot wound inflicted by a neighbor. He finally escaped.

ed yesterday and it is only the bravest that longer resist. The number is daily decreasing, and under the present watchfulness of the officials, every offender will soon have been brought to justice and the clandestine places closed.

A STEAMER SINKS AND ALL ON BOARD PERISH.

St. Johns, N. F., May 3.—A terrible disaster occurred yesterday at the southwest point of the Channel harbor. The Glasgow steamship John Knox, laden with liquors, brick and rolling stock, struck the reefs near the Channel harbor and sunk in half an hour. Every soul on board perished. A furious gale of wind, with a heavy landward sea and a dense fog, prevailed at the time of the accident. Some bodies were recovered, having been washed on shore.

The steamer foundered last night. Her distress signals aroused the inhabitants of Cape Ray, and they soon crowded the beach, watching the rockets from the steamer and preparing to render assistance. The steamer was only 400 yards from shore, but the boats could not live in the terrible gale and surf. Cries of distress by those on board could be heard on shore. At 2:30 a. m., two hours from the first alarm, the steamer went down. At daybreak, when the storm had abated, boats were sent out and the name of the steamer was then discovered. Her captain's name was Brolly. She was laden with liquors, iron and brick. The bodies of Capt. Brolly and fifteen of the crew of thirty men have been recovered. One of the bodies recovered is shown by papers in the pocket to be that of fireman McGuire. The vessel was of 1,251 tons register, and was owned in Glasgow.

Light sorts were not saleable even at a decline, as they could be bought cheaper in St. Louis, Indianapolis and Kansas City. TWO EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS CAUSE CONSIDERABLE ALARM.

Albuquerque, N. M., May 3.—At 3:13 this afternoon the entire community was startled by two distinct but almost continuous vibrations of the earth, the direction of which was from east to west, and continued ten seconds. Clocks in all parts of the city were stopped. Chandeliers vibrated and the plate glass windows in the First national bank building were cracked. Men and women rushed into the streets, horses were frightened and men unhitched their teams and hurriedly led them away, looking upward at the buildings as if they expected they were about to topple upon them. Many persons complained of a feeling akin to seasickness. In the old town people were terror stricken, and many natives feared an eruption from the extinct crater near here.

McCibeny Musical Family.

From Evening Post, San Francisco Cal. Jan. 4, 1887.

The McCibeny family opened at the Alcazar last night. These are the father, mother, twelve children and the oldest son's wife. Each adult McCibeny is a specialist on one instrument, and most of the sons and daughters are able to go through the whole range. There is a string quartet in the "family," composed of two violins, cello and bass, that give some of Handel's compositions in a masterful way. There is also a vocal quartet, formed by Allie, Hugh, Victor and Fred, which may be considered a notable and popular feature of the entertainment. Hugh and Viola are creditable violin soloists. Mrs. Frank and her husband are cornetists. The youngest child of the lot, apparently a mere toddler, leads the orchestra in the opening music. The performance is very interesting, and the programme a popular one, and we think that the public who like music that they can understand, played by people who understand how to play it, will patronize the show largely.

The above company will appear at the Watterman Opera House Thursday May 12th. Prices 35, 50 and 75¢.
