

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. 'Tis sold everywhere.

The Platform.

The committee resolutions reported at 2 in with the following platform: The republicans of Nebraska reiterate and cordially endorse the fundamental principles of the republican party, as enunciated by a succession of national republican conventions from 1856 to 1888, and we believe the republican party capable of dealing with every vital issue that concerns the American people, whenever they are called upon to exercise their political franchise. We heartily endorse the wise and conservative administration of President Harrison. We fully approve the wise action of the republican members of both houses of congress in filling the pledges of the party in legislation upon the coinage of silver and other measures of national importance, and congratulate the country upon the continued reduction of the national debt. We most heartily endorse the action of the republican congress in passing the disability pension bill and the republican president who approved the same, and regard it as an act of justice long delayed, because of the opposition to all just pension legislation by a demagogic president and a demagogic congress; and we do not regard it as the full recognition of the great debt of obligation which the government and the people owe to those heroic men by reason of whose sacrifices and devotion the union was saved and the government secured. We hold an honest, popular ballot and a just and equal representation of all the people to be the foundation of our republican government and demand effective legislation to secure integrity and purity of elections, which are the foundation of all public authority. We favor such a revision of the election laws of the state as will guarantee to every voter the greatest possible secrecy in the casting of his ballot, and secure the punishment of any who may attempt the corruption or intimidation of voters, and we favor the Australian ballot system for all incorporated towns and cities, applicable both to primary and regular elections, so far as it conforms to our organic law. We oppose land monopoly in every form, demand the forfeiture of unearned land grants and the reservation of the public domain for homesteaders only. We are in favor of laws compelling railroads and manufacturers to use appliances which insure supplies for the protection of laborers against accidents. We demand the enactment of a law defining the liability of employers or injuries sustained by employees in such cases where proper safe guards have not been used in occupations dangerous to life, limb or health. Railroads and other public corporations should be subject to control through the legislative power that created them. Their unnecessary burdens upon the people and the legitimate increase of stocks or capital should be prohibited by stringent laws. We demand that the state that the property of corporations shall be taxed the same as that of individuals; and we favor the Australian ballot system for the assessment of franchises shall be enforced by suitable legislation. We do further request our declaration in favor of a just and fair service pension, graded according to length of service, for every soldier and sailor who fought in the hands of the Union, by reason of whose services, sacrifices and devotion the government now exists. We demand the reduction of freight and passenger rates on railroads to correspond with the rates prevailing in the adjacent states to the Mississippi, and we further demand that the legislature shall abolish all passes and free transportation on railroads excepting for employees of railroads, companies. We demand the establishment of a system of postal telegraphy, and request our members in congress to vote for government control of the telegraph. Owners of public elevators that receive and handle grain for storage should be declared public warehousemen, and compelled under penalty to receive, store, ship and handle the grain of all persons alike, without discrimination, the state regulating charges for storage and inspection. All railroad companies should be required to switch, haul, handle, receive and ship the grain of all persons, without discrimination. We favor the enactment of more stringent usury laws and their severe enforcement under severe penalties. The republican party has given the American people a stable and elastic currency of gold, silver and paper, and has raised the credit of the nation to one of the highest of any country of the world, and their efforts to fully remonetize silver should be continued until it is on a par and equal with gold. We favor the modification of the statutes of our state in such a manner as shall prevent the saying of judgments secured for labor and labor and the enactment of such laws as is consistent with a protection of American industries. We endorse the action of the interstate commission in ordering a reduction of the grain rates between the Missouri river and lake ports. We denounce all organizations of capitalists to limit production, control supplies of the necessities of life and the advance of prices detrimental to the best interests of society and an unjustifiable interference with the natural laws of competition and trade, and ask their prompt suppression by law.

CONNELL and Colby will preach straight republicanism at Nebraska City tonight.

STOUT CITY expects Mr. Blaine to be in attendance at her corn palace where he will deliver one of his speeches that is so depressing to democracy.

BURGLARS down at Nebraska City use a common dray to haul off their plunder and we are told that if they work after midnight they are not molested. No wonder poor old Nebraska City is a paradise for the evil minded light fingered gentry.

"NECESSITY" McCLINTIC may be only a horse doctor, but he has too much horse sense to let Lemasters hoodoo him off the track for Lemasters' benefit. Republican Alliance men ought to hear Lemasters make his democratic vows in order to get the support of that party.

"WYOMING went republican by a majority of over 2000. This is quite a comfortable margin. With an aggregate vote of the dimensions of that of Pennsylvania the majority would be 100,000. About the only states in the Union, which are more pronounced and robust in Republicanism than Wyoming are Vermont and Kansas."

HENRY T. OXNARD, the British millionaire, who put in the Grand Island sugar beet factory, is looking about to find a location for another extensive plant. What's the matter with Plattsmouth or Louisville, which will have a third road as soon as the Rock Island is completed, the free bridge making the road about half a mile from town.

DR. CARRINGTON, the leading prohibitionist of Weeping Water, made him self very conspicuous by introducing James E. Boyd to the farmers at Louisville Wednesday. What does it mean? Is Boyd riding two horses, or is Dr. Carrington playing the double act? One or the other of these gentlemen is acting the hypocrite. Which is it?

CONNELL has already accepted the invitation of the fresh young Mr. Bryan to discuss the issue of the campaign. And before the discussions are closed young Mr. Bryan will wish he had never been born. He will find that set, "polly wants a cracker," speech of his will not fill the bill, it will be torn to pieces during the first attack and what will he do for another.

"RECIPROCITY is protection made progressive. The republican party is the party of progress. That's why it is for reciprocity."

This is the wheat situation according to the London Times: Europe, Egypt, Canada, Australia and South America show a gain in yield in 1890, as compared with 1889, of 85,000,000 bushels, while the United States and India reveal a loss of 95,000,000. Consequently the crop this year in the aggregate is 10,000,000 bushels below that of last year. If last year's yield had been above the average the shortage now would not have much effect on prices. This, however is not the case. The crop of 1889 was under rather than over the mean of the half dozen years immediately preceding. Higher prices, therefore, for the next six or eight months seem to be indicated.

If there ever was any speculation and uncertainty as to what the future of South Park would be, the abundant and substantial improvements of 1890 have established beyond doubt its permanence and the question is forever settled that it is to be the growing part of the city. More valuable residences, costing from twelve hundred to five thousand dollars have been erected in South Park this season than in any other portion of the city. The erection of a fine church which will doubtless be completed within the next twelve months will still further increase the desirability of the locality. As indicative of the growth of South Park, the school house built two years ago, and thought to be much too large at the time, is now only about one half large enough to meet the growing demand, and will have to be enlarged at no distant date. Persons visiting this portion of the city are surprised at the progress it has made. There are many good reasons for all this, however; the lots are less rough and as a general rule, much prettier than in any other part of Plattsmouth, and are studded with beautiful forest trees. Located as it is between the two principal avenues of the city—it is thus made conveniently accessible, and at the same time is sufficiently far away from the railroads not to be inconvenienced by rail road crossings. In addition to school and church privileges, South Park has the benefit of some recent public improvements, such as city water, several electric arc lights and some improvement on the streets. Neither are the residents of this portion of the city compelled to go on Main street for their groceries, as Bach's new grocery store on Lincoln avenue is supplied with the best of everything in his line. All persons interested in the growth of the city, should take a drive through South Park and see what is going on.

"The protectionist who opposes reciprocity in the form in which it is now presented knocks away one of the strongest supports of his system. The enactment of reciprocity is the safeguard of protection," says Artful Dodger Blaine in his letter to the Boot and Shoe club of Boston. There is more truth in this than Blaine meant to reveal. Let the farmers of the northwest bear these words in their banners this fall, and beneath it write: "The farmer who votes for Blaine and his reciprocity fraud, forges an unbreakable link in the chain which shackles him to the chariot of the Carnegies.—Journal."

The foregoing is a sample of the final adjustment of the democratic party upon the reciprocity policy of the republicans as suggested by Mr. Blaine. First the leader of that party seemed to think the republican states in congress would not follow Mr. Blaine's suggestions and there would be a division among the republicans in regard to it, but when they beheld the policy, so wise and so timely at this particular moment in our national history, pinned to the banners of the old party of progress; without a moments hesitation, it began to dawn on the dull intellect of that organization of obstruction, that it was a skillfully played card of the great premier and his party to entrap the democracy of the country into an endorsement of a policy that would be unfriendly to the interests of our great commercial enemy, Great Britain. The change of front by democrats, both in and out of congress was certainly ridiculous. Men like Mills and Breckenridge in the House, and Vest and Carlisle in the Senate who were one day taunting republicans in regard to Mr. Blaine's desertion of the doctrine of protection, and endorsement of what they called fair trade, were the next, the most vehement in their denunciation of the idea of reciprocity. That the United States should assume to open trade with the Latin-American states Spanish islands, and offer those communities our American products, is shocking to the British party of free trade in this country and that is all there is about it. Hence the maudlin gibberish of the democratic press over the "Artful Dodger Blaine" and the now accepted doctrine of reciprocity with our South American neighbors.

The New York Herald utters the solemn warning that "the country must realize that the republican party has resolved upon an aggressive policy, and that aggression sways its councils." The worthy old Herald has hit the nail squarely on the head. The republican party is a party of aggression. It is a fighting party and things that it is fighting for are desired by the great mass of the business men of the nation. The republican party has reformed the business methods of congress and put them in harmony with the present day. It is hard at work revising the tariff as promised in its last national platform. It is taking measures to purify elections. It is showing itself to be a party of progress on every issue now before the American people. That is the kind of "aggression" to which the republican party pleads guilty. It is a policy that commends itself to the thinking voters in all parts of the country. It is a policy that proves the republican party to be the only political organization that is up with the times and ready to give the people any reforms called for by the exigencies of modern life.—State Journal.

The World-Herald wants some one to prove that protection lowers the price of protected commodities. That organ of uncertainty should not allow itself to "saw wood" on the tariff question so late in the autumn of the campaign. The burden of proof has been assumed by all democratic organs that have an opinion worth standing by for twenty four years, to show that the tariff increased prices: We are willing however to throw a little light across the darkened path of the "W-H," and assure that benighted organ that there is not a single article on the list of protected commodities that is not cheaper today than when the duty was imposed. Look up the list, anxious seeker for the truth, and become enlightened.
