A DEMOCRATIC DISPLAY. Democracy Feasts at Glenwood— Francis Cleveland Clubs And Curious Republicans in the Make-up.

From Friday's Daily.

The democrats held their rally at Glenwood last night and a large crowd attended from this city. A short march was made on Main street before the arrival of the 7:15 train. The B. & M. band was not present in the city, and consequently its services were greatly missed, not a sound of music being heard. After the procession marched to the depot, the boys' drum corps, of the G. A. R., furnished the crowd with two or three of their selections. The Francis Cleveland Club, a club of young ladies, which has recently been organized in the city, proved to be the main attraction, and apparently won the admiration of all. Their uniforms consisted of white dresses, a bandana sash and a white pill hat trimmed with bandana bands. There were about thirty in number, and as they marched on the depot platform, two abreast, they presented a very striking appearance. The organizers of the club deserve great credit for their good taste, as exhibited in various ways.

Col. Sherman, of the Journal, acted as captain for the company, but a mistake which he made by giving a false order, caused the young ladies much embarrassment for a time. He gave his command for them to march on the depot to where two cars (which he supposed awaited them) were standing, and was about to take possession of the train when he learned that it would soon pull out in the direction of Schuyler. Several smothered snickers were distinctly heard in the vicinity when C. W. learned that he had made quite a noticeable blunder which could not have been much appreciated by about thirty young ladies. The train did not arrive until about half an hour later than the usual time, necessitating a tiresome delay. Several republicans accompanied the democratic crowd, and they report that the rally was a grand success. It is thought by many, although no accurate estimate could easily be made of two as large crowds, that there was about the same number who attended the rally last night as was present during the republican blow out a short time ago. It is reported that the Glenwood people entertained the whole crowd with refreshments at the opera house. The tables extended around the room, the guests were seated on the outside of the tables, while the waiters performed their duty on the inside. The whole crowd was accommodated, they say, and still some of them say the crowd was about one third larger. The Glenwood people would be washing dishes yet, and still dishing up refreshments, if that were the case. There were three Francis Cleveland clubs present at the rally, and it is reported that they all were very much admired. In the march it is said that as good order was not kept, and also that the illuminations last night could not be compared with those during the republican rally.

The following young ladies composed the Francis Cleveland Club and attended the rally last night:

Louise Engel, Mary Weekbach, Tressie Hempel, Annie Weekbach, Kate Hempel, Lee Riddle, Bertha Wieg, Carrie Guthman, Maggie Oliver, Lena Weekbach, Georgie Oliver, Ella Gabler, Cassie Gabler, Lizzie Kurtz, Natie Schlater, Selia Tartsch, Nora Gopen, Miss Murphy, Tillie Gopen, Estella Leach, Katie Siedentricker, Mollie Cass, Mary Egan, May Matasch, Ella Murphy, Maud Vivian.

Louisville.

A large number of our town people are attending the state fair at Lincoln this week.

Mr. John Bringman and Capt. Hoover are at Columbus, Ohio, attending the G. A. R. reunion.

Burglars entered the residence of F. S. Rockwell Sunday night and relieved Seth of his watch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sutton visited Weeping Water, Ashland, Mead and other places last week.

Messrs. Sackman & Stevens have their circular swing at the state fair. It is reported that they are doing a good business.

School began here last Monday with an enrollment of 105 scholars. This is a larger attendance than we had at the opening of school a year ago.

A Swede by the name of Johnson met with quite a serious accident last Sunday. While taking his cow to pasture his feet got entangled in the rope, throwing him and breaking his leg. SMUK.

THE ENCAMPMENT OPENED.

Commander-in-Chief Rhea Makes His Annual Report.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—The national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began yesterday morning, the reception, parade and camp fire of the day previous being preliminary to the actual work of the encampment. The Grand Army of West Virginia, naval veterans, Sheridan's division, brigade and regimental associations met in the various parts of the city, but the meetings were strictly private, none but members being admitted.

In the course of his annual address Commander-in-Chief Rhea of the G. A. R. reviewed the growth of the order. He said that the reports on June 30, 1888, showed there were 395,245 comrades borne on the rolls, to which might be safely added a sufficient number on transfer cards to swell the grand total to 409,000. After speaking some time of the future growth of the order and denouncing the use of the Grand Army badge for political effect, he endorsed the legislation proposed by the last encampment which failed to pass in congress, and expressed his desire for further action in the same line. During the year 4,433 comrades had died, being an increase of 1,027 over the previous year. He continued: "During the past year reports show that there were expended in charity the sum of $215,975.15. This, of course, does not include many thousands of dollars which have been given by members privately in aid of less fortunate comrades." He spoke touchingly of the death of General Sheridan. He called special attention to the Women's relief corps, Sons of Veterans and navy survivors' division, and of the regard future generations will have for them and their work. The other national officers also submitted their reports at the morning session.

What is it?

The question is often asked, and the query propounded, that in 1884, the republicans who left the party and voted for Cleveland were named and have properly been called ever since, magwumps; and now what name will be applied to the thousands of democrats that are joining in the glorious work of electing Harrison and Morton. Our answer is they are republicans; any other name we will leave to the democratic party to apply to the boys who are leaving the sinking craft of democracy.

South Bond.

It is astonishing how much grain is marketed here. We notice teams from near Louisville, Manley, Wabash, and from quite a distance over the river.

Our efficient democratic P. M., Mr. S. C. Patterson, has about decided that he will become a "permanent fixture" here for the next four years, but says he won't march dollars for the watermelons with any more republicans until after election.

W. A. Fowler is becoming quite an orator arguing the case of McShane, Cleveland & Co. with an eloquence born of despair.

J. G. Romine's fish pond is the all-absorbing topic of conversation these days—with Jennie R. He says if he can sell fish enough he will take in the State Fair.

Thirty-two tickets for Lincoln were sold here Tuesday.

Mr. E. E. Day has at last "fined" the procession and built his share of the sidewalk, and Dr. Kirk has become so enthusiastic that he is building a sidewalk for one of his neighbors.

Some of our folks are Spoons, and some are spoony.

Charles Barbee has taken advantage of the reduced fare and gone to the Buckeye State to enjoy himself awhile.

Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Berge left for Greenwood Wednesday evening where the Professor will superintend the wedding of the birch for the ensuing year.

Mr. G. Shives left for the east Tuesday evening, called home by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his father.

George McCain has his residence in Lincoln nearly completed and will move soon.

A Democratic Side Show.

The following few lines are a fossil of a dodger issued by a joint company of democrats and prohibitionists of Durand, Ill., the sight of which causes the democrats of this city a look of pain, and the majority of them have a presentiment of evil when they gaze upon its cooperative face:

Durand democrats-prohibitionists will hold a joint meeting at the town hall Saturday, September 8th. Music will be furnished by the Democratic and Prohibition Glee Clubs, of Rockford, and the Durand brass band. The Cleveland-Durand escort corps, of Rockford, the prize club of Winnebago Co., will be present. Speaking by Maj. N. C. Warner, J. W. Hart, of Rockford, and others. Everybody come and listen to the discussion of the issues of the day.

Special train, fare for the round trip, 70 cents.

A South American Crime.

Buenos Ayers, Sept. 14.—A sensational murder trial is progress at La Plata in which Padre Pedro Castro Rodriguez is charged with murdering his wife and daughter. Rodriguez in early life became a priest, but in 1870 forsook the church and four years later married Senorita Rufina Padin, daughter of a colonel in the Argentine army. He soon suspected his wife of unfaithfulness, and deserting her, re-entered the church. In May last his wife and daughter, Hedrona Maria Castro, joined him against his wishes at the ecclesiastical residence. Determining to rid himself of them he gave them poison but as this did not act quickly enough, he crushed their skulls with a hammer. He then put them both in a large coffin, and having said mass over their bodies, had them buried. Blood stains around the house and the sudden absence of the two ladies aroused the suspicions of a chore boy, who reported the matter to the police, with the result that Rodriguez was arrested. He at first denied all knowledge of the whereabouts of his wife and child, but finally broke down and confessed. Rodriguez is forty four years old, finely educated, and has always stood high in the favor of the church authorities.

Nearly ever small town has what may be termed a wedding prognostication. This peculiar institution makes a specialty of pairing off the marriageable people of the place, selecting their wedding outfits, groomsman and bridesmaids, providing their future quarters, and attending to the general details of the ceremony without consulting the parties interested. The fact that they miss their guess nine times out of ten does not seem to impair their usefulness in the slightest, they keep on guessing for the pure love of the thing, and cackle and shake their wise heads when they do happen to hit the mark in a way that is calculated to make sensible people weary of life.

From Friday's Daily.

Rapid progress is now being made on the sewer work and if everything will be as favorable as it now looks, its completion is nearer at hand than it was at first anticipated, and, as Mr. Shelton remarked yesterday, "they will be in clover."
