Some Suggestions Concerning the Cass County Fair.

If there ever was one time more than another when farmers and merchants ought to take an interest in our county fair, it is now. Besides, this is the kind of a year to test the good producer. Anybody can raise a crop some years. The farmer then who cares to keep up his reputation as a producer, instead of standing around on the street complaining about poor crops, should gather up what he has and come to the fair and pick $50 or $100 in premiums. They will be easier to get this year than last and there is over $2,000 for somebody. For premium list address R. B. Windham, secretary, Plattsmouth.

J. C. Eikenbary was in the city last evening.

Hon. R. B. Windham was in Omaha today on business.

Miss Kate Hempel and Mrs. Geo. Dodge were in Omaha today.

Miss Nettie Ballance left this morning for a ten days visit in Council Bluffs.

Harley Whiting and wife came this morning for a visit with friends here.

Mrs. B. F. Turner, of Omaha, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. B. S. Ramsey. Her two little daughters accompany her.

Thos. Bignell, a machinist in the shops until about two months ago, died in Colorado and will be brought here for burial.

Fred Murphy was sailing around the town this afternoon wearing a great big smile. He says it is a boy and will vote against "Bill" Cushing.

Hon. A. W. Crites of Chadron, came in on the flyer from Omaha where he has been attending the late democratic convention, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Ramsey.

C. D. Grimes, clerk in the county court, got back from Omaha this morning where he had been for the first time, and where he went to take items from the democratic statesmen of Nebraska.

The Cass county fair opens just one month from today, September 15, and continues until the 19th.

The HERALD sometime last spring made mention of the departure for Africa of the following party, to be missionaries of the gospel in the Soudan country: Mr. and Mrs. E. Kingman, Mr. F. M. Gates, Mr. Helmick and Miss Jennie Dick, of Topeka, Kansas; Roy G. Coddling, of York, Nebraska; W. J. Harris, of Wisconsin and James Tice, (colored) of South Carolina. The party all arrived safely in Sierra Leon, West Africa, and began the study of the Mandingo language, which tribe of Africans is their objective field in which to work. But news was received this week from Freetown, Africa, (where the party now are) of the death on July 9th of Messrs. Gates and Harris, by African fever, followed on the 15th by the death of Mrs. Kingman. Messrs. Kingman and Helmick were also sick, but the latest word reports their recovery. The rest of the party were not afflicted. Mr. Coddling has a number of friends in this city, having visited Plattsmouth last winter and spoke in the churches regarding the dark continent of Africa. Also a sum of some $80 was contributed by Plattsmouth people interested in sending the gospel to Africa, and they will all doubtless be interested to learn at any time the latest report of the party, whether of success or apparently unfortunate results.

A SHORT STRIKE.

Bricklayers on the New Hotel Called off by the Steward Yesterday.

Lincoln News.

A little difference between the foreman and the steward on the job of bricklaying at the new hotel, Ninth and P streets, yesterday afternoon, caused a short cessation of work. Andrew Klewits, of Omaha, is the brick contractor, and had eight men at work, but four of them were not laboring yesterday. Klewits went up to Omaha in the morning, and left his brother Peter to boss the job. The steward on the job, Frank Gardner, who is, by the union rules, in charge of the interests of the men, discovered that Peter was or is said to have been an employer of "scab" labor in Omaha, and he therefore called out the men at work. It is said that Gardner had been drinking some, and the men protested against being called off when their rules prohibited a contractor from being a member of the union, but Gardner was obdurate, and they had to quit.

This morning, however, they were sent back to work by the union, the whole matter being satisfactorily settled with Contractor Klewits, and the work of building Lincoln's grand hotel will not be interrupted in the least. Gardner was let out of his job this morning when the contractor returned. Mr. Klewits said that he had gone away for but a few days, and that he desired his brother to act as foreman while he was away. Gardner went around and asked several of the men for money to buy beer, but he didn't get any. The other men did not approve of his action in calling them off, but according to their rules had to quit when he ordered them to.

News From Bennett

The following is from Bennett, Neb., from one of the HERALD's old correspondents:

"The crops are very poor, but the late rains will help the corn beyond the farmers' expectation. The corn all through this vicinity will be about one half a crop, some fields more, some less. I have seen corn sell here on the street at 43 cents per bushel. Oats is a ready sale at 30 to 32 cents, very light crop of cereals. A great deal of old corn on hand. Potatoes are selling at $1.25 per bushel. Live stock is cheap. Very few apples.

The body of Thomas Bignell arrived on the flyer this afternoon.

Miss Mate Nowell was a western passenger on the flyer this morning.

Dr. Shipman was called in consultation at Council Bluffs last evening. He returned this morning.

Robt. Dabb, of Le Mars, left for his home this morning, after spending a week visiting in this city.

Mrs. Coon Vallery, who has been dangerously sick for a week, was reported somewhat better last night.

Mrs. Geo. R. Chatburn left this morning for her home in Humboldt, after a prolonged visit with relatives here.

Deputy Sheriff John Tighe left this morning for Kearney with Willie Kerrigan, a candidate for the reform school.

Prof. McClellan is unloading his household effects today and getting in readiness for the fall term which opens two weeks from Monday.

This morning's paper announces that C. S. Graves, editing the Union Ledger, has been appointed post master at Union, Cass county, vice, R. H. France, removed.

H. D. Travis, of Weeping Water, has come out and announced himself as a candidate for the office of county attorney, subject to the decision of the democratic convention.

This morning's Bee reports that the grain dealers of this city have on hand 160,000 bushels of corn. 25,000 bushels are to be shipped, while 35 per cent of it is last year's crop.

John Davies, of Plattsmouth, the most popular young republican attorney in Cass county, and the next county attorney was in town Thursday night. John said this visit was purely of a business nature and had nothing to do with politics.—Weeping Water Republican.

Summer Complaint.—A druggist at Britt, Hancock county, Ia., relates his experience with this disease as follows: During the summer of 1882, my little girl, two years of age, was taken seriously ill with summer complaint, so common to children of that age, and after being treated by a physician and getting no better, I took from my shelves a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. She felt relieved after the first dose, and in three days was entirely well.—ALEX MOIR.
