CITY BRIEFS.

YESTERDAY'S LOCAL.

—It is well worth while to advertise in the HERALD.
—O. P. Smith, the druggist, was in Omaha today.
—Mrs. T. J. Todd, left on a visit to Ashland this morning.
—Coroner Henry Boeck went out to Louisville this morning.
—The Y. W. C. T. U. will give a social at the home of Mrs. C. E. Wescott Friday evening.
—Mrs. H. D. McMaken and daughter, Mrs. Harry Reese, returned this morning from a visit in Atchison, Kan.
—Mrs. J. E. Morris' mother and sister, Mrs. Davis and daughter Miss Rose, of St. Paul, are visiting her.
—The ladies of the M. E. church have the esteem and thanks of the HERALD force for a great delicious pie.
—Bert Sage and Felix Kennedy returned last evening from Omaha whither they went Monday to put in a new set of flues.
—Mrs. James Carruth, of Indiana, who has been visiting her son, Frank Carruth of this city, returned to her home last evening.
—S. Waugh, who left for Virginia yesterday, will be gone two or three weeks, instead of six as stated in Monday's HERALD.
—Levi Golding laid a twelve-foot sidewalk in front of his property on Main street to-day. It is a good example for a number of Main street lot owners.
—George Francis Train will have a chance to carry out his threat and leave the United States dominion forever on account of the execution of the Chicago anarchists.
—G. H. Babbitt, democratic candidate for sheriff, B. C. Yeomans and E. H. Wooley were in the city this morning. It was simply an accident(?) that they all appeared here together.
—Thos. Patterson left last night for Omaha, and was united in marriage this afternoon at 3 o'clock to Miss Nettie Myers, at her home. J. M. Patterson, his father; James Paterson, his brother, and R. B. Windham and wife went up this morning to be present at the ceremony.
—The Nebraska City Evening Times, which has formerly been a one cent paper, yesterday increased the subscription price to 10c per week. The increase was necessitated on account of enlarging the paper and a growth in the amount of reading matter, but the paper is still well worth the price asked.
—The pie sociable given by the ladies of the M. E. church at the parsonage was an enjoyable and financial success. The house was filled with people, both young and old and music and games made the time pass by pleasantly and the various pies, and coffee were served in an abundance to satisfy all. The proceeds of the evening amounted to an even $10, which was all profit.
—A change in the working time-table at the shops this morning will make the employers hustle a little more than usual, and quite a number were late this morning. The regular working hours are now from a quarter of seven in the morning till noon. The noon hour is cut down to three-quarters of an hour and work begins again at a quarter to one, and stops in the evening at half past five. Hence the change in the blowing of the shop whistle, which will hereafter blow at 6:30 and 6:45 a. m. 12 and 5:30 p. m.
—Plattsmouth real estate as a rule is not very high, but in some cases it is quite steep. Yesterday one of our prominent real estate dealers was out trying to show the advantages of a lot to a customer from the upper side as it was on a hill side, but here the agent thought the lot looked steep and suggested they go below and look up, as it probably would, from there, appear better. We doubt if the appearance was bettered as from below the lot looked high, while above it looked low, and people who buy real estate want it just as low as they can get it.
—The Young Men's Republican Club held a meeting last night and elected the following officers: D. A. Campbell, president; Wm. Hayes, 1st vice president; Scig Green, 2nd vice president; A. B. Knotts, secretary; L. A. Newcomer, treasurer; J. N. Glenn, Wm. McCauley, O. C. Smith and Harry Kneller were elected directors, after which a ballot was taken for choice for president of the United States in 1888 and James G. Blaine was first he receiving over half, Lincoln second, Sherman third and Allison fourth. Then they adjourned to meet next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the county judge's office, and a full attendance of all members is requested.

TUESDAY'S DAILY.
—L. A. Moore, the florist, was in Omaha to-day.
—J. H. Young purchased two South Park lots yesterday.
—Capt. H. E. Palmer and wife were passengers to Omaha to-day.
—James Cinnamon and two children left for Lincoln this morning.
—Geo. H. Babbitt, the democratic nominee for sheriff, was on our streets to-day.
—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atwood returned this morning from a visit to various points in Illinois.
—Mr. H. A. Waterman, and Mrs. J. T. Blair, of Wymore, were passengers to Crete this morning.
—Mrs. C. E. Wescott's mother and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. E. Wescott, returned from Fremont last evening where they have been visiting.
—Plattsmouth must have a free delivery system established. It will boom her and be of great advantage. Her enterprising sister, Beatrice, has taken that step and Plattsmouth is fully competent to do so also.
DIED—Mrs. John Grave, aged 26 years, four months and 20 days, died at her home on Granite street, this morning from typhoid fever. Deceased was born in Germany. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.
—The young folks had a very pleasant time Saturday evening at the residence of Mrs. Clark on Vine street. They planned and gave a surprise party on her daughter, Miss Ella Clark. The house was well filled with young folks, and plenty of catables were served and games were played to the satisfaction and pleasure of all.
—The eminent lecturer, A. O'Leary, on physiology and hygiene etc., will give a course of lectures in this city at Rockwood Hall, commencing on Wednesday, Nov. 9th. Dr. O'Leary has been lecturing in various cities since he was here last. His lectures are made interesting from the fact that he tells his audience just what they desire to know about the laws of health and their every day living.
—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation from Nebraska City, inviting us to be present at her great celebration of the laying of the corner stone of the west abutment of the C. B. & Q. railroad bridge to be built across the Missouri at that point; the completion of her system of water works, an official test of which will be made on that day, and otherwise commemorate her prosperity. We will try and be represented and congratulate our sister city on her visible improvement.
—The Nebraska City Evening Times is now a daily visitor to our tables. It is a nice six column folio, and its advertising columns speak well for the business men of the city.
—Chas. C. Hemple and wife, nee Miss Ella A. Beeton, whose wedding at Ashland on the 19th inst. was mentioned in the HERALD, returned last evening from their wedding tour in the east, and will take up their abode in Plattsburgh.
—Every republican in Cass county should cast his vote for Sheriff Eikenbary. His record in that office is excellent. He has been a faithful officer and has given the best satisfaction. A reelection of Mr. Eikenbary to the office of sheriff will be a commendable step on the part of the voters.
—The latter part of last week burglar made a round in the neighborhood of Greenwood, entering the residences of John Pollard, Isaac Stradley, Roger Connor, and John Dreamer. At Connor's about $400 of money and notes was taken and at Dreamer's $247 cool cash was obtained.
—W. L. Tucker and wife, accompanied by their son, son-in-law and daughters left for McPaul, Iowa, this morning, where to-morrow they celebrate Mr. Tucker's forty-ninth birthday, with relatives living there. Mr. Tucker informs us he has lived in Nebraska thirty years and in the same house twenty-four years and is still satisfied with this great state.
—Sheriff Eikenbary loaned his choice horse, "Mac", to Nelson Murray, yesterday, to ride out on Platte bottom while duck hunting. Nelson tied the horse to a tree and went off to shoot and when he returned found the horse lying dead. The halter strap had become twisted around the horse's neck and choked it. Mr. Eikenbary bought the horse when a colt from J. A. MacMurphy, of the HERALD, and prized it very much.
—What might have been a very serious disaster was a collision that took place at the Union Pacific depot in Omaha shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The 11:15 dummy train had just pulled out, but stopped at the east end of the depot. Just at this time two heavy runaway flat cars, loaded with cinders crashed into the rear platform of the dummy train, completely demolishing it, besides breaking nearly every window in that car. The coach was comfortably filled with passengers, but fortunately no one was injured.

LAW SHALL LIVE.
Decision of the United States Supreme Court.
The Law Upheld.
The motion and arguments which were made Friday and Saturday before the United States supreme court at Washington for a writ of error in the anarchist case, of Chicago, and which were universally published, were all for naught. The supreme court upheld the lower courts in their decisions and opinions and the following dispatch from Omaha which was kindly furnished by Dr. A. Salisbury, strikes a thrill of safety, from the ravages of anarchy, to the hearts of all true Americans:
"The United States Supreme Court denied motion for writ of error in the anarchist case."
The only possible hope for the anarchists now is for Gov. Oglesby, of Ill., to interfere in behalf of the condemned men, and it is not at all likely he will. The execution of the seven anarchists is now almost certain, and with them dies anarchy in America. The day set for their execution, we understand, is November 11th 1887, which is one week from Friday.
Observations of Mrs. Spurlock on Her Way to Syracuse, N. Y.
FOR THE HERALD.
Leaving Plattsburgh by the way of Louisville, on the evening of the 24th (Oct.). We reached Kansas City Tuesday morning, and after a few moments for refreshments, we sped on southward of the city and it seemed interminable in that direction; absolutely mountains were being removed to made way for man to occupy.
Our journey through Missouri was the romantic part of our trip. Now I know the non-Missourian will smile, but really, I am telling the truth, the towns are so ancient and historic. Here in the days of antebellum, had lived the wealthy southern gentleman and his home was a place of jolly hospitality. When the exchequer was depleted he had no twinges of conscience in thrusting onto the market another "nigger". And thus in a financial exigency, was this chattel, either in the person of a baby, a child, or parent, made the source of revenue, as our thrifty farmer does his cattle, hogs etc. now days. Aye, conscience slumbered, lulled by the oft repeated story that bible authority was its based rock, divinely appointed and destined to universality.
What a change, marked traces of the new south on every side. The old-time brick mansion has changed hands and the former occupant sleeps in the silent city near by. The old black man too, had gone to the land where, "de white folks set 'old shady' free." Field and house and woodland, gay in autumnal dress, all seemed silent as the grave to me.
St. Louis was reached at 6:50 and we could not find comfortable standing room in the depot. People by the hundreds crowded every available inch of room, it seemed to me; I could not tell where they were going or what they were going for, and they all seemed to be in the same blissful ignorance respecting each other. The babies screamed and the policemen were being button holed on all sides, and had they looked more pleasant should have thought they were being lectured. Half past eight we were again allowed to take train to Indianapolis, via Green Castle. The darkness of the night forbade us seeing the Mississippi bridge, as we so much desired; but we did cross the great bridge, and ere long, we were at Green Castle, Ind. The seat of learning, Depauw University, made more permanent by the great gift of one and a half million dollars, by Mr. Depauw. The school is far and widely known, especially to the numerous family of Methodists, and needs no flourish of trumpet from me. But here I found the boy—to me, of all boys—well and doing well, so says the president.
But we must hasten on to Cleveland, where we take the Lake Shore road and soon behold Lake Erie, what to a child of the western, constituted a real oyster all to myself, as all the other passengers scarcely gave it more than a passing look. But here we are at Buffalo.
MRS. ISABELLA S. SPURLOCK.
—As pleasant a magazine as there is issued for the benefit of little children, and which aids in making a mother's cares light is Babyland. The numbers for 1887 are now bound in books, made beautiful on the side with merry pictures and colors, while the inside is made very interesting by stories, rhymes, puzzles and pictures. This choice volume can be had for 75c, and even the baby seems to understand and takes delight in its pages. You can get a sample monthly part of it, or of the Little Men and Women, or of Pansy, or of Chautauq Young Folks' Journal or of Wide Awake, by sending five cents to D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Rock Creek.
What glorious weather for corn husking. Every farmer you meet is hugging himself with delight, the only drawback to his happiness being the fact, that hired help is very scarce.
The cold wave of the 22-24, was somewhat of a surprise; we were not expecting old Boreas along so early, and there were few apples, potatoes etc., which suffered in consequence.
The ladies of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Christian church at this point gave a literary entertainment and supper last Wednesday evening which was a decided success, socially, artistically, and financially. The literary programme given as a prelude to the feast, consisted of singing, instrumental music and recitations. An address of welcome was read by Miss Katie Young, with good intonation and delivery. Most excellent recitations, giving token of careful preparation, and appropriate to the occasion, were given by the Misses Hattie and Nellie Holmes, Miss Annie Young, Ola Calkins, Ruth Churchill, Lucy Edmunds and Mrs. Tappley Faught. Miss Lella Young, presided at the organ and contributed in no small degree, to the pleasure of the evening. At the close of the literary work the tables which were groaning under their load of good things in the way of catables, were thrown open to the assembled hundreds, and appreciative squads of hungry people sat down and arose satisfied. The only drawback to the evening's festivity was occasioned by the cook stove tipping over during an early hour—nobody hurt, but some awful good coffee wasted. The ladies of the society tell us they were ably assisted by friendly outside hands. Among those who kindly assisted was Mrs. Wm. Morrow and Mrs. Lou Moore. The receipts of the evening were something near thirty dollars.
The Sunday School at this place have in course of preparation a Thanksgiving service, which gives promise of being a literary treat.
Politics does not seem to be troubling us much. Everybody seems satisfied with the ticket and we have heard very little about scratching.

General Grant's
Fame will always grow brighter with age. Balyeat's Fig Tonic requires only a trial to illustrate whether the enfeebled constitution will change to one of stout or robust form and the ruddy glow of perfect health will appear where disease once was. No cure, no pay. Price 50c and $1. For sale by Will J. Warrick.

—Remenyi, the great, the man who since the death of Ole Bull, has moved the hearts of the people of this generation in all countries with his matchless power as a violinist, is dead. He lost his life, it is cabled, in a shipwreck off the coast of Madagascar. Remenyi was more than great as an artist, and there are countless thousands who, having enjoyed the strains he evoked from his instrument, will regret his untimely death.

More English Gold Discoveries.
London, Nov. 1.—Advices from Cape Town report the discovery of gold in promising quantities in Luderitzland.
The "Norfolk Journal" Sold.
Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 1.—The Norfolk Journal was sold yesterday by M. Waterman to William Leavitt, recently of Ashland, who will continue it as a republican paper.
They Will Support Ferdinand.
Sofia, Nov. 1.—The sobranje yesterday unanimously adopted an address in reply to the speech of Prince Ferdinand, assuring the prince of the support of the army and the people.

Reducing the Telegraph Toll.
New York, Nov. 1.—The Western Union telegraph company has decided to make a reduction of 20 per cent, beginning to-morrow in ten word dispatches between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Chicago as well as St. Louis.
The Arensdorf Case.
Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 1.—Yesterday opened the November term of the district court. During the forenoon the motion for the dismissal of Arensdorf was argued. Judge Weaver and O. C. Treadway spoke, but the state made no answer. The ground for asking the dismissal was argued a month ago to the effect that the judge erred in discharging the jury so soon. The court has taken the matter under advisement.
No Decision on Anarchy.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The supreme court made no decision in the anarchist case yesterday. The chief justice announced that a decision would be rendered on Wednesday or Thursday.
The delay is thought to indicate nothing more than that the court's judgment will be set forth in more or less elaborate opinion and that the justice to whom the preparation has been assigned is not yet ready with it. It is the general and in fact about universal belief of lawyers who practice at the supreme court bar, that the petition for a writ of error will be denied, but the belief is based only on their own views of constitutional law and the impression made upon their minds by the argument.

O'Brien Taken to Prison.
DUBLIN, Nov. 1.—The appeal of Mr. Wm. O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, against the sentence of three months' imprisonment imposed on him by the Michellstown court, has been refused. On the announcement of the decision the court room was immediately in an uproar and the people clustered around O'Brien to prevent the officers from arresting him. A terrible struggle took place between O'Brien's friends and the officers. Ladies screamed and fainted, but the officers finally succeeded in arresting him.

National Banks Arraigned.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—National bankers are charged in a card published here yesterday, with having maintained a conspiracy during the past five years for the contraction of national bank circulation with a view to decreasing values and increasing discounts. It is asserted that the conspirators have reduced the circulating medium at the rate of $50,000,000 a year, or from $400,000,000 to $167,000,000 since the conspiracy began.
—The Omaha Bee this morning in its account of the reception at Lincoln last night, says of the Glee club, "The Plattsburgh Glee club sang 'The Irish Emigrant' in that celebrated club's magnificent way that warmed the hearts of every one present."
