CITY BRIEFS.

TAFFY FOR CLEVELAND.

Here in this land of promise,
Under the glorious sky,
Reaching wide o'er shore and tide,
Ruler and bride do thou abide,
And, heart of the West, beat high!
Forgetting the dismal rancor
Of years that should be dead,
Hail to us all from out and hall,
Blessing our nation's head,
Long life to you, O ruler,
And to your gentle wife—
In prosperous ways God guide your days,
Nor count them past till you at last!
Enjoy the endless life.

—Mr. Cutright, local editor of the Journal went to Omaha on the early train this morning to shoot himself hoarse for the president to-day.

—Miss Bertie Bennett is still quite sick with typhoid fever. Yesterday she was thought to be improving but last night her fever rose. To-day she is resting easy again her fever having gone.

—Mrs. S. T. Alley, of Willbourn, Neb., who has been visiting at her father's, Mr. E. Burger, left for her home last evening. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Rue Burger, who goes to Cheyenne county to look after her land claim.

—Robert H. Polk, of Newcastle, Ind., left last evening for his home. He has been visiting his son, J. A. Polk; grandson, M. D. Polk and great grandson, Oakley Polk, of this city. Robert Polk was born in 1800 and is still robust and hearty. He travels alone and comes to Plattsmouth once or twice a year to visit his children.

—A marriage license was granted to-day to James H. Donnelly and Miss Alice Herrmann.

—No. 5 for Omaha this morning went up in two sections. The first section was over an hour late and the second one several hours behind time.

—The K. of P. lodge of this city and the B. & M. band left for Omaha on the early K. C. train this morning to attend the session of the Grand lodge.

—No. 1 was quite late this morning on account of the Harvest Home excursion. It came through Iowa in five sections, and went west from here in three sections.

—It was rumored this morning that Cleveland would not stop at Plattsmouth as there was no encyclopaedia in the city. But a later telegram informed him there was one in use in the public schools, but as the professor neglected to bring it with him, the president's audience received no answer to their cry of "speech, speech."

—An extra coach was attached to the Q train this morning with the following named persons onboard from this city to see the president: Mrs. Wendell and Mrs. C. S. Forbes, Mr. Crites and daughter Mrs. B. S. Range, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Houseworth, Mrs. Eikenbary, Sullivan, and Emery, Mrs. Dr. Livingston and Mrs. Petcoe, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Windham, Mr. and Mrs. Vandervoort, Misses Emma Johnson, Owens and Bunn, Mrs. McCauley and daughter Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Black, Mr. J. R. Vallery Jr., Mrs. J. S. McCoy and daughters Maud and Mamie, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Willetts and Mr. J. R. Hatt. There were others but we did not know their names so we cannot give them. But the strangest thing of all was in the crowd we could not find one that would own up that they were going to see the president, a few of the men did admit they were going to see Mrs. Cleveland but all said they would not walk half a block to see Mr. Cleveland.

The President in Plattsmouth.

The presidential train arrived here about 15 minutes after one o'clock and stopped at the depot about three minutes. A crowd of about 500 men, women and children had gathered along the platform or in the street and a few had carriages. The train was composed of three elegant drawing-room cars and a baggage car. As soon as the train stopped the gate to the rear platform of the president's car was thrown open and Miss Jeannette Livingston with a beautiful basket of roses was helped to the platform. The door was opened and the president and Mrs. Cleveland stood just within. Miss Jeannette entered the door and presented the basket to Mrs. Cleveland and pressed a kiss on her right cheek and then retired. The basket was the compliment of Dr. R. R. Livingston to Mrs. Cleveland.

President Cleveland and his bride then appeared upon the platform and the crowd cheered separately for each. Mrs. Cleveland then withdrew to within the door while the president shook for the votes.

Mrs. Cleveland is a very neat and pleasant looking young lady, and with her husband smiled and bowed to the crowd. The old cannon which had been hauled to the brink of the river was fired three times but the report lacked vim on account of the lack of powder, or else it couldn't belch for Grover. Just before the train started, for some reason, it backed a few feet and a little girl standing in the crowd of men at the rear platform came near getting under the wheels. When the train pulled out the president remained in the door and waved his hands at the people as he passed.

TUESDAY.

—Dr. Cook went to Omaha this morning as delegate from Plattsmouth to the K. of P. which is in session at that city.

—The "Q" train west this morning, was crowded to a jam. It carried a large excursion from eastern Iowa and Illinois.

—Frank Stever, foreman of the water works operations, arrived this morning, and work at laying the new main will probably begin at once.

—Jack Frost came in last night and advertised himself to stay for the winter. He will give an exhibition nearly every night and will decorate his stage with pure silver.

—Pete Keeler, a former resident of Plattsmouth, but now of Andersonville, Iowa, passed through the city this morning enroute to Omaha to attend the K. of P. assembly.

—A fellow from the country drove his team too close to the railroad track by the depot last night and a puffing engine frightened his horses, and in a fit of rearing and kicking they broke the wagon tongue.

—Charley C. McPherson started out his cold frosty morning to put up his election fences. He goes out in vain to run for recorder, and on another frosty morning a month hence, he will read of his defeat. Mr. W. H. Pool is the man who will occupy that office.

—Prickly Ash Bitters is an unfailing cure for all diseases originating in biliary derangements caused by the malaria of miasmatic countries. No other medicine now on sale will so effectually remove the disturbing elements, and at the same time tone up the whole system. It is sure and safe in its action.

—Last evening was made a very pleasant one for Miss Cora Wayman by a surprise party given to her at her home on Washington avenue and 7th street. The deception was complete, she being invited to a party at a friend's and brought home under a pretense, there finding a number of friends gathered and having a good time. Miss Cora enjoyed the surprise and helped them pass the evening pleasantly. Supper was served at ten o'clock.

—The friends of Chas. L. Coleman surprised him in a first class manner last evening. About twenty young ladies and gentlemen assembled at his home on High School hill at about eight o'clock and spent the evening very pleasantly in social amusements etc. As it was the occasion of his twentieth birthday it was of more than usual interest to him, but he didn't think of his friends ever making such an ado about it. After presenting him with some appropriate tributes of their friendship and good wishes for the future the party broke up at about twelve o'clock.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

Burglars Attempt to Break into W. H. Pickens' Residence Saturday Night.

Creeted With a Bullet.

Last Saturday W. H. Pickens, the well known contractor and builder received a check of $1,000 from J. D. Tut, which he deposited in the bank and in the evening he received a transfer of deposit of $1500 from E. B. Lewis which he took to his house, also having some $50 dollars with him, which he intended paying a workman. His residence is on Washington Ave., the first house south of Dr. Schildknecht's, and the lower floor is occupied by Stephen Smith. During Saturday night Mr. Smith was awakened by some parties trying his window, and just as he woke they proceeded around to the kitchen door and attempted to enter it, but it was securely fastened, and they tried a kitchen window. Mr. Smith was now thoroughly aroused to the fact that burglars were around, and taking his revolver he proceeded to the kitchen, but the men then passed around the house and he raised a window a little to listen and look out. The raising of the window awoke Mr. Pickens up stairs who got up and took his revolver and stepped out on the steps, there he saw three men passing along below him. They turned the corner and passed around the house again. Mr. Pickens then descended the stairs as quietly as possible, but just as he reached the bottom of the stairs the men passed the window raised by Smith, and Smith promptly fired but the bullet struck an air ball built in front of the window and bounded back with tremendous force just missing him and going all over the kitchen. The shot frightened the men away and Mr. Pickens lost his shot and the men escaped without any harm, and the darkness and drizzling rain prevented any description of the men from being obtained.

The burglars had probably thought Mr. Pickens had a good deal of money at home, but besides the $50 and the transfer check of $1500 was all, and that was good only to him.

Council Doings.

Council met last night in regular session, Mr. McCallen being absent. The minutes of the two previous meetings were read and approved.

Mayor Simpson said he would depart from the regular order of business, for the evening and called for the report of the board of public works in regard to the sewerage bids.

Mr. J. W. Johnson, chairman of the board of public works, gave the report, which advised the accepting of the bid of Shaw, Muihollan & Downing, of Kansas City, and that the firm file a good bond to the amount of $15,000.

Murphy moved to accept the report and recommendations. Considerable discussion then ensued which was finally ended by the adoption of the following resolutions, presented by Mr. Murphy.

Resolved, that the report of the board of public works be received and adopted, and contract be entered into when (sewerage) bonds are sold.

Dutton then moved the mayor and a special committee be authorized to negotiate the bonds in Plattsmouth, Omaha, or elsewhere, and named, with Mayor Simpson, Messrs Weckback and Murphy as the committee. The motion passed.

Mr. Johnson then advised the council to place a limit to the time for the completion of the system after the entering of the contract. A motion from Jones to make it four working months passed, and Mr. W. S. Wise, speaking for the firm, said the time would be agreeable.

The bond of the firm of S. M. & D. was then read. It was for $15,000 and bore the names of C. H. Parmele and J. M. Patterson as securities. The bond was accepted.

The mayor called attention to the time and money that had been expended in going this far with the sewer preparations and recommended the employing of an experienced engineer to oversee the work and firm of Rosewater & Chisty were mentioned. Mr. Chisty, who was present, said it was not necessary to enter into a contract with the engineer till the contract for the construction of the sewerage was drawn.

A petition was then presented from residents near the corner of Oak and 3rd streets. It seems that about a week ago M. McGuire, who lives on the corner of Oak and 3rd, circulated a petition asking that Oak and 3rd streets be graded at their intersection. The petition was given to the street commissioner, M. Morgan, and he proceeded with the work which was to be paid for by the poll tax of the petitioners. The grade as petitioned for would cut 3rd street badly, and expose the water pipes to frost and the chairman of the committee on streets alleys and bridges saw fit to stop the work. The petition presented asked that the work be continued. After considerable discussion the city surveyor was instructed to examine the matter and see if the grading was proper.

A petition was presented asking the council to establish an ordinance for the protection of life and property from steam boiler explosions, by appointing a man to examine all engineers, who have charge of boilers under power. The petition was granted.

A petition from several of our leading merchants asking that the law in reference to working on Sunday and running stores etc, be enforced, was placed on file.

The finance committee then made their report. O. M. Streight had a bill in again for $7 for bedding horses, after considerable discussion one half of it was allowed.

A bill of Daniel Burris for shooting and burying dogs was held for an itemized bill.

The following bills were allowed: J. C. Coffman, special police $20. Toney Geropacher, special police $6. J.

From Friday's Daily

—The first duck hunting party of the season was out yesterday. It was composed of A. W. White, Dr. F. G. Fricke, W. H. Baker and J. P. Antil. They crossed the river in the morning and spent the day at Holloway lake, returning last evening with a fair supply of ducks for the early time of the duck hunting season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Weber, of Lincoln, who took such active parts in the saengerfest, returned to Lincoln this morning. Mr. Weber's good management and overseeing of the programme of the saengerfest is well worthy of mention, and Mrs. Weber's solos were worthy of much praise. In appreciation of her beautiful singing, she was presented last evening with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers by the Vorort of the Saengerbund, or as we would state, the chief officers of the association.

Found.

Mrs. Conrad Heisel, whose disappearance from home last Tuesday evening caused so much uneasiness to her relatives and friends, was last evening reported to be at a farm house just beyond Rock Bluffs. As soon as the report reached her friends this morning, they procured a carriage and went after her, returning to Plattsmouth about 10 a. m. Mrs. Heisel appeared to have somewhat recovered herself, and it is said the first night from home was spent without shelter. The house she stopped at was occupied by Mrs. Mary Krugins and family.

The Last Night.

Last evening was the last one of the great Nebraska Saengerfest. It opened with a programme of music and song at the opera house, and Mrs. Weber of Lincoln, the Plattsmouth glee club and the B. & M. band were the great shining lights of the evening once more. Although the audience was not so large as the evening before the music is said to have been better. At 10 o'clock the concert ended and the people proceeded to Fitzgerald's hall where a grand ball was indulged in. The Bohemian band furnished the music.

The floor was constantly crowded and the hall full. Dancing continued till a late hour and the saengerfest ended, having been a grand success in every particular, and all members of the saengerbund seem to be well satisfied with Plattsmouth and their reception.

—If the mayor, Messrs Weckback and Murphy have luck in selling the sewerage bonds nothing should hinder Plattsmouth from soon having a complete system of sewerage.

W. J. WARRICK.
