Killed by a Base Ball.
A Kearney special says that on last Saturday a young man by the name of Clarence Rice, living in the north part of this county, was struck in the temple by a bounding ball thrown by a fellow player. He made light of the injury but after playing twenty minutes fell unconscious and died in half an hour. The day was exceedingly hot, and it is thought the heat had as much as the blow to do with his death. He leaves a wife and two children.

The Cass County Normal Institute for 1890 will be held at Weeping Water, August 18th to 30th. We are in receipt of information through the kindness of County Superintendent Noble to the effect that accommodations will be ample for all teachers who may wish to attend, and at a less cost than it would be under the Chautauqua plan. Able instructors will be in charge and excellent work may be expected.
