It is safe to say that none were disappointed, for Mr. Small dealt with the question in a most practical way from start to close of his lecture, being frequently applauded for his humorous and telling hits for the amendment. Mr. Small compared prohibition Iowa with high license Nebraska as to taxation showing that prohibition does not increase taxation, but decreases it and that very appreciably. Mr. Small is a very fluent speaker, clear in argumentation and sincere in his work. He left this morning for Friend, this state, there to deliver two lectures, then goes to Salt Lake City. BLAINE TELLS HOW TO GRASP IT.

Reference of the Silver Bill-The Speaker Slightly Disfigured, but His Backbone Is Perpendicular.

Washington, June 20.—The president transmitted to congress the report and recommendations of the international conference on "customs union." The report upon the "customs union" adopted by the international American conference is accompanied by a letter of Mr. Blaine to the president, briefly reviewing the proceedings of the conference, which declared that partial reciprocity between the American republies was not only practicable, but must increase the trade and the development of the material resources of the countries adopting that system, and it would in all probability bring about as favorable results as those obtained by free trade among the different states of this Union. The conference recommended. therefore, that the several governments represented negotiate reciprocity treaties upon such a basis as would suit the situations, conditions and interests of each country and with a view to promote their common welfare. "Only those Writes Mr. Blaine,

'who have given the subject careful study realize the magnitude of the commerce of these sister nations. In 1888, the combined imports of Chili and the Argentine Republic reached the enorm-ous sum of $233,127,698. The statistics of Chilian commerce for 1889 have not yet been received, but the imports of the Argentine Republic for that year were $143,000,000. These imports consisted in the greater part of articles that could have been furnished by the manufacturers of the United States, yet in 1888, of the total of $233,000,000 imports we contributed but $13,000,000, while England contributed $99,000,000; Germany $43,000,000 and France $34,000,000. With our extraordinary increase in population, and the even more extraordinary increase in material wealth, our progress in trade with South America has been strangely hindered and limited. In 1868 our total exports which $53,197,000 went to Spanish

America, 14 per cent. In 1888 Our Exports to all the World were $742,368,000, (an increase of 100 per cent.) while but $69,273,000 went to Spanish America, a little more than 9 per cent., and the greatest gain ($9,000,-000) has been noticed the last two

"It was the unanimous judgment of the delegates that our exports to those countries and to the other republics could be increased to a great degree by the negotiation of such treaties as are recommended by the conference. The practical, every day experience of our merchants engaged in the trade demonstrates beyond a question that in all classes of merchandise which we have long and successfully produced for export, they are able to compete with their European rivals in quality and in prices, and the reiterated statements

Latin-American Neighbors

do not buy of us because we do not buy of them, or because we tax their products, has been annually contradicted by the statistics of our commerce for a quarter of a century. The lack of means for reaching the markets has been the chief obstacle in the way of increased exports. The carrying trade has been controlled by European merchants, who have forbidden an exchange or commodities. The merchandise we sell in South America is carried there in American ships, or foreign ships chartered by American commission houses. that never take return cargoes, but sail for Liverpool, Havre, Bremen or Hamburg with wheat, corn and cotton. There they load again with manufactured goods for the South American markets and continue their triangular voyages, paying for the food they are compelled to buy of us with the proceeds of the sale of their manufactures in markets that we could, would supply, if we controlled

The Carrying Trade.

"The conference believed sthat, while great profit would come to all the countries if reciprocity treaties should be adopted, the United States would be by far the greatest gainer. Nearly all the articles we export to our neighbors are subjected to heavy customs taxes; so heavy in many cases as to prohibit their consumption by the masses of the peo ple. On the other hand more than 87 per cent. of our imports from Latin-America are admitted free, leaving but 12 per cent, upon which duties may still be removed. But mindful of the fact that the United States has from time to time removed the duties from coffee, cocoa, india rubber, hides, cinchora bark, dye and cabinet woods and other Latin-America products, our government may confidently ask the concessions sug-

would be drawn alike from our farms. our factories and our forests. None of the Latin-American countries produce building lumber; the most of them are dependent upon for eign markets for their breadstuffs and provisions, and in few is there any opportunity or inclina-tion for mechanical industry. The effect of such reciprocity would be felt in every portion of the land.

The Opinion Was General arhong the foreign delegates that the d6t legislation herein referred to would lead to the opening of new and profitable markets for the products of which we orate every branch of agricultural and mechanical industry. Of course the ex-change involved in these propositions would be rendered impossible if con-attained by the reciprocal arrangement suggested."
