THE FOURTH DAY.

NINE CANDIDATES NOMINATED AND FOURTEEN VOTED FOR.

THREE BALLOTS AND NO CHOICE

Sherman Leads in the Race--Ad - journed till 7 this Evening.

Last Evening's Session.

CHICAGO, June 22, 1888.—[Special to the HERALD]—Last evening at 5:34 when Depew's name was put in nomination it was received with applause from all parts of the hall, New York delegation standing and cheering. Hartley, of Minnesota, seconded Depew.

When the roll call reached Ohio there was prolonged cheering and the Ohio delegates made great demonstrations, and at the mere mention of Blaine's name there arose the wildest enthusiasm and the delegations stood on their feet and cheered.

At 5:40 Hastings, of Pennsylvania, took the platform and nominated Sherman. Gov. Foraker, of Ohio, seconded the nomination of Sherman and unfurled the United States flag and named it the bandana of the republican party, the cheering then was tremendous and delegates rose to their feet waving flags, and the galleries responded with parrots covered with flags. At 6:21 the Massachusetts delegation started to sing "Marching through Georgia," which was rapidly caught up by other delegations, and in two minutes the North Carolina and Georgia state banners were waved and the cheering increased; Virginia waved her banner and raised a floral shield, and was followed by the waving of the banners of other southern delegations and increased cheering and singing. 6:26 still singing and chairman pounds for order.

At 6:48 Smith, of Pennsylvania, took the platform and nominated Filter, he was interrupted with cries of "time" and "sit down." [Great confusion.] At 7 Senator Spooner rose and nominated Rusk amid great confusion.

At 7:35 Miller, of New York, moved to adjourn till 11 o'clock this morning. Adjourned.

CHICAGO, June 22, 10 a. m.—[Special to the HERALD.]—The Tribune says there is a scheme on foot among Blaine's friends to nominate him after first giving Harrison a chance, as New York may turn to Gresham if Depew is not taken up by other states. News says Michigan, Ohio and Indiana has formed a combination to prevent a stamped to Blaine. Inter Ocean says New York is receding for Sherman and Gresham, and Harrison stock advancing. Times says the contest is narrowing down to Blaine and Sherman, with chances in favor of Blaine with Foraker for vice president.

The convention called to order at 11 a. m., with Hiscock in the chair. The roll call was ordered. When California voted 16 for Blaine there was great cheering.

Alabama: Sherman 12, Alger 6, Depew 1, Harrison 1.

Arkansas: Ingalls 10, Harrison 1, Gresham 1, Sherman 2.

California: Blaine 16.

Colorado: Gresham 3, Harrison 2, Allison 1.

Delaware: Harrison 6.

Florida: Harrison 1, Felter 1, Sherman 4.

Georgia: Sherman 19, Gresham 1, Lincoln 1, Harrison 2.

Illinois: Gresham 44.

Indiana: Harrison 29, Gresham 1.

Kansas: Ingalls 17, Blaine 1.

Kentucky: Alger 4, Depew 1, Harrison 4, Gresham 5, Sherman 12.

Louisiana: Sherman 9, Gresham 1, Allison 3, Alger 2, Depew 1.

Maine: Gresham 1, Sherman 1, Alger 3, Harrison 2, Depew 3, Allison 2.

Maryland: Depew 1, Sherman 5, Harrison 5, Allison 2, Blaine 2, Gresham 1.

Massachusetts: Alger 6, Allison 2, Depew 1, Gresham 2, Harrison 4, Sherman 9, Blaine 2, Lincoln 2.

Rhode Island: Allison 8.

South Carolina: Sherman 11, Alger 3, Depew 1, Ingalls 1, Gresham 2.

Tennessee: Allison 1, Harrison 1, Depew 2, Blaine 3, Sherman 7, Alger 9.

Texas: Gresham 5, Sherman 7, Harrison 1, Alger 2, Allison 7, Blaine 1, McKinley 2, Phelps 1.

Vermont: Harrison 8.

Virginia: Sherman 11, Rusk 1, Allison 3, Harrison 4, Alger 3, Gresham 1.

West Va.: Sherman 5, Harrison 2, Gresham 2, Alger 1, Blaine 2.

Wisconsin: Rusk 22.

Arizona Ter.: Alger 2.

Dakota Ter.: Depew 2, Allison, Rusk, Gresham, Harrison, Sherman, Alger, Felter and Phelps each 1.

D. C.: Blaine 2.

Idaho Ter.: Allison 1, Gresham 1.

Montana Ter.: Gresham 1, Allison 1.

New Mexico Ter.: Alger 1, Sherman 1.

Utah Ter.: Allison 2.

Washington Ter.: Harrison 1, Allison 1, Phelps 1, Gresham 3.

Wyoming Ter.: Allison 2.

The Above Ballot was taken between 11:34 and 12:24. The official count is as follows: Alger 84, Allison 72, Depew 99, Filter 24, Gresham 114, Harrison 79, Hawley 13, Ingalls 28, Phelps 25, Rusk 25, Sherman 229, Blaine 33, McKinley 2.

Second roll call ordered.

At 12:33 Smith, of Pennsylvania withdrew Filter's name.

12:48—SECOND BALLOT.

Indiana changes on Harrison to Gresham. Arkansas casts 14 votes for Alger, changes from Ingalls, Sherman, Gresham and Harrison. Pennsylvania gives Sherman 53. Mississippi changes 3 from Rusk to Gresham—[Cheers and hisses].

Official count, 1:10: Alger 116, Depew 99, Gresham 108, Ingalls 16, Rusk 20, Lincoln 3, Blaine 32, Allison 75, Harrison 95, Phelps 18, Sherman 249, McKinley 3.

1:35—Kansas casts 2 votes for Judge S. F. Miller. New Jersey gives Allison 4, Depew 1, Harrison 4, Phelps 4, McKinley 3. Cheers for Gresham and hisses and much confusion.

Third ballot—official—2 p. m.—Sherman 244, Gresham 123, Alger 122, Depew 93, Allison 88, Harrison 94, McKinley 8, Blaine 35, Phelps 5, Rusk 16, Lincoln 2, Miller 2.

Setting in Chicago is two to one that none of them will get it.

CHICAGO, June 22.—[Special to the HERALD.]—Still impossible to predict an outcome. It is claimed that the contest will narrow down to Sherman and Blaine, others claim that enough Blaine strength will go to Harrison to nominate him with Phelps for vice president.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 5.—[HERALD special]—Third ballot Nebraska delegation votes Allison 5, Alger 2, Sherman 3.

Chicago, June 22.—Special to the HERALD—3:35—Three ballots seem to render Sherman's nomination scarcely probable. McKinley is looked upon as having a strong possibility of the choice.

2—Miller moved adjournment to 7 o'clock this evening. Adjourned.

Will They Celebrate.

The Plattsmouth HERALD last Saturday makes a pitiful plea to the citizens of that place to celebrate the 4th, quoting from its issue of that date we find it saying:

"Somebody is continually wanting to see if somebody has done anything yet, and when somebody sees that somebody else has been looking to see if somebody has done anything, somebody finally does nothing, and if they only continue to look to see what somebody else does, somebody will certainly get left about the fourth day of July, 1888.

If a grand celebration here is advertised to some extent outside, a large number will certainly come here to see what is going on, if for nothing more than the novelty of seeing Plattsmouth get in motion. Rock Bluffs, Weeping Water and all the great cities in the vicinity of the metropolis of the county are energetic enough to have a time—why can't we? We would like to see Rock Bluffs Weeping Water once over the loss of a celebration which they might have had had it not been for that town up there on the mouth of the Platte.

If nothing is done, a lot of the people will go to Weeping Water and Rock Bluffs to spend their filthy lucre.

If the writer of the above would pack his grip with a boiled shirt and a clean pair of socks, and take a pilgrimage to this city on the 4th, The Eagle will guarantee him a first-class time and entertainment free. A man—especially a patriotic man is to be pitied for casting his lot among such people. Come here, bring your friends, invite your enemies to come with you, and you will die happy and patriotic.—Cass County Eagle.

Since the quill artist of the Eagle has been so sympathetic since he read the pitiful wail of a Plattsmouth citizen and has generously opened his heart to us, without knowing us, we are waiting for the 4th to roll around that we may take advantage of the kind offer. One thing we do object to, and that is his advice as to wearing apparel. A representative from this office will certainly take the gentleman at his word and accept his kind invitation. If business is booming between this date and the 4th, we may be able to attire as he requests, but if only a half way business should fall to our lot, the boiled shirt may demand the extent of our finances. If our representative is obliged to adopt both socks and shirt—and both clean—he can only anticipate his coming, but if he will kindly drop that clause from the by-law, he might expect him.

At least, we will promise to send one representative from here if you promise not to feel elated over his company and not require so much of him in the line of good clothes.

The Way of the Reporter.

What a reporter will come in contact with and what he is obliged to stand, can only be faintly guessed at by inexperienced people. If he does not write up his news to suit everybody at the same time, some one is ready to jump on him, for what reason he knows not, but explanations are not given, and he is preached to, threatened with death, perhaps, looked on with contempt by others, while a few keep on the good side of him as he has suited them by a few words which he has been fortunate enough to drop in the right place. Considering all, a man is not at all safe. If he shows up a good extension of avoirdupois from each shoulder, he will probably navigate and sail through without a scratch. If he is unfortunate enough to be small, he is liable to be stepped on or kicked off the sidewalk, and the only way he can get any satisfaction is to "write 'em up" next day, taking chances of having a death sentence passed on him next time.

store for him, retained by the few he has pleased.

It would never do for the sun to always shine on some men, if such could be the case, great revelations would be the result and, no doubt, suicides would be frequent. Some wait for the sun to drop behind the hills—then the morning of their day comes and their labors are commenced. But as a newspaper man is not controlled in that way, he proves worse sometimes as he drops upon the scene at all hours, and if he cannot show them up as brightly before the people, he can write up a few lines which will bring to light almost as much. But then if he should think of exposing some, he is obliged to think of a death scene in which he, himself, is to be the victim and do all the work of dying. And now and then the managers of the quill are obliged to swallow an occasional joke when a news item is asked for. For instance, only yesterday the reporter of this office was on his rounds gathering up a squib here and there. A man nerved himself, straightened his face out as long as his arm, and approached, remarking: "Did you hear of an accident just a few minutes ago?" "No, sir, I did not hear of anything startling." "You didn't? Where have you been, I thought the report had been pretty well circulated by this time?" "Well, sir, I have heard of nothing very serious so far, today. What happened?" "A man was run over this afternoon while under the bridge, down here. A whole freight train passed over him."
