From Friday's Daily.

Mr. Corwin, the inspector for the Equitable Trust Co. of Omaha, is in the city today with their efficient agent, R. W. Hyers.

Vannaram, of the Hotel Riley, had a disastrous runaway last evening that resulted in a badly smashed buggy, but no one was hurt.

Rev. E. H. Chapin makes out the fourth nominee for congress from this district. The prohibitionists placing him in nomination yesterday.

Phil Young's west show window contains by all odds the finest line of plush goods ever brought to this city. Don't fail to see it. Omaha could not surpass it.

The merchants ought to take an interest in the fair and get nice exhibits in the halls. The stock show promises to be the best ever shown in the county and Plattsmouth must keep up with the procession. Remember the dates—September 15, 16, 17 and 18.

The Indiana democrats in state convention at Indianapolis yesterday nominated J. O. Henderson, of the Kokomo Dispatch, for auditor; Albert Gall, for treasurer; A. G. Smith, for attorney general; A. M. Sweeney, for clerk of supreme court and H. D. Voris, superintendent of public instruction.

The prohibitionists yesterday completed their state ticket as follows: For governor, Dr. B. L. Paine, of Lincoln; for lieutenant-governor, Rev. George Woodby, a colored Baptist preacher, of Omaha was nominated; secretary of state, A. Watts, of Omaha; Treasurer, H. W. Hardy, of Lincoln; auditor, A. Fitch, of Merrick, county; attorney general, F. P. Wigton; superintendent public instruction, Mary R. Morgan, of Alma.

Convention Notes.

Lincoln Journal. "Watts the matter with Watts for secretary of state?" inquired a lady delegate meekly yesterday. There was no reply.

There was more oratory to the square inch in the prohibition crowd than there was even in the independent convention, although the suspicion was current at the latter that the delegates had assembled more to hear themselves talk than for work.

Many of the politicians were doubtless expecting to see in the convention a gentleman named Rankin, and wondering what county he would probably represent. He is a stock dealer who represented Logan county in the republican state convention and Blaine county in the democratic state convention. His cattle graze in several counties and he might have utilized one of them for prohibition.

J. H. Young and wife are in Omaha today.

J. W. Wilkenson went to Council Bluffs today.

S. B. McClaren is in the city today from Louisville.

W. L. Browne and Geo. H. Holten are in Omaha today.

Miss Ollie Boyd returned home from her visit last evening.

Dr. Parks, a first class roof contractor is in the city today.

Mrs. Nobles and Mrs. Patterson went to Omaha this morning.

Miss Majors, the kinder garten teacher arrived this morning from the east.

A. B. Smith pulled himself together this morning and started for Denver.

Mr. McCarthy, operator at South Omaha, visited his father C. McCarthy last evening.

The contractor, T. L. Murphy, we are sorry to state, is very sick at his residence in this city.

Fred Gorder went to Omaha and Council Bluffs today. Fred assured us positively that he would keep sober.

Mrs. J. C. Eikenbary returned home this morning, having stopped off in Plattsmouth from a visit to the Creston Blue Grass Palace.

Mrs. Latham returned home last evening from her week's visit at Central City. She is of the opinion that Plattsmouth is the nicest town in Nebraska.

There were five passengers to Pekin, Ill., last evening and one for Chicago.

The party who borrowed Phil Young's saw will confer a great favor by returning it at once.

One of the Louisville papers announces the fact that J. A. Connor has opened a photograph gallery in that place. This is not our Joseph nor even a namesake of his, but another Connor altogether.

D. F. Foster received a letter from a friend in Akron, Colorado, that does not give a glowing account of things in that country. He says that many of the people are moving out and abandoning their claims.

John H. Powers, the alliance gubernatorial candidate, will speak at Weeping Water tomorrow afternoon. If he can show any reason on earth why republicans should vote for him instead of Richards, we should like to hear of it.

Our free wagon bridge has reached within 200 yards of the shore on the other side of the river. Work is being pushed as rapidly as possible.—Louisville Advertiser.

W. J. Hesser has a fine dog that he prizes highly, but it is afflicted with a strange malady that threatens to prove fatal to him. The dog cannot open its mouth, nor can it be opened for him. The doctor says it is a clear case of lock jaw.

The barn and its contents consisting of one plow, set of double harness, some hay and numerous other articles in the way of farming implements belonging to A. G. Cline, near Louisville was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon.

The hill just south of the Hall house is being cut down and leveled off this week. When this work is completed, W. B. Shryock intends erecting a fine dwelling house on the same. This is one of the finest locations in the city for a residence.—Louisville Advertiser.

To show the rise in the price of corn the HERALD has taken the trouble to compile the figures since February 15th paid for corn by the dealers in this city, very carefully, which is as follows: Feb. 15, 16 cents; March 15, 17; Apr. 1, 18; Apr. 15, 21; Apr. 23, 22; May 7, 23; May 15, 25; May 23, 24; May 31, 23; June 7, 23; June 15, 24; July 7, 25; July 16, 26; July 23, 28; July 31, 33; Aug. 7, 35; Aug. 15, 38; Aug. 23, 38. This shows a handsome increase in values that will help out the farmer and everybody else.

John Mumm, Fred Herman, D. M. Jones, Linwood Skinner, Wm. Weber, Fred Egenberger, Prof. Poisel, Charley Yost and Pete Mumm made up a fishing party yesterday that went over the river. They were loaded for bear as well as fish and carried enough snake bite antidote to have taken them through the Jungles of Africa. As a result they came home safe last night with forty-seven black bass, sixty-one pickerel, seventy-one mountain trout, one salmon and nine suckers. We did not see the game but take the word of Cols Skinner, and Mumm as to the count and variety.

Mr. and Mrs. Roe Craig's six weeks old baby was badly burned yesterday. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Craig were out in the yard looking after something when Mr. Craig told the little girl to go in and look after the baby, as it was just growing dusk the lamp had been lit and the little girl picked up the lamp and walked over to the cradle and in trying to see the little one poured burning oil on the cradle, the clothing blazed up but fortunately only the babes forehead was exposed which was burned to a blister; the balance of its face being covered up saved its life. An alarm was given and the fire was smothered in a moment, yet it was a close call. The HERALD is glad that it was no worse and that the little one is getting along nicely.

Just Think of It.

The democrats of Cass will hold their county convention in Park Hall at Wabush next Wednesday, September 3rd. The local democracy will give them their dinner on the picnic style, and if the weather is favorable a large crowd of people will be present. Hon. W. J. Bryan, democratic candidate for congress, J. E. Boyd, nominee for governor, and several other of the nominees on the democratic state ticket will be present and address the convention. The affair will close with a grand ball at night. All people, regardless of party, are cordially invited to attend the festivities of the occasion and the local committee will look after their welfare.—Weeping Water Republican.

Consistent.

From Saturdays daily.

Bryan in stentorian tones at the Waterman Opera House says, "I am unalterably opposed to caucus rule, and I assure you that I would not yield my opinion to that of any set of men." The above was enthusiastically received by the Journal man as being the proper thing, yet we remember when this same Journal man read Saml J. Randall out of the party and called him a traitor for refusing to go into and abide by a decision of the democratic caucus in congress. We don't care to criticize the consistency of the Journal man particularly, as he would not know the definition of the word. But the idea that a democratic candidate for congress should be so weak mentally or should have such a poor opinion of his constituents as to suppose they would prefer the opinion or wisdom (if democrats desire to call it) of a young inexperienced, windy attorney over the opinions of men learned in the law, and who have spent the best part of their lives congress is ridiculous. Carlisle, Mills, Voorhees, Coke, Reagan, Springer and Morrison must take a back seat and give way to the opinion of the great "I am" from Nebraska, is the theory of the egotistic young man that is stumping the first district for congress on the democratic ticket. How do you like his style?

Fathers and mothers, you should call on Wildman & Fuller before you buy school books. d&wtf.

ALBERT BAUER.

The Fugitive From Justice Apprehended in Pennsylvania.

The readers of the HERALD will remember of the disgraceful crime of seduction charged against Albert Bauer early last spring and that the grand jury found a bill against him, but that he skipped the country. Owing to the vigilance of the sheriff and his deputy, Bauer has been apprehended and will be brought back here Monday or Tuesday for trial in the District Court.

Short Time.

Beginning Monday, on account of shorter days, the shopmen will hereafter work but nine hours per day. That is, from seven until twelve and from one to five. This rule goes into effect at the same time over the entire system.

Omaha First.

A press telegram from Washington this morning says: "A statement was issued by the census office tonight, showing the growth of street railroad lines in the last decade, which indicates that Omaha is the banner city of the entire country in this particular. Her street railroads have grown 998 per cent in the last ten years, which is a much greater growth than was shown by any other city. There is no better key to the growth of any city than the growth of its street railroads. Omaha, which, ten years ago, had only four and one-half miles, now has over eighty-nine miles. No other city shows any such growth, and only half a dozen cities show a greater length of road. Take Chicago, for instance, with her wonderful growth, the increase in her lines is only 129 per cent, phenomenal St. Paul has only increased her lines 443 per cent and Minneapolis 472 per cent. The city which comes nearest Omaha in the rate of growth of its lines is Denver, which shows a growth of 793 per cent.

Jesse Campbell was appointed guardian of the minor heirs of Peter D. and Elizabeth Hathaway, deceased.

Petition filed for appointment of Ed ward Stamm as administrator of August Reinhackle, deceased, hearing September 20th at 10 o'clock a. m.

Samuel J. Fleming appointed administrator of estate of Clarence G. Fleming, deceased.

Licenses issued today: Mr. Alfred Bell, aged 36, and Miss Phoebe Bruce, aged 36, of Nehawka.

Gust Hyers and Bert Holmes, a pair of as bright 17-year old rustlers as Plattsmouth affords, have gone to Omaha to arrange for going into the implement and buggy business. They drove up via Pacific Junction and will return this evening. The boys have got good metal in them and the HERALD hopes their venture may prove successful.

A Brutal Crime.

George Buschel was arrested last evening by constable Fred Kroehler and taken before Judge Ramsey to answer to the charge of committing the most dastardly of crimes, the crime of incest said to have been committed against three of his daughters aged respectively 11, 17, and 20 years and that the lecherous villain has been guilty of these acts for five years. His friends claim it is a put up job by his enemies and as the preliminary examination takes place Tuesday the HERALD will try and say as little as possible until the defendant has his day in court. He is out on a $500 bond furnished by Andrew Kerns.

The early golden sweet potatoe raised by J. W. Thomas is a daisy, one of them would make a meal for a whole family if the family was not too large.

Mrs. Miller and daughters Etta and Pearl after a pleasant visit with her brother A. J. Graves of this city returned to her home at Hillsdale, Ia. last night.

S. Brantner and daughter were called to Alliance this morning by telegram announcing the dangerous illness of Will Brantner who is suffering with mountain fever.

Henry Shafer purchased the 35 acre Moses Dodge tract the other day at sheriff sale for $775. It was certainly a very cheap piece of property at that figure.

This has been all over the country a remarkably dry, hot summer, yet we never saw such quantities of peaches, apples, peaches, plums and grapes in all varieties sweeter than honey and melons of every kind in this market as at the present time. It takes more than excessive dry weather to ruin crops in old Cass.

Warren Coon, a farmer blacksmith of South Bend but now residing in Ashland went down to the Bend Thursday and took in the picnic, after which he rounded up the saloon, got full and in an altercation which followed, he received a blow with brass knuckles or something equally as hard that broke his nose, badly disfiguring that useful member.

Henry Boeck on yesterday, by his attorneys, Beeson & Root, filed a petition in the district court, asking for a mandamus to compel the city council to pay the Beck judgement. When Mr. Boeck offered to put up a bond for $2,000 if the council would pay him his claim, which is drawing 7% interest, it looks very much to a man up a tree as though the idle money was worth something to somebody.

The following are the officers for the great bridge celebration to take place at Louisville Sept 24th: President of the day, Dr. A. V. Robinson; vice presidents, Dr. R. B. Wallace, Union; R. W. Hyers, Plattsmouth; Capt. J. D. Spearman, Springfield; R. S. Wilkerson, Weeping Water; E. J. Shoal, Springfield; A. C. Loder, Greenwood; James Campbell Papillion; S. C. Patterson, South Bend; J. D. Furguson, Manley; G. D. Clapp, Elmwood; Geo. E. Sayles, Cedar Creek.

A. R. Sutherland, a prominent farmer residing near Elmwood, came in this morning with his father-in-law, Seth Clark of Osceola, Ia., who appeared to be quite sick. They were on their way home but could not make connection with the M. P. at Omaha or Louisville, so they were compelled to remain here all day and will not get home until some time tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Minor, at their cozy home on Pearl street, entertained quite a company of young people last evening in honor of their guests, Miss Anna and Florence Weir of Omaha. The following prominent young people of this city were in attendance: The Misses Hattie Chapman, Edna Adams, Janet Livingston, Dora Fricke, Clara Palmer, Manota Eikenbary, Margaret Valley, Lorna Murray and Messrs. Ed Dutton, Geo. Palmer, Stuart Livingston, Charley Murphy, Guy Livingston, Charley Valley, Will Hyers and Charles Richey. A delightful time is reported, the entertaining game of progressive high five being the principal amusement. Charles Murphy and Miss Dora Fricke secured the king prizes while Ed Dutton and Maggie Valley unwillingly earned the booby prizes which were a cigar and stick of gum.

The teachers institute at Weeping Water closes today. It is said to have been a very successful affair.

The condition of T. L. Murphy last night was considered critical, but we are glad to be able to state that he is much better this morning.

Mr. Mayfield, of the Courier Journal, says Louisville will outskirt any celebration, at its bridge blowout next month, and probably he is correct.

The Omaha Fair begins next week. The Lincoln Fair begins on the following week, and the Cass county fair on the next following the state fair.

A big alliance picnic was held Thursday at Clyses grove near South Bend. Some of the alliance candidates were on the ground and entertained the crowd with political speeches which were well received.

There has been an unusual demand for houses within the past two weeks which has filled up nearly every vacant house to be found in the city. Dwellings for rent this fall bring good prices and from appearances good tenants.

Wm. Coon through his attorney H. D. Travis got an injunction against Patrick Tigh preventing him from cutting grass on some disputed territory. A motion to dissolve was argued before Judge Chapman today; the court continued the injunction in force by Coons filing a new bond. Beeson & Root appeared for Tigh.

Jim Price, the Iowa fisherman, whose face is familiar on our streets, had the misfortune to lose his house located at old Bethlehem, by fire about seven o'clock last evening. Only a part of his household goods were saved.

Bill Ellington, the first sheriff of Cass county, is a great man for water-melons, notwithstanding the dry year. He brought some in this morning that weighed forty pounds, if it had been seasonable Bill would have been compelled to bring them to market in sections.

The new monster engine is in position at the power house and will be started Tuesday night. The motor line could then be placed in operation, but owing to the track being torn up for the purpose of grading the Fairfield hill for the M. P. it will probably not be in running order for a week or two.

Mr. Frederick Nuecker, aged 43, and Mrs. Bartha Fisher, aged 38, of Plattsmouth.

In Police court Wm. Rushell charged with disturbing the peace on the complaint of A. F. Wildoy—case continued for 30 days.

Miss Major has returned from her home in Chicago and will re-open her Kindergarten in the Christian church Monday morning.

A damage suit was filed today in the district court by J. C. Peterson, against the Anheuser Busch Brewing Co. S. P. & E. G. Vanatta for plaintiffs.

The corn which Mr. Louis De. enderfer exhibited in this city to day at Hansens store is as fine as we ever saw and Louis says it will make over fifty bushels per acre.

Marshal Archer received a postal card describing a stolen team, buggy, etc. The buggy passed through town today that fitted the description down to the fine wire wrapped round the spoke of a wheel, but the horses did not fill the bill at all and the marshal concluded not to hold them.

The school board met last night and transacted important business. Four teachers failed to pass the necessary examination, Berta Hyers and Ella Wright were hired to fill two of the vacancies the other two will be filled later on. The board did not adjourn until after midnight.

Mrs. Will Ballance went to Omaha this morning.

Mrs. Wining and daughter went toeward to visit relatives.

J. F. Swindell of South Bend is attending to business in the city today.

A. B. Hovey, the gas man, left for his home at Independence, Iowa, yesterday.

L. J. Hansen, the city steam laundryman, went to Omaha today on business.

H. C. Travis, the Weeping Water lawyer is in the city today on legal business.

Eddie Gyger returned to Omaha this morning after a few days' visit with friends in this city.

Will Sharp, of Omaha, stopped in the city with relatives over night, returning this morning.

Henry Coon, of South Bend, is in the city today making war upon the South Bend saloon, which he prefers to see abated.

Ford Murkin, the efficient and accommodating deputy clerk of the District Court, went to Lincoln this morning to spend the day.

Mr. Fuller, of the firm of Wildman & Fuller, accompanied by his family, went to Sharon, Iowa, their former home, last evening for a week's visit.

Mrs. Hannah Calkins, after visiting her daughters, Mrs. R. L. Propst and Mrs. P. H. Mahoney, returned this morning to her home at Adickott.

The HERALD learns that Ned Buell is much improved since his removal to Lincoln.

Don't forget the democratic primaries tonight. No still hunts can go, we must have an old fashioned hoe down.

The trapeze tight rope walker gave a very entertaining exhibition on a rope from the top of Bennet's store to the opposite side of the street.

The City National Bank of Hastings failed yesterday. It was thought to have been one of the solidest institutions in Hastings. H. Bostwick was president, and we understand that Mike Hartigan had been elected a director at the last meeting of the stockholders.

The republican float convention met at Nebraska City today and placed in nomination a candidate for a representative of the two counties of Cass and Otoe. John C. Watson, was made the nominee of the convention by acclamation M. B. Murphy, A. N. Sullivan and E. S. Greusel are delegates in attendance from this part of the county.

Joe Robbins, Jr., started out to Lydia Livingston's south of town to work, the other morning on his bicycle as is his custom, but being a little sweet on some body over in South Park he concluded to go that way instead of the nearest route south of his father's residence. He started down high school hill in good form, but lost his pedals in front of the Riley and took a header that he will remember for many days. John will probably be satisfied hereafter to see his girl once a week.

The Graves family of this county consisting of W. W. Graves, wife and children, Mrs. J. M. Miller, Hillsdale, Iowa; A. H. Graves, E. L. Graves, Miss Mary Bryon, of Rock Bluffs; C. M. Graves, A. J. Graves, Plattsmouth; J. D. Graves, Benkleman; A. S. Graves, Plattsmouth; C. M. Graves, Union and Mrs. Ellen Lacy, Omaha, all had their pictures taken in one group yesterday. It is we dare say the largest family group of grown people we ever saw. Mr. Graves, the father, is 72 years old, was born in Knoxville, Tennessee, and is a James K. Polk democrat, though five of his boys are as radical republicans as the county affords.
