CITY BRIEFS.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Wonder if the fat man with the straight handed spoon was satisfied to s-cream enough, last night.

The watches we give as premiums we bought of our jewelry men of this city and are warranted first class.

The subject for the prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church next Monday night will be "True Repentance."

The jury was dismissed this morning from the district court as there will be no more cases requiring their services.

Now is your chance to get a watch, bring us 15 yearly cash subscribers to the DAILY HERALD, and have a good watch.

Miss Anna Murphy was made a present of a very pretty wreath formed of apple blossoms, by one of her pupils yesterday.

All members of the Band of Hope are requested to meet at the regular meeting, Thursday afternoon at four o'clock in the Methodist church.

One of our town fishermen made a boast yesterday to some of the boys that he had caught two hundred fish on one hook and line. Wonder how.

The teachers of the different schools are making preparations for the examinations which will take place shortly before the close of the schools for the summer vacation.

J. W. Sage is building an addition, 12x24, to his house on Sixth street. He will also build on the top of the old house and put on a square roof over the whole building.

Fred Ebinger lost $65 between Baumaster's store and R. Dovey's residence. The finder will be liberally rewarded should he return the money to J. R. Cox's hardware store or to this office.

The city ordinances which were revised by the council and printed by the Journal Co., which are now the only ordinances the city is governed by at present, remain secluded in the rear sanctum of the express for the last two or three weeks marked C. O. D.

We learn that Mr. Clark who is at present the proprietor of the art gallery at the rear of Mr. Carruth's jewelry store, is dissatisfied with the amount of business the Plattsmouth people have afforded him, and he is making preparations at present to leave the city. He has leased the gallery to Mr. Cutler, his present employer, who will run the business on his own hook. Patronize him.

The case of the State vs. Gering & Co., was brought up in court yesterday before Judge Chapman. Gering was found guilty of selling liquor to Charley Ellis without a permit. Ramsey & Gering were for the defense, and A. Boesen for the prosecution. The jury remained out only a short time when they brought in a verdict against Gering & Co. The judge has not yet assessed the fine, which in a case of the nature of this one cannot be less than $100 and not more than $500.

The following was clipped from the Omaha Republican of today: "Chicago, May 1.—It has been reported tonight that the great strike on the C. B. & Q. railroad has been declared off. The statement is that at a meeting of leaders here today it was decided that the strike was lost and that the general grievance committee should be convened without delay to formally make such declaration. Before Chief Arthur left for Cleveland tonight he was asked about the report, but he declined to talk."

We are happy to say in behalf of the young ladies of the Young Ladies' Reading Room, that their social last evening at the K. O. P. hall met every expectation both financially and socially. The most satisfaction was expressed last night on the arrangements made for the social and the orderly manner in which it was conducted. Almost invariably at socials in this city, where a program of musical selections or readings are to be rendered, people are seated around in a confused manner, and when a person wishes to address their audience, a large number are sitting with their backs to them and talking away loud enough to drown the speaker's utterances, and it is also very disagreeable to singers, who are obliged to strain their voices to make people confident of their presence. This was not so last night, as the seats were arranged in good shape so that it proved more satisfactory to all. Miss Eva Sherman officiated in the chair, and announced in the early part of the evening before any part was taken in any games or refreshments served, that the entertainment would commence. Solos by Misses Anna Murphy, Gertie Kerney and Mr. W. A. Derrick were well rendered, Miss Paul and Mrs. Campbell sang a duett which was much appreciated by all. Recitations were given by Misses Lulu Simpson, Eva Sherman, and little Allie Burn, and Mr. John Hartigan, which were much appreciated. The young ladies cleared about $25.

From Monday's Daily.

Last Saturday evening a small party was given by Mr. Fred Whitney and wife, at their residence. Only a few of their intimate friends were present and a good time was the result. The Glee Club rendered a few selections which were enjoyed by all present.

Following is a list of the delegates elected last Saturday to the Republican County Convention to be held at Weeping Water, May 5th, from Eight Mile Grove: Sam Barker, J. H. Becker, C. J. Mayfield, C. Hennings, Lewis Schneider, Lewis Barker, J. Neversman.

The case of Maud Emery was brought up in court again this morning before Judge Chapman, who gave a decision that the nuisance must be abated; that Miss Emery must quit keeping a house of ill-fame or be compelled to leave the city. No fine was assessed, Miss Emery paying the costs of prosecution.

We understand that Charles Pettec, who a number of years ago served his time in the Herald office as a printer, is making arrangements at his new home in

From Tuesday's Daily.

R. B. Windham and J. S. Mathews are in Omaha today.

Mr. J. S. Rouse, of Greenwood, is in the city visiting his daughter, Mrs. J. S. Mathews.

Mrs. E. P. Rockwood has returned home from her visit to the New England States.

Mr. Irvin Armstrong and wife, of Creston, is in the city visiting his brother Mr. A. Armstrong.

The quarterly services which were to be held in the M. E. church on Sunday last, were postponed until Sunday the 6th.

Wm. Albin, a boy sixteen years of age was brought before Judge Russell today and was sentenced to the reform school.

Dr. Salisbury is fixing up his office in good shape. He is papering and cleaning house and the room has a brighter appearance than it had a few days ago.

Notice is given in the advertisement of P. Herrmann & Co., on this page of THE HERALD, that a dissolution of partnership will take place about the 1st of June, of that firm.

Weber & Breckenfield, saloon keepers, dissolved partnership yesterday. Breckenfield will discontinue in that line of business, and Weber will take the business in his own hands.

The case of the Connecticut Savings Bank vs. Samuel Schlotzman, et al. was before the district court yesterday, but owing to the non-appearance of their prominent witnesses, the case continued until Monday.

A new musical society of young people has lately been organized. It is a singing society, and was first named a glee club, but it appears the Dutch element was too strong and it consequently assumes the name now of Saengerbund.

The saloon of Peter Mumm was closed last evening, he having disposed of the business about the 5th of March. Possession will be taken immediately and the saloon will be opened again as soon as arrangements are made with parties to take charge.

A pleasant surprise was made for Miss Kittie Hartigan last Saturday evening in the way of a party. About twenty-one of her young friends were organized into a body, and after all arrangements were made they started for the residence of M. A. Hartigan, where they remained until a late hour, all participating in the usual amusements.

A tramp was arrested this morning about 11 o'clock by city marshal Malick, and taken to the cooler. The man insisted on entering a house on Fifth street where he was refused entrance. The woman to whom he made threats when she would not admit him, sent for Malick, who immediately returned with the boy and arrested him. He is now in jail.

The ladies of St. Luke's Guild held their social last evening at Mr. Leonard's art gallery. A large number of young and old were present, and all expressed themselves as having spent an enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served after all had thoroughly enjoyed the different games indulged in. The social was a success both socially and financially, and the ladies wish to thank Mr. Leonard heartily for his mark of generosity in donating to them the pleasant rooms which proved to be so favorable for the occasion.

Richard Rivett left yesterday morning for Lincoln, where he intends to move his family and reside in the future. We are sorry to see Dick take his departure from his old home, Plattsmouth, but we hope he may be successful in his new adventure. The members of the Glee Club will ever remember him as a jovial fellow and the fun he has made for them but he can never be forgiven by a certain one of the members who suffered considerable agony on account of his night resting on a prominent feature of his one night while the club was away from home.

Judge Applegate, of Tecumseh, who has been presiding over the court here for a number of days in the absence of Judge Chapman, returned home last evening, Judge Chapman having arrived.

The Greenwood Leader of this week says that next week will be its last issue in Greenwood as it will then emigrate to pastures new. Mr. Keildley, the proprietor, is a good printer and he has made the Leader a good paper, and we are sorry to lose him from our exchanges.

Every once in a while in passing up and down the streets, we hear a crowd of men using a great deal of profane language, regardless of who is passing by. There is a law against profane language and if the law was enforced and some of you men and boys arrested and fined you would feel very cheap.

Richard Rivett, a member of the Glee Club, and a popular young man in the city, has made up his mind to leave Plattsmouth next Monday. He will move to Lincoln from here where he will start in the butcher business. The boys of the Glee Club have promised to serenade Dick if he will cut off a slice of Porter House steak for the champion "pie-biter" who is always hungry. We are sorry to see him go, but wish him success.

It is said that a young man, named Kaiser, who lives near this city, advertised for a wife in a matrimonial journal some time ago. He received a reply to the advertisement and went to secure his prize. He did not bring her back with him on his first trip, but it appears that on his second trip, which he took the other day, he was more successful. He went to St. Louis from here and was told, secured the prize. He was seen in town with his wife since their return.

Never forget to be a gentleman, it costs no more than to be ungentlemanly. If you pass a lady on the street raise your hat. If you see a lady in need, don't fail to offer her your assistance, your kindness will never be forgotten by her, and the consciousness of having done right will amply repay you. If those men who stood in front of a saloon yesterday had followed this advice, instead of making indecent remarks about ladies as they crossed the streets and laughed at a lady as she was climbing into a farm wagon, it would of added very materially to their gentlemanly qualifications.

The judges and clerks in the Third ward, were sworn in today in a peculiar manner. On the opening of the polls, one of the prominent ward workers, entering the room said: "Gentlemen, have you been sworn?" On receiving a negative reply said, "you will please hold up

Ogden, Utah, and weekly paper. From when he has always been a young man, and the people of Plattsmouth join in heartily wishing for him every possible success in his new field of labor.

Several cows which have been allowed to run at large around the city of late, have put an end to their freedom and fun since Saturday, as they have angered the force of school teachers of the high school. After all the trouble they have gone to already this season in improving their grounds, we do not wonder at it at all, and we hope they may see that the law is enforced. The cows created havoc upon the grounds yesterday, ruining a number of the cedars of "Teachers Avenue," and a number of other trees which were set out a few days ago. If the law can not be enforced to protect their grounds, they propose to arm themselves and resort to lynch law.

A change has been made on the B. & M. division of the C. B. & Q. by the promotion of several of their men within the last few days and which will take effect tomorrow, May 1st. Mr. D. Hawksworth, master mechanic, has been promoted to Superintendent Motive Power, car department, headquarters Plattsmouth; E. S. Greusel, promoted from foreman of the machine shops to Master Mechanic, headquarters at Plattsmouth; J. C. Salisbury, promoted to Master Mechanic of the northern division, headquarters Lincoln; A. B. Pirie, Master Mechanic, southern division, headquarters at Wynore; A. B. Archibald, Master Mechanic of the western division, headquarters at McCook.

A certain young lady of this city narrowly escaped a terrible death yesterday morning while in the act of starting a fire in a stove with the dangerous kindling, coal oil. Nearly every day accounts are seen in different papers of people who die a horrible death in this way, yet, every day do people who read of those accidents continue to use this dangerous fluid in the same way. Fortunately, the young lady of whom we speak was standing at a considerable distance from the stove, at the time of the explosion, so that she escaped serious injury, yet not without a mark to remind her again. The once raven bangs are somewhat shorter and scorched, and the eye brows are still there, yet not so prominent, but still, after all her loss, the young lady considers herself quite fortunate. We trust people here may take warning before another accident may occur in this way.

O'Murphy to the detriment of the American people, and that you know nothing of A. N. O'Sullivan's new primary ward box." "Gentlemen, you are qualified." This certainly insures a fair election at the primaries to day in the bloody Third ward.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mr. Fred Gorder last evening at his home. In the early part of the evening he was absent from the house, but when everything was arranged he was sent for and the scheme worked like a charm. It was a big surprise to Mr. Gorder. He did not dream that a birthday party was in store for him last night, as today is his fiftieth birthday, but for some reasons better known to the people who got up the party, they desired to carry out their plans last night. About sixty people were present and a most enjoyable evening was spent, and the crowd did not disperse until the small hours of the morning. A number of very handsome presents were given, as follows: A gold pen and holder, silver cup and saucer, arm chair, bread plate, Swiss broom holder, and other articles.

The sunflower social which was held at the opera house last evening was a success in every way. Owing to the disagreeable night, a great number, no doubt, remained at home, who would have put in appearance had everything been favorable and added much more life to the affair, but as it was, considering all, the event was a very enjoyable one to all present. A large number of artificial sunflowers were neatly arranged in the center of the room which made a splendid appearance, showing up above everything else. Refreshments were served in abundance, and ice cream, the first of the season, was partaken of freely. The program of music, though not lengthy, was an enjoyable one. Miss Paul, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Mergers, Miss Johnson and Miss Glas favored the audience with a number of selections on the piano, which were much appreciated by all. The zither duets, which were well rendered by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. McPherson, deserve special mention, as they were loudly enjoyed. Miss Waterman and Mrs. Wagner gave a violin and piano selection and were well applauded. Mrs. Windham sang a solo and was assisted in the chorus by the double quartette. Miss Paul and Mr. J. K. Pollock favored the audience with a duet and Mr. Pollock and Mr. W. A. Derrick each sang solos. The receipts amounted to over $80.00 and the ladies of the Presbyterian church were well satisfied in every way.
