Miss Lou Ingail, of Hastings, who has been east as far as Chicago for several weeks, arrived in the city today on a two weeks' visit to the Misses Weckbach.
—The delegation to state convention from this county was instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Capt. C. N. Baird for state treasurer.
—The ladies of the United Presbyterian church, of Murray, will give an ice cream social, at the church, on Thursday evening, Aug. 23rd, to which all are cordially invited.
Mr. Joe Fairfield and brother, Mack, two old Plattsmouth citizens who have been living in Cheyenne county for several years, are in the city on a visit to their many friends.
—Thos. Wolf, living north of Union, is the owner of a half-blood Holstein calf probably the largest ever known in this part of the country. At its birth it weighed 108 pounds.
Mr. Nash, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., arrived in the city yesterday to make arrangements for their conference which is to be held here next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.
—F. M. Young, eight miles southwest of town, is building a fine new residence; dimensions, 28x38, two stories. Mr. Young is among the many prosperous farmers of that community.
Mr. T. J. Thomas, who recently took a trip to Washington, D. C., returned to his city this morning, accompanied by his wife. He reported a pleasant trip. We are glad to welcome them into our midst.
Mayor Richey and A. B. Todd returned from Denver and the mountains this morning where they have been recreating for the past week. Glowing reports are given by them of the west, but they were a little dissatisfied to learn that they had missed the primaries.
—There has been considerable trouble in the Christian church since the resignation of Mr. Hampton has become known. A conference of some Christian ministers from abroad was held in the city yesterday, and it is reported Mr. Hampton has since abandoned the pulpit.

—Jas. J. West, publisher of the Chicago Times and Mail, accompanied by a party of friends, passed through the city on a special car attached to No. 2, last evening. They were met at the depot by Co. Treas. Campbell and wife and Miss Paul, who accompanied them as far as Pacific Junction. Mr. West is an old friend of Mr. Campbell and Miss Paul. The party have been spending a couple of weeks at Manitou Springs, Colorado.
—A party of singers were out doing the serenade act on Monday night. The people within a block were all enjoying the melodious strains until a gentleman on a balcony immediately above the party extended his head far enough over the side to be discovered by one of the singers who immediately took up an obligato solo in which there were about a dozen demisemiquavers and in an excited manner commenced to sing "Water, water, water, oh, look out for water." The solo was not accompanied as it should have been and the harmonious crowd took a sudden leave while the man on the balcony tried to explain that he did not intend to throw water on them and that he considered their sudden departure a slight.
—A two-year-child of Mr. Jake Stulls met its death in a shocking manner yesterday afternoon. The little girl's mother had been in the habit of hanging a pail of milk in the well each day and occasionally the child would watch her while in the act. Yesterday the child wanted a drink of milk and went the well, unnoticed by the mother, and removed the covering from over the top. In trying to pull the pail up, she lost her balance and fell into the well, a distance of eighteen feet. It is thought she was killed by the fall. The mother was almost frantic with grief when she discovered her child and could get any assistance short of a mile and a half. They live on what is known as the old Miller place near Oreapolis.
—Two of our popular young men who are generally possessed of a humorous turn of mind and who, when the public is not convenient to receive their jokes, hammer away at each other. The two fellows were standing on a corner the other evening with their heads together, agreed among themselves to rest on humor for a short time and look into the future with a broad view. Matrimony, of course, was introduced, among the many subjects, when the following remark broke from the lips of the more amorous one: "Pete, why don't you get married and settle down?" "Settle down!" says Pete, "it keeps me a hustling all week to get money enough to settle up."
—A remarkable sensation occurred in this city of the Platte within the last few days in which one of our brave boys was about overcome with the scare it afforded him. The young man takes his meals and rooms at a house on Oak street. In his absence one evening some of his friends quietly made it up among themselves to put up a job on the fellow, more to test his staying qualities than for any other reason, as he excels as a boaster. A dummy woman was dressed up and put in his bed to await his arrival. The amused crowd waited for him until a late hour when at last he put in an appearance. He sat contented on the edge of his bed making preparations for retiring. The window-blind was fastened back so that he could easily discern any object in his room. When he was about prepared to emerge himself and close his peepers for the night, he was startled to observe the streaming tresses and bright face of a woman. He never cottoned, and in an excited state of mind rushed from his room, inquiring for a match. None of his friends in any of the up-stairs rooms could find a match for him. He then passed swiftly down the stairs and rapped on the door of his landlord's room, exclaiming: "Mr. A—! Mr. A—! Have you got a match? What woman is in my room? If you put anybody in my room I want to know who it is." He insisted on Mr. A— accompanying him to the room. The landlord opened the door and walked in, followed by the terrified one. When the fellow looked over the shoulder of his landlord and discovered the truth, the relief and surprise coming in contact on his nature about founded him. He has threatened to leave town if the boys would expose the hoax.
From Tuesday's Daily.

—Mr. Levi Walker says he voted for William Henry Harrison in 1840 and that he has voted the democratic ticket ever since, and if he lives he will vote for Benjamin Harrison as he is the kind of stock he wants.
—The Journal accuses the reporter of this paper of being an authority on the number of ties between Glenwood and Pacific Junction after the rally. Not when we stand in with the B. & M. as Mr. Journal editor says. When the tie is broken we may then commence to count and not before.
—Two strikers named Gavin and Dill were arrested last night on a charge filed against them by A. W. Bucher, assistant yard-master, for calling him indecent and insulting names. The trial came off before Judge Clifford last night and lasted from 8 o'clock until about 11. Dill was fined $5 and costs and Gavin was acquitted, as the complaint against him was not strong enough to hold him. Another complaint will be filed Monday.

—Mr. Hullenbach, express agent on the K. C., was detained at home in Elmwood last night on account of the death of his child. The funeral will take place there today.
—Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Edwards desire us to say that the kindness of their friends and neighbors during the sickness, death and burial of their little boy Harry, is highly appreciated and cannot be forgotten.
—Last evening about the time the crowd left the depot after the trains had pulled out, a little trouble took place between T. Callicut, a striking engineer and J. N. Shott, a scab switchman. The latter carried a lantern in his hand and had just stepped out from some cars which he had coupled when Callicut greeted him with various flowery names which Shott would not accept. As soon as the striker concluded his speech, Shott swung his lantern with considerable velocity against his cranium inflicting an ugly wound. This morning Shott was arrested and fined $5 and costs, amounting to over $10 in all. Shott paid his fine and reciprocated by procuring a warrant for Callicut charging him with using insulting language and calling several disagreeable names. He was also fined to the same extent.
From Thursday's Daily.
Mr. J. M. Beardsley, of Weeping Water, was in the city yesterday.

R. W. Laplin, of Wymore, general overseer of the A. O. U. W., of Nebraska, paid ex-grand medical examiner, Dr. Hall, a visit yesterday.
It is expected that twenty new engines will arrive at the B. & M. shops here soon, where they will be set up and put in readiness for use. They will be used on the B. & M. division.
Mrs. W. S. Wise and daughter, Mrs. Jesse L. Root, left this morning for Denver, where they have gone on an extended visit for the purpose of recreation, Mrs. Root having just recovered from a long siege of fever of several months duration. The fever has left its trace and we trust that when she returns, better health will be enjoyed by her.

John Churchill moved out to Nance county last spring, but came back again last week with his family, and is now stamping around on the old tramping ground. John should remember that a rolling stone gathers no moss.

A Word From Glenwood.
The following commendations appeared in the Glenwood Opinion in their report of the proceedings of the grand rally which took place at that burg last Wednesday night:
The celebrated B. & M. cornet band, of Plattsmouth, was here and it is a dandy.
John A. Davies, of Plattsmouth, a young man in whom all Glenwoodites feel a just pride, was next introduced and made a rattling ten-minute speech that convinced everyone that he was acquainted with the history of both parties, and knew why he stood for republicanism.
No Excuse For Him.
Leader of lynching party: "Now, young man, make a full confession, or up you go."
Prisoner: "I was fooling with a gun. I pointed it at my brother, and—"
"You didn't know it was loaded?"
"No."
"Men, pull on the rope and let him swing!"—Lincoln Journal.
Struck by Lightning.
Mr. H. M. Gault, jeweler, who was possessor of a fine stallion valued at $3,000 was informed this morning that the horse and a cow which he kept on his farm about five miles northwest of the city were struck by lightning and killed last night.
—Wild and lured looking lithographs are being posted in prominence on each side of Main street entitled, "The Twelve Temptations" which is soon to visit Omaha. Plattsmouth does not require an addition of twelve to show up in prominence in that line.

A House for the Habitual Drunkard.
To our knowledge this subject has never before been introduced to the public, and for what reason we know not, and cannot refrain from expressing surprise, when the daily demand for such a place must leave an impression on the minds of all who may walk the streets and witness the degraded state of humanity in some cases.
Men, young and old, who have, by incessant indulgence in taking too freely such an erroneous step, habituated themselves to the evils of liquors, and are now unable to take care of themselves, are left uncared for by many who are directly interested in their welfare because of their evil habit. Such men still retain a chance down in their breasts which would, if an opportunity was afforded when these men are made aware of their recklessness, be taken advantage of and they would still be men and come to the front as respectable people. As long as they are left to themselves and so many temptations are daily set before them, they will never take advantage of that opportunity. When the people of this country realize the fact that they can still do something for their friends when in such a state of helplessness, they will be more eager to give an assisting hand and help in the good we are about to speak of.
The citizens of Plattsmouth, or any other burg, who are directly interested, should petition the men who represent us at the capitol, to build houses or work houses in certain parts where those men could be kept and employed. When a man would apparently become so helpless that he would become of no use to himself or anyone else, that is where he should go if the proper authorities, after being satisfied with an examination, should think it a proper place to send him.
If those men who are now only moderate drinkers would think of the place as their future home, they would certainly use a little more precaution than any of them do at present. When the men would be confined at such a house for a long enough time to satisfy the authorities that they could refuse a drink when offered to them, they should be set free again.
Such a place would certainly benefit not only the man and his family, but the whole community.
Why not some interested person urge the matter?
MUSIC FOR THE CAMPAIGN.
We have just received from the publishers, S. Brainard's Sons, 145 Wabash Ave., Chicago, a copy of the "True Blue Republican" Campaign Song Book, containing sixteen pieces of music, arranged for male quartette, with words and music complete. The music was arranged by a quartette of Campaign Singers especially for the coming Campaign. The price of the book is but 15 cents.
Order Adjourning the September Term of the District Court.
In compliance with the unanimous application of the bar of Cass county and being well advised in the premises, and deeming it to be the best interest of the public and of all parties interested in the September term of the district court of Cass county 1888, and that sufficient cause exists for an adjournment of said regular term. It is hereby ordered that said term of court be and the same is hereby adjourned until Monday the 19th of November 1888 at 2 o'clock p. m. of said day.
Witness my hand this 20th day of August 1888.
SAM'L M. CHAPMAN, Judge.
Many bodily ills result from habitual constipation, and a fine constitution may be weakened and ruined by simple neglect. There is no medicine, for regulating the bowels and restoring a natural action to the digestive organs, equal to Ayer's Pills.
HEAVEN AND EARTH.
There are no shadows where there is no sun;
There is no beauty where there is no shade;
And all things in two lines of glory run,
Darkness and light, clean and gold laid,
God comes among us through the shrouds of air;
And His dim track is like the silvery wake
Left by you pinance on the mountain lake,
Fading and reappearing here and there.
The lamps and veils through heav'n and earth
That move,
Go in and out, as jealous of their light,
Like sailing stars upon a misty night,
Death is the shade of coming life; and love
Yours for her dear ones in the holy tomb,
Because bright things are better seen in gloom.
—F. W. Faber.
If you desire to possess a beautiful complexion take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses and purifies the blood, and removes blotches and pimples, making the skin smooth and clear, and giving it a bright and healthy appearance. Take it this month.
AWAY FROM MY LOVED HILLS.
Away from my loved hills, away from all
That is most dear to my unhappy soul,
I go in sadness. Nor can I control
My anxious thoughts, nor check the tears that fall.
Vain is that pale delusion which we call
Philosophy. It never can console
The heart's distress, nor lighten make the dole
For fortune's woundings, be they great or small.
Yet, be it only some new grief to find,
Or to bring back some dear reward of pain,
The trial shall be made. Not all in vain
Shall be the patient battle of the mind,
And though I know not what the days will bring,
In hope I gird me for my journeying.
—Robert Burns Wilson in New Orleans Times-Democrat.
Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers is easy of application, and never fails to color the beard brown or black as may be desired. Try it.
