A Lincoln newspaper man was yesterday asked to read a printed article and give an opinion as to its merits. He read it and denounced it as the worst piece of rot he had read for months, and wondered if the idiot who wrote it was still at large. When he heaped upon it all the contumely he had with him, the man who gave him the article whispered something to him, and the Lincoln newspaper man looked as cheap as though he were offered for sale at a junk shop. He stammered and laughed convulsively, and kicked himself real hard. The Lincoln newspaper man had written the article himself a few months ago.—Lincoln Journal.

A Happy Event

From Friday's Daily.

Plattsouth, of late, is certainly becoming a headquarters for the performance of marriage ceremonies. Within the last few weeks we are frequently called upon to chronicle a happy event in the style of a marriage. Among the many we refer to the marriage of Mr. Edward Dickenson, of Chicago, to Miss Jessie French, of the same city. The ceremony was performed by the grandfather of the bride, Chaplain Wright, at his home on Eighth street, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The wedding was strictly private, no one but members of the family being witnesses. Miss French is a daughter of Mrs. R. D. Gallagher, who resided in this city a few years ago. All who have the pleasure of her acquaintances know her to be an accomplished and charming young lady. She has many friends in the city, (having spent a good part of her school days here) who will be pleased to learn of the happy event. Mr. Dickenson was born in Chicago and has resided in that city his whole lifetime. He has a lucrative situation as paying teller in the Metropolitan National Bank at Chicago, and is known to be a trustworthy, straightforward and genial young man.

The happy couple have the best wishes of the HERALD for a prosperous future. They took their departure on the evening train for Omaha, where they will remain a few days before returning to Chicago. They will be at home after the 11th inst.

From Friday's Daily.

—Mr. John G. Roberts, a so-called scab, who accompanied the host of scabs from the Reading road to the great scab by Q. route, is once more free and in our midst. Roberts, it will be remembered, was arrested by the brotherhood soon after his arrival here and sent to Chicago for trial. The charge he was arrested on appears to be an old case which had been brought up against him while employed on the Reading road. He had been acquitted of the old charge and has also been acquitted on the second case. He is at present in the city, and we have learned that he will take charge of one of the new locomotives. On his return trip he brought over $100 worth of trimmings for the locomotive. Among other attractions is a chime whistle which he will attach.

Another Wedding.

From Friday's Daily.

Among the many events to which our attention has been attracted, is the marriage of Mr. Jas. Fetzer, to Miss Mary Goos. The ceremony was performed by Judge Russell, at the home of the bride, about 9 o'clock last night. Miss Katie Goos acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Hans Goos assisted as groomsmen.

After the ceremony was performed, an inviting supper was served, and after all had heartily partaken of the good things provided, the couple took their departure for their new home on Day street, between Eighth and Ninth. The Liederkranz society surprised them by a pleasant serenade shortly after their arrival. The singers were invited in and a pleasant time followed. The groom is a Fetzer but no goose.

The following presents were given to the bride: plush rocking chair, H Boeck; silver butter dish, Hans Goos; silver tea set, Annie Nachtmann, Selma Schneider, Dora Peterson, Carrie Weber; silver castor, S. Lia Goos; silver table spoon, Henry Goos; silver tea spoons, Melvine Goos; elegant complete parlor set, bride's parents; silver knives and forks, table and tea spoons, Wm. Cook, Omaha; plush cloak, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weber; parlor lamp, Henry Weckbach; silver sugar spoon, J. M. Schlater; china chamber set, Katie Goos; Silver castor, Christ Wohlfarth.

—The Leap year reinforcements so long held in a secluded locality are about to come upon us in full force and a general outbreak is feared. It is reported the young ladies are about to hold another ball on the evening of the 19th in Fitzgerald's hall. Invitations will be extended in the usual leap year style, and the affair will be strictly private, no lady and gentleman being admitted at the door unless an invitation is shown. The ball will be given in honor of the young lady visitors now in the city. Over sixty invitations will be given. Several young men, since this year is drawing to a close, have become despondent, but when the news reaches them that the young ladies are still in the field, they will, no doubt, brighten up, and by indications within the last few weeks they have come to stay.

—The Missouri river opposite the city is the lowest it has been for many years. The sandbars can be seen extending almost to the Iowa shore. The water mark on the railroad bridge is lower than it has ever been since the bridge was built.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

The First Collision Between the Police and Street Car Men.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7.—The first collision between the police and the street car strikers occurred about midnight at the Larrabee street bars. Captain Schaeck and a company of his men attempted to escort sixteen imported laborers to the barn, when a number of strikers who had congregated began to cry "scab." The captain sprang from his buggy and ordered the officers to clear the streets. The officers sprang upon a little knot of strikers with drawn clubs and scattered it in every direction. Mayor Roche has issued a proclamation requesting the people of the city not to congregate in the streets. An attempt to run the north side cars tomorrow with new men proclamation. The chief of police has directed a contingent of police from every station from the west and south sides to report at 6, tomorrow morning, at Captain Schaeck's station, on the north side. The total number of police thus will be several hundred. Fifty of the men imported from Philadelphia turned out to be union men. They were taken in hand by the strikers, and to-night have been pledged not to work for the north side company. Their return transportation will be furnished by the strikers.

From Saturday's Daily.

—Why doesn't Gov. Thayer challenge Mr. McShane to select a few of his constituents and play a game of base ball to decide the question at issue? The contest would not give so much scope for mental effort as a debate, but the winner would be triumphantly elected, dead sure. The Journal has it on good authority that as a pitcher Mr. McShane has no control of the ball, while at the bat he is decidedly weak.—Lincoln Journal.

—No one can now pass Fifth street without mentioning the fact of the vast improvement which is being made by filling up the ditches immediately south of Main street. The bluff at the other side will be graded down and the street continued. In the completion of the work, Fifth street will make one of the pleasantest and most convenient streets in the city, and Cholera creek which took an underground course down the street and emptied into the ditch has been filled.

THE CASE.	THE CURE.
Mitroy, Minnie County, Pa. Editor of "The World," New York, N. Y.—Dear Sir: The case of Mrs. John Gemmill presents a striking example of suffering and marvelous cure. She has lived in and near Mitroy for 25 years, and is 69. In 1864 she was stricken from a wagon, sustaining serious injury to her spine. From that time till last she was helpless, less crippled, unable to walk.	During those long nineteen years of suffering, she found no relief from the numerous remedies she had tried. In 1883 her daughter read the advertisement of St. Jacobs Oil, and she bought two bottles. The oil was applied, and before the second bottle was exhausted by Mrs. Gemmill, she was able to walk about and has been completely cured. M. THOMPSON, Postmaster.
