No One Need Remain A Dyspeptic.

"I have been suffering for over two years with Dyspepsia. For the last year I could not take a drink of cold water nor eat any meat without vomiting it up. My life was a misery. I had had recommended Simmons Liver Regulator, of which I am now taking the second bottle, and the fact is that words cannot express the relief I feel. My appetite is very good, and I digest everything thoroughly. I sleep well now, and I used to be very restless. I am fleshing up fast; good, strong food and Simmons Liver Regulator have done it all. I write this in hopes of benefiting some one who has suffered as I did, and would take oath to these statements if desired."

LEGAL.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF CASS COUNTY, NEBRASKA.
CHARLES R. METTEER, plaintiff,
vs.
CLARA BELLE METTEER, defendant.

Clara Belle Metteer, defendant, will take notice that on the 20th day of August, 1887, Charles R. Metteer, plaintiff, filed his petition in the District Court of Cass County, Nebraska, against said defendant, the object and prayer of which is to obtain a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony and the custody of the three minor children, the issue of said marriage. You are required to answer said petition on or before the 10th day of October 1887.

Dated Aug. 22nd, 1887.
CHARLES R. METTEER,

by J. B. STRODE his Attorney.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF CASS COUNTY, NEBRASKA.
SARAH ELIZABETH COPELAND,
vs.
ISAAC OLIVER COPELAND.

To Isaac O. Copeland non-resident defendant: You are hereby notified that on the Aug. 5th 1887, I filed my petition in the district court of Cass County Nebraska, in a suit therein pending wherein you are defendant, the object and prayer of which is to declare null and void the pretended marriage of said defendant and plaintiff, because of defendants having a legal wife living at the time of said marriage; and that said marriage was contracted in good faith on part of plaintiff, and that the issue of said pretended marriage be adjudged legitimate, and if the court had said marriage legal to obtain a divorce from you on the ground of extreme cruelty, and for the custody of the minor child, Clarence C. Copeland. You are required to answer said petition on or before October 10th 1887, or your default will be taken thereon.

Nebraska a Dry State.

In the early days, and even yet in some of the eastern states, Nebraska was thought to be a dry state, and at most a desert, on account of the lack of water. Each year she is proving herself one of the best watered and productive states in the union, and the following article published in a last week's Lincoln Gazette-Journal, (and just after an exceedingly dry summer) is an excellent proof of her inexhaustible water supply:

"John Bigras, a carpenter living on Eight and South Park streets, recently contracted to have a well dug upon his lot. After going down about sixteen feet there was seven feet of water in the well, but that did not satisfy him, and he dug about eight feet deeper to strike the second vein. He certainly struck it as there was a regular geyser in the well which for some time overflowed and threatened to flood out the whole community. There is now seventeen feet of water in the well."

A Disease.

From private advices we learn that a disease, thought by some to be Texas fever, is causing some deaths among cattle in Plattsmouth. The disease seems to be a regular geyser in the well, and generally causes death in about three hours after its appearance.—Greenwood Leader.

It is true that during the month of August several cattle did die with a peculiar disease, but their malady seems to have been caused by something they had eaten and not by Texas fever. As to the "numerous deaths," we think the "private advice" was a little in advance. The cattle of this neighborhood are in excellent health and the principle misfortune that has befallen them, is their being pounded by the pound master. In this case it is the owner of the cow that gets feverish and not the cow. The cow is also generally released after an attack of about three hours, but not by death. It is also true the local veterinarians have no power over this disease.
