Material Used and Its Artistic Effect. Conveniences and Interior Arrangement, Bedrooms and Parlors-Lecture Room. Children's Playground.

Among the buildings erected for the purpose of supplying comfortable, decent and economical dwellings at a very moderate cost, that put up in Greenpoint by Charles Pratt is worth noting. It is to accommodate 116 families, and is a six story structure of such massive proportions as to attract attention from the river, which it faces. It extends 200 feet on Franklin street, 125 feet on India street and 75 feet on Java street. The chief material used is brown stone, brick and terra cotta. There are bay windows, artistic cornices and gables so that its effect is not monotonous. There are really six separate buildings, which would have in them when quite full about 100 persons each.

On the Franklin street side there are twenty-one families, who use one entrance, nineteen families use a second entrance, and seventeen families a third entrance. On the India street side twenty-six families use one entrance and twenty-one families another. On prietor, who was behind the bar, noticed from all the others. All the halls are fireproof. The steps are heavy blue stone slabs, inserted in brick walls. The staircases are nicely proportioned low risers, with broad steps. The turns are made on square platforms, with ample light at each platform. These staircases are kept heated, lighted with gas, and cleaned without expense to the tenant.

ROOMS AND THEIR RENT. The rents range from $8,50 to $20 per month. For $20 there are suites of seven rooms, every room with a window in it opening on a wide air space, giving two parlors, a sitting room, two bedrooms, a dining room, a kitchen and a scullery. The scullery goes with each set of apartments, and its completeness is a great feature of this building. It contains an earthenware washtub, with hot and cold water, a large sink and an ash chute, in which all refuse may be emptied, leading to the cellar. Each family has a separate water closet, with a window in it opening into the scullery. Each scullery is ventilated by an opening into a flue built for the purpose, leading to the roof. Each kitchen has a range and hot water boiler. Each tenant has a separate coal and wood bin in the cellar, a separate portion of the yard to be used for drying clothes, and has access to an elevator which can lift 200 pounds at a

There is a folding table in each living room, and a closet to nearly every room. Wainscoting prevents damage to walls. There are galvanized iron boxes on the window sills for flowers. Picture moldings are secured to all the walls, and the tenants are supplied with hooks, so that there is no temptation to mar the walls with nails. The rooms average 140 square feet. Each closet has shelves and | propti ter that he was hungry, had no hooks enough to meet the wants of the most closet worshiping matron.

The plumbing work of the building is a vast network of pipes. The heaviest material in lead and iron pipe was used. Eleven tanks, holding 25,000 gallons of water on the roof, supply the three upper floors, and can be used also for the three lower floors in case the pressure is not sufficient from the city pipe.

CELLAR AND BASEMENT. The bedrooms and parlors are trimmed with white wood, filled, varnished and rubbed. Great pains have been taken to secure a perfectly dry cellar and basement. The foundation walls rest on a dry gravel bottom. They are covered with asphalt and have a bitumen damp course. In the basement there are commodious bath rooms for the use of the tenants. They are heated with steam, and have marble floors and wainscoting. The wood work is polished ash.

There is a reading room, or lecture room, on Java street for the free use of the tenants. It is lighted, heated and supplied with the leading newspapers and periodicals.

The suites of four rooms rent for $18 per month. They comprise parlor, bed-room, dining room, kitchen and scullery. Some of these four room flats are rented as low as $13.50 per month. The three room suites rent for from $9 to $13.50

Children are not permitted to play on the staircases or in the hallways, but ! they have a grand romping place in the big yard, which covers about 8,000 square feet of open space. Although the buildings are substantially fireproof, there are fire escapes connecting each floor with the ground. The buildings were erected that it would give him great pleasure to accept our invitation, but he thought for him, and are now managed by a building company. Before the plans were completed there was a thorough study of the model apartment houses of London, built by George Peabody, the Baroness | happ Burdett-Coutts, Sir Sidney Waterlow and others, as well as later structures in New York and Brooklyn. The aim was to secure the maximum of comfort and result, however, had been conjectured as safety at the minimum of cost. It has attracted a class of permanent careful tenants. The building has never been full, but it is filling up rapidly. It is proposed to give a few courses of lectures in the reading room this winter. When the apartments are all filled the investment, which is about $450,000, will pay, after meeting the expenses, about 5 per cent. The income of this building is an endowment-by Mr. Pratt of the Pratt Institute. The original plan comprised the establishment of co-operative stores similar to the plan of the Rochdale stores in England, but this has not yet been developed. -New York Sun.

Giving Away Dice Boxes-Why the Cards Were "Sacrificed."

A dapper looking young man dropped in at a Dearborn street resort one day not long ago and inquired for the proprictor. When informed by the white proned young man who eaters to the thir t of the customers in the absence of the proprietor that the latter was not in, the dapper young man unwrapped package which he carried and produced a new dice box containing the regulation five dice. He stated that he office. represented a certain patent medicine, the proprietors of which thought of giving out these dice boxes as an advertisement, and, if he succeeded in placing enough of them to make it an object, he would come around later and stencil an advertisement on the boxes. He begged permission to leave that one for the proprictor, with his compliments, and, as | by the dice boxes in use were somewhat shabby, the white aproned man gladly ecepted the new one and thanked the dapper youth. When the proprietor turned up a little later he was pleased with the gift and threw away the old

Each house is separate ing for money was the heaviest winner, and, in the course of the afternoon, one of the proprietor's friends, who had gone into the game, lost $90, the bulk of which went to the hig man. There was something populiar in the way in which he handled the box, and, after he left, the propel for examined it carefully.

While he was thus engaged an old friend of his, who had for years traveled with a circus, came in. He knows all of the (ricks with dice, and, when asked if here was anything wrong with this paricular outfit, he picked it up, looked at it, and then said: "Yes, it's what is called a California smooth box, and in anothed hands it is a sure thing. You notice that the inside of the box is as month as glass and that the dice are pereet cubes, with square corners. an who understands it can shake two pair on the square, and when he picks last week. in the odd die he can slide it into the box with the desired spots on the upper face, hake it up and down carefully, and the ame spots will slide out and fill the hand -like this," and the circus man demontrated the idea. Election Returns Sixty Years Ago,

Juni sixty years ago Jackson's first election took place, and I find by reference to Niles' Register that the details were uncertain so late as the 24th of the ing December. This fact is given in the following paragraph:

"A letter from a member of the com-nition of Pittsburg, dated Dec. 24, to a angement relative to it should be a d until the result of the election rfectly ascertained. Then if the stances permitted he would be to become the guest of our city." The above paragraph appeared in Nil Register of Jan. 10, 1829, more than two months after the election. The early in the 22d of November, and The Register of that date says: "Not heard from Rhode Island, South Carolina, Terrance, Alabama, Louisiana, Missisllinois and Missouri, all of which ode Island and Louisiana are conto Jackson, so that he will be by a very large majority. Troy Times. Effect of Stage Cosmetles.

As at the effect of "make up"—that is, of prints—upon the health a word may be of both interest and use. The opinion that they are very deleterious is just about as unintelligent and false as the Any cosmetic is injurious to the exion. The mere mechanical action ... aghens the skin and enlarges the I question if there be a profession ! of five years' experience whose mis had not assumed a tint and hard less inconsistent with the highest But this is the limit of the infar as the vast majority of stage ts is concerned. On the other the perspiration induced by exent, hard work, and, it may be, I dressing rooms, and the repeated washings and scrubbings to which the face is forever subjected, keep the skin in carellent condition and prevent the erustions and blemishes so common to the existed world. In many cases when actors are naturally careless of their appearance and neglectful, "make up" is a sing and bestows upon them a lead lifer and handsomer complexion that they would otherwise have. -Draw's Magazine, HOW CAN PARENTS

What Am I To Do?

The symptoms of biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A oilious man is seldom a breakfast eater.
