Publishers & Proprietors.

Take Notice.

The republicans of Plattsmouth and vicinity will hold a love feast at the opera house this evening. Judge Pound, of Lincoln. John L. Webster, the silver-tongued orator of Omaha and Hon. J. C. Watson, our candidate for float representative, will entertain our people. It will be a republican mass meeting and the entertainment will be able addresses without parade. Turn out and hear the truth.

CITY BRIEFS.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Mr. Phil Seidenstricker, of Omaha, is in the city today.

Capt. L. D. Bennett is in Pacific Junction to day on business.

Our new tea man expects his wife to arrive from Chicago tonight.

Mr. N. M. Satchell, of Weeping Water is in the city, today, on business.

Miss Cora King, of Schuyler, is the guest of John Ballenger for a few days.

Mr. Billy Morton, a popular temperance orator who is well known here, is in the city today.

Mrs. Edwin Rich nee Miss Belle Abbott of Greenwood, is visiting at the home of Mr. C. E. Westcott.

Mrs. E. A. St. John, wife of our genial express agent here, leaves tonight for her home in the east where she will remain during the winter.

Mrs. Martin, who resides about three miles south of here, and who received a severe thigh fracture some time ago, is recovering as rapidly as can be expected. Dr. Schildknecht is attending.

The following were the arrivals at the Riddle house this morning: H. M. Meyers, Omaha; Geo. B. Holloway, Omaha; W. B. Kendle, Des Moines; G. N. Gates, Omaha; John W. Vinson, Jerseyville, Ill.; C. E. Prahman, Chicago; J. H. Hamilton, St. Louis; Mrs. R. Knotts, Council Bluffs.

The young ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a social at Rockwood hall Friday evening Nov. 2nd, the proceeds of which will be used for the Sunday school library. A short programme has been prepared which will appear tomorrow. Everyone is cordially invited to come and help the Sunday school Admision 10 cents.

The city authorities should find out why there are not street lights kept burning in the vicinity of the Third street cut. People who are obliged to pass through there at a late hour complain of a great inconvenience on account of darkness. It is a favorite resort for crooks and it is becoming quite popular among them.

"Joe," the one priced clothier, had his jar filled with beans to-day and all in readiness for the public guess on the number contained in the jar. On the first of January the beans will be counted in Fitzgerald's hall by two disinterested parties who will be selected for that purpose. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged, and the proceeds will be divided among the poor people of the city. It will cost you nothing to guess.

The editor of the Journal has cultivated the very unmanly habit of approaching republicans who chance to open up conversation with their democratic friends on the streets, and contradicting their statements when his advice is uncalled for. Last night the eye doctor opened up on a staunch democrat and was stringing out facts to him so rapidly that it made his head swim. C. Whopper chanced to pass that way and not being content at minding his own business, advised the professor's hearers to move on and not pay any attention to him as he did not know what he was talking about. C. W. by so saying relieved his democratic brethren and took the whole responsibility upon his own shoulders. If the Professor had had a pair of smoked glasses in his pockets he would have presented them to him, for any covering for his sheep eyes at that time would have proved a great relief. Mr. S. was knocked out in the first round, and we trust that such a lesson will do him good. The democrats would thank him if he would keep on his own side of the street and did not interfere with them.

From Friday's Daily.
—It is estimated that there were over 5,000 people in the procession at Council Bluffs last night during the rally, and also that there were over 25,000 people on the streets.

—The Glenwood ladies club secured the prize, which was a silver water set valued at $100, for being the best drilled and finest appearing ladies club at Council Bluffs last night. If a subscription paper had been circulated in behalf of the ladies club over the river the night they afforded the republicans such a pleasant surprise here, there is no doubt that five times that amount could have been raised here without an effort. We most heartily congratulate them on their success.

From Saturday's Daily.
—The fifteen months old son of Mr. George Godwin died last night after a very peculiar illness. The child has been quite sick for some time and has gradually lost flesh until its death. A short time before the child died it is said that the entire body became perfectly discolored and resembled that of a colored child. The doctors report that it was the first case of the kind ever known here before. The cause is unknown.

The funeral will leave the parents' residence, 10th and Gold streets, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, after a short service which will be conducted by Rev. J. T. Balad, of the Presbyterian church.

From Monday's Daily.
—A proud man to day is Mr. Sam Heinkle. The music of a boy baby came yesterday morning to add more joy to his already happy home. Cigars within reach.

—Messrs. M. D. Polk and J. A. Davies will speak tonight at the Gilmore school house in the vicinity of Weeping Water. They have made appointments over the country for the entire week.

—Quite an extensive prairie fire spread over the country near Ocepapolis, yesterday. Several hay stacks were burned and a number of corn fields stripped. Some of the property belonged to Messrs. Fry, Stull and Vandeventer, of this city.

—A very delightful time was had last Saturday night at the home of Mr. J. D. Tutt, South Park, the event being a pleasant surprise party given his little daughter, Miss Virgil, by about twelve couples of young friends and playmates. They amused themselves until a late hour.

—Burglars entered the house of engineer Jacobs, Washington avenue, last Saturday night while he and his wife were visiting at Lincoln. A neighbor, John Bixton, noticing a light in the house and knowing that the family was absent, started out to inform officer Fitzpatrick, but before they had returned, the burglars had skipped. They succeeded in carrying away a few valuables.

—Lincoln Shepherd, son of Mr. W. H. Shepherd, who lives about two miles south west of this city, died Sunday morning with an attack of typhoid fever. The young man has been attending college at Shenandoah, and was taken sick there. The funeral will leave his father's residence at 10 o'clock tomorrow for Pleasant Ridge cemetery. He was only 21 years of age. His sister, Miss Nettie, is now lying beyond all hope it is said, with the same disease.

—Mr. John B. Vallery, oldest son of Uncle Jake Vallery, who is very popular in this vicinity, having resided here all his life, died very suddenly this morning at his home about six miles west of the city. He has not felt as well as usual for the past three or four days but no one was alarmed over his condition as his ailment was only trivial. Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning Dr. T. P. Livingston was sent for, but upon his arrival there he found him beyond all hope. The cause of his death is attributed to cholera morbus. Until a few hours previous to his death, his health apparently was as good as ever.

—At present there is a man confined in the jail here who refuses to give his name. A few days ago he was arrested for trying to dispose of a valuable overcoat for $4. No owner could be found for the coat, so he has been held on a charge of vagrancy, since as he is supposed to be a genuine crook, until all authorities in the state have been informed. He answers the description of a jail breaker of Seward who is wanted there. To satisfy himself, Sheriff Smiley of Seward, came to the city today, but he found him to be the wrong man. He also answers the description of a man wanted at Omaha for stealing an overcoat.

The work on west Oak street was completed last Saturday. The hills and hollows of the street have been graded to a level with the street car track, and it now presents a very attractive appearance as a pleasant drive. When all the work now in progress is completed, Plattsmouth will have as pleasant drives as can be desired.

—"Joe" the popular one price clothier has made an offer to the public worth special notice. He offers a $20 suit of clothes to the person guessing the correct number, or the nearest to it, of beans contained in a jar. No expense is connected with the guess, and if this is not a splendid good chance for some man to secure a suit of clothes as a present, we lose our guess.

—Mr. Mart Cushing, who was obliged to protect his home last Sunday afternoon against insults from Mr. Rogan, with whom he had a tussle, wishes the public to know that Rogan is not in the fault so much as was at first supposed. He informs us that it was a job put up by the strikers to be revenged on him, and that they knew he was at home at the time. Their desire was to get him thumped, but the scheme did not work.

—A German-American Anti-prohibition meeting was held in Rockwood hall last Saturday night. The B. & M. band was engaged for the purpose of calling a crowd, and they succeeded as the house was crowded to its utmost capacity. Mr. J. V. Weckbach was appointed chairman of the meeting, and in a few well chosen words introduced the Hon. W. S. Shoemaker, of Omaha, as the first speaker.

In his speech he strongly denounced the actions of the republican party in the adoption of the submission plank, stating that such an act was not necessary. He advanced the argument that the people were sovereigns and had the power to pass any kind of a prohibitory liquor law, and hence on necessity for submitting the question that prohibition in the constitution would not be safe acting, and a law to enforce it would have to be passed. He evidently took the platform with the intention of making a straight democratic speech, as he gave vent to his democratic sentiments very frequently.

Prof. E. Giesler, of Omaha then followed with his speech in German. The points made by him were similar to those of his friend. The crowd was as large as has attended any meeting during the campaign.

FREE TRADE IN ENGLAND.
Here is a picture of what free trade has accomplished, painted by an English journal:

"The latest published statistics of pauperism show that the workhouse population of England and Wales is 184,475, a larger number than any recorded in the same period within the limits of the returns. And this totally irrespective of those receiving outdoor relief. One person in every 153 throughout the kingdom within the walls of the workhouses, while in the metropolis itself the number has reached the appalling average of one in every seventy-two! Add to these the number of those receiving outdoor relief, and the countless other recipients of public and private 'charity,' and it will be seen that the 'two or three millions reduced to pinching poverty' is no figure of rhetoric, but a horrible truth. The few rich, growing unjustly still richer, increasing poor becoming still poorer—that is where we are after forty years of free trade."

It only took sixteen years of free trade in the United States to put the people in nearly as lamentable condition as that described above. In 1857 President Buchanan, in a message to Congress, declared that the people in the midst of unsurpassed agricultural plenty were starving. Do we want to try the experiment over again?

Joe, The One Price Clothier, who has come to our city lately, is a real wide-awake business man and is a great benefit to our town. He has filled a jar with beans, and invites every man and woman in the county to come in and guess the number of beans in the jar. The one coming the closest to the number, he will give them a $20 suit of clothes.

Are you bilious and dyspeptic? Does your liver sluggish seem? Is your slumber often broken? By a hideous, nightmare dream? Friend, be wise! The Pleasant Pellets Made by Dr. Pierce procure. And they'll bring you back the sunshine. Of good health, you may be sure.

CITIES IN WEDLOCK.

The Opening of the New Iron Bridge Uniting Council Bluffs and Omaha Enthusiastically Celebrated.

Motive Power From Electricity.

About a year ago contracts were let and operations began for the erection of a bridge over the Missouri river between Omaha, Nebraska, and Council Bluffs, Iowa, to accommodate the growing passenger and commercial traffic between those two cities; the bridge to be built for motor cars propelled by electricity, with wagon and foot ways to either side of the bridge.

During the fall and winter months deep caissons were sunk and piers erected, and as the spring and summer months of this year advanced, the piers of iron and solid masonry, which rested on solid rock beneath, were made to bear up the trestle-work for an iron bridge, the bud of enthusiasm started by the announcement of the bridge project burst into a flame of excitement. Real estate received the first impetus, and building and general business improvement followed.

Yesterday was the day set apart for the opening of the bridge to the public—characterized as a wedding day of cities (united for good or bad, prosperity or depression of business). It was a day of jubilee for all—the rival spirit of years past was suddenly changed to a feeling of brotherly love and "good in common" view.

The street in Council Bluffs leading to the bridge was paved completely so one can travel from the bridge into Iowa four miles and a half over cedar block and stone pavement without materially changing his direction. In Omaha the bridge opens on Douglas street. The double track for the electric motor cars extends from Omaha to the M. E. church on upper Broadway in Council Bluffs, a distance of about four miles. The electricity is generated at the electric house about one mile east of the bridge and is transmitted to a large copper wire which is suspended over the tracks and from which the power for running the cars is supplied. The cars were run by this means on Monday, and several trips were made yesterday, but they merely served as test trips as there is some "patching up" to do before the cars can be run regularly and systematically. A speed of ten miles per hour with a car every six minutes is the regularity sought for.

The bridge is a toll bridge, owned and operated by capitalists in Omaha and Council Bluffs. The hour of opening was 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The plan of celebration was for the trades display of Council Bluffs, and fire companies, civic societies, etc., of other western Iowa cities, headed by Gov. Larrabee and the bridge owners, to start at 12:30 o'clock for the bridge, there meet the Omaha procession of the same class, return to the Bluffs, parade and have speaking, then go to Omaha, where the day would be finished. When the two processions met the shop, mill, and factory whistles of Omaha and Council Bluffs were started at full blast, and kept at it for about five minutes. This sent a thrill of patriotism, of new kind through the hearts of every soul in hearing distance. One thing in the procession worthy of mention was the mock wedding, by little children. A pyramid of children was arranged on a wagon. They were dressed in red white and blue and kept things lively with their shouts of laughter and merry songs. At the top of the pyramid was a platform on which was the mock marriage performance. A little girl was attired as a bride, with her brides-made, and a little boy acted as groom, having also a groomsmen; another young lad stood before them attired as a priest prepared to perform a marriage ceremony. The procession was about four miles long.

The bridge ceremonies were the most impressive proceedings of the day. The leading carriage of the Bluffs procession, drawn by four white horses, was occupied by Gov. and Mrs. Larrabee, of Iowa, and Mayor and Mrs. Rohrer, of Council Bluffs. The leading carriage of the Omaha procession, drawn also by four white horses, carried Governor and Mrs. Thayer, of Nebraska, and Mayor and Mrs. Broatch, of Omaha.

Swung from the eastern end of the bridge was the motto, "Omaha Welcomes Council Bluffs;" from the west end of the bridge hung the motto, "Council Bluffs Welcomes Omaha."

Suspended from the trusses of the center span of the bridge was an immense ring, covered with bunting and flags, bearing the inscription, "Truly Wed." Under this ring the carriages of Governors Larrabee and Thayer were driven beside each other. Mr. Thomas Baldwin, as master of ceremonies, now stepped forward and requested the reverend Bishop Newman to pronounce an invocation, which he did, invoking God's blessing upon the two cities so auspiciously brought together. John T. Stewart was introduced, and made a short address.

At this juncture the scene on the bridge was a grand and magnificent sight. Here stood the governors of two great states, surrounded by their staff officers. These officers, in their rich and magnificent uniforms, mixed with the civilians, made a most impressive and gorgeous picture—one that will not soon be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Governor Thayer made an address on behalf of the people of Nebraska, but the screeching of steam whistles, cheers of the people and sharp crack of firearms, made it impossible to hear much of what was said.

Governor Larrabee, made a response on behalf of the people of Iowa. At the conclusion of his speech the noise was so great that further addresses were dispensed with.

At this juncture Mrs. Rohrer and Mrs. Broatch each broke a bottle of wine upon the bridge, and Bishop Newman pronounced the words that firmly bound the two cities together.

The procession then returned to Council Bluffs—paraded and Omaha returned home. Driving to Bayliss park in Council Bluffs, the ceremonial party alighted from their carriages and the bridge company leading Governors Thayer and Larrabee, who walked arm-in-arm, proceeded to the park stand where speeches were made by Mayor Rhorer, of Council Bluffs, Mayor Broatch, of Omaha, Mr. C. R. Givins, of Chicago, and Colonel C. S. Chase of Omaha.

The last exercise of the day was the competitive military drill, held in Omaha last night. The cash prizes were awarded as follows: Company E, (Ballingall Rifles) Shenandoah, 1st prize; Company C, Glenwood, 2nd prize; Company B, Villisca, 3rd prize; Company H, Greenfield, 4th prize. The Omaha Guards were awarded the trophy over Company A, of Council Bluffs, winning it by five points.

Eight Mile Grove.
Oct. 30, 1888.
We are having elegant corn husking weather.

J. R. Vallery will finish up husking his corn this week.

Rev. E. Howes will occupy the pulpit at the M. E. church Sunday morning.

Mr. E. McCombes and mother have gone to central Illinois to visit at their old home.

S. M. Davis has bought Lewis Cole's farm, consisting of a quarter section of land. The consideration is $5,400.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White are in the neighborhood at present. Mr. White has engaged to teach the winter term of school in the McNardin district.

Aaron Batterton will give the youth and beauty a dance at his residence on the 2nd of November.

H. W. Vallery has returned from Valparaiso where he has been hunting up the cattle that he lost from his herd this summer.

William Jamerson, of Weeping Water drove down here on Sunday to employ one of our most influential men to canvass this end of the county, and electioneer for the removal of the county seat to Weeping Water. He got no help whatever. The west end of the county is quietly but earnestly working for a removal, and they are sure it will be carried and that Weeping Water will gain the victory this time.

OBSEVER.
Mr. BEESON is our present county attorney and the nominee of our party. He is an able lawyer, an honest man and a fearless prosecutor. Do the people of Cass county want to exchange this public servant of ability, honesty and experience for Mathew Gering? We submit the question and apprehend that it is only necessary to call the attention of the public and democratic voters alike to the proposition.

Look out for democratic lies.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

There is no doubt about the designs of the democratic leaders of the McShane clique; while they make war on Gov. Thayer, they do not expect to defeat him but they do hope to capture the legislature of this state. This is their design and money is being freely placed to accomplish that object. This would insure the return of John A. McShane to the United States senate from Nebraska and with a like gain in another quarter the senate of the United States would become democratic and the solid south be again restored to its ancient inheritance of the full and complete control of this government. Then should Mr. Harrison be elected he would be powerless to act. Dakota would be kept out of the union and four years from now the political status of the country would be precisely as it is today. Mr. Harrison as president and the republicans in possession of congress the rights of Dakota would be recognized, two new republican states would be added to the union and democracy with its free trade; its ballot box stuffing; its southern system of Mexicanization, would be relegated to the back ground never to figure again in American affairs until it was reorganized on a platform in harmony with our free institutions. Cannot the republican party of Nebraska see all this? Cannot the republican party of Cass county see this? and honestly unite on our legislative ticket? If the policy of supporting McShane democrats by leading republicans in Cass county because of disappointments in controlling nominations, is to prevail, it would be well to abandon the party organization at once. If a man stands back, sulks over the nominations, saying, "Oh yes I will support the ticket but I don't like the nominees" he is in point of fact throwing his weight and influence against the ticket and his party. This is poor politics. It is not square dealing, for if a nomination is fit to be supported at all, it is fit to be supported honestly and bravely; especially by the leaders of a party which are continually asking and receiving favors as party men. Milton D. Polk, Edwin Jeary, Nichols Satchel, John C. Watson, Allen Beeson, Ammi B. Todd and Herman Schmidt are the nominees of the republicans of Cass county fairly nominated and they are all good men. Equal in every respect and in many the superior of those nominated by the democracy of the county. So we urge upon all republicans and especially upon those recognized as the leading men of the party, who have received substantial benefits at its hands, to come up like men and support this ticket. No other course can be adopted with success and no other course will satisfy the rank and file of the party, who are in earnest and honest in their support of the men and principles of their party. If our ticket is defeated it will be done by means unpardonable in this year of our national contest, for Cass county is a republican county and entitled to republican representation.

There seems to be considerable uneasiness among leading republicans of Douglas county for fear Cass county will return a democratic delegation to the next legislature.

There certainly is enough to do for our republican neighbors up there, to purify the hybrid politics of that county, which is never republican unless it be for Douglas county men and measures. Cass county is republican from principle and Douglas county for Douglas county.

When Omaha republicans get through booming John A. McShane and training with him, it will be time for the leaders of that county to take a lively and saving interest in Cass county's welfare.

This county is republican and we shall do our best to give a good account of it.

"Doubting Thomases," remarked an eminent divine, "must exist in ratio to the too credulous." The habit of cautiousness is not, as a general thing, inborn, but is the result of a natural generous and confiding nature repeatedly victimized by the cunning and crafty.

So the many disappointments, and often injurious effects, arising from the use of various vaunted remedies, have induced an undue cautiousness, and, in many cases, entire abandonment of the use of any. We call attention to the remedies of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, which physicians are employing in their practice with the most beneficial results. His "Golden Medical Discovery," for diseases of the lungs and kidneys, heart affections, fever and ague, dropsy, and all diseases of the blood, has never failed when put to the test.
