SOLID FOR OUR BEN.
The Green Mountain State Sends Greeting to General Harrison.

The Largest Majority Ever Given a Candidate for Governor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sep. 6.—General Harrison resumed his labors yesterday, after his vacation, expressing himself to his friends as feeling refreshed and invigorated by his trip to Middle Bass. The day was quietly spent. In the morning the general gave attention to his correspondence, which has not been allowed to accumulate to any extent during his absence, as his law partner, William H. Miller, who for some time has been acting as the general's secretary, remained at home and attended to the large amount of daily correspondence. During the day quite a number of personal friends called on the general and Mrs. Harrison, to say a word of welcome. Last evening the general went out for one of his customary long walks.

Among the telegrams received by General Harrison yesterday was the following:

"BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 5.—Gen. Ben Harrison: Vermont endorses her choice at Chicago by giving Dillingham a larger majority than we have ever before given to any republican governor. [Signed,] CARROLL S. PAGE, Chairman State Committee."

During General Harrison's absence, Chairman Huston of the republican state committee, has received a large number of applications from political clubs in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and several from Pennsylvania and New York, asking that dates be fixed for their reception by Gen. Harrison. Chairman Huston had a conference with Gen. Harrison tonight, and it is probable that replies to these applications will be sent out within the next day or two.

A Cannuck Who Would Fight.
OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 7.—The department of the militia is greatly incensed over the action of Lieutenant Douglas, of the Twenty-fourth light infantry, in writing a letter to a Toronto newspaper, over his own name and rank, as an officer of the militia of Canada, dwelling upon the possibility of war with the United States, and suggesting that Canada's prime move would be to take Detroit. He has been asked for an explanation, and it is believed he will be asked to resign.

A Fatal Accident.
From Thursday's Daily.
Mr. C. R. Simmons, proprietor of the shooting gallery on Main street adjoining Keefer's harness shop, met with an accident last night about 8:30 o'clock which will, beyond a doubt, prove fatal. He generally had five guns lying across the counter at the front of the gallery.

Several times he has loaded a gun for some one who would select another one after he had loaded it. He would invariably leave them on the counter and would walk in front of them when he would be called to the opposite side of the gallery. Last night a stone cutter by the name of Ross wished to shoot and after Mr. Simmons had loaded a gun which did not suit him, he laid it on the counter and selected another one. After Ross had fired off the gun he had selected, Mr. Simmons wished to clean the loaded gun and asked Ross to break it for him, which he did with Mr. Simmons standing but a few inches from the muzzle. While he was trying to break it, the cartridge exploded, entering his abdomen. He was carried to the Riddle house. This morning five doctors operated on him without finding the cartridge. The operation lasted more than two hours and it is thought he will only survive a few hours. His brother, who lives at Cedar Rapids is expected to arrive this evening.

Bloody Arkansas Elec tion Affray.
FOREST CITY, Ark., Sept. 7.—During a bloody affray at Milbrook on election day, one white man was fatally and six others slightly wounded. It is claimed that the negroes attempted to steal the ballot box, but finding the whites on guard fired a volley and fled. The fire was returned by the whites, but without effect.

The White Cap Outrages.
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Attorney General Michener today reported to Gov. Gray the result of his recent investigation of the White Cap outrages in Crawford county. He says that while the courts and officers are anxious to do all they can to punish the offenders, it is seemingly impossible to secure juries that will convict the defendants. He says fourteen have charged with the crime, but no convictions were obtained because the juries went directly against the evidence.

From Thursday's Daily.
Mr. Fred Murphy, who returned to this city from Omaha last night, left for Cedar Creek this morning to resume his duties there.

Grandma Sheffer, who is well known in this city, and who has been living at Denver for some time past, returned home last night.

Mr. Chas. Hemple, wife, and mother-in-law, Mrs. Beetson, of Ashland who is visiting at their home, were passengers to Omaha this morning on a holiday trip.

—Another son of Mr. Andrew Edwards died last night. Only a short time ago a child of his died from an injury received by falling from a veranda at the front of the house.

Mr. A. G. Eigenbroadt, a stenographer in the office of Mr. D. Hawksworth, Supt. of motive power for the B. & M., took his departure for his home in New York state, last evening. He will remain for several weeks.

Mr. J. G. Stark, of Scranton, Pa., arrived in the city this morning. He will visit with his friend, Mr. Frank Dickson, of the county clerk's office before he will take charge of a school at Elmwood for which he has been engaged.

—Mr. Ellsworth N. Munson and Miss Mary R. Foltz were united in marriage on September 4th, by Rev. W. B. Alexander. The parties are well known in and around Weeping Water. The bride is a daughter of Louis Foltz, the county commissioner. THE HERALD extends them the usual greeting.

—A German by the name of Charles Shultz was followed to the city this morning from La Platte by a Mr. H. Rohn, a farmer living near that place who informed the authorities here that Shultz had stolen a watch and about $100 from him and skipped. After leaving a man to watch Shultz, Rohn informed Officer John Fitzpatrick of the trouble, who immediately started after the burglar and found that the fellow who had been watching him had allowed him to escape and he could not give any information as to his whereabouts. After a thorough search of the B. & M. yards and box cars, in the direction which he was seen to take, without success, he started for the ferry landing, supposing he had crossed to the Iowa side. He was not disappointed, for when he arrived at the bridge he saw him in a skiff landing on the opposite side of the river. He started across the bridge and arrived on the other side just in time to meet his man coming up in the direction of the watch house and took him by surprise. A gun was pulled on him and he was ordered to throw up his hands which he did without any further command. Fitzpatrick searched his pockets and found the watch and $54.75 of the money. Shultz confessed and said that he had purchased a suit of clothes, a hat and several articles of wearing apparel which he had adopted to disguise himself. He was brought back and lodged in jail. He had been in the employ of Rohn as a farm hand for some time.

From Friday's Daily.
—Mr. C. R. Simmons, who was shot at his shooting gallery last Wednesday evening, died last night about 11 o'clock. Funeral services will be held this afternoon in the I. O. O. F. halls. The remains will be removed to Cedar Rapids, tomorrow morning, where they will be buried. An obituary notice will appear tomorrow.

—Mr. Frank Dickson, who was employed by County Clerk Bird Critchfield, in making out the tax list for this year, completes his work today. Mr. Critchfield informs us that he has given perfect satisfaction in every particular and deserves great credit for the neatness and correctness of his work. Monday morning he will accept a position in the office of W. H. Pool, recorder of deeds, where he will work for about one month, after which he intends to leave the city and go farther west. We will be sorry to lose as genial a young man as Mr. Dickson, and we trust that some young lady of this city may throw out an influence which will be the means of prolonging his stay.

ALEN G. THURMAN will address the democracy of New York City tonight. Perhaps he will take this occasion to explain to people thereabouts how he reconciles his support of Mr. Cleveland for re-election with this emphatic expression of his earnest convictions: (From a speech by Allen G. Thurman at Columbus, Ohio, 1872.)
My friends, you will never have any genuine reform in the Civil Service until you adopt the one-term principle in reference to the presidency. So long as the incumbent can hope for a second term he will use the immense patronage of the government to procure his re-nomination and secure his re-election.

M. D. POLK, Chairman.
R. S. WILKINSON, Secretary.

SECRETARY WHITNEY'S conduct of the Navy Department will inevitably be regarded with critical scrutiny when he quits office. There have been frequent rumors that he would not continue in his present place even if he had the chance to do so after next March. He must expect to encounter the sharpest kind of criticism. That is what he chose to invite by his unwarranted and wholly unjust attitude toward the Roach cruisers. He must expect to be measured in the scales which he himself constructed, and to be judged according to his own standards. Even now it is easy to see how hardly he will fare under such an ordeal. The incompetency of his administration is shown in the delays that have characterized his whole work. Though the time has expired, or is shortly to expire, on many of his new vessels, none is near completion. It is safe to say, however, that the measure which must be meted out to him will not be extended to the contractors. No republican administration would desire to bankrupt all the shipbuilders of the land and exterminate one of the industries upon the maintenance of which the Nation's life to a great extent depends.—N. Y. Tribune.
