The Text Book Convention

The Text Book Convention called by County Superintendent Spink, convened at Louisville, July the 28th.

FORENOON SESSION.

o'clock a. m., by Superintendent Spink, and organized by electing the superintendent chairman and D. W. Curtis, secretary.

Remarks were made by the chairman, ex-County Superindent Alton, Prof. Sutton, and others of the delegates, in regard to the work of the convention.

Alton, of Elmwood, that the county superintendent appoint a committee of four, with the county superintendent as chairman of said committee to recommend legislation securing a uniformity of text books, Motion prevailed.

A motion was made by Mr. Shryock, of Louisville, that the county superintendent recommend to districts contemplating a change of text books, that they secure such books as will tend to uniformity. Rev. Alton offered the following as a substitute:

Resolved, That the county superintendent secure a list of the books adopted in each school, and be prepared to give any needfal information to interested districts in regard to uniformity of text

The resolution was carried. A motion AFTERNOON SESSION.

Convention was called to order at two o'clock p. m. by Chairman Spink.

The delegates then resolved themselves into a committee of the whole to discuss the question of uniformity of text books. Quite an animated discussion took place. as to the desirability, advisability, etc, of uniformity, and the best way to reach such conclusion.

Delegate Gilbert, of Greenwood, offered the following resolution:

Law," regarding uniformity.

D. W. Curtis moved to amend by having the committee, to whom was referred the duty of memoriatizing the legislature, instructed to urge the advisability of the "Kansas Law."

It was moved and seconded to table the orginal motion. Motion prevailed. On motion the convention then adjourned sine die.

A Hen Propiem

Two women each had thirty hens. One sold hers at two for $1 the other at three for $1. They determined to sell them together and divide the money. The first lot should have brought $15 and the second lot $10, making $25 in all, but the man who bought them said that selling two for $1 and three for $1 was the same as selling five for $2, so he paid $24 for the sixty hens. What became of the other dollar.

SPORT IN CALIFORNIA.

RIDING AT FULL GALLOP.

Voice of a Dying Victim-Experience of an Enthusiastic Englishman-Lassoing an Angry Bear.

The following day we found horses at the door and a pack of hounds. "I am going to show you, gentlemen," said our host, "some California sport after my own ideas. Bring up the horses, Bob," he shouted, and Bob A motion was made by Prof. Sutton, forthwith fed up three mustangs, fully sadof Louisville, seconded by Rev. Cyrus died, that appeared to have been kept in the stable for months on a highly excitable diet or our especial benefit.

Finally we mounted, and the bost put his ng at the fence several times, just to wren. him up. "Now, gentlemen," he said, as we acrea way is well supplied with juck rabbits, nd the scheme is to ride them down on t selack and shoot them with the rifle," he colonel had supplied us with rifles and, he certain Pickwickians, we were in for it,

The country was gently rolling, and we a came out into a low brush, with patches f encius here and there. All at once a small brown creature, with black cars, darted ip, and in a moment was away like a flash. The horses caught the infection, and in a econd were upon a dead run, fairly crazed with excitement, shorting, their eyes blazing, and running like the wind. "Look out for holes!" shouted the colonel is his horse took a budger burrow. But it vas too late; one of the mustangs handed zuce deep in a burrow, stopped short, while he rider kept on. He was an old hand at this sort of thing, bowever, and clearing himto adjourn until two o'clock preyailed self-merely banded on his feet and rantwenty or thirty feet to return and examine the nount. Luckily, no tones were broken, and caping into the saddle the field was away gain. The jack had escaped in the mean time, but another took his place, and horses and riders were soon making the hard ground shake. To hit an animal so small as a rabbit, at full run, with a rifle, was seemingly an impossibility, yet the valuant colonel did it. His horse took him within twenty feet of the dying jack, when, dropping the lines, he raised the light weapon which had been hung The jack bounded three feet into the air has a ball, and fell, meaning like a character. upon the saddle, and in an offhand way fired.

"It's mere proceed any one can do it but I will confess outed some one. "One shot," laughed the bush seemed to afford cover for one or more, The sharp reports of repeating rifles began it was to sit an night alone all about the flying game, showing how difficult a thing it was to hit such a mark.

"There is no use in trying to take accurate aim," said the "shot," as the hors scame up and rounded to. "It is a matter of intuition, I believe. I take no aim, but point the rifle where I think the rabbit will be when the bullet gets there, and in some way they manage to make connection."

Riding across country at such a speed in ing sport, and the excitement it caused was astonishing. The horses fairly went mad,

It so happened that I had 400 or 500 head of him up and introduced him to half a dozen guaranteed to show him all the bear he wanted. They got it into his head that it was unsportsmanlike to shoot a bear, and and men until he was a very fair hand at it, and finally one day went off on a regular bear hunt.

Coming down a little side canyon, they came out into a level spot, with a patch of trees covered with vines in the center. Some of the dogs were put in, and in a few minutes out came an old brown bear, snarling and showing her teeth in a terrible fashion, 'Now's your of that lie about me that is now being chance, velled the boys, and they put his horse up as near the critter as he rope over the bear's shoulders the minute then down she went, and began just what the boys expected, the 'rolling' business. Over and over she went, winding the rope about her, getting snaried up, but coming meaner and meaner the pony all the time. A Floating Saw Mill.

One of the greatest novelties of a practical character which ingenuity has devised is thus described by a Florida exchange:

The operation of all the machinery does not seem to move the vessel any more than if it was on the land. It has so far proved more of a success than its projector anticipated. It is equipped with a forty horse power boiler and engine, with the latest improvements in saws and carriages. A planer, head box and shingle saws are all on deck and connected by shafting concealed under deck, so that the main deck is free from machines and available for the piling up of immense quantities of lumber. In one corner of the vessel is the cook house, where the hands board, while on the hurricane deck are the cabin of the proprietors and workmen. They are now so situated as to have command of an unlimited supply of the largest and finest timber, and from points heretofore practically inaccessible. A saw mill capable of moving up and down stream seeking a supply of logs, and thus bringing the mill to the product instead of vice versa, may offer very valuable advantages, espe-

His close, compact form and noted reputation for endurance and speedy proginy have justly earned for him the reputation, and encomium from the Editor of the "Spirit of the Turf," that he is one of the Best Sires of the age. His record is 2:26, and has paced trial miles in 2:16. His colts, Little Baby, 2:271, and J. W. Huey, 2:241, with more to follow in the charmed circle this summer, is certainly a great showing, and affords the public in this vicinity a grand opportunity to get valuable horas as low prices. His service of $15.00, with $2.00 added if not paid till after tooling, or $20 to insure colt to stand, is only the price of a good ordinary horse, while horses of SHAKER Boy's blood lines receive from $100.00 to $300.00 in other localities. Horses of this kind, if not wanted for sporting purposes, can do more general work on a farm, on account of their extra nerve power, than unwealdy draft horses, and can go to town or to meeting in one-half the time, and time is money.
