UNDER THE WHEELS.

Horribly Mangled by a Freight Train at 4:25 A. M.

This morning at 4:25 occurred in the yards what will prove a fatal accident.

As No. 63 freight with Conductor J. N. Dority, was taking in some cars, at the hour above named, just at the switch house above the depot in the yards here Ed Tulp, a brakeman, was run over and the right leg and arm horribly mangled. It seems that he was about to make a coupling and must have been caught by the brake beam and thrown under the wheels they passing over the limbs with the above results.

Mr. Tulp resided in Omaha with his wife, who was expected to return from a visit in Michigan Saturday, but had not returned yesterday. His people live in New Hampshire.

Mrs. Dority, the good wife of the conductor, knowing the wounded man was among strangers, and being a friend to the family, came down with her husband on the passenger and has attended at the bedside of the unfortunate man all day, at the B. & M. infirmary, where he was conveyed immediately after the accident occurred.

LATER.

Some one on the Journal force seems to have taken umbrage at our reference Friday to the return of Mr. Sherman from the state convention, and forced the construction that we were exultant at his illness. That is anything but true, as we were not aware that he was in any way indisposed at the time we referred to him, and did it in no unkind spirit.

No one but an ill-tempered individual would force such a construction in order to have something to take exception to. We are pleased to note that Mr. Sherman is so improved as to be out again.

WEeping WATER, July 25, 1890.

Mrs. John Burns was returning from the quarries south of the city, Friday where her husband is working. While crossing a railroad bridge, carrying a baby in a carriage containing the baby, and leading another child, she was struck by a freight train, crushing her head and breaking her limbs, killing her instantly. One child was seriously injured and one escaped unhurt. The little girl escaped by lying down by the side of the track till the train passed by. Coroner Unruh was summoned to hold an inquest over the body Saturday, with the following jurors: H. G. Race, D. T. Dudley, J. M. Cole, C. A. Webster, J. A. Whitman and A. L. Democratic Convention.

The democrats met today at 11 o'clock, in Fitzgerald's hall, to nominate congressional and state delegates. All that was done this forenoon was to form a temporary organization, and adjourned till 2 o'clock, when permanent organization was effected with Jacob Vallery in the chair and Dr. W. H. Dearing, of Wabash, as secretary and Frank Morgan, of this city, as assistant.

After considerable of confusion the following list of delegates for the Congressional Convention was handed to the secretary:

- J. M. Stone, W. H. Dearing, H. D. Travis, W. D. Wheeler, S. B. McLean, J. C. Gilmore, A. Loder, Fred Race, Jacob Vallery, sr., J. H. Green, Geo. Hashman, J. M. Roberts, Wm. Neville, D. C. McEnroe, A. Baxter Smith and Pat McCallan.

As soon as the secretary was through reading the names a vote was taken by the precincts which was unanimous.

The chair announced that they would proceed to elect delegates to the state democratic convention and before he could take his seat W. B. Shryock handed the secretary the following cut and dried list of delegates which was unanimously adopted:

- S. C. Patterson, S. F. Rockwell, W. A. Hase, R. B. Wallace, W. B. Shryock, J. Vallery jr., J. E. Gilmore, Mt Pleasant, J. F. John Green, Geo. Stohman, Dr. J. C. Brendel, of Avoca, H. L. Oldham, Elsie Lewis, M. O'Rourke, H. L. Grimes, Dr. E. L. Siggins, C. M. Butler and J. L. Farthing.

Dr. Siggins then made a motion that the delegates to the state convention be instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Mathew Gerring for attorney general of the state.

Mathew Gerring then moved that Wm. Neville be elected chairman of the congressional delegates, which was unanimously carried, when a motion was put before the house to adjourn several parties jumped to their feet to make new motions, but the chairman adjourned the meeting, when every one seemed in a hurry to get away from the place as if they were ashamed to be caught there.

Epworth Entertainment.

The services at the M. E. Church last evening were of a very interesting nature. The Epworth League, an organization of the young people of the church presented a pleasing program consisting of music and recitations. The productions were of a high grade and were well rendered throughout. The fact that all the parts were well taken renders it unnecessary to make special mention of the different persons on the program. The thanks of the league are extended to the Y. M. C. A. quartet which rendered several selections, which were well received by the crowded house that had gathered to enjoy the program. The league is organized for work and showed by their efforts last night that nothing undertaken is to be half done.

We note the following from Louisville to the convention today: W. B. Shryock, S. D. Claron, Frank Stander, S. P. Backwell, Wm. Osenkopp and M. D. Ruby.

The Salyation people were favored with a large audience last night, and reasonably good order prevailed. They close their meetings tonight after a series of three weeks.

Gustus Reiger, a German living at No. 923 Second street, just across the alley from Judge Archer, got full yesterday and proceeded to smash the dishes, abuse his family and disturb the peace generally. Judge Archer went over and placed him under arrest and in jail till this morning. Marshal Dunn filed a complaint against him for disturbing the peace, and he plead guilty and was fined $5 and costs of the prosecution, and entered into a bond for security of the payment of the same.

TARIFF BILL GOES.

The Senate Caucus Decides to Push it Through.

PROGRESS OF THE CENSUS WORK.

About 85 Per Cent. of the Population Returns Are In—Bulletins on Bonded Indebtedness Will Soon Be Published—Speaker Reed and Business.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—After long discussion on the tariff bill, Mr. Turpie addressed the senate in favor of Mr. Nicholson's resolution to recommit the bill with instructions. The question was taken on the motion to recommit and it was defeated by a strict party vote—yeas, 19; nays, 29.

The reading of the bill by paragraphs for amendment was begun—the first schedule being that as to chemicals, oils and paints. Senator McPherson moved to reduce the duty on acetic or pyrolytic acid not exceeding the specific gravity of .147 from 14 cent to 1 cent per pound, and acid exceeding that specific gravity from 4 to 3 cents per pound. The vote was: yeas, 15; nays, 23. NO QUORUM.

Mr. Elshah offered a resolution (which was agreed to) calling on the secretary of war for information as to the rules established for admission to soldiers' homes: if such admissions are based wholly or in part on the amount of pension; and whether exceptions to these rules have been made, and in what cases and for what reasons.

The Census.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—About 85 per cent. of the populations for the entire country have been received at the census bureau, and Superintendent Porter hopes, with the present rate of counting, to have the rough estimate of the population of the country ready in a few weeks. While the energies of the office are being pushed toward securing the result of the count of the people, other inquiries connected with the census are also being pushed forward, and Superintendent Porter hopes within a week to begin the publication of bulletins giving the results of these special inquiries. To show how well in hand the census work is, compared with ten years ago, Superintendent Porter states that about this time ten years ago, as chief of the division of wealth, debt and taxation, he was just putting out the schedules; while now the office is getting ready to announce the results of this inquiry. Bulletins will also soon be issued giving the bonded indebtedness of 888 cities now and in 1880; and statistics of state production, of insurance and on street railroads.

Gone to Chicago with Her Hub.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Miss Lillie B. Porter, daughter of Wm. D. Porter, and grand niece of Admiral Porter, of the United States navy, disappeared from home, 106 Sixth street northeast, last Saturday morning. In the evening her parents received a note from her saying she was married and that she had gone to Chicago with her husband. Miss Porter's friends say that she was married in June secretly to a young man named O'Brien, at one time clerk in a hotel here. In her note to her parents Miss Porter did not mention her husband's name.

Reed's Tactics.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—It is understood that Speaker Reed has determined, as soon as the minority show a disposition to obstruct legislation or demand a quorum for transaction of business, to summon all the members to their seats and grant no leave of absence except on account of sickness. Such action would be very hard on Republicans and Democrats alike, as there are many members of each side absent.

Star Route Service.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The contract recently made by the postoffice department for star route service shows a decrease in the annual rate of expenditure of $247,474, an increase of 1,501,982 in the number of miles traveled per annum, or 5.8-10 per cent., and a decrease of cost per mile of travel of 1.13. This service amounts to 31,034,295 miles traveled per annum at an annual cost of $1,223,793.

Will Push the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—At the adjournment of the caucus of Republican senators, Senator Sherman, in giving out an official statement of the results of the caucus, said the only action of the caucus was an agreement to have the senate meet at 10 o'clock, beginning on Wednesday, and to push the tariff bill to a vote.

POLICE SAVED HIM.

An English Champion Badly Pummelled by an American Pug.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The fifteen-round go between Charley Smith, who claims the featherweight championship of England, and Sim Collins of New York, which has been a good deal advertised during the last three weeks, was begun at Odd Fellows hall, Hoboken, in the presence of a house full of spectators. The men wore gloves that weighed something less than four ounces. They had trained systematically for the bout, and were both in good form. Jimmy Carroll, the Brooklyn middleweight, was one of Smith's seconds, and George Reynolds, the New York lightweight, was among those in Collins' corner. Morris Lee was referee. A large proportion of the crowd was made up of Hebrews, who cheered Smith at every opportunity. The stakes were $250 a side, and the winner was to receive 65 per cent. of the gate receipts. The Englishman had a shade the best of the first and second rounds, but after that was scarcely in it, except in one or two rallies. He succeeded in knocking Collins down twice with blows on the breast, but on both occasions Collins, who is not a clever sparrer, was caught with his feet together. Collins assumed the aggressive nearly all the way through, and by superior strength and rushing tactics planted many severe blows on Smith's face and stomach. His uppercuts were particularly vicious, and in the third, fourth and fifth rounds Smith was saved from a knock-out only by the call of time. It was hard fighting on Collins' part and a game showing by Smith, who began his movements in fancy style, but soon dropped all style and got down to business in trying to avoid the New Yorker's rushes. In the middle of the eighth round, which was not so severe as any of its predecessors, just after Smith had landed a solid left-hander on Collins' breast, the police jumped on the platform and forbade the affair to continue. There had been pretty good order in the house and the action of the authorities was a complete surprise. The referee called the match a draw.

The New Zealander Wins.

NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—Arthur Upham of New London, Conn., and Bob Fitzsimmons, the New Zealander, fought four rounds before the Audubon Athletic association for a purse of $1,300. Fitzsimmons had Upham at his mercy, and the fight was a tame one. Upham was game, but no match for Fitzsimmons, who begged Upham to give in in the second round, but this Upham refused to do. In the fourth round a blow on the chin sent him to the floor and he stayed there. Fitzsimmons was awarded the fight.

Killed His Brother with a Table Fork.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—The death of Chas. F. Thompson aged 17 years, was reported to the coroner by the physician who attended the lad. From the physician's statement it appears that while eating dinner at his home on July 16 in company with his brother Daniel, 14 years, and another boy, Charles, 10, persistently teased his younger brother that the latter, becoming enraged, threw his fork at him with considerable force. The times of the conventional weapon struck Charles in the stomach and buried themselves so deep as to remain sticking in the flesh. Blood poisoning ensued and this is assigned as the cause of his death.

Flaw in a Kansas Law.

ATCHISON, Kan., July 29.—The omission of the words "in the penitentiary" after the word imprisonment in the crimes act may make the law inoperative and release from jail many persons now serving time. ACCIDENT'S CALL.

Baltimore Excursionists Meet with a Sad Experience.

STEAMERS COLLIDE IN THE BAY.

Four Persons Killed, Seventy-five Injured and a Number Missing, Supposed to Have Drowned—Hairbreadth Escape of a Cleveland and Pittsburg Train.

BALTIMORE, July 29.—The excursion steamer Louise and the Bay line steamer Virginia, struck the starboard quarter of the Louise about the after-gangway. The collision nearly turned the Virginia around, so great was the force. There was no great excitement aboard our boat, although when the collision occurred a man, one lady and a child climbed over. They did not return. When I left the Louise I saw no one in the water. If any went overboard they must be under the water, not on top. When the collision occurred the people on the Louise rushed to the side where the Virginia struck. I do not want to cast any reflection on the captain of the Louise, but I believe he was wrong.

The captain of the Louise disclaims all responsibility for the accident and intimates that the blame is entirely with the Bay Line steamer. The Louise was carrying 1,450 passengers and the scene on board was a awful one. It will not be possible to learn until morning, if then, the number missing and probably drowned.

THE LAWRENCE CYCLONE.

The Work of Repair Going Rapidly Forward—The Relief Work.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 29.—The work of repairing the damage caused by the recent cyclone has been going on rapidly, except about the wholly destroyed houses, whose owners for the most part are too poor to rebuild. These people are heavily in debt, and their only hope is to have the government help them. A number of houses still serves as a main-mooring lodging house for the sufferers, as well as the headquarters for the infantry. The artillery was relieved at 6 o'clock last evening by Capt. Joubert's command of the Ninth regiment, with Lieut. Sand as officer of the day and Lieut. O'Grady as officer of the guard. To-day being circus day, there will be large crowds in the city. The desolated district will be closely guarded by the battery, assisted by company L, Eighth Infantry, of North Andover. The relief fund for the sufferers is swelling rapidly. At a meeting of citizens Mayor Crawford presided and addresses were made by Hon. A. L. Stone, Maj. Geo. S. Merrill, Hon. Daniel Saunders and the local clergy. The total amount of subscriptions announced as turned in is $7,007, and as much more is in the hands of the collectors.

A Hairbreadth Escape.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 29.—A hairbreadth escape from a terrible disaster occurred on the Cleveland and Painesville railroad here at 1 o'clock a. m. The midnight express ran through a cross-swing jumped the track, and plunged its way along the ties until some freight cars were struck, which brought it to a standstill. The train was full of passengers, and the result of the wreck would have been frightful. Fireman Maley had a leg broken in jumping.

The Monitor Plow Works Burned.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 28.—The plant of the Monitor plow works in this city, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $115,000, of which $75,000 is on the buildings and $40,000 the stock.
