CITY BRIEFS.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Dr. A. Shipman went to Lincoln this morning.

Miss Laura Rheinacke left this morning for a short visit at Lincoln.

Miss Flora Klepser, of Bellevue College, is in the city, the guest of the Misses Oliver.

John A. Davies will address the citizens of Cedar Creek and surrounding country on the 4th of July.

Mr. John Morgan and wife returned from Denver this morning where they have been visiting for a few weeks.

Mr. George Glanders, proprietor of the Dewitt Times, has been in the city for a few days visiting his brother, Mr. Will Chambers.

Hon. Frank E. White, of this city, was elected president of the Democratic State League at their meeting in Omaha last night. We congratulate him on his success if he is a democrat.

Anyone wishing tickets to the Young Men's Republican Banquet on July 12th, 1888, can secure them of J. C. Eikenbary, Stephen Buzzell, or at Frank Carruth's jewelry store, and at the county clerk's office.

Mr. "Bush" Robbins, a young man who is popular among the boys, and who has been an employee of the B. & M. at Pacific Junction for some time, took his departure for Cheyenne this morning on the flyer.

There will be no service at the Christian church next Sunday morning or evening, owing to the absence of the minister. Rev. M. A. Hampton, has taken a vacation to himself and gone home on a short visit. There will be Sunday school at the usual hour.

Monday night a couple of colored people, a man and woman, attracted a large number of the citizens by their singing. The music was very fine, and more musical voices than the woman's voice are seldom if ever heard. Although they passed the night, they dress well and seem to live high.

The Pinkerton fraternity bade farewell to Plattsmouth and returned to Chicago, the Burlington Company not requiring their services longer. With one or two exceptions they all acted squarely and as gentlemen. But when a body of men are placed in such a position, and do their duty, all cannot be pleased. We give them credit for acting in no way partial and doing their duty as they were expected.

We notice that Mr. Allen Beeson is taking some pride in Sixth street on which he resides. He has employed a man to clip the weeds in front of his residence which grow in such abundance on that street in particular. If a number of other residents, not only of that street, but any street as a person can find them there, would take an interest in the appearance of, not only their own property, but the city, they would follow the good example set by this gentleman. The trees of the different streets grow to a sufficient height so that it is not necessary to take advantage of weeds for shade.

A party of about ten couples has made arrangements several times and has made arrangements to make arrangements to see what arrangements could be made for a picnic. It was concluded, after several postponements to hold it yesterday at the fair grounds, but it seems the number must be an unlucky one or such a thing is not to be. The rain yesterday turned their anticipations to disappointment, and the crowd at present is quite blue. Since disappointment has been a companion for so many terms, why not congregate at the residence of one of the members and have a picnic anyway. It would be a picnic for us to see them have a picnic, and if a picnic they must have, why not have a picnic in this way. If we can help them out by changing the weather signals, we will do so.

Tickets have been issued by the Young Men's Republican Club and put in the hands of a committee for sale. Preparations are being made for the banquet which give us every expectation for one of the grandest events in the history of Plattsmouth. The date is set for July 12th, at the Waterman opera house. Prominent speakers of the state will be present and participate in the festivities, among them will be John M. Thurston, who will have in store for his audience many glittering points from the late convention. No doubt the opera house will be crowded to its utmost capacity and with the encouragement that republicans now have since the nomination of Harrison and Morton, a rousing event will surely be the result. Let all right-thinking people come forward show that they are on the right side and on the road to victory, and push forth every effort to make the coming banquet as we predict, a grand success.

—Our Dave came marching home today.

—There were four stock trains and one meat train past through the city this morning bound for Chicago.

—Mr. John Miller and Miss Hellena Hoss, both of this county, were united in marriage this morning by Judge Russell.

—The flyer No. 1 went through this a. m. with a full train of vestibule cars, this makes two full trains of vestibules now running between Denver and Chicago over the B. & M.

—Jedd Vance, the boy who had his skull so badly fractured some time ago, does not require constant attention now and is able to take good care of himself part of the time. He has gained great courage and worked his way along admirably until the road to recovery is broad and easy to travel. Several who have dotted down their signatures on a subscription paper as a representation of a donation, are now adverse to paying it.

Some are under the impression that the boy's step-father, Mr. Dickson, has considerable property and money in the bank, but such, we learn from good authority, is not the case. Even if such a story is true, they are only helping the poor unfortunate boy who will be left to himself in a short time and have no one to look to for support. A boy in his condition, with a hole almost three inches square in the top of his head with no protection but a thin portion of flesh to keep the brain from exposure, will be in an uncomfortable condition to do any kind of work and may need considerable assistance. A donation of 50 cents or so in as charitable way can never be begrudged surely. We are pleased to learn that so many have contributed willingly and cheerfully, and now since so many have exhibited as kind a spirit, do not let any kickers come into prominence and cast a shadow over the good which already looms up.

—Mr. Lee Sharp, a young gentleman who has for a number of years been employed as a machinist at the B. & M. shops here, has severed his connection with that company within the last few days, with the intention, as we learn, of starting in business for himself. He has not yet selected a suitable location for his shop, but as soon as he does he intends to open a machine shop and prepare himself to do all kinds of work in that line. As he is a first-class machanic, a good business man, steady, sober and industrious, nothing but success can we bespeak for him. He has worked steady for a number of years, been economical enough to have an eye open to future prospects, and now since it is his determination to launch out in the business world, he certainly deserves the encouragement and support of all. We give him credit for remaining at home and trying to build up the city by bringing into it an additional industry. This gentleman has many friends in the city, and as he is willing to work, he certainly should make his mark and come out with a share of the yellow metal which so many are striving to obtain. He will be prepared to do all kinds of work in that line, and all citizens who have that kind of work to be done should patronize him and give the assistance he richly deserves.

—Harrison will harass the democrats. —Tickets will be for sale at the B. & M. ticket office here on the 3rd and 4th of July, between all points not more than two hundred miles on their line, for one fare for round trip.

—Mr. J. C. Eikenbary who left here some time ago for Chicago, when told this morning on his return that the rumor had been circulated that he had been jailed there, and when asked how he made his escape, replied: "I told the jailer that I wanted to get a clean shirt and after I got out I skipped."

—It is reported the Sherman-Gering democratic delegation issued from Plattsmouth to form a democratic club in Weeping Water, Saturday, was more successful in that point than they were a few days ago when only five men and two boys were present at their meeting.

A large number met to hear the flow of eloquence from those two gentlemen, and we learned that the democrats of that place were quite fascinated by the orators from here. They were not quite so fortunate on their return, as they came in contact with an obstacle which left its mark on them and their entire outfit. As Mr. Sherman has lost all sense of smell, apparently, he came through all right, enjoying the disgust of his companions. We were not informed who the driver was, but he hit a mark that told, and we give him great credit. The obstacle we speak of was in the form of an animal, the presence of which is always recognized by a strong smell. During the day it may have occupied the road, turning away everything and everybody that might chance to pass that way. Encouraged by its success that far, when the night came it still retained its position as monarch of the road. The delegation as they came along were well aware that such an animal was in the immediate vicinity, but did not know that when they would move along a few more paces that they would rest with still more assurance. The horses stepped on the animal, or the wagon ran over it causing it to use its only weapon of defense. The wagon which was returned to the Bonner stables still retains a strong odor, and Mr. Jones, the proprietor, is still under the impression that the delegation must surely have been skunked at Weeping Water.

—Two young gentlemen of this city who are experts on the tandem, made a trip to Eight Mile Grove last night after 10 o'clock. It is not reported when the return trip was made or what was the occasion of such a night-hawk expedition.

—Nebraska City is somewhat disfigured but still in the ring. Henry Huckins, the editor of the Times, has been horsewhipped by a woman. He is congratulated upon the fact that he has received the reward he so richly deserved. True merit always draws a prize of some kind. —Lincoln Journal.

—The case which had been brought against the barbers of the Riddle House some time ago for keeping their barber shop open and working on Sunday, and which had been continued on account of the disagreement of the jury, was brought up again yesterday. Judge Sullivan was for the prosecution and Mr. Geo. Smith, of Omaha, for the defense. It did not last as long as the first, and after it was submitted to the jury they returned in about five minutes, rendering a verdict of guilty. They were fined $1 and costs, the costs amounting to about $75.

—The esteemed local editor of the Journal, Mr. John King, while witnessing a practical game of base ball yesterday afternoon, and not wishing to allow the boys to have everything their own way, secured a ball and attempted to give them a cricket exhibition. He made some good points, but being out of practice missed a ball which was thrown to him and let it pass through his hands and strike him in the face, changing the color of his eye.

—Two of our Plattsmouth statesmen, Messrs. Sherman and Gering, not Sherman and Hiscock, as has been reported, are engaged in a mission of love, trying to reform the country. They appear in their new role at Louisville on the evening of the 25th. From the bills, we see every body in favor of a reduction of tariff, or Cleveland, are invited to be present. We bespeak for them a good house, as in our opinion, a great many citizens in Louisville are in favor of reducing Cleveland to private ranks, and we don't know of two better apostles for that purpose than the above statesmen.

—There was a large attendance at the Christian sociable last night at Rockwood hall. The dudes had their dudines there in flying colors, and all apparently enjoyed themselves. The sociable was managed a little different from the usual order, no literary or musical programme being presented. The evening was spent by gratifying a craving for ice cream, strawberries and other luxuries which were served in abundance. The crowd did not disperse until a late hour when all were satisfied with their evening's enjoyment. The sociable was under the auspices of the ladies' society of the Christian church.

—Mrs. S. A. Davis is recovering gradually from the severe attack of rheumatism which she has been afflicted with for some time and now there are strong hopes entertained for her recovery.

—Mr. Daniel Burriss has been quite successful since he has started on his tour around the city with a subscription paper asking donations for the assistance to Jedd Vance. So far he has received subscriptions to the amount of about $75.

—The funeral of Mrs. Florence Keesler took place this morning from the residence of her husband, Vallery place, at 10 o'clock. Rev. Alexander conducted the funeral service. She was buried in the Oak Hill cemetery. She was reaching the prime of life, being in her nineteenth year, and had only been married a short time. We are sorry to see one so young called away. She died of consumption.

—The Burlington Route will sell excursion tickets to Crete, Neb., for the Chatauqua Assembly at one fare for the round trip, with 25 cents added for admission to the Assembly grounds, on June 28th, the opening day; also on June 29th and the succeeding days Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, America's greatest preacher will lecture. The tickets will be good to return until July 12th. A large number have already made up their minds to go and it is expected there will be a general turnout from here.

—The democrats are apparently taking more interest in the convention which is being held at Chicago than they did in their own. No doubt the coming campaign will prove more interesting still. Even the red hot democratic organ on the corner of Main and Sixth goes to the trouble of securing the dispatches as they are received here and posting them on a bulletin board in front of their office. Mr. Sherman, it is said, admitted that the democrats were more excited over this convention than they were over their own. They know as well as we do that a republican president will be elected for the coming term.

—On yesterday Mr. Lane, a prominent broker of Lincoln, on behalf of himself and property owners of said city applied to Judge Chapman, at his chambers, for an injunction against the laying of a railroad track on Ninth Street in the city of Lincoln. It appears the county commissioners of Lancaster Co. contemplate laying a side track from the C. B. & Q. tracks to the site of the new court house in Lincoln, for the purpose of getting material on the ground for that structure and the owners of city property propose to know whether the contemplated appropriation of the public streets of the city by the C. B. & Q. is a temporary or permanent thing. Judge Chapman made an order upon the commissioners and C. B. & Q. to show cause by Tuesday of next week why the injunction should not issue.

—A young man who looked hungry today noon as he was on his way to dinner was approached by a man who takes considerable interest in his welfare and asked him what was the matter, he, thinking him sick. The young man replied that he had been out the night before and slept so late this morning that sleep stayed with him until a late hour and when he shook it off discovered the fact he did not wish to make a break for his boarding house or they might "break" him up by telling him that dinner would soon be ready. However, he took courage and concluded to wait an hour for dinner. The man who approached him and asked if he was sick on account of the pale look and fallen cheeks, suspected that he had had nothing to eat for some time and wrote out a short note to headquarters asking them to feed him better.

THE FOURTH OF JULY!

Plattsmouth Will Celebrate That Day in a Grand Way.

The Fourth of July will be observed in grand style by the FIREMEN OF PLATTSMOUTH.

THE PROGRAM.

9:30 a. m.—Firemen's parade in uniform with hose carts and apparatus.
10:00 a. m.—Hose races on Main street to hydrants, and throwing water, the prize the silver trumpet, after which all will repair to the old fair grounds where the exercises for the afternoon will be opened at 1 o'clock.

1st.—By Prayer.
2nd.—Reading of Declaration of Independence.
3rd.—Oration.

At 3 p. m. a great ball game will be played, Plattsmouth vs. Lincoln.

A dance platform will be erected on the ground, and all who like may enjoy the light fantasia.

The best of order will be enforced and all are invited to take part.

Papillion.

Prof. M. Laughlin, of Plattsmouth, is studying law in Papillion.

I. D. Clarke, father of A. W. and H. T. Clarke, died in Omaha, June 29, 1888.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Magney, of Omaha, spent a few days in Papillion, their old home.

Children's day was observed Sunday, June 17, on account of quarterly meeting the Sunday previous.

Miss Mabel Knapp returned from Sedalia, Missouri, where she has been attending school for the past year.

Papillion is getting ready for the 4th. There is a beautiful grove about two blocks from the depot where they will hold forth. There will be a bridge built across the Papio leading to the fair ground, where there will be races, base ball, etc. Persons could not do better than to come to our shady little city to spend the day.

Bellevue.

Dr. Harsha preached his farewell sermon Sunday, June 24.

A beautiful black horse was presented Dr. Harsha by students and friends.

Since the students' departure to their numerous homes, Bellevue seems almost dead.

The commencement exercises of Bellevue college, far surpassed the people's expectations. Everything was excellent. The rain did no harm except to ruin the ostrich tips of those who were fortunate enough to possess them.

The Boy's Question.

Little Boy—Mamma, what are the men bring the canon for?

Mamma—Why, Willie, the republicans are trying to wake up the democrats so that they can have a little opposition and make them think an election is near at hand. The republicans don't want to have everything their own way.
