THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

Plattsmouth People Successful in Their Attempt to Have a Time.

AMUSEMENTS OF ALL KINDS.

A Good Ball Game in Which Our Boys Were Victorious.

A Number of Picnics.

From Thursday's Daily.

Plattsmouth held its own yesterday with other cities in celebrating the 4th of July, the day which we all celebrate and which is invariably marked with more enthusiasm than any other.

At early morning yesterday the sound of the cannon was heard breaking forth the news in its booming. Almost as soon the boys were on the alert with their fire-crackers and torpedoes, and noises from the different explosions could be heard from every quarter.

As soon as the sun had risen nearly all who were to take any active part in the day's celebration were on the streets making preparations for the day. The firemen, who deserve a word of praise for their efforts to make everything work smoothly and furnish whatever amusement they could among themselves in the way of athletic performances, were seen making preparations for the races which were to take place on the streets.

The old veterans were on hand as soon as the excitement commenced, and were apparently much enthused at the sound of the old cannon as it threw out a report which rattled the houses, reminding them of the years which they spent in the great struggle. That, with the music furnished by the life and drum band, in which there were men who played during the war, furnished them all with a strong recollection of the times long gone by.

The day, although very warm, was pleasant, not a cloud being visible, and as everything else was as favorable as one could expect considering all, encouraged all interested and the amusements of the day were commenced by a procession in which several of the business houses of the city were represented and the fire department took part, after which the races by the different hose teams took place. The following is the time made by each team, running one hundred yards and coupling on the hydrant on the corner of Fourth and Main streets:

Rescues, of the 4th ward, 28 seconds.
F. E. Whites, of the 2d ward 35 1/2 seconds.

F. M. Richey, of the 3d ward, 30 seconds.

The races occupied the time until about noon. After noon the street cars and all the vehicles available in the city were crowded until the time for the ball game which commenced at 3:30.

As the B. & M. band accepted an invitation from Louisville, the city was left destitute of a band, which had a tendency to deaden the enthusiasm. It is surprising a city of this size let their band leave and render their services to some other town because of financial trouble. They received the price they asked for where they played, but for some reason enough money could not be scared up to secure them here.

About 1 o'clock, or shortly after, a large crowd had assembled at the fair grounds, the place chosen for the afternoon amusements.

The invocation of Divine blessing was performed by Rev. H. B. Burgess, of the Episcopal church of this city, after which the Declaration of Independence was read in a pleasing style by Mr. M. D. Polk.

Mr. O. H. Ballou, of Omaha, delivered a suitable oration in an able manner, of which we have heard considerable comment of praise, after which a choir of a good number of singers, under the leadership of Mr. Mutz, rendered a few selections in the finest style, which were appreciated by all.

The large crowd amused themselves on the picnic grounds enjoying the cool breezes under the fine shade trees until the time which was set for the commencement of the base ball game arrived, when the majority left for the ball ground.

As the day was almost warm enough to torture the players, the circumstances were a little unfavorable for them, but, without making a single exception, played remarkably well and worked hard for victory. Until the last inning the clubs worked along steadily to about a tie and victory for either side could not be counted on with much assurance. They played along without a word of dispute and with as much ease as professional teams. No change was made in the players excepting in the first base man, Mr. H. Chapin filling that position this time. As no noise or profanity from any player was heard, and as no such misconduct was noticeable as at the previous game here, all thoroughly enjoyed it apparently by the enthusiasm which was so noticeable in the large crowd. If it had not been for the manufactured dissatisfaction shown by one or two of the Council Bluffs players at their game here a short time ago, the Plattsmouth boys would, we feel quite confident, have won the game. But yesterday not a word of dispute arose between the two clubs, and in every way the Lincoln boys showed themselves to be gentlemen. Great credit is due the home team for their success as they have had very little practice together, and they also are entitled to a word of praise for their assistance in helping out the celebration as admirably as they did. A large number who would have gone away somewhere else to spend the 4th, remained at home to see the game. Our boys stole a couple of bases in good style and some very fine fielding was done on both sides. Mr. W. Chambers, as an umpire, proved himself efficient, but as he took his position behind the pitcher several times, he missed a couple of fine tip fouls caught by Mr. James Patterson, and gave a decision against our club, for which no blame could be attached to him.

On a whole the game was played in as good style as though all were professionals, and the spectators were all well satisfied with the afternoon's amusement. At this game considerable more interest was stirred up and in the future we are quite certain that citizens will appreciate the good talent in our midst and much more and larger attendances will be the result. The grand stand which is now well covered, furnishes a great convenience.

Mr. Morris O'Rourke, the fat man of the home team, should train his form down to a lighter weight as the pitcher, if he is not an accurate man, finds great difficulty in working a wide enough curve to pass him, but if he is willing to act as back-stop occasionally, he can get his base without a bat.

After the amusements of the day were finished a very fine display of fire works on high school hill and in various directions was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators on Main street, and until 9 or 10 o'clock the sky-rockets could be seen from a hundred different places. Although on a small scale, they were very fine and the sight much appreciated.

A large number of visitors were in the city yesterday and the streets were crowded all day.

C. E. Alverson, a man about 27 or 28 years of age who came from Colorado a short time ago and who has been in the employ of Mr. Wm. Neville of this city since his arrival, driving team, celebrated a little too much Wednesday and got in a helpless condition. At night he secured a room in the Gooch house in company with two other men. He went to the window after the other fellows were asleep some time and after sitting there for awhile, rolled out and fell to the ground, a distance of about fifty feet. Some one in another room near by heard the fall and went down stairs to ascertain what the trouble was. As the man had no control of himself, being unconscious at the time being under the influence of spts. fermenti, he was not killed, and it is supposed that is the only thing that saved his life. Dr. Schildknecht was summoned immediately, but upon examination it was discovered that no bones had been broken. He is injured internally, but it is thought he will recover in a short time. After he was picked up and carried into the house he awoke and not until then, and he wanted to know what they were trying to do with him. He walked to his room after they succeeded in getting him into the house. The window is in the back part of the building and is the third story. He fell into a narrow alley-way-

HE ACCEPTS THE NOMINATION.

General Harrison Promises to be the Republican Candidate.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 4.—The notification committee representing the late republican convention today officially informed General Harrison of his nomination. The committee met in the parlors of the Denison hotel at 10 a. m. Hon. M. M. Estee, of California, was made chairman, and A. H. Potter, of New Jersey, vice-chairman. At 10:30 the members of the committee, escorted by the local committee, took carriages and were driven to General Harrison's residence, where they were received by Russell Harrison and Capt. M. G. McLane. The members of the committee were escorted into the handsomely decorated parlor and were seated in a semicircle. At 12 o'clock General and Mrs. Harrison, accompanied by Mrs. J. N. Huston and Mrs. John C. New, entered the parlor and took a position facing the committee. General Harrison looked pale and care-worn, his expression being one of deep seriousness. Chairman Estee stepped forward and said: "General Harrison, we are commissioned by the national republican convention to officially notify you of your nomination as the republican candidate for president of the United States. In doing this we may be permitted to remind you that your selection met the hearty approval of the whole convention. It left no embittered feeling for lukewarm supporters, and its action voiced the average and best judgment of the convention. Nor was your nomination due to accident or the result of hasty or inconsiderate deliberation. It indicated that you possessed in a most eminent degree those peculiar qualities which commended you to the people's favor. In the hour of the country's peril you cheerfully accepted an humble position in the army, went where your country most needed you, and by long and faithful service rose to higher commands and resumed graver responsibilities. Elected to the United States senate, your enlightened and conservative statesmanship commanded the respect and inspired the confidence of the American people. The convention marks out with clearness and precision the creed of the party."

General Harrison rose after a moment's thought and among other remarks said: "I accept the nomination with so deep a sense of the dignity of the office and of the gravity of its duties and responsibility as to altogether exclude any feeling of exultation or pride."

Long and continued applause re-echoed through the house as Gen. Harrison concluded his address, and, reaching forth, he cordially clasped the extended hand of Chairman Estee, who then presented him with an official copy of his notification.

Fight at a Picnic.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 5.—At the Trades' assembly at Exposition park yesterday, Golden Holman, a so-called scab switchman in the employ of Kansas City, St. Jo and Council Bluffs, was assaulted by a number of men and the affray ended in the shooting of Cornelius Horigan. A large crowd was in pursuit of Holman, who when cornered drew his revolver and cleared a way of escape. The only shot he fired struck Horigan who is seriously, perhaps fatally injured.

A Pleasant Party.

From Thursday's Daily.
Mayor Richey invited a small number of his intimate friends to assist him in celebrating yesterday, and the party had a picnic at his residence which was reported to have been a very pleasant event for all who participated. As a young gentleman of this city, who has recently gained for himself quite a reputation as a poet, was present, the following few lines were composed and rendered by him for the benefit of those present:

Sixty minutes at this lawn-spread table,
It is needless to say, to talk, I'm unable,
If I was tall like Mr. Murphy, or even short and lean,
But thick as I am I ought neither speak or be seen.

As I look round me here, I see at first glance,
That Meers, Richey and Todd each have a new pair of pants.
They are out in their best, for the Fourth of July
And are in for some fun "root, hog or die."

Our forefathers fought that we might here meet
Under these trees, fried chicken to eat,
In view of this fact, I have done my best,
And filled to satiety my summer vest.

Although they fought hard and much blood
was shed,
Were so called upon to honor their dead,
We could not do more their souls to gratify,
Than spend a quiet peaceable Fourth of July.

There is not an influence now extant
Between Marion Richey's and a lands levant,
That tends more to elevate the human mind,
Than gatherings of this particular kind.

Ten minutes' reflection upon what they endured
That American liberty might be insured,
Would give them more pleasure and their souls
make more light.

Than booming of cannon or fireworks at night
—Job work done on short notice at the Herald office.
