

...went back to her chair, and he never spoke afterwards."

Oh, what emotions are excited and beautiful trains of thought recalled of happy childhood by that reverential term, "Mother."

The dying soldier says, "Who will care for mother now?" The devout Roman Catholic appeals to the Holy Mother, Virgin Mary, to intercede for forgiveness with our Lord, Jesus Christ. The dear boy absent in the mines of the far West, or in some foreign country, remembers "Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep," and with recollections of "Home, sweet home," as he sits around the camp-fire, sings—

"Mother, O Mother, my heart calls for you; Many a summer the grass has grown green; Ploshed and faded, our faces between; Yet with strong yearning and passionate pain, I long tonight for your presence again."

What are the "Pleasures of Hope" to infancy without the angelic guardian, that:

"Lo! at the couch where infant beauty sleeps, Or silent watch the mournful mother keeps; One, who the love, by babe unconscious lies, Lays on tonight for your presence again."

A well-known author says: "But on earth is more beautiful and better than the wife—that is the mother."

The lovely maid whose waking thoughts have been full of happy anticipations of a lawful and holy union with the lad of her choice and betrayal, realizes her weakness and misfortune too late, and becomes pale and despondent as expressed in the old ballad composed at the time when spinning-wheels were in vogue. In her sorrow she says:

"I cannot mind my wheel, mother, I cannot mind my wheel, You know not what my heart doth know."

The mother often suffers from unuttered grief at the actions of erring daughter or wicked son, yet when they are ostracised from society and the finger of scorn is pointed at them by a heartless world, she presses her offspring closer to her bosom till death calls them away. Then after all are gone, and the last sad rites are performed, she devoutly murmurs: "Simply, to Thy cross I cling," as she awaits with Christian resignation the happy, early termination of the life of an affectionate Mother.

Burpee's Farm Annual for 1888 has been received, and is even superior to any previous issue. It contains 128 pages, crowded with valuable information concerning the different varieties of seeds for the farm, vegetable and flower garden, as well as bulbs, plants, thoroughbred live stock and fancy poultry. A special feature of this catalogue is the fact that the descriptions of the various vegetables and flowers are true to nature, having been written from notes taken during growth on the firm's trial grounds. There are a dozen or more striking novelties in both vegetables and flowers, with illustrations from nature, and the enviable reputation established by W. Atlee Burpee & Co. for introducing only valuable varieties warrants favorable attention to these new candidates. The catalogue is copiously illustrated, contains handsome colored plates and is bound within an attractive cover. It is mailed free on application to W. Atlee Burpee & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

It may be interesting to the readers to know the speed at which ducks fly down wind: Mallards, from 45 to 50 miles an hour; Black duck, from 45 to 50 miles an hour; Pintail, from 50 to 60 miles an hour; Widgeon, from 65 to 70 miles an hour; Wood duck, from 65 to 60 miles an hour; Gadwall, from 60 to 70 miles an hour; Redhead, from 80 to 90 miles an hour; Blue-wingtail, from 80 to 100 miles an hour; Green-wingtail, from 80 to 100 miles an hour; Broadbill, from 85 to 110 miles an hour; Canvas back, from 85 to 120 miles an hour; Wild geese, from 80 to 90 miles an hour.

With that supreme degree of gallantry which we American patent-medicine artists are pre-eminently distinguished for, the Herald twenty-five cent ad. for a medicine warranted to cure. "Please insert this notice in your paper as an advertisement, as we wish to do some business." If this ad. does not specially mention such communications to the advertiser, they will have such an effect as will cause them to be changed or imprisoned, perhaps they might be taxed.—Courier Journal.

Three physicians have left Paris for Australia, taking with them germs of chicken cholera. The Australians are about to adopt Pasteur's plan of destroying their rabbits, in the face of very strong opposition.

Millions of jack rabbits migrated from Oregon to Idaho during the cold spell in the far northwest. They crossed the frozen waters of the Snake river in herds and presented a wonderful spectacle to the people who saw them.

The Bank of New York has a check yellowed by fire which was drawn by Aaron Burr Aug. 14, 1784, and also another check drawn by Talleyrand and Guilan Verplanck. It is now nearly 104 years since the bank was established.

There are 18 different missions in the Mexican republic, 11 different denominations, 123 foreign workers, 12,135 communicants, adherents about 20,000; there have been 59 martyrs; there are 88 ordained native preachers and 65 unordained.

The autographs belonging to the collection of the late Benj. Perley Poore have been sold at auction, and netted about $6,500. The highest price paid for any one autograph was $30, for a letter written by Edgar Allan Poe upon the subject of "The Raven."

The barb wire industry is in a fair way of being overcome. According to The Iron Age there are forty-four manufacturers in this country who own 2,191 machines. It is estimated that in 200 working days, running single turns, they will make 300,000 tons of barb wire, while the consumption ranges from 120,000 to 150,000 tons a year.

Some of the society men of Paris are advocating the adoption of a more suitable style of evening dress. The costume proposed consists of buckles, shoes, silk stockings, knee breeches, velvet coat (cuttailed), lace ruffles, etc. The promoters are anxious to avoid the dress which causes, sometimes, mistaking resemblance between guest and waiter.

When the mercury was 22 degs. below zero at Virginia City, Nev., a big black dog walked to the mouth of the Utah shaft of the Comstock mines and jumped down. Some asserted that he had committed suicide. It is more likely that he felt the hot air rushing up from below and wanted more of it. He fell 250 feet, and hadn't a whole bone left.

A curious mirage has been seen at Gray, Mo.: "The thermometer stood at about 20 degs. below, the sun was obscured by a light cloud, a slight, misty haze pervaded the lowlands, but the sky was otherwise almost cloudless. Suddenly along the horizon, from north to east, the whole outline underwent a change as if by magic. Huge pines, never seen before, stood out against the sky for a radius of ten miles. Further to the left appeared trees with the tops slightly flattened and joined together, looking like massive columns supporting a colossal bridge, the top appearing perfectly straight and even; in the center a ridge of land, covered with beautiful elms and maples, was visible, and a hill several miles beyond the natural horizon, with a strip of timber on it, and a perspective beyond as far as the eye could reach."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Two Portraits of Poe. Only two original portraits of Edgar Allan Poe are to be found in this city. That one of them which hangs in the gallery of the Historical society is an oil painting, and represents him as he looked in his better days, before the knell of "Nevermore" had entered his brain. The other portrait, which is in water colors and of small size, belongs to a gentleman who last week set it on an easel amid a group of Poe's admirers. It represents him in his later years, near the end of his life, when both body and mind were nearly wrecked. He is seated on a chair, over the back of which his right arm is thrown, and his listless attitude and vacuous expression are melancholy reminders of the fall of the magical poet. One of the party who saw the oil portrait, and who had known Poe at that period of his life, was startled by its realism. It was the work of a Philadelphia artist named Smith.—New York Sun.

A New Insurance Idea. A new commercial idea consists of a combination of insurance with the ordinary commercial agency. A canvass of the wholesale dry goods trade in New York city was made nearly a year ago, and the encouragement obtained was sufficient not only to warrant the projectors of the enterprise to go ahead, but also to start upon a second canvass of the same kind. Their plan is to insure the payment of debts by retail merchants throughout the country to New York wholesalers, jobbers and manufacturers from whom they buy goods. This seems at first like a wildly reckless undertaking. Nevertheless, the two companies have been sufficiently capitalized to begin operations on a considerable scale.—Public Opinion.

If, in some counties, murderers cannot be hanged or imprisoned, perhaps they might be taxed.—Courier Journal.

Pectoral possesses powerful healing qualities, which manifest themselves whenever this remedy is employed in colds, coughs, throat or lung troubles. Its anodyne and expectorant effects are promptly realized. It is a chemical success and a medical triumph.

A literary event of National importance has taken place in Japan. There was recently discovered in the Ashikaga College (Tsu-li Hieh) a copy of Hwang Kau's Confucian Analects, over 1,200 years old, with all the ancient commentator's notes. This work has disappeared in China ever since the Southern Sung dynasty, i. e., for some 700 or 800 years; and, as the whole history of the present copy is known, the Chinese government has directed the Minister in Japan to purchase it, if possible.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER TO ALL WANTING EMPLOYMENT.

We want live, energetic agents in every county in the United States and Canada to sell a patent article of great merit, on our MERITS. Another having a large sale paying over 100 per cent profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from us. With all these advantages to our agents, and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every household, we do not think it necessary to make "An Extraordinary Offer" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it show, as it only one confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its stability by any one that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $120 to $200 a month clear, and this fact makes it so for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give our business a thirty day trial and fail to clear at least $100 in this time, above all expenses, can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. No such employer of agent ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double this amount. Our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully, and these we wish to send to everyone of our employment who will send us three one cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the Agency in Blue for the month, and go to work in the time named in our extraordinary offer. Address, at once, NATIONAL NOVELTY CO., 518 3rd-4th St., Pittsburg, Pa.

What is probably the most venerable piece of furniture in existence has just been deposited in the British museum. It is the throne of Queen Hatshep, who reigned in the Nile valley some 1,600 years before Christ and twenty-nine years before Moses. This now dilapidated object seems to be of lignum-vitae, the carvings of the legs being inlaid with gold, and those of the back with silver.

Infantile skin Diseases. Our old child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a violent outbreak of skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it, but in vain. He died with almost morbid rapidity, and the mother portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, painful, ugly, itchy and contagious. We tried all the night, but in vain. Finally we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDY. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow as pink as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and in doing so he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

Constitutional Catarrh. No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell of taste of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it circulates throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. It is, indeed, because but little understood, by most physicians, is frequently assumed by quacks and charlatans, to be cured from it, that it is so often to be found in this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies which do not break up the most robust of constitutions and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE, has won the hearty approval of the scientific, and is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing and obstructed nasal passages, and rapidly removes the most distressing symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the sense of smell, taste and hearing, and so finally the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one box of the RADICAL CURE, one box of RADICAL RESOLVENT and an improved INHALER. Price $1.
