County Notes.

From Republican. The republicans of this county have by far the best ticket and it should receive a majority of the votes at the November election.

Maynard Spink as county superintendent, has given the best of satisfaction and will have a large majority in his favor at the November election. Wm. Pool for recorder, will not only carry the republican vote, but almost every man who knows him will lay aside party affiliations and cast their vote for as good a man as ever came before the county for any office.

Calvin Russell is so well known all over the county, that it is not necessary to say much for him. There could be no better man placed in the position of probate judge than Mr. C. He has exercised his able ability to the entire satisfaction of those doing business with him for the past four years.

The republican nominee for county clerk, is a young man, 32 years old, was born near Shreve, Ohio, and came to Nebraska in 1880 with his parents, returned to Ohio the same year and was married. In September of that year he bought a small farm in Center precinct, within one half mile of the center of Cass county, where he has resided since, farming in the summer and teaching school in the winter. He has been an advocate of republican principles and a voter of the republican ticket ever since he became a voter. Has always taken a prominent part in the politics of the county and has been sent as delegate from his precinct to every county convention since coming to Nebraska. He is a son of a veteran of the late war. Mr. Critchfield is well thought of in this part of the county and is known to be well qualified for the position of county clerk, there is no reason why he should not receive the full republican vote. He will make as good a clerk as the county ever had.

G. W. Young, of Mt. Pleasant precinct, is the republican nominee for commissioner of the second district of the county. Mr. Young has proved his ability as a financier. He came to Nebraska several years ago without a dollar and has, by his hard work and frugal management accumulated a handsome property and is now one of the well to do farmers of the county. No one has ever doubted Mr. Young's honesty and integrity, and if elected, and there should be no "if" about it, will make an able, honest, upright officer. Mr. Foltz has made a good officer. But when the republicans have a majority of the votes and have a good man why not let the democrat go. From the Eagle.

W. H. Pool is a republican. He belongs to the party having the most votes. He is competent in every way and shape for caring for the office of recorder.

The energetic sheriff of Cass county called when in town Monday. He made a record as a thief catcher that is hard to beat. When he gets on a trail he follows his victim until he runs him into the shade of the prison walls.

H. J. Straight the republican nominee for clerk of courts is well known in this county having resided for years in the town of South Bend, until the M. P. R. R. was built west from Weeping Water, at that time moved to Weibach, residing there until this spring. He is a man capable of caring for the records of our courts, and commands the respect and confidence of the voters of Cass county.

Items of Interest.

From the Ashland Gazette. Maynard Spink, the republican candidate for County Superintendent of Cass county, is deserving of the compliment paid him by the convention of that county. He was renominated by acclamation. Mr. Spink is an able, conscientious official. We don't believe he has an enemy anywhere and from conversations with citizens of that county we have every reason to believe that he will be re-elected by a much larger majority than he received two years ago.

Last Sunday, the 9th inst., a man from Greenwood, Iowa, came to the livery barn of Swerdfefer & Co., of this city, and represented that his team had been stolen and the thief had crossed the Missouri river Friday night with the team. He engaged Mat to assist him in capturing the thieves. Having ascertained that they had not passed through either Ashland or Greenwood, they took the road to Plattsmouth and were successful in finding the team and the thief as they were camping for dinner, four miles north of Manly. As they succeeded in getting the team, and the man had his wife and family with him they decided to let the party go free.

L. R. Vandeman and some friends succeeded in capturing a fine deer last Sunday. Mr. Vandeman was going over to J. M. Taylor's, who lives about two miles north-west of Greenwood, and was a short distance from the place when he heard the dogs barking. It was a few minutes until they noticed that a deer had the dog down, and was getting the better of the canine. The deer started and run, but was hemmed in by a hedge fence. The dog again overtook it, and the dog again got the worst of the encounter, when Mr. Vandeman and John Hartsuck came to the assistance of the dog and captured the fleet footed deer. This office acknowledges the receipt of a large piece of the meat, through the kindness of Mr. Vandeman.

Saryp County.

Saryp county nominating conventions democratic and republican will be held at Papillion the 29th and 31st.

The Papillion Times correspondent of La Platte announced a young lady as candidate for county superintendent of public instruction. She is a poet and story writer known as "Fellis". She resides at La Platte. She is said to be a republican.

The Bellevue college nine and the Omaha high school nine played at the former place on the 15th with the result of 20 to 20. They will play again in two weeks. Sam Patterson of Plattsmouth is the college pitcher.

The Sackett-Monroe Wedding.

One of those pleasant, happy social events which are enjoyed more than any other through the course of life, took place at the residence of W. J. Monroe in this city, on the evening of October 6th. Handsome invitations had been out for a fortnight announcing the event, and giving 8 o'clock of aforesaid evening as the hour. Some time before the hour, the friends began to fill the house, many bringing with them appropriate and beautiful tokens of love and good will for the worthy young couple. Promptly at eight, the notes of the wedding march announced to the assembled friends that the moment had arrived for the marriage ceremony. During the rush that followed the music, Rev. Geo. Hindley, entered the parlor followed by the bride and groom, all now rose to their feet, when in a few but impressive words, Mr. E. A. Sackett and Miss Nellie Monroe were pronounced husband and wife, which was followed by a most earnest prayer. After the ceremony, congratulations were in order and more than a hundred persons we should say, shook the hands of the happy pair and wished them joy.

A beautiful supply of coffee, cake and fruit was served, and the party without exception seemed bent on having a jolly good social time. Quite a number accompanied the bride and groom to the depot where they took the 10:40 St. Louis train for Ohio and Indiana, where they will remain for about a month, visiting relatives and places of interest.—Weeping Water Republican.

—Dr. N. Spaulding Smith whose parlor is at the Perkins House, removed from Mrs. Mary E. Laffain two large scalp tumors this morning.

Birthday Celebration.

Judge Russell, of the county court, passed the sixty-third mile-stone in the journey of life to-day.

Mrs. Russell planned and successfully executed a surprise in honor of the occasion. In response to invitations previously sent out, a small company of the judge's intimate friends assembled at his residence on Chicago avenue and Ninth street, and when he went at the accustomed hour, to dinner he was surprised to find them there awaiting his arrival. The company consisted of the following named gentlemen: J. W. Johnson, McElwain, Wash. Smith, S. A. Davis, J. C. Eikenbary, W. B. Alexander and A. N. Sullivan.

After extending congratulations to Judge Russell upon the success of his journey thus far, and wishing him many future happy birth-days, altogether sat down to a delightful repast, of which they partook to their intense delight. The dinner over, an hour or more was spent in pleasant conversation, during which were related many interesting and amusing anecdotes, and incidents more or less intimately connected with the experiences of those present.

The occasion was altogether a pleasant and interesting one.

Following are some of the facts of interest that were developed:

The oldest man present was the Judge himself; the next oldest was Judge Johnson, and the youngest, Judge Sullivan, the former fifty-two, the latter, thirty-nine, both of them having formerly occupied the place now filled by Mr. Russell. The combined ages of the company was 380 years, the average age being forty-seven and one-half years.

Judge Russell was born in Niagara county, New York and moved with his father's family to Ohio, when nine years old, thence in his twenty-first year he came west, stopping for a year and a half in Iowa, from thence he went to Wisconsin where he worked at his trade of wagon making until he came to Nebraska about twenty years ago. For the last twenty years he has been a resident of Cass county and closely identified with the interests thereof. His popularity with the people, and his character are clearly indicated by the fact that he is now closing his second term in his present official position and has the nomination of the republican party for a third term. He has been a man of uniform good health, never having spent a day in bed from sickness for more than thirty-five years. Although having reached an advanced age, the prospect is good with him for many years of active service.

He is an honest, upright man, a worthy citizen, and a careful and painstaking official. Long may he live to enjoy life and bless others.

A Hastings Paper Sold.

From Friday's Daily.

In yesterday's issue of the Hastings Daily News, a bright and newsy morning paper just 38 days old we read its valedictory, as far as Hastings is concerned. The editor and proprietor states in the first three lines the entire newspaper outfit has been sold and will be moved from the city. Since the editor is an essential part of a newspaper outfit, it looks like he had been included in the sell, in this case. Now if it is a fact that an editor gets sold when he starts a third daily paper in Hastings, it is so much against her.

The editor winds up his valedictory by stating that it is not with regret that he leaves his position.

The Daily News was an excellent four-page paper and was indeed a credit to Hastings, and in its loss Hastings loses a valuable advertisement. The out-come of the sold plant will be awaited with interest.

—John H. Ames of Lincoln, who appears to have charge of the Lincoln cable railway line is preparing, instead, to erect an electric railway after the pattern of those in New York City, and intend to lay double track.

In Memoriam.

Died, October 13th, 1887, Julia Cooley, wife of Griffith S. Cooley of Cedar Creek; of complicated diseases, at the home of her daughter Mrs. Willard Keeler of Greenwood, aged 56 years, 11 months, and 13 days.

The deceased was of that sturdy puritan stock the ancestry of which dated back to the landing of the Mayflower. She was born at Little Gilead, Bethel Township, Windsor Co., Vermont, Oct. 20th, 1830. Her grandfather, General Lillie of Revolutionary fame fought, and bled for the independence of America. His voice was often heard and respected among those wise statesmen and patriots that guided the infant nation through the turbulent times at the close of the Revolution, during the debates and final adoption of our federal constitution. Her father, General Anson Lillie, a hero of the second Revolution, lost a lower limb by a cannon ball while gallantly charging the British regulars at the battle of Chippewa, during the second war with Great Britain, (1812). He was a staunch abolitionist, the associate and compeer of Garrison, Phillips, Smith, Sumner, Chase and Greeley, and also an important factor in engineering the "under-ground railroad" during those exciting slavery days. Her three brothers enlisted in the war for the Union and won distinction on the battle field east of the south. Julius S. Lillie, captain of the 12th Mich., fell while repelling Wade Hampton's cavalry, on the Great Pedee River in South Carolina. Elias Lillie was quartermaster of the 10th Michigan and laid down his life for the preservation of his nation. Her youngest and only remaining brother, James Lillie, of Cedar Creek, served throughout the war, and fought with distinction on the battle fields of Fort Donelson, Shiloh, Pittsburg Landing and Appomattox.

The deceased when three years of age moved with her parents to the "western reserve" near Oberlin, Ohio, where she was reared, educated and married Oct. 23rd, 1848, to Griffith S. Cooley, of Cleveland, Ohio, a member of a family who have distinguished themselves in the pulpit, on the bench, at the bar and in the halls of the national legislature.

In 1852 moved with her husband and two small children, Asher Cooley, now of Louisville, Francis A. wife of Geo. E. Bayles of Cedar Creek to Kalamazoo, Michigan, where most of her family were born. Edward G. Cooley of Weeping Water, Helen, wife of C. H. Plakham of Lincoln, Julius S. Cooley an honored member of the Omaha bar, Marion G. the wife of William H. Keeler of Greenwood.

In her leaving behind the comforts of an eastern home, came with her family to live on the bleak prairies of the then infant state—Nebraska. Knowing the advantages of an education herself, looking forward with many forebodings to the education of her children in the new state, yet, by her indomitable will, and perseverance cheerfully accompanied by her husband, managed to give her now honored family, the advantages of a collegiate education. Her two younger children, Agnes and Harry being so young having not yet finished their education most bitterly felt the loss of their mother.

At the early age of eight years she signed the temperance pledge and ever battled bravely for the cause, whenever an opportunity presented itself. At an early age she was converted to the cause of the master and reared her family in the faith of her fathers, according to the rites and customs of the Episcopal church. After coming to Nebraska, being deprived of the privilege of attending the church in which she was reared, united with the ever blessed M. E. church, and has been a faithful follower ever since, believing strongest in the power of Christ to save at the last, craving only at the end, peace—rest—sweet happy rest—to be relieved of her sufferings, having been a patient, unassuming invalid—confined to her bed for nearly a year. Hereafter having been else to the beauties of the world for the past three years will be opened with great joy to behold the faces of the dear ones gone before. A more faithful, kind and loving wife, mother and generous friend could not be found, and most loved and revered by those who knew her best.

Nothing can fill the sad and lonely hearts of the loved ones left behind, unless perhaps a drawing nearer to their mother's God.

I sometimes hold it half a sin, To put in words the grief I feel, For words, like nature, half reveal And half conceal the soul within.

The funeral services were conducted at the Glendale Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. Campbell of Greenwood, assisted by Rev. Gilmore of Lincoln.

A very eloquent eulogy was pronounced by the Rev. Campbell upon the character and life work of this christian woman who had so nobly worked for the Right, Justice and Truth. And just before the sun had set she was laid to rest in the old family cemetery at Glendale by the side of two loved children, amid the universal weeping of old friends and relatives.

Every republican who wants his party to win in the present race, would do well to see that all his neighbors takes, pays for and reads the HERALD. It will help more than any other agency can.

Let every republican work, talk and in every paper way, do his part from now till election day, for the whole of our excellent ticket. And Cass county will be redeemed from any democratic taint.
